A large crowd of people were attracted to the city on Salesday, though, owing to the low price of cotton, business was not as good as usual on Salesday. The horse-swappers were numerous, and much trading was done among them The Master sold six or seven tracts of land, and all of it brought good prices. The estate of J. B. Orr was divided into three tracts. Tract No. 1, containing 56 acres, was sold for $1,000; tract No. 2, containing 68 acres. $1,000; and tract No. 4, containing 45 acres. $500. In the case of Chapman vs. Wiles, a tract of 130 acres was sold for $1,500. In the case of Snipes vs. Hale, a tract con-taining 60 acres sold for $995. The 61 acres in the case of Jones vs. Jones sold for $700. A lot in Belton containing onehalf of acre, in the case of Sutherland vs Young, was bid off at $150. These prices seem to indicate that there is no scarcity of money in this section.

The Greenville News, of last Saturday, says: "There is considerable talk by peo-ple living in the neighborhood of Fort Hill of petitioning the Legislature to es-tablish a new County to be known as Calhoun, of which the town of Fort Hill, a mile from the Clemson College, shall be he County seat. Fort Hill is 18 miles from the County seats of Pickens, Anderson and Oconee, and it is proposed to form the new County out of portions of hese Counties, making it 18 miles square. It is understood that the Clemson College horities are in favor of the scheme and if the matter is brought before the Legislature will urge its passage. The town of Fort Hill is on the Richmond & Danville Railroad, and students and others going to Clemson will get off the trains at that point. The Government has established a post office there, and Mrs. Mary E. Carey has been appointed post-mistress. There is every prospect that Fort Hill will develop into a prosperous

The next attraction in Anderson will be the "Little Nugget" Comedy Company, which will appear in the Opera House next Saturday evening. The Company comes very well recommended to Mana ger Hill, and should be greeted by a large Standard, of the 16th ult., says of the Com-pany: "In spite of the inclemency of the weather, there was a large audience at the Opera House Saturday night to see the Cawthorns in 'Little Nugget.' Those who attended were exceedingly well pleased with the play and company. Herbert Cawthorne as "O'Brady" and Joe Cawthorne as "Kumpler" made distict hits and their appearance was a signal for universal applause. Miss Gilmore, as "Little Nugget, was all that could be possibly expected, her dancing being of the highest order. Taken as whole, the performance was a good one and those who failed to attend missed one of the best attractions of the eason. A return engagement will probably be played later in the season." It has been a great treat of the conference, which adjourned on Tuesday of this week. We regret that our space is so limited as to preclude us from giving a full report of the acts and doings of this body. It has been a great treat the first visit of many of the derigates to Anderson, and a large number of them thought the place a little one-horse town. We believe, however, they have gone from us favorably impressed with Anderson, and convinced that we have gates to Anderson, and a large number of them thought the place a little one-horse town. We believe, however, they have gone from us favorably impressed with Anderson, and convinced that we have gates to Anderson, and a large number of them thought the place a little one-horse town. We believe, however, they have gone from us favorably impressed with Anderson, and convinced that we have gone from the acts and doings of this body. It has been a great treat the convergence of the convergence gressive towns in the State.

One of the most commanding members of the body was Dr. Kirkland, the accomplished editor of the Southern Christian Advocate. Dr. Kirkland has made the Advocate one of the best religious papers pub lished in our whole country, and the South Carolina Methodists have just cause to be proud of it. We do not see how any Methodist in the State can do without its weekly visits. Among the lay delegates were Maj Riddle, of the Lancaster Review, and R. T Jaynes, Esq., of the Walhalla Courier.
The latter gentleman honored the INTEL-LIGENCER with a call, and we were glad to meet him. He is one of Walhalla's most prominent young lawyers.

On Friday afternoon the Conference was given a ride over the city in carriages.

The members seemed to enjoy the ride, and were loud in their praises of our growing city.

Dr. E. E. Hoss, editor of the Nashville Christian Advocate, the general organ of the Southern Methodist Church, was introduced to the Conference on Friday. He seemed perfectly at home with his South Carolina brethren.

Only one preacher has died during the year—the Rev. E. J. Meynardie, D. D. Rev. H. M. Majors was transferred to the Northwest Texas Conference. He left Anderson last Tuesday afternoon for his new home, and will at once begin work in the Corsicana District on Keren's Circuit. For the past year he has been at work on the Georgetown Circuit. Mr. Major is an Anderson County boy, and has a host of friends in our midst who regret to see him leave the South Carolina Conference, but wherever he may cast his lot he will carry with him their prayers and best wishes. The very large crowd that greeted Rev.

