

Eggs are in demand now at fancy prices.

Florida oranges are abundant and cheap.

1883 oranges have made their appearance.

The fruit tree agent is now delivering his goods.

We are thankful that we will have no more politics until 1894.

Local news items are about as scarce as dollars with us this week.

Mr. A. E. Norris, of Hodges, is spending a few days in the city.

Mr. M. C. Randall, of Pendleton, is in the city Monday shopping.

People should not throw orange and banana peelings on the pavement.

The total receipts of cotton in this city this season are nearly 15,000 bales.

Have you paid your taxes and your subscription to the Intelligencer?

To-morrow is Thanksgiving Day. No business will be transacted in the city.

The Democratic ticket will give way to the Thanksgiving turkey to-morrow.

Mr. W. C. Simpson, of Toocoo, Ga., is in the city visiting friends and relatives.

While enjoying your Thanksgiving dinner to-morrow, remember your poor neighbor.

The Legislature convened yesterday. The Anderson Representatives are in their seats.

Dr. B. A. Henry, of Lowndesville, has decided to locate in Anderson, and will move up in a few days.

Ellis Gaines, a negro woman, was admitted a lunatic and carried to the Asylum in Columbia Tuesday.

Miss vonBorstel and Miss Humphreys, of this city, attended the State Ball in Columbia last Thursday night.

We had the pleasure of meeting Dr. B. A. Mattison, one of McCormick's popular physicians, in the city Tuesday.

W. A. Hawkins, of Piedmont, killed a turkey and carried to the Asylum. They were only ten months old each.

Miss Mary Russell is now in charge of a school in Brusky Creek Township, having begun her work last Monday.

J. N. Mangum has moved from this County to Greenville, where he has opened a restaurant and grocery store.

Jas. P. Gossett & Co. have something interesting about their stock of boots and shoes. Read their new advertisement.

It is said that sugar fifteen times sweeter than that produced from the cane is being made from cotton seed. How next?

Christmas is just on month off, and the little folks are anxiously and patiently awaiting the visit from old Santa Claus.

When the lawyer's wife threw her arms around him and said "I am proud for money."

We have several invitations to eat Thanksgiving turkeys with friends at our homes. We regret we can't accept of them.

"Now is the time to sow wheat," said an old substantial farmer to us the other day, and urged the farmers to sow a good crop.

Every one feels better now that the election is over. Let us all go to work with new energy and build up our homes, our State and our country.

Last Sunday was one of the loveliest days that our section ever has the pleasure of experiencing, and the churches of the city had large congregations.

Alex. Simpson, the white man who was struck in the head with an axe by his wife a few weeks ago, is recovering slowly, and will soon be up again.

H. H. Watkins, Esq., went to Greenville yesterday by train, on the marriage of his friend, Dr. Dodson, of Donalds, and Miss Stahl, of Greenville.

The Commissioners of election, both State and Federal, requests us to say that the State and Federal elections will be held on Saturday in December.

Our old friend, Mr. J. M. Welborn, and his wife and daughter, of Garvin Township, were in the city last week and were among the visitors to the Intelligencer office.

The information from Columbia is to the effect that Mr. W. A. Neal, of this County, will be elected Superintendent of the State Penitentiary without any trouble.

It is said that several citizens of this County have recently made a pile of money on cotton. One citizen, we are told, made fifty thousand dollars on cotton futures.

The State Fair in Columbia last week was a big success, and was largely attended. The exhibitors from Anderson County came off with a good share of the premiums.

We hope our Honors Path and Lowndesville correspondents have not forgotten us. An occasional letter from them would be appreciated by the readers of the Intelligencer.

Mr. Fritz Keller, from Breitenbach, Germany, landed in New York last Monday and is expected to reach Anderson Tuesday to visit his brother-in-law, Mr. J. H. Von Hassell.

Mr. H. L. McDonald spent a few days in Middle Georgia last week, and was so well pleased with the country that he purchased a tract of land there. He says land is cheap and very productive.

