Wiggins. The retiring Council, with Mr. Joseph Stilton as Intendant, has given Pendleton a most excellent government during the past year, and turn the reins of the town over to the new Council in better condition than they have been in years. The new Council will contribute towards their good example.

Mr. John M. Moorehead has left at our office a sample of his crop of molasses. We have never seen or tasted better home-made molasses. A little six-year old Young America, while undergoing his usual bath last Sunday night, asked his mother what little children were made of. "Dust, my darling," replied the mother. He has many friends in this and Abbeville County who are glad to see him in his native State again.

Hill Bros. have just received a new and original brand of cigars, "Our Mashers," which promises to be a favorite with all smokers. The cigar gets its name from three of Anderson's handsomest and most modest young men, Messrs. T. S. Crayton, Jr., A. G. Means and T. F. Hill, whose photographs appear on the boxes. We expect to hear of some of the young ladies buying these cigars by the box.

Dr. H. D. Wilson, of Abbeville, showed us several days ago a most ingenious and simple cotton planter and guano distributor which he has just patented. It can also be adjusted to plant any ordinary kind of grain in the drill. When attached to a plow, it will open, drop and cover at one time. It is an arrangement which can be attached to any plow, stock and seems to be undoubtedly a valuable invention.

One of the most valuable books of ready reference for geographical, historical and general useful information with which we have met is Cran's Universal Family Atlas, for which Mr. A. T. Calhoun, of Euaharie, Ga., is now soliciting subscriptions in this County. Miss Lizzie Williams, the popular proprietress of the Ladies' Store, has returned from the Northern markets, where she spent several weeks in carefully selecting a very large stock of dry goods, notions, millinery, hats, shoes, etc., which are arriving daily. She knows exactly what suits her customers, and has purchased them at the lowest prices. Having bought these goods cheap, she will sell them cheap. Read her new advertisement, ladies, and then call at her store and let her tell you about the new styles and fashions.

Cunningham & Fowler's stores are crowded with new goods, and in order to get rid of them rapidly they have determined to sell them at wonderfully low prices. If you will visit their store you will be convinced that this is true. Their stock includes everything under the head of general merchandise, and they will take great pleasure in showing their goods. If you need a buggy, don't forget that they sell the popular Columbus buggy. Their new advertisement will appear next week.

Moss & Brown have risen from the ashes. Their new store room has been completed, and is one of the neatest and best arranged in the city. We dropped in there the other day and saw a large stock of goods. They handle groceries, confectioneries, canned goods, tobacco, cigars, etc., all of which are fresh. Since the fire they have been resting, and now that they are ready for business again, they propose to offer better goods at lower prices than ever before. A cordial invitation is extended to their old friends and customers to call and see them. Read their advertisement.

On last Sunday a little daughter of Mr. W. J. B. Hix, who resides near Pendleton, came near meeting a most unusual death. His children had been digging a cave in a lot of fresh gathered cotton, which was stored in one of the rooms of the house, and left it standing there. His little daughter Lizzie, three years old, went into it with some kittens to play, and caved upon her, covering her up, leaving only her feet out. When her father discovered her a short time afterwards, she was limp and breathless, appearing to be dead. Respiration was with difficulty restored. Her discovery was accidental, and throughout her rescue may be said to have been almost an accident.

Mr. Matthew Snipes, an aged and respected citizen of the Mountain Creek section of our County, died at his residence, some six miles Southwest of Anderson, on Monday afternoon, at 5 o'clock, after an illness of five weeks from some affection of the kidneys. Mr. Snipes was a member of the Presbyterian Church, and having been in the County when he was sixteen years old. He was about eighty years of age at the time of his death, and had been a member of Mountain Creek Baptist Church for half a century. He was an upright man and a kind neighbor. He leaves seven living children, all grown.

His remains were interred in Mountain Creek Churchyard on Tuesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, after appropriate funeral services, conducted by Rev. B. Hays, in the presence of a large number of the friends and relatives of the deceased. The picnic and mass meeting at Townville last Saturday, in the interest of the Townville Academy, was largely attended, and was a most pleasant meeting throughout. About four hundred ladies and gentlemen were present. The meeting was held in the grove adjoining the Academy, and Hon. H. R. Vandiver presided. Speeches appropriate to the occasion were made by Messrs. E. D. Murray, H. G. Scudder and J. G. Clinckale, and statements as to the work of the proposed school were made by Profs. Boeman and Thornton. After the speaking an abundant picnic dinner was enjoyed by all present. In the afternoon the committee appointed to canvass for the school did its work, but we have not heard the nature of its report. The occasion was in every way worthy of the hospitable and progressive people of the Fork.

