

Anderson Cotton Market. Good Middling 94, Middling 93, Short Low Middling 92, Low Middling 91, Storm Cotton 86 1/2. The following are the receipts for the week ending Tuesday night: Wednesday 166, Thursday 180, Friday 219, Saturday 437, Sunday 0, Tuesday 142. Total for the week 1,240. Total receipts for the season, 1,796 bales.

Butter and eggs meet with ready sale at fair prices. Bring up your overcoat and get out your flannel.

Mr. H. A. Ligon, of Spartanburg, was in the city last week.

Dr. Bart Mitchell, of Westminster, spent Monday in the city.

Encourage every manufacturing enterprise that is spoken of in Anderson.

A tract of valuable land near this city is offered for sale. See advertisement.

Anderson is kept well supplied with cabbage and apples from the mountains.

New students are added to the roll of Patrick's Military Institute every day or two.

Don't forget your promise to pay your subscription when you sell your first cotton.

Mr. W. E. Gonzales, representing the News and Courier, was in the city last week.

Small change is very scarce. It was a hard task to get a $5 bill changed last Saturday.

Several Abbeville County men were in the city last week selling cotton and buying goods.

It is said that a marriage will occur in Anderson shortly that will surprise everybody.

The Boardman Association meets at Double Springs Church, in Fork Township, to-day.

A gentleman in New Hampshire has made application to rent the new hotel when finished.

The bright weather of the past week has given a more hopeful outlook as to the crops generally.

A lot of old papers suitable for wrapping can be bought very cheap at the Intelligencer office.

The railroads are again all right, and the trains on both roads are making their trips on schedule time.

Messrs. Marshall Ligon, John Whitfield, Will Hodges and Wad. Dunoon have gone to Wofford College.

Mr. C. F. Jones will conduct the prayer meeting in Temperance Hall next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Be sure and go to the Masonic Hall this evening and see the wonderful tricks performed by Prof. Haviland.

Some of our cotton buyers say that competition in the cotton business here is sharper than they ever knew it.

We haven't heard of any gin-sawed hands or arms of this year's crop; our ears are open for a report, though.

Last Saturday was a live day, with our merchants. Four hundred and thirty-seven bales of cotton were sold here.

Our merchants are determined to pay the highest price possible for cotton this season, and sell goods cheaper than ever.

Several fine loads of crab grass hay have been sold in the city during the past week. It is good forage, and brings a good price.

Persons holding claims against the County should read the notice of the annual meeting of the County Commissioners.

The County Farmers' Alliance met last Saturday and was well attended. The next meeting will be held on Friday, 15th inst.

It is now fashionable for young ladies to carry walking-cases. An Anderson boy has already presented his girl with one.

Persons indebted to the old firm of Ricketts, Brown & Fretwell should read carefully their advertisement in this paper.

Mr. B. F. Moss is now quite sick and has been confined to his home for several days. His friends hope to see him up again.

Monday was a beautiful, bright day, but the crowd in the city was not as large as is usually seen here on Saturdays in October.

Mr. Marie Fogues, of Spartanburg, has located in the city for the purpose of buying cotton. His office is at Means' clothing store.

Mr. Thomas P. Smith, one of Charleston's most popular and prominent business men, spent a day or two in the city last week.

Very small sheets of note paper that go into the envelope without folding represent the very latest thing in fashionable stationery.

Mr. J. N. Watkins, of this city, killed a chicken a few days ago, and while dressing it found a large pin pierced through its gizzard.

The contract for building the new hotel has not yet been awarded. Mr. Bruce, the architect, is expected to arrive in the city to-day.

Bring your cotton to Anderson, get a good price for it, and then buy your goods of our merchants, and we guarantee you will be satisfied.

The primary election for Clerk of Court in Abbeville County comes off next Saturday. There are a dozen or more candidates in the field.

The Williamson Farmers' Alliance will have a meeting next Saturday afternoon, at 8 o'clock. All the members are urged to attend promptly.

