The night train on the S. V. R. R. will be discontinued this week, and during the summer season we will have only one train on the road. This train, however, will go to Lowndesville and back every other afternoon in the week, running on the same schedule that was in vogue last summer.

Mr. U. E. Seybt, of Jones, Seybt & Co., has just returned from the Northern markets, where he has been spending several weeks buying an immense stock of Spring and Summer goods, which are now being received and opened up for the inspection of the public. Their new advertisement will appear next week.

Last week the Sullivan Hardware Co. sold a 16 horse power engine and boiler to Mr. J. R. Byrum, who will use it in making bricks. Mr. Byrum has recently purchased a brick machine of the latest improved pattern, and when his engine is placed in position he will be able to make about 40,000 brick a day.

The Richmond & Danville Railroad will run three excursion trains from Washington to the City of Mexico without change on March 22nd, and April 9 and 23. The train will consist of vestibuled cars of the newest and latest construction. The journey of over 3,000 miles will be made in one hundred hours.

Anderson has made another step forward in the line of progress, and ere many more months will have passed away our growing city will be lighted by the electric light. The City Council have decided to establish the plant, and is already negotiating with several Companies with a view of purchasing the necessary machinery.

The Dux West correspondent of the Abbeville Press and Banner, says: "Mr. Tucker, of Anderson County, has recently bought for $1,000 the Pratt place near Wood Lake, on which is located the Pratt falls. These falls have a fine water power and some day may be valuable. We welcome so good a citizen as Mr. Tucker to our Township."

In the Tournament at Esley on the 2nd inst., Mr. A. T. Newell, of this County, secured the first prize, after having ridden thirteen times and securing thirty-nine rings. At the ball, which was given that night, Mr. Newell crowned Miss Nannie Harkness, of this County, as Queen of Love and Beauty. The Anderson boys are hard to beat in a Tournament.

The declaration of the incorporators of the Anderson Ice Company has been filed in the office of the Secretary of State at Columbia and a commission issued. The capital stock is six thousand dollars, in shares of $100 each. The incorporators are J. H. Townsend, H. C. Townsend, G. B. Townsend and J. A. Brock. The Company will be ready to manufacture ice in a short time.

Read the new advertisement of the Sullivan Hardware Company. It presents a picture of the Brooks Cotton Planter, which is now recognized as one of the best planters on the market. It is cheap and simple, and will give satisfaction to the farmers. Visit their store when you come to the city. They can supply you with anything in their line that you may need on your farm.

The Fort Royal and Western Carolina Railway will sell excursion tickets to persons who desire to attend the State Sunday School Convention in Charleston on the 25th inst. Tickets will be on sale on the 24th, 25th and 26th inst., good to return until April 1st. The fare from Anderson is $11.50; Dean's, $10.75; Starr's, $10.50; Cook's, $10.25; Barnes, $10.00; Lowndesville, $9.50.

This is the time of year to clean up the city. All lots should be carefully inspected, and all filth should be removed at least once a week. If property owners will not do it, the city authorities should have it done and the negligent parties be made to pay the expense. Our city has a fine reputation as a health resort, and the only way to maintain this reputation is to keep everything scrupulously clean.

We had a pleasant call last Friday from Dr. J. M. Westmoreland, of Greenville, who was in the city supplying our drug store with a stock of "Westmoreland's Chills Tonic," an advertisement of which appears in our columns. The Doctor is one of the leading physicians of Greenville, and his Tonic is growing more popular every day. Those who have tried it commend it very highly.

We would direct attention to the advertisement of the Excelsior Slate Coating, which appears in another column. This coating has been applied to more than sixty buildings in the city, and has given entire satisfaction to the owners of the property. It is the very thing to use on an old leaky roof. Mr. McDonald, the proprietor, wants several agents with some capital, and will cheerfully give any information in reference to his coating.

Laurens Advertiser: "Mr. Fate Crawford has just returned from a trip to Anderson, where he has been looking after the interest of the Wadsworth Estate. We hope the Trustees will be able to recover every foot of land belonging to this estate, and with it we can have a splendid school in this section. The total amount of land is about 15,000 acres, this ought to bring $75,000, which will enable us to have a school second to none in the State."

Our young friend, Ralph W. Brown, who has just graduated from the New York Medical University, recently returned last Friday, and was warmly greeted by his numerous friends. Anderson has never turned out a more noble or worthy young man than Ralph, and we predict for him a bright future. He stood high in his class, and being possessed of a most pleasant and courteous disposition, is bound to be a successful and popular physician. He has not decided where he will locate.