Mrs. Margaret Simpson, of Pendleton, and the venerable mother of Col. E. W. Simpson, is in the city visiting relatives. She is a host of friends in Anderson who are always delighted to greet her.

Hartwell (Ga.) Sun: "Two brothers of Robt. Carder came to the city on Tuesday afternoon. They were on their way to South Carolina where they go to look for a cause incident to their brother's death."

The banks and all the business houses in the city will be closed to-morrow—Thanksgiving Day. Services will be held at the First Church at 10 o'clock a. m. Everybody is invited to attend the service.

W. T. Townsend, Administrator of the late Wm. H. Ramper, will sell some valuable real estate in the city on Tuesday at Lowndesville on Wednesday, the 14th of December. See advertisement in another column.

The cotton receipts have been comparatively light this week. The price is steadily advancing, the quotation for this morning being as follows: Strict good middling, 99; good middling, 98; middling, 97.

We hope the rapid rise in the price of cotton will not induce the farmers to go too heavily into it next year. By all means keep the crop down to seven million bales, make it a good one, and the South can soon dictate the price of the staple.

The following students are attending Furman University from Anderson County: C. H. Richards, Patrick R. E. Barris, P. E. Clinkales, G. T. Baker, O. E. Burts, W. M. Richardson, J. B. Stevenson, C. J. Broos, F. E. Rice, Z. L. Balentine, Furman Barris, B. E. Geer, W. M. Riley.

We are glad to report that Henry Holland, the negro Democrat, who was accidentally shot and wounded on election day at Holland's Store, continues to improve, and it is hoped that he will soon be up again. Henry is a worthy, upright citizen, and is highly esteemed by his white friends.

The Fourth Annual State Fair of the Colored Agricultural and Mechanical Association of South Carolina will be held at Columbia, beginning next Tuesday and continuing until Saturday. On Thursday night there will be a parade of colored farmers and mechanics, and on the following days the fair will be in session. Entries in all the departments will be free. Exclusion rates on the railroads.

We would impress upon the opossum hunters that the law requires them to use a net on their traps when hunting, and not fat lightwood torches. Further, we will inform them that they go through people's woods in getting timber to set opossum traps, and in getting permission to do so, they are guilty of trespass, and are liable to indictment.

An exchange says a new machine for milking cows has been invented which works on the vacuum principle and keeps the milk running in a steady stream until all is exhausted. This invention ought to be hailed with delight by the milkmaid who occasionally gets kicked over by a too fat cow or gets a swifter in the face from the frisky tail during dry-time.

We notice that our old friend, S. N. Carpenter, Esq., editor of the Ellenton (Ga.) Gazette, is a candidate for the office of Liberty County, Mr. Carpenter is a native of Anderson County, but has long been a citizen of Ellenton. He is now suffering from a paralytic stroke, and will be forced to retire from Journalism. He has been a member of the Democratic party, and we hope he will be successful in the race for Treasurer.

An exchange says the Civil Service Commission has regulations for thirty-seven different positions, male and female, for the Indian service, which it has not been able to fill because there are not sufficient applicants enough to fill the demand. Those who desire to apply for examination should write to the commission and procure an application blank and a pamphlet of instructions.

Smoking grows as reported by an exchange as the latest addition to the wardrobe of the poor man who has a few dollars in his pocket. He is a warm rich brown of the tobacco leaf, or of the faint gray blue of the ridge of a mountain. The possession of such a gown does not indicate that the wearer is a lover of the weed, but rather that he is a good night cigar, the joy of his presence.

We have a few names on our books who have been promising to pay their subscription to the Intelligencer every fall for several years past, and we have patiently indulged them, believing they really would come. But they have not. We will place the accounts in the hands of Deputy United States Marshall W. C. Hester, of Columbia, and he will proceed to collect the money and trouble by settlement.