In the near future the fun-loving people of the city will be treated to a first class minstrel entertainment by some of our best amateur talent.

Last Sunday was a bright day, and the city churches were well attended. It was the only clear Sunday we had during the month of September.

The sorghum mills are kept quite busy, and in a few days sorghum will be abundant. We have seen some very fine samples of this year's crop.

Our clever friend, Capt. V. F. Martin, visited Anderson last week, and his many friends were delighted to see him. He looks hale and hearty.

The entertainment in the Masonic Hall this evening will be one of the most interesting ever witnessed in Anderson. The proceeds will go to the Palmetto Bibles.

About the largest cotton bolls we have ever seen were shown us the other day by Mr. Evans Brown. He calls it "Jones' improved cotton." The bolls came from his son's crop, which, it is believed, will average a bale to the acre.

The Pound Party, which was announced to take place in the Temperance Hall this (Thursday) evening, has been postponed until next Thursday evening, 11th inst.

Mr. Wesley A. Black died at his home near Level Land, in Abbeville County, on Saturday, 22nd ult., aged about 60 years. He was one of Abbeville's best citizens.

Rumor, generally correct in her predictions, informs us that the dresses are made to the suit purchased and the children's fashions—all for two weddings at an early day.

Rev. W. A. Betts, now pastor of the Southern Methodist church at Graniteville, has started the publication at Graniteville of The Southern Youth, a journal for boys and young men.

We are requested to announce that a meeting of the Townville Farmers' Alliance will be held on Thursday, 11th inst., at 3 o'clock p. m. The members are urged to attend promptly.

We have known men to succeed by attending strictly to their own business. We have known others to succeed at nothing because they were always busy with other people's affairs.

There are no idle mechanics in Anderson. Every brick-mason, carpenter and painter is kept busy. Improvements are going on in nearly every portion of the city. Let the good work go on.

At the meeting of Orr's Lodge, A. O. U. W., on the 10th inst., Rev. A. A. Marshall will deliver a lecture on some subject connected with the Order. A full attendance of the members is desired.

Mr. W. C. Andrew received a letter from Rev. J. W. Welling a few days ago informing him that he would sail for America about the 10th inst., and expected to reach Anderson about the 10th November.

Mr. Will Mattison, who has been confined to his home for the past two months with a severe case of fever, has returned to the city and resumed his place in Mr. Barr's store. His friends are glad to see him again.

Governor Richardson has appointed the following Commissioners of Election for Anderson County: State—F. T. Whitte, G. F. Tolly and P. K. McCully; Federal—J. D. Maxwell, J. M. Payne and J. E. Breazeale.

The Baptist, Presbyterian and Methodist Sunday Schools of the city will hereafter meet at 10 o'clock on Sunday morning, instead of at 9 o'clock, as heretofore. The hour for preaching has also been changed to 11 o'clock.

The time for paying the first installment to the capital stock of the Anderson Cotton Mills has been extended until the 20th inst., as will be seen by reference to the advertisement in another column. Every subscriber should pay promptly.

Mr. W. F. Woodfill, travelling agent for that great Southern newspaper, the Atlanta Constitution, spent last Thursday in the city and called to see the Intelligencer. He is a courteous, friendly gentleman, and makes friends wherever he goes.

Persons who have leaky roofs should note the advertisement of Mr. T. C. McDonald, who is now offering to our citizens the best roof paint ever put upon the market. He has done considerable work in Anderson, and has given satisfaction.

List of letters remaining in the Post-office for the week ending October 3: Miss Adeline Bailey, F. E. Bradley, Ella Cook, John Frost, Miss Anna Hicks, (2), Mrs. A. C. Harkin, W. P. Johnson, Jas. Morch, Mrs. Letty Lewis, Lewis Sloan, Mrs. A. Sims.

Young ladies are now filling "head albums." Each gentleman is asked for a "shape" of his head as given by a hat conforming to a hat store, and it is pasted into an elegantly-bound scrap-book. It is a new way the girls have of getting a head of the boys.

