

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 13, 1893.

Everybody in this County wants to see a late fall.

Middling cotton is quoted this morning at 72 cents.

Chickens and eggs are in demand at good prices.

A bale or two of cotton is seen on the streets nearly every day.

Anderson is full of marriageable girls, and they are all lovely, too.

The Court of General Sessions convenes at Pickens C. H. next Monday.

Mrs. W. R. Zimmerman, of this city, is visiting relatives at Westminster.

Miss Alice Harris, of Townville, is visiting friends in the city this week.

Miss Donnie McCarley, of Townville, is visiting friends and relatives in the city.

Mr. D. S. Maxwell and family returned last Saturday from their mountain home.

If there is not a marriage or two in Anderson this fall, we will be mighty mistaken.

A local weather prophet predicts that we will have no settled weather until after the 21st inst.

No service in the Presbyterian Church next Sunday on account of the absence of the pastor.

Mr. T. O. Shearer offers his valuable plantation of 622 acres for sale. See his advertisement.

Persons indebted to Mr. John O'Donnell should read his advertisement in another column.

Cotton picking will soon begin in earnest, and the people will no doubt lay aside politics for awhile.

Vacation is about over, and the boys and girls are getting ready to resume their studies at College.

Master Gus Sullivan, Mrs. J. R. Vandiver and Miss Lola Watson have gone to the World's Fair.

We are indebted to Mr. G. F. Bigby for samples of his cigars. If you enjoy a good smoke, try his cigars.

Messrs. T. E. Seybt, J. G. Cunningham and F. K. McCully have returned home from the Eastern markets.

Mr. J. K. Nevitt, of Fairfield County, is in the city visiting relatives. She is a sister of Mrs. David Crosby.

The Sess says Miss Minnie Burris and Miss Fieck Sullivan, of this County, are visiting friends in Hartwell.

Mrs. W. H. Frierson, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Sullivan, at Elberton, Ga., has returned home.

The merchants are displaying their new fall goods. Watch our columns and you will know where to get bargains.

There is a large crop of muscadines and persimmons, and the possum will soon be making by the light of the moon.

We now have only one train a day over the Savannah Valley Road. It leaves here at 9 a. m. and returns at 7.30 p. m.

The negroes of Anderson are doing their duty in contributing to the relief of their people on the islands of the sea coast.

Mr. L. P. Smith scored another success in his exhibition last Thursday from Ninety-Six to Clemson College via Greenville.

Johnson, the barber, has moved his shop three doors down Whitner street from his old stand, next to the Auditor's office.

To the friends of the INTELLIGENCER the latch-string of the office door is always on the outside. Call and make yourself at home.

Mr. L. E. Seal is fitting up a shooting gallery next door to his place of business, and it will be opened to the public in a few days.

Mr. Earle H. Dodd is in the city visiting his parents. He was summoned home on account of the illness of his mother, who is very sick.

Mr. A. B. Towers and daughter, Miss Annie Belle, who have been visiting relatives at Roma and Marietta, Ga., returned home last week.

Mr. W. A. Moorhead is spending this week at Calhoun Falls putting up one of Mungers' improved ginning outfits for Norwood Rice.

Rev. O. L. Martin, of the First Baptist Church, has returned to Anderson, having spent the most of his vacation at his old home in Virginia.

Miss Pearl Smith and Miss Kate Bell, two of Walhalla's popular young ladies, are spending several days in the city with Mrs. M. A. Dean.

Our young friend, R. E. Ligon, looks as happy as if he had just taken a ride on the big Ferris Wheel at the World's Fair. It's a ten-pound boy.

Benign N. A. McCully, of the United States Navy, now stationed at Washington, D. C., came home last week to attend the funeral of his father.

Brownlee & Vandiver have a new advertisement in another column, and it will do you good to read what they say and then give them a call.

Bring your cotton to Anderson and you will get the best prices for it and at the same time buy your fall and winter goods at prices that will please you.

We look for a rise in the cotton market very soon. Be cheerful, farmers; we believe better times are ahead. In the meantime, take good care of the pig.

The next big gathering Anderson will have the pleasure of entertaining will be the Baptist State Convention, which meets here at the 11th of December.

Our young townsmen, Geo. N. Broyles, is receiving the congratulations of his friends. It is a 10-pound girl. Friend Broyles now has two boys and a girl.

We are glad to learn that our good friend, Rev. G. P. Watson, pastor of the Methodist Church, is improving, and expects to occupy his pulpit next Sunday.

Our cotton buyers will have all the money necessary to handle the cotton crop, and always bear in mind that you can get the top of the market for it in Anderson.

Maj. T. H. Russell, who has been severely afflicted with a carbuncle for several weeks, is now visiting his sons in the city. He is still very weak, but is slowly improving.

When you need bill heads, letter heads, envelopes or other job printing, send your orders to the INTELLIGENCER office. We guarantee satisfaction in work, material and prices.

Elberton (Ga.) Gazette: "Mrs. Mattie Simpson, of Pickens, S. C., has taken charge of the hotel house, and will keep a first class boarding house, at reasonable charges."

We invite the attention of our readers to G. F. Bigby's advertisement, which appears in another column. He is opening a fine stock of staple and fancy groceries, confections, cigars, tobacco, etc., and will deliver all goods sold in the city limits free of charge. We bespeak for him a liberal patronage.

An exchange says if you have sore or itching corns, trim them well and grease them thoroughly with lincseed oil. Your suffering will end so far as those corns are concerned.

Mr. W. T. McGill, the Secretary, requests us to say that there will be a meeting of the Exposition Committee next Saturday, and he hopes to see every member present.

Mr. W. W. Guyton, of the W. & A. R. R., Atlanta, Ga., is now visiting his parents in Hopeville. His mother is quite sick. We hope she will soon be restored to her usual health.

