> Tuesday was decoration day in Anderson. This beautiful custom is always observed here, though it is not as generally participated in as should be the case. It is eminently proper and fitting that the graves of the gallant Confederate soldiers who laid down their Nyes in the service of their country should be visited at least once a year by the living, and that those graves should be strewn with flowers. Miss Lenors C. Hubbard and the Home School are active in this work of love, as well as in the effort to secure funds sufficient to bi da monument in commemoration of our Confederate dead. Decoration day occurs on the anniversary of the death of the illustrious chieffain, Gen. R. J. Again, Mr. Editor, we feel we should let you know how we are in this burgh. you know how we are in this burgh.

Taking out the blues among our farmers—some of them—we are enjoying ourselves very well. These blues are brought about by the backwardness in the cotton plants in making their appearances above the ground. However, the few clouds, that passed over some few days ago, caused their faces to light up. There is nothing that brings out life in things so much as the refreshing shower. It causes tired work-horses to prick up their ears, tired work-horses to prick up their ears, the chickens to rush under the house, the geese to set up their shrilly tones, the duck to practice on a quack, the grass to grow with amazing rapidity, the careworn farmer to put on a complacent smile and all nature to show praise and thanksgivings to the Giver. And may all men learn to imitate nature in this respect. We've tramped over, ridden by and

The Greenville Weekly Democrat says that David B. Hill will be our next President. I don't claim to be a prophet nor a politician either, but I wouldn't be sure prised if John C. Sheppard isn't our next It gives me much pleasure, Mr. Editor, to inform you and your many readers that some of the boys that got married last Christmas were at the Debating Society Saturday night. I was really proud number of Russian wolf hounds to help which to see them and trust that they will be in the extermination of wolves, which with us again. Give my respects to "Farmer's Son," and tell "Farmer's Lad" if he will send his neighbor up here I think that probably we can scare him up a few cats. If the cats happen to be gone visiting when he comes he can go to the "Variety Store" and buy him a Dandy Rat Trap, some-thing that he won't have to feed and something that will catch as many rats as anybody's cat. Mr. Editor, may the bright rose of hap-Mr. Editor, may the bright rose of hap-piness and prosperity ever bloom in the garden of thy destiny, and in due time may you and I be permitted the pleasure of shouting hurrah for Sheppard! Reader, sing 1891 of the Tillman admin-istration, and I will leave it with you.

NED NEEDLE. Denver Items.

Well, Mr. Editor, the health of this secwell, Mr. Editor, the heart of this section is very good with a few exceptions.
Mr. S. L. Eskew, and his daughter, Miss Kate, left this place last Thursday evening, 5th inst., for the Baptist Convenevening, oth inst., for the Baptist Conven-tion in Atlanta, Ga., with several oth-ers from around here. We hope they will have a nice time while they are there. Our crops are looking fine, with the ex-ception of cotton, and it is about to get a move on itself. Mr. L. C., one of our brightest young men, drives one of the finest black horses that there are in this section, and that constipation. I have been cured by Dr. Mozeley's Lemon Elixir and am now a well.

REV. C. C. DAVIS,

C. does, and Miss —, f you have a hold on him you had better well, Mr. Editor, our friend is about done planting his bottom corn, and you know he is glad of that, for he has been sweating and blowing over it a long time.

Tuesday morning, 2nd inst., Mr. S. L. Eskew was burning off his new ground and the viried got up and the fire got out. have consumption when it is some other disease altogether that is reducing his flesh and making him look pale and writes: "It does me good to praise Bo-tanic Blood Balm. It cured me of an aband the wind got up and the fire got out in to a body of woods and burned over troubled me two years and that other remedies failed to benefit." about thirty-five acres and damaged the timber very much.

We have a nice school at Denver now.
Miss Mamie Bailey is our teacher. I think one or two of our boys like to go down about the Grange Hall. I hope they will succeed allright down there.

Mr. Editor, I must close, as this is my first time, and if I see this in print I will

MR. EDITOR: I now take my pen in hand to tell you that I rather guess you'll be considerably astonished when you read what I sit down to write. I've got some news to tell it it you can't guess until next never, so you may as well give it up first as last before you begin; and you ain't to let on a word about it until known in this vicinity." until next never, so you may as well give it up first as last before you begin; and you ain't to let on a word about it until next Wednesday p. m. Come to think, I don't care if you tell Nimpsy, for he is a particular friend of mine, but don't you open your head about it to nobody else, for I want to surprise these Barnes folks, and make them open their eyes a little. Come to consider, I think you had better not tell Nimpsy, for I am afraid he will tell Little Tom, and he would tell Bill,

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold, a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its and that's the very one that I don't want to know it until it bursts upon him all of a sudden, like a thunder clap. I guess I'll let him know that I can see and hear a few things myself. He that hath eyes to see let him see.
I saw Mr. Jas. Callaham pass through here last Saturday p. m. Of course he turned to the right, just below here. Also, Mrs. Edward Mitchell left here recently for Bordeaux, where she will spend several days. We see some of the boys looking very happy because Miss Onie Martin is visiting here this week. Others, however, are looking despondent because Miss Ella McAdams made a flying thin to this place last week. Really d see a young lady wearing a smile such as only is caused by the presence of the young man from the island—be was around here recently. Capers Evans, Esq., informed his neighbors a few days ago that he would not work any more until it rained, but has work any more until it rained, but has work any more was a sound here recently. We've tramped over, ridden by and have seen a great deal of this immediate country since we last wrote, and if you will take our word for it, you can rest assured that our people will have wheat bread in the fall, unless the rust should destroy the present promises of the wheat. Corn seems to be doing pretty well—that which is up—and most everybody is through planting. Cotton, as we have before intimated, failed to come up so as to give good stands, yet we saw some fields there was plenty. On the other fields the recent shower with the present warm days and nights will cause it to lift up its head.

These bright May days cause our lads and lasses to dream pleasant dreams of agents. In formed his neighbors a few days ago that he would not work any more until it rained, but has gone to work until it rained, but has gone to work again with renewed energy, and looking as happy as a king—it is a boy. Mr. J. B. McAdams was through here recently; he is representing three different life insurance companies. Our people think they will live a long time yet, and surfaidn't do a very good business in our midst. At last we have found out why some of our boys get home earlier than usual on Sunday nights. At a certain place, over the parlor door, hangs a sign that reads thus: "No courting allowed in this room after ten o'clock p.m." We have an idea that 'tis the work of one of her mischevous brothers, but the boys leave promptly at ten. But the bottle there is an ingenious nasal injector for the more successful treatment of these complaints without extra charge. Price 50c. Sold by Hill Bros.

This community was shocked to hear of the accident that befell Mr. Thos. J. Seigler on last Thursday, the 5th inst. It appears that Mr. Seigler, Magill and Lowe were returning from squirrel hunting about dusk, and had to pass by Ed. Holey's house, which is on Mr. Seigler's place.
