UNIVERSAL LINIMENT
 For Man or Beast.

Read what Mr. Keys Says.
 ANDERSON, S. C., April 14, 1890.
 MESSRS. OHR & SLOAN:
 GENTLEMEN: Please send me six more bottles of your Universal Liniment. I have used it for Cramps, Rheumatism, and various other things. I had a riding on my knee that the Doctors said would have to be lanced, and I cured it in a short time with your Liniment. I think it is the best family Liniment that I have ever seen and I always keep it on hand.
 J. C. KEYS.

RACKET!
 The New York Racket Man

BEDES leave to state to the People of Anderson and surrounding country that he has not been OUTH or SOUT to buy such tremendous stock as was never before heard of, but he is constantly getting in something New and Cheap for the cash for those who see fit to give him a trial before purchasing elsewhere. Rest assured he is still willing to divide profits with each and every one of his customers. The following goods have been recently received, and more are on the way:

 Deserter on the Hills.
 Rev. Newman Hall, in an address to the unemployed, related the following: "As I was traveling over the mountains of Cumberland some years ago, I heard a lamb bleating. I listened; it was a pitiful cry. It seemed to say 'Help me, pity me, save me!'"
 I started in the direction whence it came. The little animal saw me and came running to meet me. "Help me, pity me, save me!" It was half starved. I took it in my arms. I think I talked to it. I saw an old sheep near by, and carried it to her. She would not notice it, and as she walked away the little creature came tottering after me—"Help me, pity me, save me!"
 I thought, I cannot leave the little one to perish. I would not carry it to several miles in my arms, but if I should meet the shepherd what would he do to me? Would he believe me?
 Just then I saw the tall form of a man rising above the top of one of the hills. It was my friend Richardson, the shepherd, with whom I had passed the night before. I had left some papers at his house, and he had hurried to bring them to me.
 I told him about the lamb. "Yes," he said; "sheep will abandon their young sometimes at this season of the year, when feed is scarce. I will take it."
 He took the lamb in his arms, and as I saw him going far over the hill, I could but think of the Great Shepherd, who carries the lambs in his bosom. And I thought, if I, a sinful man, so pity a little creature God has made, with how much greater tenderness will he pity us who is the Father of all. Do you think that when the weakest of you cry, "Help me, pity me, save me!" he will refuse to listen?
 Two years afterward I visited friend Richardson, the shepherd, and asked him what became of the little lamb.
 "Why," said he, "it is the finest of the flock."
 So may the feeblest soul that cries to heaven for help be strengthened, and become the noblest and most useful in God's flock.
 Electricity from a Rock.
 L. A. Dixon, of Sodus, has discovered a wonderful or called "electric rock" which contains a hidden force that puzzles and astonishes all who see it, and expert electricians in particular. The rock is of a dark slate color, and is some what lighter in weight than sandstone. It is composed of iron, aluminum, calcium and other minerals, and particles of gold are also found sometimes.
 Mr. Dixon says it will generate unlimited power and give an desired amount of incandescence light. For illuminating business places and residences it would be considerable cheaper than kerosene—in fact, after a building had been wired and the batteries prepared the cost would be merely nominal, and the light would be equal, if not superior, to that produced by manufactured electricity.
 The mass of the battery is very simple. The rock, in the quantity and for whatever purpose desired, is placed in jars containing a solution, the chief ingredients of which are salt and water. The circuit is then completed and the battery is ready for active business, and the inventor claims that one charge of 400 pounds of rock will last and produce light or power for at least one year before losing its force, and that it is perfectly harmless, making insulation entirely unnecessary.
 In Mr. Dixon's office a nine pound piece of the rock has been running a bell since last November. A piece weighing half a pound was placed in a put tin tub and the wires attached to a cell bell, which is caused to ring as loud as an alarm clock. The test was made in the presence of several gentlemen, who pronounced it to be a wonderful discovery.

 Got Homesick.
 A curious case was brought to the attention of the petitioner authorizes yesterday. A negro, named Gns Hall, escaped from the convict camp in Montgomery County last Friday. He was serving a term of fifteen years. His term dated from April, 1885, at which time he was delivered to the penitentiary company.
 His escape was discovered almost immediately after he left the camp, and every effort was used to catch him. The rule in such cases is that if the escaped is not captured within twenty-four or thirty-six hours his arrest after that time is a mere accident. Everything that could be done to locate the negro was done in this instance, but at last hope of ever catching him was given up, and the hunt was abandoned.
 Monday the negro walked into camp, dusty and travel worn. The act was entirely voluntary. He returned all alone. Of course he was secured at once, which he seemed to expect.
 "I've got homesick," was his explanation, "and I wanted to see the folks."
 "We had given you up for lost," said one of the guards.
 "Yes," he rejoined coolly. "I 'spos you had."
 "Did you remember that you still had nearly fourteen years to serve?" he was asked.
 "Oh, yes; but I didn't want to leave for good. All I wanted was to see the folks once more."
 He seemed in fact wholly unconcerned about the future, and now that he has satisfied with his lot. The negro lived in Washington county. He had walked nearly the entire distance there and back. He is working to day, in stripes and shackles, with nearly fourteen years ahead of him yet.—Atlanta Constitution.
 A Coming Wave of Earth.
 By a remarkable method Chief Kicking Horse is trying to locate the Sioux Indians in North Dakota to rise and massacre the whites. He pretends that he has just returned from heaven, and that while there the Great Spirit told him that his children, the Indians, have suffered long enough, and the time has arrived when they will again occupy the earth so long held by the whites, but they must not kill or molest the whites. The Great Spirit said he himself will wipe out the white race from the face of the earth. The Great Spirit told him the earth is getting full of holes and many places are rotten. He will gradually send a wave of earth twenty feet or more over the country. It will move slowly. The Indian must keep dancing so as to keep on top, and when the wave drenches and the Indians will be on top. All the dead Indians will be restored to life again, and all the buffaloes, horses, game and all their old hunting grounds, as they were hundreds of years ago, and the Indians will for all time in the future own and occupy this earth. All Indians who do not listen to the words of the prophet and keep dancing will be turned into fishes and occupy the rivers and streams.
 He said that while talking to the Great Spirit the devil came to them. He describes the devil as being very tall, with immense knee joints and a monster mouth and long teeth. He was covered all over with coarse hair. He asked for half of the people, meaning the Indians. The Great Spirit told him no. He asked again, and the Great Spirit replied: "You can have one of my chosen Indian children, but you can have all the whites."
 The Indians are fast becoming converts. It is easy for them to be led back to their old superstitions. Some really bright Indians say you cannot shake hands with this prophet, for when you touch his hand it burns like fire.