A. Coke Smith, D. D., in the Baptist Church Sunday night attests his popularity in Anderson. The Church and annex were crowded to their utmost capacity, the congregation being estimated at from 1200 to 1500 persons. The sermon was, of course, both eloquent and impressive. The Doctor's appearance indicates that Vanderbilt University and Nashville are agreeing the Anderson Methodists in giving them the services of Rev. Chas. B. Smith for another year.

Capt. D. G. Ruff, one of Fairfield's most substantial and prosperous citizens, was numbered among the lay delegates. While here he met up with several of his old war comrades whom he had not seen since the war. He is a genial, jolly gentleman, as well as an active, earnest Christian.

Mr. George W. Williams, of Charleston, was a member of the Conference. On Monday a telegram was received an-nouncing the death of Rev. Wm. Thomas which occurred that morning at Florence. Mr. Thomas, while on his way to Conference, was taken suddenly ill at Florence and was forced to take his bed, where he remained until death came to his relief.

Brown, who recently returned from Mexico, where he has been in business, left Friday for Atlanta, where he will take a course in medicine at the Southern Medical College. Mrs Brown will remain in Belton. W. C. Clinkscales and E. R. Cox visited Greenville Thursday.

J. Calvin Poore, who has for several years been residing three miles southeast of Belton, has moved to the vicinity of Geo. W. Grubbs, of the Honea Path section, who some time ago purchased the farm of L. L. McGee, a mile West of town, has just transfered his residence to this property. The citizens of Belton ex-tend a welcome to Mr. Grubbs and his family, which contains two charming additions to local social circles in the persons of his two young daughters, Misses Anna and Maggie Grubbs.

An accidental fire Saturday afternoon destroyed the stables of J. M. Geer, and with them a horse and a mule, inflicting a total loss of about $350. The dwelling houses of W. C. Lee and Dr J. M. Holcombe became ignited from flying sparks, but no appreciable damage other than that alone mentioned was caused. The fire probably dated its origin to burning leaves, which were carried into the stable. Services were held Thanksgiving Day in the Baptist Church. Rev. J. T. Smith preached an excellent sermon to a very good congregation. The stores of the town closed their doors from 11 to 2. Rev. R. H. Smith, of Anderson, lectured last Wednesday night to an interes dience at Dorchester Church, and Friday night in the Belton Baptist Church. The ertaining qualities of a lecture, whose subject matter was in itself exceed interesting, were heightened by the elo-quent and pleasing delivery of the speaker. Mrs. Anna L. Brown has changed her residence to Greenville, much to the regre of our citizens generally. Her house is occupied by J. K. Breazeale and family. Mr. Breazeale will take charge of Mrs. Brown's farm, near Belton. Belton has, on a small scale, been expe Belton has, on a small scale, been experiencing a genuine strike. Several days ago Mr. Latimer, President of the Cotton Seed Oil Mill, slightly reduced the wages of half a dozen negro laborers, connected with the ginning department of this establishment. These laborers ceased work and endeavored to organize a boycott against the mill, Gne Albert Ellis, refusing the mill, befusing to quit the employ of the mill, be-came a subject for the anger of the strikers, who held a meeting and resolved to flog Ellis if he did not sever his connection with his employers. Ellis refused, and the strikers proceeded to visit him Thanksgiving Day, presumably with hostile in-tent. The collapse of this demonstration was brought about by the prompt arrest of the the ring-leader of the strike, who was placed under a $500 peace bond. Mean-while other laborers have been secured at

It is learned that the participants in the circus row here November 24th will be prosecuted. Developments in the case how that a crowd of helligerent inhabitants of Greenville County formed a plan to come over here and bulldoze the town by terrorizing the "anti-Tillman" police force. From this motive resulted what appears to have been an unjustifiable assault upon negro visitors. The political enthusiasm of these intoxicated reformers has doubtless by this time materially subsided. The wounded negro is recovering.

Flynn's success in Anderson is certainly wonderful. His store is crowded from morning until late at night. He is certainly selling more goods than any other merchant in the city. He had to go North a second time this season for more goods, which no other merchant in Anderson did. His prices are far below any other house—the straws show which way the wind blows.