There is now an exhibition in the show window of Messrs. J. P. Gossett & Co.'s boot and shoe store, a big show which attracts a great deal of attention from passers-by. Heretofore the store has been a leather, weighs 40 pounds, and would fit a man 75 feet high. It was made in the factory of the same name, and is the work of the same hands that make the shoes and boots made by it.

This is the way an exchange speaks of the woman's worth: "For a good, every-day household angel give us the woman who laughs. Her bright smile not only brightens her face, but she occasionally burns her bread and forgets to replace discolored loaves, but she is so comfortable and so very paragon. Home is not a battlefield, nor life one long unending row. The trick of always smiling is a very important quality—one of the things no woman should be without. We are not all, we are sure, as cheerful as our Irish friends, but we can be cheerful in our own way."

Cedar Grove Items.

Mr. J. H. Ellison has moved to Pelzer. He tells a good joke that happened there recently. Her husband, who is a settler on the mountains on Saturday, and shortly after their arrival one of the girls went over to see him, but not finding any shoes, returned and the family very much worried, retired to bed. It seems they slept soundly and did not hear the bell striking the hours until 2 o'clock. The bell aroused them, they got up and ate breakfast. At 3 o'clock they got up again, and when the bell struck 4 o'clock the old lady asked the old man what it meant. He explained it, and she told him that she never did work under a bell and never would, and ordered him to pack up and move back to North Carolina at once. The same reason that prevented them to Pelzer took them away the same morning before daylight.

Mr. M. A. Mahaffey had a jolly corn shucking last week.

Mr. L. E. Copeland visited the State Fair in Columbia last week.

Mr. Fayette Jaynes hauled up his crop of corn on the running gear of his wagon.

Hurrah for Cleveland and Stevenson! Married, on Sunday, Nov. 12th, 1892, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Hoke Rhodes, by Rev. G. M. Rogers, Mr. Henry Lewis and Mr. J. M. Hester, all of Bolton Township.

Our pastor will preach next Thursday (Thanksgiving) at the place that is so interesting a subject. Everybody is requested to be present.

More interest is being manifested in our day school now. The patrons met on last Tuesday night and elected local trustees for the school as follows: Messrs. J. B. Kelley, J. J. Copeland and J. B. Vaughn.

A number of our young friends went to Columbia last week. They report a pleasant visit, but we have not heard of any of them having to stand in Big Creek yet.

There was a big quilting at Mr. A. O. Copeland's last Saturday, and at night R. R. via Atlanta and Birmingham. You can buy tickets through by this line and enjoy your baggage, and quick schedules. All questions answered. R. W. Hunt, Traveling Passenger Agent, 125 E. Wabash, Chicago.

Mr. J. H. Ellison has moved to Pelzer. He tells a good joke that happened there recently. Her husband, who is a settler on the mountains on Saturday, and shortly after their arrival one of the girls went over to see him, but not finding any shoes, returned and the family very much worried, retired to bed. It seems they slept soundly and did not hear the bell striking the hours until 2 o'clock. The bell aroused them, they got up and ate breakfast. At 3 o'clock they got up again, and when the bell struck 4 o'clock the old lady asked the old man what it meant. He explained it, and she told him that she never did work under a bell and never would, and ordered him to pack up and move back to North Carolina at once. The same reason that prevented them to Pelzer took them away the same morning before daylight.

Mr. M. A. Mahaffey had a jolly corn shucking last week.

Mr. L. E. Copeland visited the State Fair in Columbia last week.

Mr. Fayette Jaynes hauled up his crop of corn on the running gear of his wagon.

Hurrah for Cleveland and Stevenson! Married, on Sunday, Nov. 12th, 1892, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Hoke Rhodes, by Rev. G. M. Rogers, Mr. Henry Lewis and Mr. J. M. Hester, all of Bolton Township.

Our pastor will preach next Thursday (Thanksgiving) at the place that is so interesting a subject. Everybody is requested to be present.

More interest is being manifested in our day school now. The patrons met on last Tuesday night and elected local trustees for the school as follows: Messrs. J. B. Kelley, J. J. Copeland and J. B. Vaughn.

