Several of our exchanges announce that Hon. R. W. Simpson, of this County, will be a candidate for the nomination for Congress from the Third Congressional District in the ensuing election.

The Young Men's Christian Association of South Carolina held their annual Convention in Columbia last week, and was very largely attended from the different Associations in the State.

In the analysis of the fertilizers published by the Department of Agriculture, so far, the following brands are reported to be below the guarantee for one or more ingredients: Crescent Bone Fertilizer, sampled at Batesburg; Diamond Brand, sampled at Greenville; Edison Brand, sampled at Newberry; Hager's Alkaline Guano, sampled at Batesburg; Middleton's Acid Phosphate, sampled at Abbeville.

The great railroad strike out West continues, but no further outbreaks have occurred since last week, and the railroads are now doing nearly or quite their ordinary business. The indications are that the strike will prove a failure.

Sometimes ago, in noticing the fertilizers made by the Anderson Oil and Fertilizer Mills, we urged our people to patronize home manufactures and buy the "Generose" fertilizers, because we believed they were as good or better than the best of the fertilizers of that grade.

A Reply to "Farmer's Son." Mr. Editor: In your last issue is a communication signed "Farmer's Son," in which article your correspondent says: "No, gentlemen, the fault is not in the politician, professional men, taxes, tariff, or the prohibition laws, but in the farmer himself."

Senator Hoar has introduced in the United States Senate the most consummately ridiculous measure that has yet been tried of the sectional hate which the Republicans entertain for the South.

The remedy for killing or intimidating men on account of their political opinions is now ample, and suitable punishments are inflicted in case their guilt is established. The bill introduced by Senator Hoar is intended simply to work up political capital—nothing more and nothing less.

The present indications are that the sentiment of the English people is favorable to Mr. Gladstone's scheme for the settlement of the Irish question, and it is even claimed that he will secure a majority in the House of Commons for both his home rule and land purchase bills.

Although it is not generally known, it is a fact nevertheless that the person of the President is guarded and protected about as completely as though he were surrounded by soldiers.

It is highly probable that the whole matter will be brought before the General Assembly, which convenes here on the 20th of May, as the Savannah Presbytery has overruled the Assembly to take cognizance of the matter, and a speedy termination may be looked for.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER. WASHINGTON, D. C., April 17, 1886. A good portion of the time of the Senate this week has been taken up with Executive Sessions. This is caused by the large number of nominations sent in, and no action made thereon during the pendency of the question as to the right of the Senate to call for papers.

The News and Courier seeks to deter the growing sentiment throughout the country that the pretended Civil Service Reform is a humbug by denouncing those who express the opinion that the offices under a Democratic administration should be filled by Democrats, and calling them spoilsmen and similar complimentary epithets.

It is not especially inspiring to the men who bore the heat and burden of the canvass to be quietly told by those whose friends are provided for that they are spoilsmen, simply because they believed the Democratic party meant to "turn the rascals out" when they promised to do so in the last election.

A movement is also on foot to have open on Sundays all the government buildings that are maintained for the pleasure and instruction of the people at large—such as the Botanical Garden, National Museum, Smithsonian Institute, and others.

Public opinion is demanding that these star chamber meetings shall be abolished. Many Senators have already heeded the warning and this week some potent speeches have been made in the Senate in advocacy of the resolution to have open sessions and no secret sessions.

Mr. Editor: In your last issue is a communication signed "Farmer's Son," in which article your correspondent says: "No, gentlemen, the fault is not in the politician, professional men, taxes, tariff, or the prohibition laws, but in the farmer himself."

Now, let us see how much one of these "small drains" cost the farmers of the United States in one year. According to Mr. Augustus Montgomery there are in the United States 7,000,000 farmers. It is a safe estimate to say that each of these pay out annually $37 per capita, or overcharge on goods, caused by the tariff rates.

The story that Secretary Lamar is matrimonially inclined is more generally accepted as having some foundation. The Secretary is very domestic in his habits and possesses a very affectionate nature, and the fortunate woman who gets him will get a good husband.

Dr. Woodrow Wins. Augusta Chronicle, April 17th. The Presbytery of Augusta met in Waynesboro Wednesday night. A large party were in attendance. Rev. Mr. Dook, the pastor of the Eatonton church, was elected Moderator.

It is estimated that 400 structures (all frame) were blown down. The force of the storm was such as to wrench off the door of the safe in the postoffice and carry its contents distance from a city street.

