

NEW YORK AND NEW JERSEY are having an epidemic of hydrophobia, and great uneasiness prevails among the people.

THE NEW ORLEANS Plague is right when it says "that the best way for a real honest and genuine American citizen to petition Congress is to vote for a Congressman who does not require to be petitioned in his duty."

THE CHARLES CITY (Iowa) Intelligencer says: "The fight over the admission of Dakota is getting hot. It had only half its present population, and was Democratic, that party couldn't vote for it quick enough. Some Democrats seem inclined to favor admission, but it is doubtful if they can stand the free application of the party lash."

THE PUBLIC SALES in Greenville on last Monday, included two important pieces of property in which the public feel an interest. They were the Piedmont Fair Grounds and the city railway.

THE CHARLES CITY Intelligencer says: "About five hundred changes have been made in Iowa postmasters since last March, and Postmaster General Vilas—'Yee-Yah' for style—promises to have a Democrat in every 4th class office in the State by next 4th of July."

THE DISEASE OF trichinosis is increasing prevalence through Pennsylvania and Ohio, and is of occasional occurrence in other States. Investigation has shown that the little insects called trichinae are contained only in the lean meat of the hog, and it is claimed by some that as much as ten per cent. of the Western hogs are diseased with it.

THE TROPICALS are level-headed. They know there is no civil reform here or any other kind of reform where Republicans are left in office. The right way to reform the civil service, is to put a good Democrat in every office that is now held by a Republican under the United States government. We hope the Postmaster-General will do for every State what he has promised for Iowa.

yes, every voter in the County, has a direct money interest in the question.

We believe in the Democratic doctrine of the rule of the majority, and of course the majority of the larger body has the right to govern.

Some of our State exchanges are urging Governor Thompson either to take the Census under the Constitutional provision, or to call an extra session of the Legislature to provide for taking it.

The Governor cannot, under the advice of the Attorney General, have the census taken, for he is forbidden to contract any debt, under very heavy penalties, that is not provided for in an appropriation by the Legislature. We had inclined to the opinion that the Constitutional mandate to the Governor to have the census taken, where the Legislature fails to comply with the provisions of the Constitution in regard thereto, would be ample authority to the Governor, and would override any statute, either direct or implied, and must confess that we have not been convinced by the able and carefully prepared opinion of our accomplished Attorney General; but our friends must recognize the fact that the Governor is bound under the circumstances to be governed by the advice of the highest law officer of the State. Governor Thompson cannot, with any propriety, proceed to have the census taken, even though quite a number of lawyers think he has the right to do so. Neither would any practical advantage be derived from calling an extra session of the Legislature. The Senate refused to consent to a census, at the risk of defeating the general appropriation bill, which would have necessitated an extra session of the General Assembly. It is practically certain that no census bill could be passed at such a session. The Governor could bring the Legislature together, but he could not make them pass a bill. It would, therefore, be useless to incur the additional expense of an extra session that would do absolutely no good. The Governor has fully performed his duty in this matter, and shown a readiness to have the census taken if possible. He has presented the matter to the Legislature twice, and has consulted the legal adviser given him by the people as to his right to take the census, and has been distinctly informed by the Attorney General that he has no authority to do so. It seems to us, therefore, that the census cannot, under any circumstances, be taken until after the next election. The people should see to it that the candidates for Senate and House of Representatives are pledged to give their votes for taking the census next time.

The Columbia correspondent of the News and Courier, speaking of the Columbia Canal, says: "Mention of the Canal suggests the thought that few of those who have been 'Columbia ditch' know anything about its condition, or apparently care to find out anything about it. Cemetery Hill, the great barrier across the Canal at its middle, has been cut through, the river will rise high where a few months ago there were seething rapids, and now all that is left of the huge obstruction is a mass of rock jutting out of the hillside in such shape that it can be quarried out leisurely as the demand for 'rip-rap' increases."

"The work done during the last few months is vast, and it will impress every one who looks at it with the belief that much the hardest, longest and most expensive part of the work has been accomplished. The present upper terminus of the Canal is above the Cemetery Hill and beyond the city limits. The ground to be hereafter traversed is a flat stretch of alluvial soil. The rock work will be insignificant, and digging can be prosecuted very rapidly. From this point forward steam dredges would expedite the work a great deal, but the terms of the legislative appropriation may prevent their procurement."

"The Canal is giving mild and healthy work to 250 convicts who would otherwise remain idle in the Penitentiary; it has not yet taken a dollar from the State treasury, and when completed and utilized it will yield South Carolina $60,000 annually in rent of water power. It is not the burden which those anxious for 'issues' and 'points against the administration' seek to advertise it to be. If half of the members of the Legislature who voted against it last term saw it or understood it the fact did not appear."

THE TEMPERANCE WORKER gives the following as the attitude of the South Carolina Senate on the prohibition question: "The vote in the Senate on the repeal of the Prohibition Law of Barnwell Co., is a fair index of the attitude of the members of that body on the great matter of Prohibition: FOR REPEAL. AGAINST REPEAL. Bonow, Bell, Bieman, Coker, Buist, Earle, Byrd, Field, Clyburn, Howell, Lyle, Leitner, McColl, Moore, of Anderson, Moore, of Hampton, Patterson, Smythe, Todd, Wallace, Woodward, Youmans, —16.

"In the name of the good people of Barnwell County the Worker most heartily thanks every man who has stood by the side of the repeal of the law. These two lists of names as they stand side by side furnish much for reflection to every lover of right against wrong."

ROAD DUTY. The Legislature, at its recent session, passed an Act reducing the persons exempt from road duty, so that no person is now exempt except teachers, students and ministers of the Gospel. The Act is as follows: SECTION 1. That Section one thousand and ninety, Title X, Chapter XXXI, of the General Statutes of this State, be amended by striking out the following words: "Members of the State and county boards of examiners and school trustees, members of the board of assessors for the assessment of real estate for taxation, millers engaged in grist or merchant mills that are kept open for six days in each week, guards, keepers, employers and other officers of Lunatic Asylums, and the Warner for five days."

—An Indiana weather prophet, writing from Indianapolis under date of January 1, makes the following startling prediction as to the weather for this month: "There will be a severe storm in the Southwestern States and South Pacific Ocean between the 2d and 7th of January, 1886. There will also be a most terrific cyclone on the South Atlantic Ocean, and along the coast of the South and Southeastern States, on or about the 10th of January, 1886," and winds up his prophecy with the words: "It will be a regular hurricane."

—Col. H. F. Alston, a wealthy and popular Texan, has been arrested and will be tried for killing Dr. Wren in a street fight in 1859, during the election at which Sam Houston was made governor.

—Patrick Cain, of Cleveland, Ohio, a lad 16 years old, drank whisky in that quantity on New Year's day that he died to-night.

—The Washington correspondent of the Charleston News and Courier, writing under date of January 3rd, says: "Speaker Carlisle will announce the House committees on Tuesday, the 5th instant, and not until then, despite all reports to the contrary. The determination was reached after mature consideration to prevent the worry and annoyance of making changes of dissatisfied members. Of course it is difficult to please everybody, and the Speaker's experience in the past has taught him the necessity for decisive action, otherwise the session would be indefinitely prolonged in a wrangle for position."

South Carolina will have at least two chairmanships, Mr. Aiken being retained at the head of the educational committee, while Mr. Dibble will be promoted from the place he formerly occupied on the public buildings and grounds committee to the chairmanship thereof. Within the past two or three days some one has expressed to the Speaker a doubt as to whether Mr
