

Cotton pickers will soon be in demand. Our merchants are preparing for a lively trade in the Fall.

Mr. W. W. Keys, of the Baptist Church, spent a day or two in the city last week. Dr. R. F. Diver has several second-hand engines for sale.

The C. & G. R. authorities have put in a "Y" at the Blue Ridge Yard in this city. This time next year the Democratic Primary Election will be drawing to a close.

John M. Hubbard spent a few days in Charleston last week. He says the earthquake has done the grand old city good in many ways.

The Abbeville Medium says "Miss Jennie E. Lewis, a graduate of the Due West Female College, is teaching school at Orange Hall, in Anderson County."

The young ladies of the Presbyterian Church will serve ice cream in the Church Grove on Friday evening, at 5:30 o'clock, for the benefit of the Thornwell Orphanage.

The Abbeville Medium says Mr. Earle Lewis, of Pendleton, will give a premium of $100 for the best horse from the horse "Margie," exhibited at the sell show in Abbeville this Fall.

C. F. Jones & Co. are offering some bargains in dry goods just now, and advise our readers to take advantage of them. Read their notices on this page, and see what they say.

Mr. Berry Williams, of Picocton, has sent us a fine stack of cotton, which contains two open bolls. If this stack is an average of his crop, Mr. Williams will certainly get a fine yield.

Andrew Talley, a colored boy, slipped into Messrs. Bleckley, Brown & Fretwell's store, through the back door, on Tuesday, and stole a hat. He was promptly arrested and lodged in jail to await trial at the October term of Court.

Hon. R. E. Mason, of Westminster, was in the city last Friday. Mr. Mason now represents Orange County in the Legislature, and is one of the most popular men in his County. Cooney should put him in his Senate next time.

The Laurens Advertiser, of last week, says: "Negroes in Anderson County, if that prohibition is successful, E. B. Murray will be President of the United States and that they will have to carry passes issued by B. F. Crayton."

A certain young man sent a very pretty bouquet of flowers to a young lady the other day. When the boy, who had delivered them, returned, the young man asked: "What did the young lady say when you gave her the flowers?" The boy replied: "She asked the young fellow if he didn't want 'em, and he said yes, and she give 'em to him."

List of letters remaining in the Post-office for the week ending August 17th: J. F. Campbell, Peter A. Callahan, P. A. Callahan, R. A. Collins, L. T. Lottan, N. C. or J. S. Kay, Mrs. Ellen Logan, F. S. McConnell, T. M. Meyfield, Hezekiah M. Grover, and Ernest M. Martin. Mrs. Ginny L. Moor, Charlie Robinson, Miss Lucy Sandus, Miss Summers, Col. Miss Mary Ann Stoney, Diana S. L. Williams.

The advertisement of the Greenville Female College appears in the INTELLIGENCER, and we invite the attention of our readers to it. No College in the State has better facilities or an able faculty, and those of our readers who are desirous of education should send them to a better institution. The catalogue of the College is before us, and among the faculty we find the name of Miss Bessie Bagby, who was formerly connected with the Anderson Female Seminary. Write to the President, Prof. A. S. Townes, for a catalogue.

Mr. H. B. Fant has resigned the agency of the Southern Express Company in this city, and Mr. R. L. Keys has been appointed as his successor. Mr. Fant is the agent of the C. & G. R. R., and resigned agency to the Company as well as to the public. Mr. Keys is in every way qualified for the position, and will make a good officer. Mr. Fant's resignation will take effect on 1st September.

Killed by Lightning. About half past 4 o'clock last Sunday afternoon a very heavy rain, accompanied by constant and loud peals of thunder and vivid flashes of lightning, passed over the city. The storm did not last more than forty-five minutes, and when the clouds passed away the news spread rapidly through the city that the lightning had struck a house near the colored Baptist Church and killed a colored man named Lee Sloan. The report caused considerable excitement, and in a short time a large crowd of both whites and blacks had congregated at the scene.

The house stands in the rear of the colored Baptist Church, near the track of the Savannah Valley Railroad, and within a few yards of the house that was struck by lightning and burnt up a few weeks ago was a wooden building, and about 16716 feet, with a door opening on the north side, and a window on the south side. On the west end of the chimney. In the southeast corner of the room stood a bed, on which Elbert Guyton, another colored man, was lying. In the door on the south side, at the foot of the bed, stood Lee Sloan, the unfortunate man, who was watching the clouds. At his side were two small children.

The bolt of lightning, it seems, descended the chimney, and came out just above the mantle, tearing a hole in the chimney large enough to put one's head through. On the mantel stood a clock, which was torn to pieces. The bolt then passed to the bed, and, tearing the side-piece, next to the head of the bed, and striking the body of the bed, and Elbert Guyton, who was on the bed, experienced the shock in his left arm and right leg, and for a few minutes could not move. From the bed it must have passed on to the door in which Sloan was standing. Instantly he fell to the floor dead, the children by his side escaping unharmed, though one of them said he felt the shock for a few seconds. As soon as the alarm could be given some of the neighbors ran into the house and extinguished the burning bed.