A number of our young friends went to Columbia last week. They report a pleasant visit, but we have not heard of any of them having to stand in Big Creek yet.

There was a big quilting at Mr. A. O. Copeland's last Saturday, and at night R. R. via Atlanta and Birmingham. You can buy tickets through by this line and enjoy your baggage, and quick schedules. All questions answered. R. W. Hunt, Traveling Passenger Agent, 125 E. Wabash, Chicago.

Mr. J. H. Ellison has moved to Pelzer. He tells a good joke that happened there recently. Her husband, who is a settler on the mountains on Saturday, and shortly after their arrival one of the girls went over to see him, but not finding any shoes, returned and the family very much worried, retired to bed. It seems they slept soundly and did not hear the bell striking the hours until 2 o'clock. The bell aroused them, they got up and ate breakfast. At 3 o'clock they got up again, and when the bell struck 4 o'clock the old lady asked the old man what it meant. He explained it, and she told him that she never did work under a bell and never would, and ordered him to pack up and move back to North Carolina at once. The same reason that prevented them to Pelzer took them away the same morning before daylight.

Mr. M. A. Mahaffey had a jolly corn shucking last week.

Mr. L. E. Copeland visited the State Fair in Columbia last week.

Mr. Fayette Jaynes hauled up his crop of corn on the running gear of his wagon.

Hurrah for Cleveland and Stevenson! Married, on Sunday, Nov. 12th, 1892, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Hoke Rhodes, by Rev. G. M. Rogers, Mr. Henry Lewis and Mr. J. M. Hester, all of Bolton Township.

Our pastor will preach next Thursday (Thanksgiving) at the place that is so interesting a subject. Everybody is requested to be present.

More interest is being manifested in our day school now. The patrons met on last Tuesday night and elected local trustees for the school as follows: Messrs. J. B. Kelley, J. J. Copeland and J. B. Vaughn.

A number of our young friends went to Columbia last week. They report a pleasant visit, but we have not heard of any of them having to stand in Big Creek yet.

There was a big quilting at Mr. A. O. Copeland's last Saturday, and at night R. R. via Atlanta and Birmingham. You can buy tickets through by this line and enjoy your baggage, and quick schedules. All questions answered. R. W. Hunt, Traveling Passenger Agent, 125 E. Wabash, Chicago.

Mr. J. H. Ellison has moved to Pelzer. He tells a good joke that happened there recently. Her husband, who is a settler on the mountains on Saturday, and shortly after their arrival one of the girls went over to see him, but not finding any shoes, returned and the family very much worried, retired to bed. It seems they slept soundly and did not hear the bell striking the hours until 2 o'clock. The bell aroused them, they got up and ate breakfast. At 3 o'clock they got up again, and when the bell struck 4 o'clock the old lady asked the old man what it meant. He explained it, and she told him that she never did work under a bell and never would, and ordered him to pack up and move back to North Carolina at once. The same reason that prevented them to Pelzer took them away the same morning before daylight.

Mr. M. A. Mahaffey had a jolly corn shucking last week.

Mr. L. E. Copeland visited the State Fair in Columbia last week.

Mr. Fayette Jaynes hauled up his crop of corn on the running gear of his wagon.

Hurrah for Cleveland and Stevenson! Married, on Sunday, Nov. 12th, 1892, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Hoke Rhodes, by Rev. G. M. Rogers, Mr. Henry Lewis and Mr. J. M. Hester, all of Bolton Township.

Our pastor will preach next Thursday (Thanksgiving) at the place that is so interesting a subject. Everybody is requested to be present.

More interest is being manifested in our day school now. The patrons met on last Tuesday night and elected local trustees for the school as follows: Messrs. J. B. Kelley, J. J. Copeland and J. B. Vaughn.

A number of our young friends went to Columbia last week. They report a pleasant visit, but we have not heard of any of them having to stand in Big Creek yet.