We direct the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Nanz & Neuner, Louisville, Ky. Person's desiring to purchase plants, roses, bulbs, roots, vines, etc., should order of this firm. They are perfectly reliable, and guarantee satisfaction in every purchase.

The Ocoee Driving Association's annual stock show takes place at Walhalla on next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and promises to be a big success. The round-trip railroad fare from Anderson during the show will be 90 cents, and from Pendleton 45 cents.

Cotton is being marketed as fast as gathered, and there is considerable money being scattered over the country. Our people should not forget that tax-paying will soon be here, and they should lay aside a little money so as to be able to pay up promptly when the books are opened.

This section was visited by light frosts on last Saturday and Sunday mornings and many of our older citizens say it is the earliest frost they have ever seen. Various opinions are expressed about the effect of the frost on the cotton, some contending that it will injure it, while others think it will be beneficial.

Rev. J. H. Brown, colored, who has been in charge of St. Paul's Baptist Church, in this city, for the past year, suddenly left for parts unknown a few days ago. It is said that he left all of his debts unpaid, and that the majority of his congregation are glad to get rid of him. Brown came to Anderson from North Carolina.

Hartwell Sun: "Thos. W. Teasley, Esq., and wife returned from a visit of several days to Anderson, S. C., on Monday. Mr. Teasley says the crops on the other side of the river are much better than on this side. The big hotel is in process of construction and ground has been purchased for the location of the big cotton factory. Anderson is looking up."

In speaking of the Department of Denary at Vanderbilt University, the Grand Headlight says: "Dr. F. Johnston, of Anderson, South Carolina, was elected to fill the important position of Demonstrator of Operative and Mechanical Denary. He is a gentleman of recognized ability, and possesses in a high degree the requisite qualifications for the position. He is a native of North Carolina, but has been a citizen of Anderson County for a greater portion of his life. The Doctor and his family left the city last Friday for Nashville, carrying with them the best wishes of their many friends. They will not return before the last of next March. During Dr. Johnston's absence, his duties will be occupied by Dr. J. H. Burgess, of Summerton, S. C., who is a graduate of the Baltimore Dental College.

Anderson County is again called upon to mourn the death of another excellent citizen in the person of Mr. James Webb, who died at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. T. R. Simpson, in Pendleton Township, on last Tuesday evening, about 6 o'clock. His health had been gradually failing for the past six months, and his death was not unexpected. He was about 75 years of age. Mr. Webb was a native of North Carolina, but had been a citizen of Anderson County for a greater portion of his life. He was well known throughout the County, and his friends will read this announcement of his death with sorrow. Truly, a good man has fallen, and his place will be hard to fill. He was a faithful and active member of the Sandy Springs (Presbyterian) Church, and his remains were interred in the graveyard adjoining that Church on Wednesday afternoon.

Look Out for Your Roofs. Old and leaky roofs made water tight and fire-proof by the Excelsior Slate Roofing Co. of Columbia, S. C. The best roofing material on the market. Orders so far in order. This Coating is made of Iron or Slingle Roofs. All work warranted. The following parties have had their roofs put in order by this Coating: W. W. Humphreys, L. P. Smith, W. D. Brown, J. W. Daniels, G. W. Fann, G. W. Hubbard, J. H. Chapman and others. Address T. C. McDonald, sole proprietor and manufacturer, now at Anderson, S. C.

Go to Hill, Bros. and buy a bottle of B. B. B.—Botanic Blood Balm, the great blood purifier. J. H. Von Hasselt cures all kinds of properly, including country stores and gins, in good companies at lowest rates. A good second hand piano for sale cheap at the Anderson Music House.

The store rooms of Messrs. E. W. Brown & Sons, after considerable delay, are about completed, and these gentlemen now have one of the neatest, most convenient and best arranged establishments in the city. They have in store an immense stock of general merchandise, and it is worth your time to go through their rooms and see their display. They take pleasure in showing goods and quoting prices, and are not afraid of competition. Look out for their new advertisement next week.

