It is said that one of the trains will be taken off of the Savannah Valley Railroad shortly.

As yet we have heard no complaint of the scarcity of farm laborers in this County.

How do those pretty white leaves that were turned over on New Year's morning look now?

Last Sunday was a beautiful Spring-like day, and the city Churches had large congregations.

Better will come on the 10th of April, and according to the old belief there will be an early Spring.

Several persons are already mentioned as probable candidates for the County office to be filled in 1888.

Mr. J. P. Darden, who is now engaged in business at Birmingham, Ala., is in the city visiting his family.

Colds are quite prevalent, and several cases of pneumonia are reported from various sections of the County.

In order to reduce their stock, Meads & McGee are offering their goods at reduced prices. See our advertisement.

If you are thinking of purchasing a horse or mule, don't fail to call on J. E. Peoples. See his advertisement.

Merchants are drawing the lines tighter each year, and many people will find it hard to obtain supplies this year.

Mr. J. D. Chalmers, of Abbeville, has been spending a few days in the city with his sister, Mrs. J. W. Trowbridge.

Mr. T. H. Brook, the handsome and clever manager of the Hones Path Plaindealer, paid us a call Wednesday morning.

There will be a Tournament at Tucker's Saw Mill, near Pelzer, on to-morrow (Friday). The public are invited to attend.

Dr. R. A. Reid and wife and Miss Dean, of Deans, spent Sunday in the city, and attended services at the Presbyterian Church.

Congressman Aiken does not seem to improve much. He is still confined to his room, and his condition remains about the same.

Our clever friend, D. Sloan White, leaves next Monday for Sherman, Texas, his future home. Our best wishes go with him.

From now on the farmers will be busy at work when the weather will permit. They appreciate the truth that a "lick in time saves nine."

Speaking of booms, raise your voice and boom Anderson. Invest your money at home, and the boom, with its attendant blessings, will come.

The New York Cash Store is selling off their present big stock at and below cost. Everybody should call at once. The red flag flies on top of their building.

Mr. W. D. Maroney is better prepared than ever to repair your vehicle. He has secured the services of a first-class painter and blacksmith. See advertisement.

A foul chimney in the Masonic building caused an alarm of fire last Friday afternoon. The firemen turned out, but soon discovered that their services were not needed.

Mr. James Anderson, a popular young man of Broadway Township, left the city on Monday afternoon's train for North Carolina, where he will take unto himself a wife.

Attention is directed to Sullivan & Bro's new advertisement. These gentlemen are always ready to supply you with machinery, farm implements, hardware, etc., at bottom prices.

Married, on Thursday, December 23rd, 1886, at the residence of the bride's father, Dr. T. J. Pickens, in Pendleton, by Rev. T. F. Gadsden, Mr. William F. Galliard and Miss Julia K. Pickens.

Pickens Sentinels:—Mr. Frank E. Cox is clerking for Mr. R. E. Sloan at Pendleton. He is a most reliable young man, and we trust that he has begun what shall prove to be a most successful business career.

These dark nights pedestrians on their way and from the Savannah Valley depot find it difficult to keep out of the potholes. Can't the Street Committee see that a lamp or two is placed along West Market street?

Our young friend Davis Pant called to see us last week. For the past two years he has been in the West, but is now at home to stay awhile. Davis was at one time our "Devil," and we were glad to meet him once more.

Miss Jessie Trowbridge is arranging to give a Cantata at an early day, for the benefit of the Methodist Church. The date has not been settled upon, but our citizens may hold themselves in readiness for a most interesting entertainment.

List of letters remaining in the Post-office for the week ending January 19. Persons calling for these letters will please say that they are advertised: (P. A. B.) Bolt, Martha J. Bolt, M. B. Burdick (2), A. M. Burdick, M. J. Burdick, S. P. Hall, Mrs. M. J. Hall, Roda Simpson, Tr. B. York.

Mr. V. I. Masters, a student of Furman University, came to his home in the County to spend the holidays, and on the day after his arrival the measles broke out on him. Since then he has been quite sick, but is now able to be up, and will return to the University this week.