There was a big quilting at Mr. A. O. Copeland's last Saturday, and at night R. R. via Atlanta and Birmingham. You can buy tickets through by this line and enjoy your baggage, and quick schedules. All questions answered. R. W. Hunt, Traveling Passenger Agent, 125 E. Wabash, Chicago.

Mr. J. H. Ellison has moved to Pelzer. He tells a good joke that happened there recently. Her husband, who is a settler on the mountains on Saturday, and shortly after their arrival one of the girls went over to see him, but not finding any shoes, returned and the family very much worried, retired to bed. It seems they slept soundly and did not hear the bell striking the hours until 2 o'clock. The bell aroused them, they got up and ate breakfast. At 3 o'clock they got up again, and when the bell struck 4 o'clock the old lady asked the old man what it meant. He explained it, and she told him that she never did work under a bell and never would, and ordered him to pack up and move back to North Carolina at once. The same reason that prevented them to Pelzer took them away the same morning before daylight.

Mr. M. A. Mahaffey had a jolly corn shucking last week.

Mr. L. E. Copeland visited the State Fair in Columbia last week.

Mr. Fayette Jaynes hauled up his crop of corn on the running gear of his wagon.

Hurrah for Cleveland and Stevenson! Married, on Sunday, Nov. 12th, 1892, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Hoke Rhodes, by Rev. G. M. Rogers, Mr. Henry Lewis and Mr. J. M. Hester, all of Bolton Township.

Our pastor will preach next Thursday (Thanksgiving) at the place that is so interesting a subject. Everybody is requested to be present.

More interest is being manifested in our day school now. The patrons met on last Tuesday night and elected local trustees for the school as follows: Messrs. J. B. Kelley, J. J. Copeland and J. B. Vaughn.

A number of our young friends went to Columbia last week. They report a pleasant visit, but we have not heard of any of them having to stand in Big Creek yet.

There was a big quilting at Mr. A. O. Copeland's last Saturday, and at night R. R. via Atlanta and Birmingham. You can buy tickets through by this line and enjoy your baggage, and quick schedules. All questions answered. R. W. Hunt, Traveling Passenger Agent, 125 E. Wabash, Chicago.

Mr. J. H. Ellison has moved to Pelzer. He tells a good joke that happened there recently. Her husband, who is a settler on the mountains on Saturday, and shortly after their arrival one of the girls went over to see him, but not finding any shoes, returned and the family very much worried, retired to bed. It seems they slept soundly and did not hear the bell striking the hours until 2 o'clock. The bell aroused them, they got up and ate breakfast. At 3 o'clock they got up again, and when the bell struck 4 o'clock the old lady asked the old man what it meant. He explained it, and she told him that she never did work under a bell and never would, and ordered him to pack up and move back to North Carolina at once. The same reason that prevented them to Pelzer took them away the same morning before daylight.

Mr. M. A. Mahaffey had a jolly corn shucking last week.

Mr. L. E. Copeland visited the State Fair in Columbia last week.

Mr. Fayette Jaynes hauled up his crop of corn on the running gear of his wagon.

Hurrah for Cleveland and Stevenson! Married, on Sunday, Nov. 12th, 1892, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Hoke Rhodes, by Rev. G. M. Rogers, Mr. Henry Lewis and Mr. J. M. Hester, all of Bolton Township.

Our pastor will preach next Thursday (Thanksgiving) at the place that is so interesting a subject. Everybody is requested to be present.

More interest is being manifested in our day school now. The patrons met on last Tuesday night and elected local trustees for the school as follows: Messrs. J. B. Kelley, J. J. Copeland and J. B. Vaughn.

A number of our young friends went to Columbia last week. They report a pleasant visit, but we have not heard of any of them having to stand in Big Creek yet.

There was a big quilting at Mr. A. O. Copeland's last Saturday, and at night R. R. via Atlanta and Birmingham. You can buy tickets through by this line and enjoy your baggage, and quick schedules. All questions answered. R. W. Hunt, Traveling Passenger Agent, 125 E. Wabash, Chicago.