Bishop Hoge's visit to Anderson last Sunday was a source of much pleasure to the congregation of Grace (Episcopal) Church. He preached two sermons, both of which were logical and eloquent. The Bishop confirmed three young ladies, one at the morning service and two at the evening service, and baptised several children. The Bishop's sermon at the evening service was exceedingly interesting and impressive. His subject was "Dives and Lazarus, and we wish it could have been possible for every one of our readers, who is thinking more of the treasures of this earth than Heaven, could have heard it.

This (Thursday) evening our citizens will have an opportunity of witnessing a most wonderful entertainment given by Prof. Haviland for the benefit of the Palmetto Riflemen. The programme will consist of four parts, each of which would alone be worth the price of admission. Prof. Haviland is an expert magician, mind-reader and spirit medium, and will astonish every member of his audience. If you have not secured your tickets, do so at once. Tickets on sale at Crayton, Jones & Seybt's. Every dollar of the proceeds will be donated to the Palmetto Riflemen. Tickets, 50 cents. No extra charge for reserved seats.

Mrs. Mary Crawford, relict of the late Mr. David Crawford, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. John Long, in Hall Township, on last Saturday night at 11 o'clock, after a very brief illness. Mrs. Crawford was about 70 years of age, and had been in feeble health for some time, but not confined to her bed. Last Saturday morning she received a stroke of paralysis, which caused her death in a few hours. She was a most devoted and faithful and consistent member of the Baptist Church. She was possessed of many noble qualities of both mind and heart, and was highly esteemed by every friend and acquaintance, all of whom deeply regret her death, and will long cherish her memory. Her remains were interred at Cross Roads on last Sunday afternoon.

Had a considerable frost on last Sunday morning. No damage done that we know of. Cotton is being rapidly gathered as the condition of it will admit. Hands are very scarce in this neighborhood—can hardly be had for love or money. The potato crop is very fine indeed. Turnips are looking well. The pindar crop has been harvested, and has turned out very well.

Possums are in good fix, and judging from the amount of hunting, they are being thinned out. A sad accident occurred in the family of Dr. King's New Dispensary on last Wednesday, the 28th, resulting in the death of his youngest child, a little boy about one year old. The facts, as near as we can gather them, are about as follows: Mrs. McGee was preparing dinner, and had a pot of boiling water sitting on the hearth, which was very uneven. The child was sitting in a low place on the hearth, and by some means the pot was overturned, causing the water to scald all around the little one several inches deep. It was rescued as quickly as possible, but not until the fatal work had been done. The little one lingered through twelve hours of terrible suffering, and passed over to the other side of the great hereafter. Mr. and Mrs. McGee have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in their bereavement, and our readers are invited to attend the Cross Roads cemetery on the following day.

Mr. E. J. McGee, who has been quite ill for some time with fever, is able to be up again. He looks considerably worse.

Mr. W. A. Holland has recently added to his machinery a first-class sorghum outfit. Wayman is a progressive citizen, and never does things by halves. The Farmers' Alliance which meets at Stillport has created a commotion by black-balling the South Carolina Agricultural Society. The Farmers' Alliance which meets at Stillport has created a commotion by black-balling the South Carolina Agricultural Society.

On Wednesday, 28th ult., a little three-year-old son of Mr. John Patterson, of the town of Cornet, died with a singular death. His absence from home for several hours caused some uneasiness, and on looking for him, he was found hanging in the cotton house by his neck from a rope, which in use was weighing cotton, cold in death. It is supposed that he was playing and swinging on the rope, which was suspended from a joist, and as he was swinging he slipped and his head caught in the noose, from which he was unable to extricate himself. It was, indeed, a very sad accident, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of their entire neighborhood in their bereavement. Trial Justice Bryan held an inquest over the case, and we advise you to go and see them. Their new advertisement will appear in our columns next week.