Coroner Nance was soon on hand, and at 6 o'clock organized a jury of inquest with Mr. L. E. Norrye as foreman. Dr. E. C. Frierson made a thorough examination of the body of the deceased, and found a blister about two or three inches in circumference on his left side, which, he said, was caused by the electric fluid. No bones were broken, and this blister was the only mark on his body. Dr. Frierson stated that it was his opinion that death was caused by the stroke of lightning, and the jury rendered a verdict accordingly.

A dog, which was under the house when the lightning struck, was killed, the skin and hair being torn from its stomach. A large rat was also found dead, and it is supposed to have been killed at the same time. It was rather a singular freak of electricity, and it is remarkable that Guyton, who was on the bed, and the children, who were standing near Sloan, were not killed. It is also a little singular that the lightning should strike twice in such a short time in nearly the same place and do so much damage.

Twigs Items. Cropping in our section continues to look promising, and if no disaster befall them, the husbandmen will be rewarded with the bountiful yield, and his granaries will overflow with the products of the earth. The two principal crops, corn and cotton, were not seriously injured by the recent freshets in this section, although corn was badly blown down in some places. The farmers have employed the time since laying by their crops in gathering public money, gathering, working the roads and preparing for gathering the abundant crop which will soon mature. Fodder pulling has already commenced, and will be in full blast in a short time. The first crops of bolls upon the cotton are about matured, and have commenced to open.

The roads in this section, with a few exceptions, have all been recently worked, and present a fine appearance, and when they become more compact it will be a pleasure to ride or drive over them. Our people seem to be so enthused in the matter of working the roads, that many other besides the public roads, are being worked, put in good condition all over this section.

Quite a number of our citizens who live in the lower portion of the County have been attending the United States Court, at Greenville, during the past and present week, some being charged with selling whiskey illegally and others as witnesses. It is passing strange that some of our people will handle or deal in an article contrary to the laws of our country, which has done so much harm to society, and has ruined and disrupted so many happy homes. We hope they may learn from sad experience that it would be best to bandish it from our fair land and have nothing to do with it.

The members of Yarenes Church have commenced to remodel and repair their church building, which had become somewhat dilapidated. It will be changed to the modern style of church architecture. Rev. A. M. Ataway will commence the projected meeting at Hibernia church on next Sabbath, and continue a week or more. This church was greatly revived and built up last year under the ministry of Rev. J. F. Anderson. They have a flourishing Sunday School, and services are held three Sundays in each month.

This place. It is altogether necessary on this part of the people of this section to heartily co-operate and earnestly desire a good school to be successful in establishing one. Mr. and Mrs. Abner Emerson, with their sister, Mrs. Joe Reed, of Micanopy, Florida, arrived a few days since, and are visiting relatives and friends in this portion of the County.

Our worthy bachelor friend and neighbor, Mr. J. A. Emerson, says he has arrived at the conclusion that there is more trouble than happiness in this unsubjunctive world. He says, first of all, the freshets came and injured his corn, then his onion crop has been the object to his residence fall during the recent wet spell, and he has been busily engaged the past week rebuilding. He says he proposes to sit down and ruminate and study till his fodder is ready to pull, and see if he can find out the cause of his ill luck. We will volunteer a little help, Lou; get you a sweet, loving wife, and she will share your troubles and trials with you, and make your life one of perfect bliss and unalloyed happiness.

Mrs. J. C. Hamlin, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Kirby, of Abbeville, has gone to the mountains, and will spend a week or two along the verdant slopes of the Blue Ridge. We wish them a safe journey and a pleasant time.

Mr. J. K. Hall, who has been traveling for the Southern Clock Company, in Southwest Georgia, has returned home. "OMEGA."

Holland's Store Items. The Temperance meeting at Cross Roads last Saturday was very well attended. Mrs. E. J. Barke presided and introduced Col. J. N. Brown as the first speaker. He read the Bill, explaining and commenting as he read. What he said was strictly to the point, and we trust tended to destroy much of the prejudice existing in the minds of many persons.

The next speaker introduced was Rev. A. M. Marshall of Anderson. His speech was clear, eloquent and grand; we will not attempt to describe it, but will say that those who missed hearing it, missed a treat. He was followed in the afternoon by Revs. J. S. Murray and Calvin Pressley and Hon. B. P. Crayton, each making fine addresses, showing up the evils of intemperance in plain and unmistakable language.