Mr. J. H. Ellison has moved to Pelzer. He tells a good joke that happened there recently. Her husband, who is a settler on the mountains on Saturday, and shortly after their arrival one of the girls went over to see him, but not finding any shoes, returned and the family very much worried, retired to bed. It seems they slept soundly and did not hear the bell striking the hours until 2 o'clock. The bell aroused them, they got up and ate breakfast. At 3 o'clock they got up again, and when the bell struck 4 o'clock the old lady asked the old man what it meant. He explained it, and she told him that she never did work under a bell and never would, and ordered him to pack up and move back to North Carolina at once. The same reason that prevented them to Pelzer took them away the same morning before daylight.

Mr. M. A. Mahaffey had a jolly corn shucking last week.

Mr. L. E. Copeland visited the State Fair in Columbia last week.

Mr. Fayette Jaynes hauled up his crop of corn on the running gear of his wagon.

Hurrah for Cleveland and Stevenson! Married, on Sunday, Nov. 12th, 1892, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Hoke Rhodes, by Rev. G. M. Rogers, Mr. Henry Lewis and Mr. J. M. Hester, all of Bolton Township.

Our pastor will preach next Thursday (Thanksgiving) at the place that is so interesting a subject. Everybody is requested to be present.

More interest is being manifested in our day school now. The patrons met on last Tuesday night and elected local trustees for the school as follows: Messrs. J. B. Kelley, J. J. Copeland and J. B. Vaughn.

A number of our young friends went to Columbia last week. They report a pleasant visit, but we have not heard of any of them having to stand in Big Creek yet.

There was a big quilting at Mr. A. O. Copeland's last Saturday, and at night R. R. via Atlanta and Birmingham. You can buy tickets through by this line and enjoy your baggage, and quick schedules. All questions answered. R. W. Hunt, Traveling Passenger Agent, 125 E. Wabash, Chicago.

Mr. J. H. Ellison has moved to Pelzer. He tells a good joke that happened there recently. Her husband, who is a settler on the mountains on Saturday, and shortly after their arrival one of the girls went over to see him, but not finding any shoes, returned and the family very much worried, retired to bed. It seems they slept soundly and did not hear the bell striking the hours until 2 o'clock. The bell aroused them, they got up and ate breakfast. At 3 o'clock they got up again, and when the bell struck 4 o'clock the old lady asked the old man what it meant. He explained it, and she told him that she never did work under a bell and never would, and ordered him to pack up and move back to North Carolina at once. The same reason that prevented them to Pelzer took them away the same morning before daylight.

Mr. M. A. Mahaffey had a jolly corn shucking last week.

Mr. L. E. Copeland visited the State Fair in Columbia last week.

Mr. Fayette Jaynes hauled up his crop of corn on the running gear of his wagon.

Hurrah for Cleveland and Stevenson! Married, on Sunday, Nov. 12th, 1892, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Hoke Rhodes, by Rev. G. M. Rogers, Mr. Henry Lewis and Mr. J. M. Hester, all of Bolton Township.

Our pastor will preach next Thursday (Thanksgiving) at the place that is so interesting a subject. Everybody is requested to be present.

More interest is being manifested in our day school now. The patrons met on last Tuesday night and elected local trustees for the school as follows: Messrs. J. B. Kelley, J. J. Copeland and J. B. Vaughn.

A number of our young friends went to Columbia last week. They report a pleasant visit, but we have not heard of any of them having to stand in Big Creek yet.

There was a big quilting at Mr. A. O. Copeland's last Saturday, and at night R. R. via Atlanta and Birmingham. You can buy tickets through by this line and enjoy your baggage, and quick schedules. All questions answered. R. W. Hunt, Traveling Passenger Agent, 125 E. Wabash, Chicago.