On Wednesday, 28th ult., a little three-year-old son of Mr. John Patterson, of the town of Cornet, died with a singular death. His absence from home for several hours caused some uneasiness, and on looking for him, he was found hanging in the cotton house by his neck from a rope, which in use was weighing cotton, cold in death. It is supposed that he was playing and swinging on the rope, which was suspended from a joist, and as he was swinging he slipped and his head caught in the noose, from which he was unable to extricate himself. It was, indeed, a very sad accident, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of their entire neighborhood in their bereavement. Trial Justice Bryan held an inquest over the case, and we advise you to go and see them. Their new advertisement will appear in our columns next week.

On Wednesday, 28th ult., a little three-year-old son of Mr. John Patterson, of the town of Cornet, died with a singular death. His absence from home for several hours caused some uneasiness, and on looking for him, he was found hanging in the cotton house by his neck from a rope, which in use was weighing cotton, cold in death. It is supposed that he was playing and swinging on the rope, which was suspended from a joist, and as he was swinging he slipped and his head caught in the noose, from which he was unable to extricate himself. It was, indeed, a very sad accident, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of their entire neighborhood in their bereavement. Trial Justice Bryan held an inquest over the case, and we advise you to go and see them. Their new advertisement will appear in our columns next week.

On Wednesday, 28th ult., a little three-year-old son of Mr. John Patterson, of the town of Cornet, died with a singular death. His absence from home for several hours caused some uneasiness, and on looking for him, he was found hanging in the cotton house by his neck from a rope, which in use was weighing cotton, cold in death. It is supposed that he was playing and swinging on the rope, which was suspended from a joist, and as he was swinging he slipped and his head caught in the noose, from which he was unable to extricate himself. It was, indeed, a very sad accident, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of their entire neighborhood in their bereavement. Trial Justice Bryan held an inquest over the case, and we advise you to go and see them. Their new advertisement will appear in our columns next week.

On Wednesday, 28th ult., a little three-year-old son of Mr. John Patterson, of the town of Cornet, died with a singular death. His absence from home for several hours caused some uneasiness, and on looking for him, he was found hanging in the cotton house by his neck from a rope, which in use was weighing cotton, cold in death. It is supposed that he was playing and swinging on the rope, which was suspended from a joist, and as he was swinging he slipped and his head caught in the noose, from which he was unable to extricate himself. It was, indeed, a very sad accident, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of their entire neighborhood in their bereavement. Trial Justice Bryan held an inquest over the case, and we advise you to go and see them. Their new advertisement will appear in our columns next week.

On Wednesday, 28th ult., a little three-year-old son of Mr. John Patterson, of the town of Cornet, died with a singular death. His absence from home for several hours caused some uneasiness, and on looking for him, he was found hanging in the cotton house by his neck from a rope, which in use was weighing cotton, cold in death. It is supposed that he was playing and swinging on the rope, which was suspended from a joist, and as he was swinging he slipped and his head caught in the noose, from which he was unable to extricate himself. It was, indeed, a very sad accident, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of their entire neighborhood in their bereavement. Trial Justice Bryan held an inquest over the case, and we advise you to go and see them. Their new advertisement will appear in our columns next week.

On Wednesday, 28th ult., a little three-year-old son of Mr. John Patterson, of the town of Cornet, died with a singular death. His absence from home for several hours caused some uneasiness, and on looking for him, he was found hanging in the cotton house by his neck from a rope, which in use was weighing cotton, cold in death. It is supposed that he was playing and swinging on the rope, which was suspended from a joist, and as he was swinging he slipped and his head caught in the noose, from which he was unable to extricate himself. It was, indeed, a very sad accident, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of their entire neighborhood in their bereavement. Trial Justice Bryan held an inquest over the case, and we advise you to go and see them. Their new advertisement will appear in our columns next week.

