Thanksgiving Day. Thursday, 28th iust., has been set apart as a National Thanksgiving Day, and the day will be generally observed throughout the United States by a suspension of business. The merchants, confectioners, saloon-keepers and business men generally of Anderson have unanimously agreed to close their respective places of business for this- and govern themselves accordingly. There will be appropriate religious services in the city, due notice of which will be published next week. We hope out friends in the country will also observe the day by holding Thanksgiving services in their Churches. Our people have certainly been blessed the year, and it is right and proper that the day should be observ-

Every farmer who has examined it speaks very favorably of it, and Mr. King will have all he can do to supply the demand. Mr. W. D. Garrison, one of Anderson

County's most progressive farmers, has harvested his brag acre of corn, which has yielded him 104 bushels. He was not competing for the prize offered by the Agricultural Department and the American Agriculturist, but was simply experimenting to see how many bushels of corn he could produce on one acre of ground. The corn was planted in April, but the road, spent Tuesday in the city, and paid the 10th of May he had to replant the patch. But for this misfortune, Mr. Garrison believes he would have gathered at patch. The yield however, is a very fine one, and shows what can be done when the proper effort is made. Mr. Garrison used about $30 worth of fertilizers on the ground, and the cost of cultivating it was only about $6. With favorable seasons, he thinks he can increase the yield on the same ground next year. We wish Anderson County had a few more such far-

> The announcament of the death of Dr. lames T. McFall, which occurred at his esidence on River street, in this city last Friday evening, about 6 o'clock, was a great shock to his friends and acquaintances. His death was quite sudden, and was caused by paralysis of the heart. A few weeks ago he was stricken down with fever, and was confined to his bed for some time. He had recovered, however, sufficiently to leave his room, and spent the forenoon of Friday on the streets with his friends. When he returned home he retired to his bed, and was not seen again until about 6 o'clock, when his family disbed, dead. It supposed he had gotten out of bed and in walking across the room was stricken to the floor. Dr. McFall was bout 52 years of age, and was well known throughout the County, having practiced medicine in this section a long number of years.