Mr. Robert Maxwell died at Pendleton on the 17th inst., after an illness of several months, which he bore most patiently. He was born on the 22nd day of July, 1829, consequently was in his sixty-second year. Before the war he was a member of the S. C. House of Representatives from Pickens County for two terms, and a member of the Senate for one term. He went into the army in Company "K," 4th Regiment of S. C. Infantry, and in the first battle of Manassas showed great courage and cool gallantry as the color bearer of the Regiment. He was wounded in the battle of Seven Pines, where he also displayed his gallantry. Since the war he has been living a quiet life at his home in Pendleton, respected by all who knew him. In the year 1877 he joined the Baptist Church at Pendleton, and has made a most faithful member. His remains were interred in the Baptist Church Cemetery at Pendleton on Friday last, after appropriate funeral services conducted by Rev. C. P. Ervin.

A Large Establishment. We accidentally dropped in at John E. Pillsbury & Co.'s other afternoon and were very courteously shown through their establishment. Their business is increasing so rapidly that they have been forced to give themselves more room. The adjoining room, which, for the past year, has been occupied by Means & McGee, has been connected with their old quarters by having a large doorway cut through at both ends of the wall. These two spacious rooms give them ample room. Their old room is devoted exclusively to tinware, stoves and other goods in that line. They have always carried a large stock of these goods, but in future it will be much larger. In the other room an immense stock of crockery, glassware, silverware, etc., is being opened. "Here," says the junior proprietor, "we are going to keep the largest stock of crockery that has ever been brought to this section of the State. We can supply our people with anything from the most common ware to the most expensive hand-painted China goods." As we walked through and looked at the goods, we were struck with the low prices they are being offered at. An elegant ten set, breakfast set or dinner set may be purchased for a very small sum. The Bohemian glass is very pretty, and is shown in several different colors. In this article we could not begin to mention all the beautiful goods, and we can only advise our readers to pay the establishment a visit and see for themselves.

Nothing but the Truth. Mr. Editor: We are now approaching the harvest-time of our Summer crops. Providence has singularly blessed us in all various ways this season. It delights the eye of the wayfarer man to view the wide-spreading fields of corn and cotton which deck this sunny land of ours from its four corners. Prosperity stares us in the face. The rains continue to come-corn and cotton to grow. Everybody is happy, and very we have many things to be thankful for; yet there is one thing none of us seem to appreciate as we ought, and it is that in order to be prosperous in this world a man must be as careful in spending as he is in making. For instance, the Fruit Preserver is a most useful and well-constructed article, and is not enough wasted in this County this season to feed a regiment of hungry soldiers six months. If our people would go to the little expense, and less trouble, of securing a package of this Fruit Preserver from Hill Bros., they could keep all the fruit and vegetables they don't wish to consume for next Winter, thereby saving great expense and providing a luxury for themselves and family. There is no doubt but that the preparation would do what is claimed for it. Some of our best people used it last year, and are using it, and recommending it to their friends this season. We wish to see everybody prosperous, happy and contented, and at the same time, in order to be so, they must look closely after small matters. More anon. August 20, 1885.

Immediate Delivery System. This system, by which a letter mailed at any Postoffice in the County, and having on it a special delivery stamp of the value of ten cents, and directed to any Postoffice named in the list of "special delivery offices," goes into effect on the 1st of October. Such letters containing a special delivery stamp, in addition to the regular postage thereon, are entitled to prompt dispatch from the mailing office, and immediate delivery on arrival at the office of destination if within one mile of the postoffice and within the carrier limit where the delivery system is in operation. Registered letters will be entitled to immediate delivery at the same ordinary rate, when bearing a special delivery stamp, in addition to the full postage and registry fee now required by law. Cities and towns must have a population of over 4,000, as shown by the last Federal census, before they are entitled to the "immediate delivery" system. Charleston, Columbia, and Greenville are the three cities in South Carolina which will enjoy this privilege. The new stamp is thus described: It consists of a line engraving on steel, oblong in form; dimensions 11-16 by 7-16 inches; color, dark blue. Design: on the left an arched panel having the figure of a mail messenger boy on a run, and surmounted by the words "Special Delivery." On the right, a laurel wreath, ornamented with a wreath of oak and laurel surrounding the words "Secures immediate delivery at a special delivery office." Across the top of the label is the legend "Special Post Delivery," and at the bottom the words "Ten Cents," separated by a small shield bearing the numeral 10. This device will be a great convenience, and will no doubt be very popular with the people. Postmaster Webb has received a lot of the stamps, and will cheerfully give any information in regard to the system.