On Wednesday, 28th ult., a little three-year-old son of Mr. John Patterson, of the town of Cornet, died with a singular death. His absence from home for several hours caused some uneasiness, and on looking for him, he was found hanging in the cotton house by his neck from a rope, which in use was weighing cotton, cold in death. It is supposed that he was playing and swinging on the rope, which was suspended from a joist, and as he was swinging he slipped and his head caught in the noose, from which he was unable to extricate himself. It was, indeed, a very sad accident, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of their entire neighborhood in their bereavement. Trial Justice Bryan held an inquest over the case, and we advise you to go and see them. Their new advertisement will appear in our columns next week.

On Wednesday, 28th ult., a little three-year-old son of Mr. John Patterson, of the town of Cornet, died with a singular death. His absence from home for several hours caused some uneasiness, and on looking for him, he was found hanging in the cotton house by his neck from a rope, which in use was weighing cotton, cold in death. It is supposed that he was playing and swinging on the rope, which was suspended from a joist, and as he was swinging he slipped and his head caught in the noose, from which he was unable to extricate himself. It was, indeed, a very sad accident, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of their entire neighborhood in their bereavement. Trial Justice Bryan held an inquest over the case, and we advise you to go and see them. Their new advertisement will appear in our columns next week.

On Wednesday, 28th ult., a little three-year-old son of Mr. John Patterson, of the town of Cornet, died with a singular death. His absence from home for several hours caused some uneasiness, and on looking for him, he was found hanging in the cotton house by his neck from a rope, which in use was weighing cotton, cold in death. It is supposed that he was playing and swinging on the rope, which was suspended from a joist, and as he was swinging he slipped and his head caught in the noose, from which he was unable to extricate himself. It was, indeed, a very sad accident, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of their entire neighborhood in their bereavement. Trial Justice Bryan held an inquest over the case, and we advise you to go and see them. Their new advertisement will appear in our columns next week.

On Wednesday, 28th ult., a little three-year-old son of Mr. John Patterson, of the town of Cornet, died with a singular death. His absence from home for several hours caused some uneasiness, and on looking for him, he was found hanging in the cotton house by his neck from a rope, which in use was weighing cotton, cold in death. It is supposed that he was playing and swinging on the rope, which was suspended from a joist, and as he was swinging he slipped and his head caught in the noose, from which he was unable to extricate himself. It was, indeed, a very sad accident, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of their entire neighborhood in their bereavement. Trial Justice Bryan held an inquest over the case, and we advise you to go and see them. Their new advertisement will appear in our columns next week.

On Wednesday, 28th ult., a little three-year-old son of Mr. John Patterson, of the town of Cornet, died with a singular death. His absence from home for several hours caused some uneasiness, and on looking for him, he was found hanging in the cotton house by his neck from a rope, which in use was weighing cotton, cold in death. It is supposed that he was playing and swinging on the rope, which was suspended from a joist, and as he was swinging he slipped and his head caught in the noose, from which he was unable to extricate himself. It was, indeed, a very sad accident, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of their entire neighborhood in their bereavement. Trial Justice Bryan held an inquest over the case, and we advise you to go and see them. Their new advertisement will appear in our columns next week.

On Wednesday, 28th ult., a little three-year-old son of Mr. John Patterson, of the town of Cornet, died with a singular death. His absence from home for several hours caused some uneasiness, and on looking for him, he was found hanging in the cotton house by his neck from a rope, which in use was weighing cotton, cold in death. It is supposed that he was playing and swinging on the rope, which was suspended from a joist, and as he was swinging he slipped and his head caught in the noose, from which he was unable to extricate himself. It was, indeed, a very sad accident, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of their entire neighborhood in their bereavement. Trial Justice Bryan held an inquest over the case, and we advise you to go and see them. Their new advertisement will appear in our columns next week.

On Wednesday, 28th ult., a little three-year-old son of Mr. John Patterson, of the town of Cornet, died with a singular death. His absence from home for several hours caused some uneasiness, and on looking for him, he was found hanging in the cotton house by his neck from a rope, which in use was weighing cotton, cold in death. It is supposed that he was playing and swinging on the rope, which was suspended from a joist, and as he was swinging he slipped and his head caught in the noose, from which he was unable to extricate himself. It was, indeed, a very sad accident, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of their entire neighborhood in their bereavement. Trial Justice Bryan held an inquest over the case, and we advise you to go and see them. Their new advertisement will appear in our columns next week.

