A very sad and fatal accident happened one mile south of Starr, on the Savannah Valley Railroad last Tuesday morning, which resulted in the death of Mr. Scott Young, son of Mr. D. M. Young, of this County. Mr. Young was about 33 years of age, and was very deaf. On Tuesday morning he was on his way to Starr, walking the side of the railroad track, when the north bound train from McCormick came in sight. Mr. Young did not notice the approaching train, and the engineer thought, of course, that he would get out of the way before the train reached him. The train moved on rapidly, and in a few seconds was nearly up to the man, but still he did not get out of the way. The engineer blew his whistle, but the man continued walking along the track. The engineer again blew his whistle, the brakes were applied and the engine eversed, but it was too late. The poor nan hal been struck by the engine, and knocked between twenty and thirty feet from the track, breaking his back and bruising his body in several places. He was immediately notified and went down and held an inquest Tuesday afternoon, The verdict of the jury was in accordance with the above facts. No blame is attached to the railroad.

This Order is similar to the Knights of Honor. though it is said to be the oldest, largest and strongest of all the Orders that pay a death benefit. The principles and teachings of the Order are in keeping with the highest grades of morality, and it embraces all the practical and essential purposes of life insurance at the lowest possible cost consistent with absolute security and perpetuity. It has, we believe, several superior features over similar jorganzations, one of which is that its members shall not exceed twenty-four (which is equal to $24.00) a year, and another is that when a Grand Lodge secures two thousand the names of a number of our citizens and is in a fair way to establish a flourishing Lodge in Anderson.

THIS CONCERNS YOU.

Every man should save his own Garden Seeds, but will not, and therefore should be very careful about where and what kind he buys. All of our old stock was carefully burned before the new came in, and we have nothing but new seeds, of this we give you any kind of guarantee you want. We do this partly as an advertise ment, partly as a joke on the rats and mice, but principally as a protection to ourselves and our customers, and for the satisfaction of looking a man square in the face and saying without batting your eyes, "these are fresh Seed." T'is a luxury denied the multitude. We keep also Grass and Field Seeds of all kinds, in fact we have made this a kind of specialty, and will be glad to give all the information we can to parties desiring to embark in that industry, whether they buy from us or not.