The Temperance Worker has changed its place of publication from Newberry to Lynchburg, S. C., and is now under the management of Rev. John S. Mattison, of the South Carolina Conference and formerly of this city. We wish friend Mattison much success in his new field of labor.

If our people would not stover over the past and cry "hard times," they might along with a double rail, be determined to do in whatever they may undertake, they would find that they would get along better in the world. Now resolve not to raminate over what might have been, but tear things to pieces or succeed in the future.

The Postmaster at Columbia has been notified by the Civil Service Commission that an examination will be held in that city on the 27th inst., for the benefit of those desiring departmental work in Washington. The examination will afford some of our young men an opportunity to try a competitive examination for a governmental position.

Messrs. F. W. Taylor & Co. have purchased the stock of goods of the late E. B. Cater, and will continue business at the latter's old stand. They will keep a choice stock of groceries, confectioneries, canned goods, etc., which will be sold at the very lowest prices. The new firm has a respect for his success, and we respect for their a liberal patronage. Read their advertisement.

Dr. H. J. Sanders died at his home in Clinton, Ala., on the 11th inst., after a very brief illness, aged 66 years. His wife died just a month ago. Dr. Sanders will be remembered by many of our readers, he having resided at one time in Anderson County. He was a brother of Mrs. P. K. Norris, of this city, and was a distinguished physician and an honorable citizen. His friends in this County will regret to hear of his death.

Mr. J. S. Fowler is one of the most remarkable men we ever saw. On his way up from Augusta last week at Plant Branch, he saw a horse which was stolen from him in 1885, and immediately recognized it from the car window. Getting off he saw the party in possession of it, and while explaining the situation, the train left him. He borrowed a saddle, and loped the horse to the next station, McCormick, in time to overtake the train, and saw the horse in the name of the thief. For quick perception, and rapid execution, Mr. Fowler has no superior.

R. B. A. Robinson Esq., tried a dacker last week for stealing a sheep. The testimony falling, he was dismissed. The justice then stated that he had a remarkable rooster which when put under a pot would crow when the guilty man touched the pot. He invited the party present to test their innocence, and all promptly touched the pot except one negro who was present and had been suspected. He then said he was innocent and wanted to stay so. His trial is soon to come on, and his conduct on this occasion will be a part of the testimony against him. Col. Robinson has instituted a new crime detector.

The Belton Reading Club has determined to establish a reading room. The leading periodicals will be taken and made accessible to the members. The Club is in a flourishing condition, and is a potent factor for our town in a social and literary sense.

The schools of the place are open and well attended.

Mr. George T. Brown and family have gone to Chattanooga, Tenn., which they will make their home.

Rev. Charles Manly, D. D., pastor of the Baptist Church, is preaching a series of highly interesting discourses on the subject of "The Brenecke, of Wallaha, is visiting Miss Emma Clinckleas.

Miss Lola Chesire, of Hones Path, is visiting Miss Georgie McDavid.

Union Meetings.

The Union Meeting, District No. 2, of the Association, will meet with the Hones Path Church on Friday before the 15th Sunday.

The Missionary sermon will be preached by Rev. W. H. Hott.

1st Query: "The importance of Christians exemplifying the profession they have made." Opened by Jas. W. Poore.

2nd Query: "The evidence of Christian character." Opened by T. J. Phillips.

The Sunday School Union will meet with the Hones Path School at 9 o'clock a. m., and will be addressed by Brethren Thad. E. Horton and W. F. Cox, Clerk.

Stony Point Items.

The Postoffice at this place has been discontinued. All persons interested will note this change and have their mail matter directed to other offices in the future.

The different Churches in this section will be held on Sabbath, it being a beautiful day. Rev. H. M. Allen preached a timely and thoughtful sermon to his congregation at Cross Roads, which was highly appreciated by his hearers.

Rev. A. McS. Ataway preached his first sermon at his congregation at Hebron last Sabbath evening, and made a very favorable impression on all who were present at the hearing him. He is an earnest and entertaining speaker, and should have the earnest support of his flock at this place.

Mr. A. J. Hall, sr., who has been confined to his room for several months of the past year, is able to get out again and attend to his usual avocations. We wish him every blessing of good health.