On Wednesday, 28th ult., a little three-year-old son of Mr. John Patterson, of the town of Cornet, died with a singular death. His absence from home for several hours caused some uneasiness, and on looking for him, he was found hanging in the cotton house by his neck from a rope, which in use was weighing cotton, cold in death. It is supposed that he was playing and swinging on the rope, which was suspended from a joist, and as he was swinging he slipped and his head caught in the noose, from which he was unable to extricate himself. It was, indeed, a very sad accident, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of their entire neighborhood in their bereavement. Trial Justice Bryan held an inquest over the case, and we advise you to go and see them. Their new advertisement will appear in our columns next week.

On Wednesday, 28th ult., a little three-year-old son of Mr. John Patterson, of the town of Cornet, died with a singular death. His absence from home for several hours caused some uneasiness, and on looking for him, he was found hanging in the cotton house by his neck from a rope, which in use was weighing cotton, cold in death. It is supposed that he was playing and swinging on the rope, which was suspended from a joist, and as he was swinging he slipped and his head caught in the noose, from which he was unable to extricate himself. It was, indeed, a very sad accident, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of their entire neighborhood in their bereavement. Trial Justice Bryan held an inquest over the case, and we advise you to go and see them. Their new advertisement will appear in our columns next week.

On Wednesday, 28th ult., a little three-year-old son of Mr. John Patterson, of the town of Cornet, died with a singular death. His absence from home for several hours caused some uneasiness, and on looking for him, he was found hanging in the cotton house by his neck from a rope, which in use was weighing cotton, cold in death. It is supposed that he was playing and swinging on the rope, which was suspended from a joist, and as he was swinging he slipped and his head caught in the noose, from which he was unable to extricate himself. It was, indeed, a very sad accident, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of their entire neighborhood in their bereavement. Trial Justice Bryan held an inquest over the case, and we advise you to go and see them. Their new advertisement will appear in our columns next week.

On Wednesday, 28th ult., a little three-year-old son of Mr. John Patterson, of the town of Cornet, died with a singular death. His absence from home for several hours caused some uneasiness, and on looking for him, he was found hanging in the cotton house by his neck from a rope, which in use was weighing cotton, cold in death. It is supposed that he was playing and swinging on the rope, which was suspended from a joist, and as he was swinging he slipped and his head caught in the noose, from which he was unable to extricate himself. It was, indeed, a very sad accident, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of their entire neighborhood in their bereavement. Trial Justice Bryan held an inquest over the case, and we advise you to go and see them. Their new advertisement will appear in our columns next week.

On Wednesday, 28th ult., a little three-year-old son of Mr. John Patterson, of the town of Cornet, died with a singular death. His absence from home for several hours caused some uneasiness, and on looking for him, he was found hanging in the cotton house by his neck from a rope, which in use was weighing cotton, cold in death. It is supposed that he was playing and swinging on the rope, which was suspended from a joist, and as he was swinging he slipped and his head caught in the noose, from which he was unable to extricate himself. It was, indeed, a very sad accident, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of their entire neighborhood in their bereavement. Trial Justice Bryan held an inquest over the case, and we advise you to go and see them. Their new advertisement will appear in our columns next week.

On Wednesday, 28th ult., a little three-year-old son of Mr. John Patterson, of the town of Cornet, died with a singular death. His absence from home for several hours caused some uneasiness, and on looking for him, he was found hanging in the cotton house by his neck from a rope, which in use was weighing cotton, cold in death. It is supposed that he was playing and swinging on the rope, which was suspended from a joist, and as he was swinging he slipped and his head caught in the noose, from which he was unable to extricate himself. It was, indeed, a very sad accident, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of their entire neighborhood in their bereavement. Trial Justice Bryan held an inquest over the case, and we advise you to go and see them. Their new advertisement will appear in our columns next week.