—Cashier Robinson, of the Angelica, N. Y., national bank, 77 years old and over seventy-two years has gone to Canada with $20,000 of bank funds and a total shortage of $52,000. He is said to be in a dying condition.

—The town of Glencliff, Md., is remarkable for the fact that its name spells the same backward or forward. That's what's the matter with Hannah.

ST. PAUL, MINN., April 14, 1886. This afternoon, at twenty minutes past four, with hardly a moment's notice, a cyclone swept through the little town of St. Cloud, on the Manitoba road, seventy miles north of St. Paul, and leveled to the ground half a hundred houses and maimed a large number of people.

The names of twenty-six persons who were killed are known. Among them were three women and eleven children; John Kearney, County Auditor; Geo. Lindsay, County Treasurer; P. Carpenter, Clerk of Court; J. Deaure, judge of Probate Court, and Edgar Hill, President of German American national bank.

The storm came from the southwest, and its path lay between the residence and the business portions. Everything in the way was swept out of existence. The wind was a steady, strong wind, defined as that of a moving machine in a field of grain.

The day had been unusually hot with frequent showers, but our o'clock an intensely black cloud appeared in the southwest, and a few minutes later that peculiar moaning, whistling sound in the air, which invariably comes with such storms, was heard.

As at present the cyclone reached this city a special train, bearing twelve surgeons and a large number of citizens, started for the scene. The train dispatcher at St. Cloud has just telegraphed that the bodies of the dead were found at the scene, and the loss of life is very large.

The revised estimates of the killed and wounded are: St. Cloud, 15 killed 40 injured; Sauk Rapids, 30 killed 100 injured; Rye Station, 25 killed, number of injured as yet unknown.

ST. CLOUD, MINN., April 15.—A few minutes after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the cyclone struck the city, leveling to the ground half a hundred houses and maimed a large number of people.

Meeting of Presbytery. NEWBERRY, April 13.—The South Carolina Presbytery has been in session here since last Friday night. It was organized by electing the Rev. W. T. Matthews, of Greenwood, moderator, and the Rev. D. L. Morris, of Edgefield, secretary, and Col. J. J. Norton, of Wall-halla, assistant secretary.

—President Cleveland refused to review the colored people on Friday in their celebration of Emancipation day in Washington, from the fact that they disagreed among themselves and had two separate processions.

—The largest window ever made in the United States has just been placed in a Philadelphia clothing store. It is eight feet six inches in height and sixteen feet six inches in width, and weighs over 1,300 pounds.

—A Great Discovery. Mr. Wm. Thomas, of Newton, Ia., says: "My wife has been seriously affected with a cough for twenty-five years, and this spring more severely than ever before.

—In reply to his circular calling for the names of all soldiers of the State who had received medals or other decorations received in the service of the Confederacy, are incapacitated for earning a livelihood, the comptroller general has received a flood of applications from such applicants.

—The usefulness of living under one's vine has been tested by a Spanish family at Montecito near Santa Barbara, Cal. A large family of seven sons and as many daughters, with about a hundred descendants, have been mainly supported by the vine, which, in some years, has borne upwards of 100 bushels to the acre.

—A cherry tree stood in the way of the Southern Pacific narrow gauge railway extension that is being pushed at Almaden, and the owner asked $800 for it. Experts were appointed, and he then showed that it had for years yielded him crops, each of which sold for sums equivalent to the interest on the amount named. They finally agreed to award him $600, and the tree had to go.

—Whenever we find our temper ruffled towards a parent, a wife, a sister, a brother or a friend, we should pause and give the matter a moment's reflection. They will be in the spirit land, watching over us; or, perchance, we shall be there watching over those left behind. Then stay the unkind words which would rise to your lips, and save yourself the pain they may produce in after years.

—We understand, says the Gwinnett, Ga., Herald, that during the last rain storm, the lightning struck a small pine tree on a graveyard above town, and circled around it until it reached the ground, where it scooped out a hole clean down to the coffin, and scattered the bones around on top of the ground.

—Fred Douglass and his wife will sail in June for Europe. Frederick's first wife, Mrs. Douglass, was forty years old just after his escape from slavery, and he went abroad again some time after the close of the civil war.

—A negro man in Macon, Ga., named Smith, who was convalescent with the measles, feeling that he wanted some cold water, sent and got some ice and drank ice cold water. He was a corpse in twelve hours.