The Columbia correspondent of the Charleston World says: "Mr. E. M. Rucker, an honor graduate of South Carolina University and a native of Anderson, has located in Columbia, where he will practice law. Mr. Rucker has an analytic mind, well suited to the practice of law, and is known to possess a mental equipment of the highest order for coping with the giants of debate. He has opened an office with Col. Joseph Daniel Pope. Mr. Rucker married a Columbia lady, and their friends will be glad to know that they have settled in the capital city."

Last Thursday a negro named Doc Jones broke into the dwelling house of Mr. R. E. Campbell, on the corner of Main and 1st streets, and stole $75 in money, a watch and about $60 worth of clothing. Jones came to the city, and while here stole another watch from a negro, who arrested him. Jones returned the watch, and upon the payment of two dollars, was released. It was not known until after his release that he was the same person who had entered Mr. Craig's house. An effort was made to re-arrest him, but he succeeded in getting out of the way. Jones is described as a tall, ginger-colored negro, with a scar over his right eye an extending down on the cheek. Any information concerning his whereabouts will be gladly received by Mr. Craig.

In the store room recently occupied by Messrs. Watson & Son, Mr. John E. Peoples has on exhibition a large variety of carriages, buggies, wagons and harness, which he is offering to the public at prices that can't be beat. In the future he will be prepared to supply the public with a vehicle of any style, and he guarantees satisfaction to every purchaser. Mr. Peoples buys his vehicles for cash direct from the manufacturer, and is satisfied with a small profit, therefore he will make it to your interest to call and see his stock before buying elsewhere. Read his advertisement in another column.

The County Commissioners have ordered a new safe for the Court House, from Mosler, Bowen & Co., of New York. We learn that it will be a large one, capable of holding all the records of the Clerk's Office. The well known reputation of the Mosler safe in Anderson and elsewhere gives every guarantee of absolute security against fire, and we learn that the price and terms are very advantageous to the tax payers, and reflect credit upon the Commissioners, who gave the subject much careful consideration. The safe was perfected through Mr. W. G. Black, the courteous representative of the Mosler Safe Company.

Mr. R. M. Wright has fitted up a shop on McDuffie street for the purpose of doing all kinds of scroll work, making brackets, making and repairing furniture, and doing other work in that line. He has purchased a kerosene oil engine, which is used in running his machinery, all of which is new and of the latest improved pattern. He proposes in the near future to be prepared to manufacture sash and blinds. Mr. Wright is a practical workman, and by opening this shop he will supply a long felt want. We have seen his machinery at work, and from the way he has started out he is bound to meet with success.

The Port Royal & Western Carolina Railway will sell round trip tickets to points in Florida on March 27th, April 10th, April 24th, May 8th, and May 15th, good to return for thirty days from date of sale. The fare from Anderson to Jacksonville is $12.00; to Callahan, $13.50; to St. Augustine, $14.00; to Ocala, $15.40. Mr. L. P. Smith, the accommodating agent at the S. V. R. depot, will cheerfully furnish any further information in reference to the excursions. This is the most pleasant season of the year to visit Florida, and those of our readers who are contemplating a trip down there should take advantage of the low rates offered.

Last Thursday afternoon the dwelling house of Mr. J. G. Cunningham, on West Market street, was destroyed by fire. The house, it is supposed, caught in the roof from a spark, and when the fire was first discovered the building was nearly enveloped in flames. The wind was high at the time, and the house burned rapidly. The firemen turned out promptly, and succeeded in saving the outbuildings. Only a few pieces of furniture was saved from the house. Mr. Cunningham's loss will aggregate about $3,000, on which there was an insurance of $2,000-$3,000 on the house and $500 on the furniture. He proposes to rebuild at an early day.

A VISIT TO THE COUNTRY. The Entertainment at the Carwell Institute, and other Notes of our Trip.

The best recreation that a tired, worn-out newspaper man can take is a trip into the country. We have tried it, and know whereof we speak. Having received several pressing invitations to attend the entertainment given by the students of the Carwell Institute last Saturday evening, and knowing that it would be an enjoyable occasion, we left the city late Saturday afternoon in company with a charming companion and drove down to the Institute, which, as is well known, is located near Sareville, about twelve miles south of the city.

