Mrs, Ella Marshall, the beloved wife of Rev. A. A. Marshall, pastor of the Baptist Church in this city, died last Thursday afternoon at the parsonage, aged about 30 years. Mrs. Marshall came to Anderson not quite a year ago, and has been confined to the house nearly ever since she came. She was afflicted with that fatal disease, consumption, and bore her sufferings with that patience and fortitude characteristic of a true christian. Those whose pleasure it was to form her acquaintance found her a most noble and excellent lady. One day last week a man named Wm. Kennedy and his family, consisting of a wife and eight children, passed through Mr. T. D. Earle, of Landrum's, S. C., the city on their way to Americus, Ga. drawn by an ox. The wagon halted on the Square for a short time, and attracted a crowd around it. Mr. Kennedy said he had come from Greene County, Va., having left there about 5th of April. He said he was a native of Americus, Ga., and had left there to go into the war. His Company went to Virginia, and shortly pefore the surrender he was wounded and left on the battlefield. He became sepatation to attend the Commencement rated from his Company, and was never Academy, which takes place from July covered from his wounds, he married and settled down in Virginia, where he had ever since resided. He said he had frequently written to his relatives at Americus, Ga., but had never received a word from them in reply. He finally made up his mind to return to his native home, which he expects to reach about the middle of July. His children were all small, father at Williamston, on Wednesday, and among them were two sets of twin boys. His property besides his wagon and ox, consisted of a straw bed, a few cooking utensils and two dogs.

A COMMON SENSE REMEDY.

In the matter of curatives what you want is something that will do its work while you continue to do yours—a remedy that will give you no inconvenience nor interfere with your business. Such a reminterfere with your business. Such a remedy is Allcock's Porous Plasters. These plasters are purely vegetable and absolutely harmless. They require no change of diet, and are not affected by wet or cold. Their action does not interfere with labor or business; you can toil and yet be cured while hard at work. They are so pure that the youngest, the oldest, the most delicate person of either sex can use them with great benefit.

The school fund has a surplus of $16,000,000, for nearly half of which no safe investment can be found. The farmers, to whom the State has been selling its lands on forty years' time, with only 5 per cent interest, in the hope that they would be very dilatory about paying the principal, are piling in the money on the overburdened State treasurer. The counties are doing the same. To add to its misery the State has 30,000 acres of land yet to sell, which are