Mr. J. H. Ellison has moved to Pelzer. He tells a good joke that happened there recently. Her husband, who is a settler on the mountains on Saturday, and shortly after their arrival one of the girls went over to see him, but not finding any shoes, returned and the family very much worried, retired to bed. It seems they slept soundly and did not hear the bell striking the hours until 2 o'clock. The bell aroused them, they got up and ate breakfast. At 3 o'clock they got up again, and when the bell struck 4 o'clock the old lady asked the old man what it meant. He explained it, and she told him that she never did work under a bell and never would, and ordered him to pack up and move back to North Carolina at once. The same reason that prevented them to Pelzer took them away the same morning before daylight.

Mr. M. A. Mahaffey had a jolly corn shucking last week.

Mr. L. E. Copeland visited the State Fair in Columbia last week.

Mr. Fayette Jaynes hauled up his crop of corn on the running gear of his wagon.

Hurrah for Cleveland and Stevenson! Married, on Sunday, Nov. 12th, 1892, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Hoke Rhodes, by Rev. G. M. Rogers, Mr. Henry Lewis and Mr. J. M. Hester, all of Bolton Township.

Our pastor will preach next Thursday (Thanksgiving) at the place that is so interesting a subject. Everybody is requested to be present.

More interest is being manifested in our day school now. The patrons met on last Tuesday night and elected local trustees for the school as follows: Messrs. J. B. Kelley, J. J. Copeland and J. B. Vaughn.

A number of our young friends went to Columbia last week. They report a pleasant visit, but we have not heard of any of them having to stand in Big Creek yet.

There was a big quilting at Mr. A. O. Copeland's last Saturday, and at night R. R. via Atlanta and Birmingham. You can buy tickets through by this line and enjoy your baggage, and quick schedules. All questions answered. R. W. Hunt, Traveling Passenger Agent, 125 E. Wabash, Chicago.

Mr. J. H. Ellison has moved to Pelzer. He tells a good joke that happened there recently. Her husband, who is a settler on the mountains on Saturday, and shortly after their arrival one of the girls went over to see him, but not finding any shoes, returned and the family very much worried, retired to bed. It seems they slept soundly and did not hear the bell striking the hours until 2 o'clock. The bell aroused them, they got up and ate breakfast. At 3 o'clock they got up again, and when the bell struck 4 o'clock the old lady asked the old man what it meant. He explained it, and she told him that she never did work under a bell and never would, and ordered him to pack up and move back to North Carolina at once. The same reason that prevented them to Pelzer took them away the same morning before daylight.

Mr. M. A. Mahaffey had a jolly corn shucking last week.

Mr. L. E. Copeland visited the State Fair in Columbia last week.

Mr. Fayette Jaynes hauled up his crop of corn on the running gear of his wagon.

Hurrah for Cleveland and Stevenson! Married, on Sunday, Nov. 12th, 1892, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Hoke Rhodes, by Rev. G. M. Rogers, Mr. Henry Lewis and Mr. J. M. Hester, all of Bolton Township.

Our pastor will preach next Thursday (Thanksgiving) at the place that is so interesting a subject. Everybody is requested to be present.

More interest is being manifested in our day school now. The patrons met on last Tuesday night and elected local trustees for the school as follows: Messrs. J. B. Kelley, J. J. Copeland and J. B. Vaughn.

A number of our young friends went to Columbia last week. They report a pleasant visit, but we have not heard of any of them having to stand in Big Creek yet.

Another Letter From the West.

LOCKSBURG, Ark., Nov. 17, 1892.

Edwards, I have since I wrote you a letter in reference to this section of the country. There is not much that I can write that would be of interest to your readers, other than to enlarge on what was contained in my last letter.

The people here are rejoiced over the election of Cleveland, for several days, or rather for several nights, the anvils have been firing until near midnight.

The Democrats here are rejoiced over the election of Cleveland, for several days, or rather for several nights, the anvils have been firing until near midnight.

They see no difference between the Republican and Third Party. Both are classed as enemies of the South. The Democrats here are rejoiced