A very interesting feature of the day was the vocal music by a band of beautiful little girls and boys from Anderson. They were led by Messrs. Baker and Brown of the same town. The organ was removed to the stand and was presided over by Mrs. Badger. The entire program was well gotten up, and reflects much credit on Mr. J. J. Fretwell, who brought the children down from Anderson. They all acquitted themselves in a most creditable style.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Dean have the sympathy of this section in the death of their little boy, Roscoe, which occurred on last Wednesday night. The remains of the little one was laid to rest in the Cross Roads grave yard the following day. The pastor was assisted by Revs. Riley, Frierson and others, all of whom no doubt sowed seed that will blossom in eternity. The meeting, despite the unfavorable weather part of the week, was interesting all through and well attended.

We were shown over the farm of Mr. W. M. Burris a few days ago. His farm lies on Savannah River, and is in a high state of cultivation. He has some good corn as we ever saw, but unfortunately what bottom land he has on the river is seriously injured. He did not depend, however, on it alone, and planted a large area in upland corn, which is simply splendid. His cotton crop is excellent, showing energy, combined with good judgment, in its management. And last but not least, his melon crop is the best we have seen this season. He has a variety of watermelons called "Coke" or "Squash", which were in the market at that time. He had twenty melons that weighed over seven hundred pounds.

The Savannah during the recent freshets broke the wire rope over Holland's Ferry. It was the highest it has been for years, and it is reported that Mr. P. B. Allen had the freshets. He had the Island opposite Hardacker Mills, on the Savannah rented for a pasture, and had on it about twenty-five head, the greater part of which was swept away. Only a few made good their escape by swimming out.

Silver Brook Cemetery. Mr. Editor: To the Southeast of the city, and just beyond its limits, the City Council of Anderson has purchased twenty-five acres for a Cemetery. The grounds are well located and highly adapted for either a Park or a Cemetery. The gentle, undulating hills are covered with trees, and all are of all grades, interspersed here and there with a young growth of water oaks, and the narrow strip of low land, with the hills on either side, is covered with grass, ferns and flowers, where the clear waters of Silver Brook winds like a silver ribbon through its entire length. Fodder Springs gushes out from under a large rock, and the water is clear and sparkling. In the projecting boughs of four gigantic trees, and close by four other springs are to be found, whose clear, limpid waters nearly surround a small flat of ground, which could be very easily turned into a small island, and more than one miniature lake could be made in the graceful curves of the meandering little brook. This rustic gathering, working the roads and preparing for gathering the abundant crop which will soon mature, Fodder pulling has already commenced, and will be in full blast in a short time. The first crops of bolls upon the cotton are about matured, and have commenced to open.

The roads in this section, with a few exceptions, have all been recently worked, and present a fine appearance, and when they become more compact it will be a pleasure to ride or drive over them. Our people seem to be so enthused in the matter of working the roads, that many other besides the public roads, are being worked, put in good condition all over this section.

Quite a number of our citizens who live in the lower portion of the County have been attending the United States Court, at Greenville, during the past and present week, some being charged with selling whiskey illegally and others as witnesses. It is passing strange that some of our people will handle or deal in an article contrary to the laws of our country, which has done so much harm to society, and has ruined and disrupted so many happy homes. We hope they may learn from sad experience that it would be best to bandish it from our fair land and have nothing to do with it.

THANKS WILL BE THERE. HICKORY PLANT, S. C., Aug. 15. Editor Intelligencer: A letter received yesterday from Capt. Tillman enables me to say that he will be present at the meeting at Sandy Springs on the 23rd inst. Mrs. Tillman's recent illness having taken her to the city, she has not had any opportunity to hear him on the issues before the people prompts me to ask space in your columns for the above, reassuring those who had heard of his probable detention at his wife's bedside. Yours very truly, D. K. NORRIS.

Appeal of Tennessee Convicts. NASHVILLE, TENN., August 11.—Four hundred and one convicts, confined in the main prison at Nashville, have appealed to the people of Tennessee to work for the adoption of the prohibitory amendment. After saying that three-fourths of the inmates have been made criminals by intoxicants, they close their appeal as follows: "Wearing the garb of disgrace, being dishonored and counted unworthy to mingle with the people of our State, we yet have the same love for our wives, the same affection for our sisters, and for their sake, and for the sake of our children, we appeal to you to unite as one man and free the State from a curse created by the laws of men, discountenanced by the law of God." Rev. N. W. Utley, chaplain of the penitentiary, certifies at the bottom of the list of names that the document was prepared by the convicts themselves as a voluntary act on their part.

The latest reports from the rice crop on the Savannah river is to the effect that a few hundred acres may be saved, but the greater part of the crop is drowned. "The Keowee Courier" says: "Petty thieving is becoming too common, especially stealing from the field. We hear much of this complaint on Keowee River near and on the old Samuel Reid farm. Corn, peas and watermelons are taken or maliciously destroyed by persons unknown to the owners of the crop. It is a penitentiary crime to steal corn from the field, and if a few could be caught and convicted it would have a wholesome influence in that neighborhood."

