Mr. Eorton was the special commissioner of the South Carolina Department of Agriculture to the Paris Exposition of 1889, in which capacity he became known throughout the State. The Atlanta Constitution, of March 7. in a review of the farming situation throughout the South, based upon the declaration of the Hon, R. T. Nesbit, Commissioner of Agriculture for Georgia, says that the prospect has not been so bad in forty years. From South Carolina, Alabama and Mississippi the reports are that farm work is fully one month behind, and that with most favorable prospects the record of last year could not be attained. The concensus of opinion is that a reduction of acreage and delay in farm work will cut off the cotton yield by at least half a million bales. Other crops are likewise backward.

The Mississippi Constitutional Convention was in session three months and adopted a Constitution which is just going into operation. It is claimed many glaring defects have already been discovered. The Jackson Clarion Leader, which seems to voice the general opinion, says: "The Constitution has proven a mess from first lawyers cannot interpret it; the Attorney General does not know how to construe and the Supreme Court Judges cannot fato be the name of the anti Coosaw thom its mysteries. The objections to the Constitution are that it is a too voluminous document, that it attempted too much and usurped the functions of the Legislature, and that it indulged too much in experiments."

A Philadelphia Times correspondent says that a remarkable experiment is go ing on not far from London in a pretty little Kenttish town called Bexley. Here a party of American scientists and artisans are constructing an air ship which is expected to cross the ocean in seven hours. The inventors, capitalists and workers are nearly all from Bridgeport, Conn., and are confident of success. There are now models which rise from the table and fly around the interior of the greatwork room, describing circles and curves at the will of the sender. If the complete ship does half as well as the model it will revolutionize the world. Every workman is sworn to absolute secrecy, and thus far little or no information as to what the mechanism is has reached the outside world. The most important meeting of the poard of trustees of the Clemson college ret held was the session Wednesday night and yesterday at Pendleton. The future work of the College was planned out and nuch work was done that will guide the institution as long as it stands.

The trustees determined not to give out and the first practical opportunity of he work of the meeting for publication for several days, but a News reporter has btained authentically the gist of the most important business transacted.

The executive committee of the board of trustees held a meeting Tuesday night the full board of trustees. The committee on curriculum also met Tuesday night and reported to the board.

The board decided to press the work in all the departments and prepare to open the college February 1st, 1892. The sessions of the college will be from Feb-ruary 1st to December 1st, making ten months for students to study and work. There will be no Saturday holiday, as in other schools, and the school days will be six in every week. No student under 15 years of age will be admitted, unless the student has an older brother in attendance. The students will be required to live and board at the institution, except where they live near enough to attend from home. Board will be furnished at actual cost, which will not be over $7 a month, and books and stationery will also be furnished at actual cost. The college will be under military discipline, and every student will be required to wear a uniform of cadet grey. The board also fixed upon a list of studies, but they will be given to the press later. There will be two general departments in the college, the agricultural and tech-nological. For entrance into the college the applicant must have a thorough knowledge of arithmetic, history, geography and grammar. The agricultural course will be thorough and the student will be given a complete education in practical as well as scientific farming. The technological department will be as complete as that of any technological school in the country. The standard will be high and every facility will be given for a thorough course.

The board has determined to provide a preparatory department on account of the present condition of the public schools, but the same limitation as to age will apply in this department.
The college will be able to accommo-

The Phosphate War.

CHARLESTON, March 6 .- The Coosaw Company made the first show of fight in the great phosphate war to-day. It was a big gun and comes from the United States Court in the shape of an injunction a copy of which has been served on the Phosphate Commissioners and on the licenses operating on the Coosaw territory under their permission. The order grant-ed by Judge Simonton, which is in the nature of a temporary injunction, and is directed to Governor Tillman, Attorney General Pope, Comptroller General El-lerbee, J. D. Montgomery, and G. H. Walter, and enjoins them from entering apon or in any manner interfering with that part of the Coosaw River heretofore occupied by the Coosaw Mining Company under the Act of 1876; or from in any manner or way interfering with or interrupting the occupancy and quiet enjoyment of the said Coosaw Mining Compa ny thereof, or with the continuance by them of their mining operation therein, and from authorizing, or assuming to authorize others to enter upon said to last. Nobody understands it. The territory, or to dig or to remove phosphate plain people do not comprehend it; the rock, or deposits therefrom, or from any portion thereof, and from instigating or eucouraging others to do so. injunction also applies to the combination that was granted licenses by the Phosphate commission to mine in the Coosaw territory. The injunction is peremptory, and is to remain in force until a further hearing of the case. The complainants have given bond to the court in $2,500 to secure the defendants against damages in case the injunction is ismissed. The defendants can, by giving eight days' notice, move to dissolve the njunction. The effect of their injunction will be to stop the mining of phosphates in the Coosaw territory by all parties till the case is finally settled, which will be at an indefinite time.- Special to the Columbia Register.

It did not find enthusiastic advocacy in the House, but Senator doctrine) succeeded, with the assistance of several of his colleagues, in persuading the Senate to attach a clause to the tariff bill providing for a commercial trade agreement by which the United States could secure the free admission to this country from the Latin-American nations of sugar and other products. A modified orm of the reciprocity amendment was nserted in the bill while it was in conference, and a practical opportunity of testing its benefits has been afforded by the recent agreement with Brazil.

On July 14, 1890, after a protracted struggle between the advocates of free silver and the conservatives on the silver uestion, a bill was enacted providing for he issue of coin certificates based on gold or silver bullion, with a proviso that the Secretary of the Treasury should ourchase four million five hundred thousand ounces of silver bullion each month.

FOR THE

we will take pleasure in showing you through, and will guarantee to sell you as chesp as anybody. Promising you prompt and polite attention, usan A. Palmer, Assignee, vs. Henry C. The Low Price Line, which runs over the BRIDGE of competition, through the CUT of prices, and on the EM-BANKMENT of the most carefully selected stock in Anderson!

> THIS Road leads through the beautiful scenery of hard hitting Bargains, and we will be glad to give each patron a complimentary ticket, which will entitle them to walk over any Railroad leading into Anderson, that they may come now-"the accepted time"-and see the prettiest Store in Auderson, and take advantage of the stunning Bargains we are now offering. We need room, as you will remember our Mr. C. S. Minor went West several days ago to "buy eggs"; so must make room for the Spring

> We have on hand now the largest stock we have ever had, and goods of every variety are constantly arriving. It is our purpose to keep on hand a variety of everything useful. Our limited show space prevents us from keeping everything where it can he easily seen, but when you need anything just go to the Ten Cent Store and ask for it, and 99 times out of every 100 we will rush it to the front, and sell it to you from 5 to 50 per cent cheaper than you can purchase elsewhere. Remember that we have only one price, and as time is money, you will save money by not asking if we can't do better than that. We know that some of our bargains are disturbing the quiet of some of our neighbors, but we are selling goods regardless of anything now.

Whenever it is convenient just walk in and "look around," and I venture you will see something new every time you come. Your obedient servants,

C. S. MINOR & CO.