As we drove along the Lowndesville road, we were gratified to see so many improvements being made on the farms. On nearly every farm we could see new barns, new stables and new houses for tenants going up, and we noticed several new and substantial residences. Among the latter the new residence of Mr. Geo. J. Shrimp, who lives about eight miles from the city, is perhaps the most modern and attractive we saw. It sits back some distance from the road, in a pretty grove. The house is finished in pretty style, and would show off well in a city. Mr. Shrimp is one of our best farmers, and everything around his beautiful home indicates his prosperity.

We reached the Institute about dark, and met with a cordial reception from Prof. W. L. Brown, the courteous and efficient Principal of the school, who escorted us into the hall and provided us with a comfortable seat. The crowd was gathering rapidly, and in a short time the hall was filled with an appreciative audience. The bright, cheerful countenances of the boys and girls showed plainly that they had looked forward to the occasion with the most pleasant anticipations, and they were delighted to see that so many of the patrons and friends of the school had turned out to witness the entertainment.

The evening's programme opened with a song by the Miller Cousins, who had kindly offered to assist Prof. Brown in the entertainment, and who added considerably to it.

The following programme was then rendered: Comic speech by Bro. Gardner, who was represented by Mr. Jas. Brown.

A Temperance play—"Hard Cider," in which the characters were represented by Messrs. Lewis Walters and Zella Ferguson, and Messrs. Louis Elgin, Jas. Hall, Pierce Brown and E. McAdams.

Music—vocal and instrumental—by the Miller Cousins.

Recitation—"Nebuchadnezzar," by Mr. E. McAdams.

Play—"Boothblack," the characters being sustained by Prof. Brown and Mr. Ellison McAdams, the latter representing a negro.

Play—"The Trial Justice." In this there were three characters, which were sustained by Lyman McPhail, Floyd Bowen and Miss Nellie Walters. This was an original play, gotten up by Prof. Brown, and was one of the best of the evening.

Music, instrumental, by the Miller Cousins.

Play—"Bad Job." Six characters, represented by Misses Nellie Walters and Eva Strickland and Messrs. Ben. Love, Frank Olinkeales and Jas. Brown.

Song, "The Philadelphia Girl," by the Miller Cousins.

Play—"Uncle Joe's Cotton." Two characters, represented by Prof. Brown and Lewis Elgin, the latter as a negro.

Song—"Ride on the Evening Train," by the Miller Cousins.

An Ethiopian Play, in which there were four characters, represented by Messrs. Ben. Love, Lyman McPhail, Ellison McAdams and Jas. Brown.

Music, instrumental, by the Miller Cousins.

Ethiopian Play—"Squash dat Tater." The characters were sustained by Messrs. Ben. Strickland, Lyman McPhail and Ben. Brown.

The programme concluded with a clog dance by the Miller boys.

The programme throughout was amusing and entertaining, and all who participated sustained their parts exceedingly well. The audience was delighted with the entertainment, and Prof. Brown received many congratulations for the successful manner in which he had managed it. The proceeds of the entertainment will be used in supplying the school room with furniture.

Prof. Brown is building up a fine school at the Institute, his roll now numbering over seventy-five pupils, and we are glad to know that the people of that section have decided to keep him employed throughout the year.

Leaving the Institute, at the conclusion of the entertainment, we went to the hospitable home of Mr. E. B. Norris, who resides near First Creek, where we spent the night and the greater portion of Sunday. Mr. Norris has a most beautiful home, and he and his happy family know how to make one's stay under their roof pleasant. His residence is situated on a hill, and affords a fine view of the surrounding country. He has a fine plantation, and is a successful farmer. A stroll over his farm is worth a trip down there. On the hill-sides leading from First Creek one can see some of the grandest scenery to be found on this side of the mountains. Indeed, the hills, which are covered with fine timber, with large rocks projecting here and there, look like mountains.

On Sunday we had the pleasure of attending the Sunday School at First Creek Church. The school is in a flourishing condition, having nearly one hundred names on its roll, and is supervised by the clever Christian gentleman Mr. T. L. Olinkeales, who is devoted to his work. Regular services are held at the Church only once a month—the fourth Sundays—but the school meets regularly every Sunday, and usually a prayer meeting is held after the school is dismissed.

As we came up the Abbeville road Sunday afternoon, on our way home, we noticed improvements being made on nearly every farm. Several new dwelling houses have been erected along the road since we last travelled it.

Our trip was such a pleasant one and we were treated so well, that we will certainly take advantage of the first opportunity to visit that section again.

Andersonville. The Hartwell (Ga.) Sun, of last week, says: "Hon. E. P. Earle, of Andersonville, S. C., paid our office a pleasant call on Saturday. He informed us that a government surveying party came up the Savannah recently, and expressed themselves as delighted and surprised at the picturesque scenery around Andersonville."

