The thoughtful visitor will be interested in the displays of electrical machinery and appliances, and in the world's mechanism of to-day, as exemplified at Augusta's Exposition. Those bent on diversion will be amused by the special attractions, the races, the fire works, the village of Nomads and the performances of musicians, and feats of legerdemain and illusion. The best in their lines have siready been engaged. The Agricultural displays, the Crysanthemum show, the Art Department, the Horse and Cattle shows, and the other features afford material for an earnest study by visitors. Augusta does not have an Exposition every year. She husbands her resources for these occasions at intervals that permit of entirely new features arranged on new lines. She has the benefit of past experience, and backed by the reputation of always keeping good faith with her guests. She bids in advance all her friends welcome to the Exposition, Send

An Alliance in Greenville County recenty refused to allow him to be invited to address them, claiming that he was opposed to their demands-an enemy of the farmer! Again, an Alliance in Orangeburg County passed resolutions condemning the Governor for his opposition to the sub-treasury; and because he allowed himself to be interviewed by the Atlanta Journal, which interview was reproduced in this paper, they passed the following esolution : "That we view with suspicion the motives and question the fidelity to the order of any Allianceman, be he even Governor of the State, who would furnish for publication such an interview as apo States, and is likely to be carried out peared in the Atlanta Journal," &c. But the Governor's opposition to the subtreasury is not the only thorn in the flesh. That free pass of his has made some of his staunchest friends luke-warm. L. M. Moore, of Greenwood, an enthusiastic Tillman man last summer, has published an open letter, urging the Governor to return the pass and to pay all the money to the railroad he has saved by using it. Tillman is losing friends among his followers and gaining none from the opposition. The Governor would have been more certain to have drawn a salary in-

Gov. Tillman has discovered by this time, we suspect, that the long, weary road he was anxious to travel, is even more stumpy than he anticipated. His pride must have been severely shocked when he found out that the Governor of South Carolina, as well as the humblest citizen, must act as the the Constitution and laws of the State direct. He doubtless feels aggrieved that an official act of his is declared illegal by a Circuit

Dr. Babcock is a young man, and for the past five years has filled the position of assistant Superintendent of an Asylum at Somerville, Mass. The Governor had received a number of applications for the position, but none of them were "to his taste." He offered the post to Dr. W. H. Nardin, of Anderson, who declined in the following letter:

Hon. R. R. Tillman, Governor, Colum bia, S. C .- DEAR SIR: Your esteemed favor of the 27th instant at hand. Please accept my thanks for the honor conferred upon me, by your selection for the high and responsible position tendered, and it is with regret that I am forced to decline the honor, first from a sense of my unfitness for the position, and, second, the unwillingness to raise my growing family thus surrounded. With highest esteem, and, hoping you may find one more worthy, I am with respects yours truly, W. H. NARDIN.

garden in his little town. Master W. Mark Smith, son of Rev. H Turner Smith, of Prosperity, is visiting his little cousins, Miss Alma and Master Jimmie Smith, of our town.

Mr. H. H. Smith, of Dublin, Ga., left Tuesday with his wife and Mrs. J. T. Smith for Newberry, where he goes on a visit to his brother and family.

A large number of colored people in Belton and vicinity celebrated the 4th of July by going to Williamston to a grand pic nic. The trains from Anderson, Honea Path and other points had quite a load of the sable freight, and when all the pic nickers had boarded the train for Williamston. It did not say that there was liamston, it did not seem that there was room for even one more. Indeed, one of the party was left behind in consequence of a little scuffle he had engaged in just before the northbound train pulled out. He decided (?) to remain over in Belton in the care of the town marshal. The city fathers, however, dismissed both parties on the payment of fines. The entertainment at Stringer's Hall on definitely had he scrambled in ahead of J. L. M. Irby last winter in the Senatorial race. Doubtless he regrets bitterly that he didn't.

The entertainment at stringers had on Thursday night, the 2nd inst., was a grand success. All acted their parts so well that a looker-on could hardly speak of one as excelling, without mentioning all.

The Belton Baptist Church last Sunday contributed in subscription and cash $186.70 for the Baptist Orphanage at Greenwood, S. C. It is to be hoped that all the Churches in South Carolina will take a lively interest in this worthy enterprise. "Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, to visit the fatherless and widows in their afflictions, and to keep himself unspotted from the world."

hood of Belton, and a patron of the Belton High School, says we must have a new and commodious school building, and that he will help liberally to build the house. Who next of our country friends will generously aid in erecting a temple of learning which shall be the pride of the entire community? Yes, there is Mr. F. Clinkscales, another enterprising gentleman, living three and a half miles in the country from Belton. He will subscribe country from Belton. He will subscribe liberally for the purpose of building a good school house in Belton. So will Mr. John T. Green, one of our staunchest citizens. There are doubtless many others who will aid in this very important and much needed work. The Trustees have decided to improve the present school house lot, purchase more land adjoining said lot and build, as soon as practicable, a large and comfortable building of modern style, on the old school grounds. It is desired that all white citizens within four miles of Belton will take a hearty interest in this laudable enterprise. Talk to the fol-lowing gentlemen, Trustees of the school, on the subject: J. W. Poore, J. T. Rice, John T. Green, F. Clinkscales and Dr. W. H. Todd. Let us all remember that this is to be a school for all white people within reach of Belton. Let us all feel, too, that it is our school. How can we do this if we pay nothing towards it and take no interest in it but to send our children to the school.

Rev. J. T. Smith has been formally elected to take charge of the Belton High School for the ensuing year. He has accepted the principalship of the school. The session opens September 1st. Now, Uncle Lizzie, we want a fow words with you. We believe that you have come to stay, and we are glad to have you in our midst, and will be glad to hear from you every week, but we must say that your language was very large in your last communication. It is not a rule with editors to send out dictionaries with their papers, and we will ask that in promulgating your oratoric coglitations, or articulating your superficial sentimentalities, beware of platudinous ponderosity. Let your conversational communications possess a clarified conciseness, a compacted comprehensibility, a coalescent consistency, and conversely and was in a disgusting condition.

STABBED TO DEATH!

For Money! Particulars of the Killing of a great Money-Maker in Anderson!

The Old Man Dies without a Will, and his Slayer gets the Benefit!

HERE'S THE STORY IN A NUT SHELL!

ON the night of May 7th, just as the clock struck twelve, the agonizing cries of an old man in death were heard near the TEN CENT STORE. We soon learned that it was Old Man Price dying from a stab in the heart. His old enemy had tried swords with him, and succeeded in drawing his heart's blood, The deed was done by the same man who killed Price's eldest son two years ago.

Old Mr. Price was a very good old man in his way, but his name has been abused by his children; for it must be remembered that Mr. High Price committed various depredations in his time on the unsuspecting public. But now the old original Price himself is gone, and who did it? Why, the indefatigable