The R. & D. R. R. has made a mistake in discontinuing its passenger service on the freight train between Walhalla and Greenwood. It was a great convenience to the traveling public.

The Westminster Banner has been revised, with Mr. J. L. O. Thompson as editor and publisher. It presents a neat appearance, and has the INTELLIGENCER'S best wishes for its success.

Messrs. Rob. and Will Webb have considerably improved their store room on the corner of Brick Range and Whitner street, and are opening up a choice stock of groceries, glassware, etc.

Col. J. A. Hoyt, of the Greenville Mountaineer, who came over to attend the funeral of his old friend, Capt. McCully, on Sunday, remained over Monday, and gave the INTELLIGENCER a call.

Mr. Baylis Hall, of this County, has shown us a large ear of corn, which is a curiosity. It is completely covered with grains, but has two distinct cob ends and is evidently two ears grown together.

Miss Lella Russell, who has been visiting the World's Fair and relatives in Indiana, has returned home, and will shortly go to West to resume her duties in the Due West Female College.

Prof. Marion Danwoody, of Atlanta, Ga., who has just returned from a three years' sojourn in Europe, where he has been studying music, has been spending a few days in the city visiting Mrs. Mollie Keese and family.

Married, at the residence of Mr. W. A. King, at Saint Cloud, Fla., on Sunday, September 3, 1893, by Rev. W. B. Dye, Mr. J. J. Carmalt, of Port Tampa City, Fla., and Miss Rosa L. Rice, daughter of Mr. A. E. Rice, of this County.

Prof. J. Scott Murray, one of the accomplished members of the faculty of Mercer University, Macon, Ga., reached Anderson last week to spend a portion of his vacation with his mother and other relatives. His friends are delighted to greet him.

R. T. Jaynes, one of the editors of the Keowee Courier and one of the brightest young members of the Walhalla bar, spent Monday in the city on professional business, and honored the INTELLIGENCER's sanctum with his presence for a short time.

The South Carolina Presbytery, which is composed of the Presbyterian Churches in Pickens, Oconee, Anderson and Abbeville Counties, will hold its fall session at Good Hope Church, in this County, next Friday. The session will continue through Sunday.

We congratulate the readers of the INTELLIGENCER on the service they received from the pen of our clever friend, J. K. Hood, Esq., during our absence. Mr. Hood writes a fluent pen, and is a practical newspaper man as well as a brilliant lawyer.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. N. A. McCully's remains were laid to rest in Silver Brook Cemetery last Sunday morning, the funeral services being conducted in the Baptist Church by the pastor, Rev. O. L. Martin, in the presence of a very large congregation. The Masonic fraternity, of which the deceased was a member, were in charge of the remains, and laid them away with their impressive ceremony, at the conclusion of which, Col. Hoyt, of Greenville, made a few appropriate remarks. The occasion was very sad and impressive. The grief-stricken family have many sympathizers in their bereavement.

The latest and greatest novelty in stage effects is introduced in the laughing success "Zeb," that is to be presented at the Opera House one night only, Friday, 15th inst. One effect consists of a reproduction of the World's Fair buildings. The scene represents the movable side walk. The Company carry 16,250 feet of special scenery for this one scene. Besides the great World's Fair scene are presented many other new and novel effects in stage machinery. The scenery mentioned above is new and original, and "Zeb" is the only complete scenic having this new and original effect. Tickets on sale at Gossett's shoe store. Admission 50 cents, 75 cents and $1.

Miss Mamie Simpson died at the home of her brother-in-law, Mr. J. M. Cathcart, in this city, last Wednesday, after a painful illness of several months, aged 24 years. Miss Simpson was a daughter of the late Archibald Simpson, of Marietta, Ga., but for the past four years had made her home with her sister in this city. She was an excellent young lady, and had made many friends in Anderson. She had since her girlhood been a faithful member of the Presbyterian Church. On Thursday afternoon the funeral services were conducted in the Presbyterian Church by the pastor, Dr. Frierson, after which the remains were interred in Silver Brook Cemetery.

The Walhalla Courier, of last week, says: "On last Tuesday evening, September 5th, 1893, there was a pretty wedding at the residence home of Col. H. S. VanDiere, Walhalla, S. C. It was the marriage of Miss Corrie Belle VanDiere to Mr. E. B. Norris, of Greenwood, S. C., Rev. R. W. Seymour officiating in his usually impressive manner. Mr. Norris is a popular employee of the R. & D. R. R., and his many friends, while the bride is a young woman, possessed of those charming qualities which won for her the friendship and respect of all. After congratulations were tendered the guests retired to the dining room and gathered around a table daintily spread with a variety of delicious refreshments. Then the happy couple drove to Seneca, where they boarded the 10 o'clock train for Washington, D. C., where they will be married Monday in the city on professional business, and honored the INTELLIGENCER's sanctum with his presence for a short time.

The South Carolina Presbytery, which is composed of the Presbyterian Churches in Pickens, Oconee, Anderson and Abbeville Counties, will hold its fall session at Good Hope Church, in this County, next Friday. The session will continue through Sunday.

We congratulate the readers of the INTELLIGENCER on the service they received from the pen of our clever friend, J. K. Hood, Esq., during our absence. Mr. Hood writes a fluent pen, and is a practical newspaper man as well as a brilliant lawyer.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand of Webb & Simpson, on South Main Street. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will hear from them later on.

Mr. E. P. Welch, who has been spending several months at Dardanelle, Ark., where he owns some valuable property, came home last week. He is well pleased with Arkansas, and has decided to make his permanent home there. He will leave to-day.

Messrs. H. B. Fant and W. H. Simpson have formed a partnership and are now opening a fresh stock of staple and