"Mr. Earle is deeply interested in the proposed exploration of the Savannah river by Mr. H. W. Grady, of the Atlanta Constitution, and other distinguished gentlemen, and says if the party would begin at the confluence of the Tugaloo and Seneca rivers at Andersonville, that the people of the city and County of Anderson would meet them cordially, and do everything in their power to make the exploration profitable and pleasant. Mr. Earle is the proprietor of Andersonville, and his residence, perched upon a prominent bluff, commands immediately in the front of the river, suggests to the mind some grand old feudal castle, lacking but the frowning walls and parapets."

"The advertising of the untold advantages and resources of Hart, Anderson and Elbert Counties along the Savannah, would by no means be disadvantageous to Elbert; rather to the contrary, as that progressive city aspires to be the metropolis of this section; and whatever tends to improve or develop the surrounding territory would certainly conspire to the more speedy attainment of her laudable ambition."

"What a magnificent place Andersonville would be for a grand inter-State bar-becue and picnic!"

Honora Fath Items. Dave Agnes, (colored) lying near here, knocked his wife in the head with a rock, inflicting a painful wound.

A little negro child on Mr. J. R. Clement's place was fearfully burned last week. Mr. Corrie, daughter of Mr. Clement, while putting out the fire was badly burned.

Barker's Creek community mourns the loss of a good citizen, Mr. John Shirley, who died at his home on Thursday night, March 14th, after a long and painful illness from cancer. His remains were interred in the graveyard at Barker's Creek Church on Friday afternoon. The funeral sermon was preached by his pastor, Rev. D. W. Hoot. Revs. R. D. Hawkins and M. McGee made some remarks at the close of the sermon. The writer has known Mr. Shirley for years, and has never heard a word said against his christian character. Surely a good man has left us.

The Church at Barker's Creek received one member by experience last Sunday. Our town was fortunate in having the Quarterly Meeting held here. The Presiding Elder of the Cokerbay District, Rev. A. J. Cautchen, preached several interesting and helpful sermons. Rev. Mr. Dagnall looked like he felt good when they paid him his quarters—Mr. Dagnall is pastor in charge. I imagine that preacher can preach better when his people appreciate his services enough to pay him for his work as he does the work.

Rev. Mr. Craig, of Ninety-Six, preached for the Presbyterians Sunday and Sunday night. He thinks out his sermons well. Our young friend, Mr. T. R. Finley, has been quite sick, but is out again.

One of our teachers joined the Alliance the other day. Perhaps he thinks if he can get four and bacon cheap enough he might be able to support one more, and then he would go to housekeeping.

One of our young men was so fond of his pistol that he could not spare a much time to society as the people thought he might, but perhaps the pistol was slipped, and now he says a great deal of silly talk. I certainly don't know. Well, I reckon I had better not tell any more now. MESSRS. R.

East Savannah Items. As we have seen nothing from this section, we will furnish you with a few dates. Farmers have not made much progress with their crops as yet, owing to the inclemency of the weather.

The roads of this section are in a bad condition. Fox hunters are having fine sport down here. We unto the fox.

Some of our lady friends are getting dependent over their gardens. Nil desperandum. Time enough yet.

The school at Ivy Hollow is in a flourishing condition, conducted by Miss Sallie Goss, a charming and accomplished young lady from Hartwell, Ga.

Messrs. Samuel Wharton, and son Will, are doing a paying business with their saw mill at White Hollow, with Mr. E. J. McGee as supervisor, and Jim McGee agent.

Wishing you every success with your valuable paper. I close. CRITIKER.

Sullivan Hardware Co's. Specialties. Just as we expected there has been, since the last issue of the INTELLIGENCER, a great run for the Brooks Cotton Planter. People using them last year have told their friends that the Sullivan Hardware Co. have the best Cotton Planter made; others saw these Planter at work on the farms of their neighbors, and the consequence is that the "Brooks Planter" is on a boom.

We guarantee every Planter sold, and will refund the money paid where one fails to do good work. Remember, that the cover arrangement on this Planter has just been improved. It is now simply perfect. See advertisement.

In this connection it is well that the public should be informed that the Sullivan Hardware Co. have laid in a tremendous stock of "Handmade Eye"—which will be sold at lowest possible prices.

Persons wishing Pianos and Organs tuned or repaired, can have their work promptly executed by leaving orders at C. A. Reed's Music House.
