Last Saturday, in company with Mr. H. H. Wilcox, of Greenville, we crossed the Savannah and spent Sunday in attendance upon the Hartwell, Ga., Camp Meeting. We had visited the beautiful town of Hartderson last Saturday from Monteagle, well three or four years ago during the Camp Meeting, and we had not forgotten he pleasures of that trip. Our visit this time was equally as pleasant, and perhaps more so, for we met many old friends and found the acquaintance of many new ones. The Camp Ground is situated about three miles west of the town, and is a beautiful place. It was located about fifteen years ago, and the meetings are ulways largely attended by the people from not only Hart County, but, also from all the surrounding counties. The meeting usually continues for a week, four services being held each day. The people lay aside all business cares and go there and spend the week worshipping God, and the meetings are always productive of much good. On Sunday the crowd in attendance was immense, and it was the most orderly and best behaved crowd we have ever seen gathered together. Four able and effective sermons were preached during the day, and close attention was paid by the crowd. The people of that section can't be ex-celled in the United States for genuine hospitality and kindness, and it does a stranger good to mingle with them. Of course, we put in a good portion of our time with 1st inst, at the residence of the bride's the young ladies, a large number of whom perents, by Rev. J. A. Clifton, Mr. M. we met. The little Sunday School at High Shoals arranged to have a pic nic at the beautiful and hospitable little town of Williamston on Thursday, August 2, which, we think, was one of the most pleasant affairs that we ever attended. We regret very much that we haven't time nor space to give you every detail of the pic nic, but will andeavor to give you a pount second to endeavor to give you a rough account of . We met at the residence of Mr. R. Q. Anderson, about fifty in number, arrangements having been made to ride in wagons, not forgetting to provide a wagon to haul the ice, watermelons and well-filled baskets, which the good ladies had taken much pains in preparing. Every one being comfortably seated, about six o'clock we started. We stopped at the residence of Col. L. E. Campbell, whereupon the Colonel came out armed with a jug of the best cider we ever tasted, after which the Colonel and those of his family who were at home, accompanied us to Williamston, at which place we arrived about ten o'clock. After having our stock comfortably attended to, we repaired to that beautiful haven of rest—the Spring Park,—which place Mayor T. C. Martin had kindly granted us the use of for the day. We must extend our thanks to Mayor Martin for that, and the many other kindnesses shown us through the day. We are sorry that cirsumstances prevented his being with us. Owing to the thoughtfulness of Mrs. J. R. Anderson, it was our pleasure to meet a few of Williamston's most popular young ladies. Among them were the charming Misses Sallie and Ella Donald and Miss Beulah Austin, who added much to the pleasure of the day. Several of our young men left their hearts in Williamston, includ-ing our modest young Superintendent. We have no doubt, if the girls will stand up to the rack, this occasion will prove to vicinity.
