Every one of our readers should read carefully the advertisement of the "Piedmont Ten Cent Store," which appears elsewhere. Messrs. C. S. Minor & Co., the clever proprietors of this establishment, are strangers to our people, but by their courteous manners and fair-dealing they are making friends every day, and crowds are flocking to their store to get some of the bargains which they are offerng to the public. Their stock embraces a variety of goods, and when you visit the city we advise you to give them a call. You will find there many articles that you are needing, and they are sold so cheap that you can't help from buying. Remember, their establishment is on South Main street, in the Broyles block.

Among the young men of Anderson there is a remarkable degree of warmhearted, cordial friendship and unity. But above all is the spirit of attachment o the old town. Just now especially they are enthused over the future, and are ready to stand shoulder to shoulder and make a sacrifice, if need be, for her welare. Only the other day one was heard to remark that although he didn't feel bsolutely confident that a certain investment would pay, yet it was for the good of the city, and he was willing to take the risk, and that is the spirit of them all. The older and wealthier citizens are not alone in their enthusiasm in the good cause. The young generation are with them, and some day it will count for good to Anderson.

recitations and readings were all very fine, though we must accord to Miss Minnie Smith's recitation. "Over the Hills to the Poor House," the first place in point of excellence, both in the sentiment of the election and in the rendition. Mr. J. Thomp. Cox, of Belton, was present, and eautifully recited "Poe's Raven." The music was of a high order, and of a character not often heard at such gatherings. Such, of course, was expected to be the case, when it was known that four such sweet singers as Mrs. R. S. Ligon, Miss speak of that always charming male voice, Mr. George Miller. After the regular programme was ended the audience, or the younger portion of it, enjoyed the remainder of the time in playing games and having a good time generally. The "Reading" was a success financially, about eleven dollars having been added to the fast swelling pile which the Baptist ladies are raising to buy their new organ. A shooting affray occurred on the plantation of Mr. J. S. Fowler, in Centreville Township, last Monday morning, in which negro named Jeff. White was wounded twice with a shot-gun in the hands of Mr. . D. Thomas. White was employed by Mr. Thomas, and while at work in a field with Mr. G. R. Thomas, a nephew of the above named gentleman, a dispute arose between them in reference to some work. One word brought on another, and finally White drew a pistol and threatened to shoot the young man, who went immediately to the house to get something to defend himself. The negro followed him with the pistol in his hand, and when they eached the house Mr. L. D. Thomas interfered and made an effort to stop the difficulty. White, however, was not disposed to settle the difficulty peaceably, and continued to abuse young Thomas, who secured his gun and was in the act of firing it, when Mr. L. D. Thomas took it from him. The negro struck at the young man, and threatened to shoot both he and Mr. L. D. Thomas. The latter, believing that he would carry out the threat, fired at him twice, the contents of both parrels of the gun lodging in the negro's hody. A warrant was sworn out for the arrest of White, but he has disappeared. and it is supposed that his wounds are not serious. It was reported that Mr. Thomas was wounded in the affray, but this proves to be incorrect.

Maj. John Henry Power died very sudlenly near the residence of Dr. H. H. Scudday, in Hall Township, on Wednesday afternoon, 3rd inst. He was out taking a walk with a little child, when he was stricken down, and before assistance reached him he had passed away. Maj. Power was in the 63th year of his age. He was formerly from Abbeville County, but moved to Anderson about six years ago, where he lived up to the time of his death. He was from his early life greatly beloved by a large circle of friends and relatives for the peculiar suavity of his manners and the unsullied unity of his life. In his untimely death his family feel that they have been bereft of their hope and their pride, and it is not too much to say on his character and without leaving an enemy behind him. Maj. Grady, Editor of the Atlanta Constitution, and others, who propose to make a trip down the Savannah River to Augusta on the 21st of July. A meeting was held at Elberton a few days ago, and a resolution was adopted asking Anderson County to co-operate with the above named Counties in the arrangements to entertain the Grady party, which will consist of a number o Northern capitalists and journalists. The object of this scheme, if we understand it is to advertise the Counties tributary to the Savannah, and in the end to get a liberal appropriation from Congress for the further improvement of the River.