Mr. J. C. Hamlin, the veteran horseman, has recently returned from Florida, being called home by the severe illness of his wife. He says Florida is very attractive on account of her beautiful towns, their smooth streets and well shaded sidewalks, and that flowers are so plentiful and attached and bearing your name almost anywhere you go. Verily, it must be a "Land of Flowers."

The contract for building a depot at Cross Roads Church has been made and the money paid to the Railroad authorities. Work upon the same will be commenced immediately.

We also learn that several stores, houses and residences will be erected at this place at an early day. An effort will also be made to establish a Postoffice at this place.

There has been a large exodus of young men from this section to other States during the past winter. What few remain are mostly bachelors, and as the field is now open to them, we think it is an opportunity for the young men to get out and win the heart and hand of some fair lady. Messrs. Lon. Emerson and J. M. Hall, who belong to this fraternity, say their chances for success in the matrimonial line have appeared hopeless, but now they think a better day is dawning upon them. Success to you, gentlemen.

The weather has been fair and pleasant for the past few days, and is greeted with pleasure by the farmers, who are commencing their operations for another crop. Every one appears anxious to get to work, and although the prospect for the farmer is somewhat gloomy, yet, with a determination on our part to succeed and the blessings of an Allwise Providence upon the seed, we are confident that we will have a bountiful harvest. OMBRA.

The New York Cash Store is the place to trade at. First-class goods at the lowest prices.

Hundreds of remnants at half price. M. B. Arnstein is the man to give you genuine bargains during next ten days.

William S. Ligon was born April 1, 1853, and was the oldest son of Prof. and Mrs. W. J. Ligon. He was educated at the Farmers' Academy in Anderson, and in 1870 took a teaching course in the South Carolina College. Upon graduating in several of the schools of that College he returned to Anderson and began life as a clerk in the office of Gen. W. W. Humphreys, Probate Judge. After holding several positions of this kind, he with Mr. R. S. Hill, purchased the business of Capt. W. S. Sharpe, one of the leading merchants in Anderson, and under the firm name of Ligon & Hill did a most successful business. He has been continually engaged in merchandise ever since, and at the time of his death was the head of the firm of W. S. Ligon & Co., one of the leading business houses of our city. Mr. Ligon was very popular in Anderson. He was elected Alderman for three successive terms, and was also a member of the Board of Trustees of the Savannah Valley Railroad from its inception, and upon its completion was appointed agent at Anderson. This position he declined because it was expected that the road would run Sunday trains, and he did not feel at liberty to accept a position which required him to work on the Sabbath. He was in every respect a model man. With the modesty and tenderness of a woman he combined the sound judgment and self reliance of a man. With an even temper and a high moral character he lived a life that was above reproach. True and sincere in all the relations of life, he commanded the admiration and love of all who knew him. His friends in all things, and a meek and pious Christian, his life was one of consistent walk in the path of duty. Generous without ostentation, his deeds of kindness and of charity, though unpretentious, were many and great, so that a to-day the memory of Willie Ligon brings a tear of gratitude and affection to the eyes of many in the humblest homes of this County, who will never know him. He was a life that was a pleasure, but his pleasures were always consistent with duty. With a nature genial and lovely, with a success in business and happy surroundings in life, he had all that goes to make up the highest happiness, and used these blessings, as trusts he did, to his own benefit and the benefit of those with whom he was associated. His was a life that made the world brighter and better for his having lived in it. His death is a loss to the business interests of Anderson, which he was always ready to sound judgment, and progressive enterprise to build up and carry forward. He has fallen in the glory of young manhood, while the honors of life were being gathered by him. No evil ever stained his life. He was a life that was a blessing to all who knew him, and concerning which nothing that is wrong could be uttered.

Belton Items.

