THE SUPREME COURT SAYS ANDERSON'S BID WAS TOO HIGH. After waiting as many months as days would have been necessary, the Supreme Court has at last refused to grant a mandamus requiring the Mayor of this City, the Hon. G. F. Tully, to sign the $75,000 of bonds voted by the people for the purpose of securing the Industrial School for Girls for this City.

THE CITY OF ANDERSON NOW HAS A BOND. Indebtedness amounting to $36,000, and the $75,000 voted for the school would have made a total indebtedness of $111,000. The law forbids any city or town to incur an indebtedness exceeding 8 per cent. of the assessed valuation of its property for taxation. While $111,000 was more than 8 per cent. of the value of the property assessed for taxation for this year, yet there is property in the city temporarily exempt from taxation.

THE COTTON CROP—ANDERSON AS A MARKET. The News and Courier has published what purports to be a fair estimate of the cotton crop of this country. The reports indicate that the crop will fall short of the average by from one-fourth to one-third. For instance, the report from Mississippi estimates the yield in that State at 800,000 bales, the average crop being 1,000,000 bales. There is a corresponding shortage of crop in most of the States. The News and Courier says: "The truth of the reports was believed in New York, as the market responded to the estimate of a 6,000,000 bale crop by a big advance in price."

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY. The General Assembly is now in session, and there are some matters of grave importance that will come before the members for their deliberation. The refunding of the State's debt will of course be the greatest financial question to confront the Assembly. We can only hope that our officers have or will succeed in procuring legislation of the stability and value of our securities, and that we may feel sure our public debt can be refunded to our great advantage to the State as was the case in some of our neighboring States.

CHEAPER CLOTHING. One of the many benefits of the recent Democratic triumph, says the Atlanta Journal, will be to give the people cheaper clothing. The tax on wool has been called the keystone of the protective system. Well, the keystone must come out. Whatever tariff bill the Democrats propose may pass, it is certain that it will abolish the tariff on wool. The Democratic House of the present Congress passed a bill to that effect, but it will, of course, never be accepted by the present Senate. The Senate will be regenerated after the 4th of March, and then will be ready to respond to the demands of the masses, rather than to those of a few protected monopolies.

THE PRICE OF AMERICAN WOOL. The price of American wool would be better if the tax on foreign wools were abolished, because it already is almost our wools manufacturers' domestic and foreign wools are mixed. Free wool will undoubtedly increase the quantity and variety of the woolen fabrics made in this country and thus increase the demand for home grown wool.

THE UNITED STATES IS ABOUT THE ONLY civilized government which maintains a tax on wool. The Duty Goods Economists recently made a full investigation of the subject and reached a conclusion which it expresses as follows: "In view of the bruised attempt at further oppression of manufacturer and consumer alike, it may be interesting to note what other nations do in regard to the admission of wool grown without duty."

Condition of Clemson.

COLUMBIA, S. C., November 20.—The annual report of the board of trustees of Clemson College makes an interesting chapter in the educational history of the year. It shows that the Farmers' College is in serious need of money, both to pay the salaries of the faculty and to continue the work. The trustees say that they need $70,457 with which to continue the work and have the College ready for the opening next Spring. After deducting the estimated income of the College they ask for an appropriation of $50,000.

THE BALANCE ON HAND AT LAST REPORT, together with the $77,941.91 borrowed upon the individual notes of the trustees, had been expended at the time of this meeting in January. We found therefore that we had a debit of $182,941.91. It is interesting to note that the college had borrowed on the notes of trustees $27,941.91, and also indebted for bills for material outstanding $15,000; total $94,941.91.

THE BOARD INTENDED TO RENEW THE work on the buildings if the amount derived from the sale of the land should prove to be greater than the amount they had estimated, or as soon as the Agricultural Hall building could be completed. In both of these particulars they were disappointed. Only $38,221.48 was received from the privilege tax, a deficiency in round numbers of $17,719.43. And from the sale of the Agricultural Hall in Columbia, we received nothing, making a total of $38,221.48 in the Legislature's estimate of our assets. The Legislature evidently included this amount of $38,221.48 in their estimate of $70,457 for the purposes of the college, and our failure to secure it left us in the condition of existing at the beginning of the year, and prevented us from doing any more than to keep the little force at work and to preserve the College property.

Scrapped by the Third Party.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 18.—The knot in the Farmer's Alliance collapsed today this morning, and those opposed to it. The people's party captured the body, but a faction embracing the district, the Alliance, but holding aloof from the people's party, held out against the executive committee and effected a deadlock. The executive committee and the Alliance, however, were unable to shape matters for the issue of a manifesto.

THE CONVENTION of the United Press found Mr. Macneil in his room, and that gentleman made the following statement: "I withdrew from the convention hall because the national committee of the People's party have come here and are attempting to secure control of the Alliance. I have gone so far as to make up a slate of State officers. Considering that these matters were in control of the convention, and had determined to carry out their measures, contrary to the Alliance tradition and principles, I withdrew from the hall, and shall remain out as long as such methods are being used to divert the people from the real issue of the day. I will take the hall for the same as I did about the matter."