On Wednesday, 28th ult., a little three-year-old son of Mr. John Patterson, of the town of Cornet, died with a singular death. His absence from home for several hours caused some uneasiness, and on looking for him, he was found hanging in the cotton house by his neck from a rope, which in use was weighing cotton, cold in death. It is supposed that he was playing and swinging on the rope, which was suspended from a joist, and as he was swinging he slipped and his head caught in the noose, from which he was unable to extricate himself. It was, indeed, a very sad accident, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of their entire neighborhood in their bereavement. Trial Justice Bryan held an inquest over the case, and we advise you to go and see them. Their new advertisement will appear in our columns next week.

On Wednesday, 28th ult., a little three-year-old son of Mr. John Patterson, of the town of Cornet, died with a singular death. His absence from home for several hours caused some uneasiness, and on looking for him, he was found hanging in the cotton house by his neck from a rope, which in use was weighing cotton, cold in death. It is supposed that he was playing and swinging on the rope, which was suspended from a joist, and as he was swinging he slipped and his head caught in the noose, from which he was unable to extricate himself. It was, indeed, a very sad accident, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of their entire neighborhood in their bereavement. Trial Justice Bryan held an inquest over the case, and we advise you to go and see them. Their new advertisement will appear in our columns next week.

On Wednesday, 28th ult., a little three-year-old son of Mr. John Patterson, of the town of Cornet, died with a singular death. His absence from home for several hours caused some uneasiness, and on looking for him, he was found hanging in the cotton house by his neck from a rope, which in use was weighing cotton, cold in death. It is supposed that he was playing and swinging on the rope, which was suspended from a joist, and as he was swinging he slipped and his head caught in the noose, from which he was unable to extricate himself. It was, indeed, a very sad accident, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of their entire neighborhood in their bereavement. Trial Justice Bryan held an inquest over the case, and we advise you to go and see them. Their new advertisement will appear in our columns next week.

On Wednesday, 28th ult., a little three-year-old son of Mr. John Patterson, of the town of Cornet, died with a singular death. His absence from home for several hours caused some uneasiness, and on looking for him, he was found hanging in the cotton house by his neck from a rope, which in use was weighing cotton, cold in death. It is supposed that he was playing and swinging on the rope, which was suspended from a joist, and as he was swinging he slipped and his head caught in the noose, from which he was unable to extricate himself. It was, indeed, a very sad accident, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of their entire neighborhood in their bereavement. Trial Justice Bryan held an inquest over the case, and we advise you to go and see them. Their new advertisement will appear in our columns next week.

On Wednesday, 28th ult., a little three-year-old son of Mr. John Patterson, of the town of Cornet, died with a singular death. His absence from home for several hours caused some uneasiness, and on looking for him, he was found hanging in the cotton house by his neck from a rope, which in use was weighing cotton, cold in death. It is supposed that he was playing and swinging on the rope, which was suspended from a joist, and as he was swinging he slipped and his head caught in the noose, from which he was unable to extricate himself. It was, indeed, a very sad accident, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of their entire neighborhood in their bereavement. Trial Justice Bryan held an inquest over the case, and we advise you to go and see them. Their new advertisement will appear in our columns next week.

On Wednesday, 28th ult., a little three-year-old son of Mr. John Patterson, of the town of Cornet, died with a singular death. His absence from home for several hours caused some uneasiness, and on looking for him, he was found hanging in the cotton house by his neck from a rope, which in use was weighing cotton, cold in death. It is supposed that he was playing and swinging on the rope, which was suspended from a joist, and as he was swinging he slipped and his head caught in the noose, from which he was unable to extricate himself. It was, indeed, a very sad accident, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of their entire neighborhood in their bereavement. Trial Justice Bryan held an inquest over the case, and we advise you to go and see them. Their new advertisement will appear in our columns next week.