The Abbeville Medium says: "Last month William Thomas was brought before Trial Justice Sitton at Due West charged with stealing watermelons. He pleaded guilty and consented to take a whipping instead of the punishment prescribed by law. It is said that Trial Justice Sitton consented to this, saying that the whippers must not cut the blood out. He should have sent him to jail or imposed a fine. The report may be a mistake, but we give it as it came to us. We are surprised that Trial Justice Sitton who is a tender-hearted man, would permit any such thing."

Gen. James Longstreet lives in a quiet farmhouse on the summit of a mountain ridge in north Georgia. A friend who has just been paying him a visit says that his hair is silver, his whiskers are snow, his giant figure somewhat bent, but his eagle eyes still flash with the old-time fire, and years have only deepened the strong lines in his face. He was dressed for comfort. He did not care that his collar was awry, that his waistcoat adorned a chair post, that his alpaca coat was ripped up the back, and he did not care that his slippers were flap-flap against his heels as he walked.

WHAT "UNCLE SAM" IS JUST TO SAY. That Calisaya Tonic is just what it purports to be, a tonic, a medicinal preparation of real merit, and not a compound of impurities, as many of our people have been fully disguised as Bitters, which poison the blood and lead to the formation of an appetite for strong drink, the consequence being a great loss of Internal Revenue will show.

THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT. T. J. AMESON, Chief of Internal Revenue. Washington, Jan. 23rd, 1887. My dear Sir: It is my duty to inform you, in relation to your application for Calisaya Tonic, that the formula for making your "Calisaya Tonic" certified to under oath on the 22nd instant, has been examined. My decision is that, for purposes of taxation under the Internal Revenue laws, this Tonic, so made up, may be classed as a proprietary medicinal tonic, subject to stamp tax, and that sales thereof will be subject to the provisions of Section 5245, U. S. Revenue Statutes.

RESPECTFULLY. Sold by all DRUGGISTS at $1.00 per bottle. Use Dr. Duke's Anti-Bilious Wafers in connection with the Tonic if your liver is out of order. Whitte & Whitte, wholesale agents.

Kemper's Technical School. I PROPOSE to resume my school-work on the first Monday (5th day) of September in my room near the Synagogue building, and to secure for every pupil entrusted to my care a thorough knowledge of English; and will also receive applications to be executed in behalf of those who devote themselves to the languages, I hope to include some young man to enter on practical studies, such as Surveying, Engineering, Architecture, Drawing, etc. Beside this work, I especially desire to teach classes of girls, and young ladies whom I offer opportunities for instruction not surpassed by the larger seminaries, and whose convenience and the low attendance shall be carefully consulted. My charge of tuition will vary according to grade of study—from $5 to $5 per month. DEL. KEMPER, M. A. August 19, 1887.

Death of Gen. Bradley. BRADLEY, ABBEVILLE COUNTY, August 14.—Gen. P. H. Bradley died here to-night about 9 o'clock. He was seventy-four years old. He was the first president of the Greenwood and Augusta Railroad, now the Augusta and Knoxville. After the name of the road was changed he was elected vice president, and held that position until the consolidation of the Carolina system of the Georgia Central last fall. He was a member of the Legislature in 1855 and 1856, also from 1880 to 1883. His death is a severe blow to Abbeville County.

Memorial. We, the members of the Ladies' Missionary Society of the Anderson Presbyterian Church, wish to put on record a memorial in honor of the late Mrs. Ellen Towres, a beloved and valued member of that Society. She was a lady well united to herself all the excellencies of the female character, in all the varied and important positions which she occupied, either as a mother, a Christian, a friend, a help and adviser in our benevolent work. Every proposition to do good found ready response in her, and her ready countenance of her great amiability and sweetness of temper, her opinions were of great weight with her friends and retiring. Our friend was a true Presbyterian in her convictions, and labored most faithfully for her church. With a true admiration of her character in all the walks of life, and of her efficient and pleasant co-operation with us in our benevolent work, we wish to leave this brief record of her life and esteem. Signed in behalf of the Society. Mrs. J. N. TOWNSEND, President.

A Great Discovery. Mr. Wm. Thomas, of Newton, Ia., says: "My wife has been seriously affected with a cough for twenty-five years, and this spring more severely than ever before. She had used many remedies without relief, and being urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery, we purchased a bottle of that medicine, which she used for thirty years. The first bottle relieved her very much, and the second bottle has absolutely cured her. She has not had a good health for thirty years." Trial Bottles Free at Hill Bros. Drug Store.