The following persons composed the party on this line: "N. W. Trowbridge, Misses Jessie and Nellie Trowbridge, Miss Lizzie Keese, Mayor G. F. Tolly and Mrs. J. M. Leitch, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Brazzale, Gen. W. W. and Mrs. Humphreys, Miss Carrie McCully, Miss Maggie Evans, Miss Lella White, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Crayton, Mr. and Mrs. S. Blackley, Miss Zoe Blackley, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Peoples, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Means, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Mauldin, Miss Annie Mauldin, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Amos, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Featherston, G. S. Sullivan, M. P. Tribble, J. G. Clinckleas, R. S. Pant, Harry McGrath, J. G. Cunningham, J. D. Maxwell, M. McElroy, A. S. Todd, Dr. J. O. Whitte and General D. Kempfer, and the Young America Cornet Band of Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. D. Gallen members of the Methodist Church, of Pendleton, S. C., were in the city on Friday, and attended the services at the Hones Path Church.

William—Dr. W. E. Link, S. S. McBride.

Bordeaux—Dr. J. A. Gilbert, Albert Gilbert, Miss Annie Gilbert, Messrs. A. Morgane, H. Bouchillon, G. S. Cade, Firkens.

En-route to Augusta the party received notice that a number of the ladies of the Anderson ladies graced the floor by their presence, and contributed to the beauty and the pleasure of the evening. We would like to give a more extended picture of the most pleasant features of this delightful entertainment, with the handsome and elaborate toilettes worn by many charming ladies of Augusta and the neighborhood, but will have to content ourselves with copying the list of ladies from this County who appeared upon the floor with their costumes as published in the Augusta Chronicle, of the following morning:

Miss Lilla Barr, blue and white; Miss Maggie Barr, blue and white; Miss Annie Barr, white and blue; Miss Carrie McCully, white and blue; Miss Nellie Trowbridge, pink and white; Miss Zoe Blackley, pink and white; Miss Maggie Evans, pink and white; Miss Lella White, pink and white; Miss B. F. Crayton, pink and white; Miss S. Blackley, pink and white; Miss J. E. Peoples, pink and white; Miss A. G. Means, white and blue; Miss J. L. Mauldin, black and white; Miss Annie Mauldin, black and white; Miss C. A. Amos, black and white; Miss J. C. Featherston, black and white; Miss M. P. Tribble, black and white; Miss J. G. Clinckleas, black and white; Miss R. S. Pant, black and white; Miss Harry McGrath, black and white; Miss J. G. Cunningham, black and white; Miss J. D. Maxwell, black and white; Miss M. McElroy, black and white; Miss A. S. Todd, black and white; Miss J. O. Whitte, black and white; Miss General D. Kempfer, black and white.

On arriving at the city at 3:30 p. m., the party was met by a number of the ladies, and a pleasant transportation to the hotel, and soon there was the bustle incident to locating a large party in hotels, which could not enlarge the number of their rooms to suit the occasion. A similar excursion came down about us from Sanderville, and still another followed from Greenville, and a number of the ladies of the day, however, was the SUMPTUOUS BANQUET given by the City of Augusta to the visitors from Georgia and South Carolina, which was served in the most approved method in the spacious dining room at the Planter's Hotel, under the management of its proprietors, the Messrs. Scofield Brothers. The committee had arranged for a number of tables, and the length of the entire hall. The menu was varied and tempting, and was served in a most dexterous manner by trained servants. The banquet began at about ten o'clock in the evening, and upon assembling in the hall an address of welcome was delivered by Mayor May of Augusta. The banquet was presided over by Hon. Patrick W. H. Hott, who, after the popping of the cork from the champagne, bottles being announced as the first toast of the evening, the sentiment:

"Our guests—Our hearts and our homes are open to you. We bid you three welcome to the mart of your fathers." Dr. J. M. Hall responded in a short and appropriate address, and the party was then adjourned to the ball.

Refreshments were served at 12 and at 2 o'clock. The ball consisted of dancing twenty figures, and lasted until 4 o'clock. The management was perfect, and the natural Sciences will also receive increased attention.

The terms for Board and Tuition will remain as heretofore.

A Remarkable Escape.

Mr. Mary A. Dalley, of Tunkhannock, Pa., was afflicted for six years with Asthma and Bronchitis, during which time the best physicians could give no relief. She was cured by the use of Dr. King's New Discovery, when immediate relief was felt, and by continuing its use a short time she was completely cured, gaining in flesh 30 lbs. in a few months.

The past winter she was afflicted with all Throat and Lung Diseases at Hill Bros. Drug Store. Large Bottles $1.00.
