The Hartwell Sun says: "Mr. Tom Griffin, of Madison County, was bitten by a rattlesnake a few days ago. He had a chicken killed immediately and splitting it open applied it to the wound, and he is now sound and well. Mr. John Brown, of Hart County, was bitten on the forehead many years ago by a rattlesnake while he was stooping to drink water from a spring, and was saved by the chicken remedy. The chicken flesh was turned green by the absorption of the virus. It is said if you catch the snake and split it open and spply it in the same way that it will effect a cure. But most of our read ers would prefer chicken to snake, if handy."

It gives us great bleasure to note that he is now mending pleasure to note that he is now mending rapidly, and we hope he will continue to improve in health and live to celebrate the centennial anniversary of his birthday. Anderson County never produced a more genial, conscientious, upright citizen than Capt. Vandiver, nor one that has ever exerted a greater influence for all that is good and pure. He has been honored by his fellow divigens with positions ored by his fellow-citizens with positions of trust and honor, and he has never failed to discharge his duties faithfully and zealously. We would to God that we had more such men.

"Uncle Hiram" is the name of an extremely funny comedy that will be presented in the Opera House this evening. The Company played in Columbia last Monday night, and the State, in speaking of it, says: "A very good audience greeted Mr. Aaron Woodhull last night in the four act comedy of "Uncle Hiram." Mr. Woodhull is a capital comedian and knows how to make people laugh as well, perhaps, as any actor now on the stage. His wit and manner is of a unique kind and just to look at him puts one in a good just to look at him puts one in a good humor and makes laughter come. The saw mill scene was good, but there was a little hitch with the railroad train, which caused it to collapse altogether. Mr. Woodhull is supported by a good company, and in the person of Miss Griswold he has a specially attractive little actress." If you want to enjoy a good laugh go out to the Opera House to night. Last Friday morning the large barn on the plantation formerly owned by Mr. W. A. Neal, (but now the property of Hon. J. B. Watson), in Hopewell Township, was destroyed by fire. It was filled with grain and forage, which was also consumed. All of the live stock, except one cow, was rescued from the building. The hands had gone into the building before daylight to feed the stock, and it is supposed the fire caught from the lanterns which they had with them. The fire spread rapidly, and in a few minutes reduced everything to ashes. The barn was one of the largest and most substantial in the County, and was erected about two years ago at a cost of about $2,000. Mr. Watson estimates his loss at about $3,000. The property was insured for $1,500 in the Farmers' Mutual Fire and Wind Association, and is the first loss the Association tion, and is the first loss the Association has had in this County.

The dime entertainment under the management of Mrs. C. F. Mr. Joe Miller's "Buzzin Bee" was one of the most interesting features of the evening's program. Mrs. Jones, in her usual happy and courteous manner, left nothing undone that would tend to the pleasure of those present, and deserves to be congratulated for the success and pleasures of the evening's entertainment. The Court of General Sessions, The Court of General Sessions for Anderson County "began to be holden," as the Clerk's minutes states it, on Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Judge W. H. Wallace is presiding at the sterm. Both the Bar and the people of Anderson are always pleased when the time comes for this distinguished gentleman and eminentijurist to hold our Court. They know that whether as soldier on the battlefield, member and Speaker of the famous Wallace House in '76, or Judge and citizen he has met and performed his duties with an ability, fidelity, courage and fairness that has placed him among the forefront of Carolina's bright galaxy of distinguished sons, and he is respected and loved throughout the length and breadth of Carolina. For him they wish many years of life, full of peace and hapmany years of life, full of peace and happiness, and when he shall have gone hence he will live not only on the pages of our history, but in the hearts of his people.

After the usual preliminaries, a number of cases were placed in the hands of the Grand Jury. Judge Wallace did not charge them, saying they had already been charged at a previous term and twice before had peformed duties similar to what they now would have to do. what they now would have to do.

Railroad, who shound tilled one James Batson in Greenville on killed one James Batson in Greenville on silled one James Batson in Greenville on Sunday evening last. The bail was readily granted on the evidence taken at the inquest, and the bond was fixed at $1,000. The case against J. Mims Sullivan for murder was set for Wednesday morning, but in the absence Mr. Heyward, leading counsel for the defence, the case was postponed until 3 o'clock this afternoon. Col.
Jas. L. Orr, counsel for the prosecution, was also absent on account of sickness,
and it is not known whether he will be and it is not known whether he will be able to be present during the trial. In the prosecution of the case Solicitor Ansel will be assisted by Messrs. Tribble & Prince and Earle & Mooney and Col. Orr, of Greenville. The defence will be made by Judge Melton, of Columbia, Perry & Heyward, J. Walter Gray and J. A. McCullough, of Greenville, and John E. Breazeale. This is an able array of counsel, and a splendid fight is inevitable.

There is still much work to be done in the criminal Court and it may have to be continued into next week.

Mr. John F. Campbell has been very slok, but is better at this writing.

Say, friends, what about a few days' meeting at the Institute the next second Sunday? The preacher says he is willing. So let everybody come out next second Baptist State Convention. The Baptist State Convention will convene with the First Anderson Baptist Church on Wednesday, November 29, 1893. All of the citizens of the city of Anderson who are willing to assist in and way, by contributions or entertaining delegates, will please roport to the undersigned Committee on Hospitality. We are expecting a large attendance of delegates, and hope our congregation and friends will respond at once liberally.

Trinity Church is supplied by Rev. John Attaway the first Sabbath, and we meet every Sabbath night in a prayer meeting, singing and testifying, and giving sin and the devil the black eye when-ever he shows his head.

We advocate paying the Teacher, the Editor, Doctor and Preacher, such as preach the truth.

Miss Lelia Brown's school will commence on the first of next month. She has taught at this place four years in succession, and we think no one could fill her place so well, as all of the children love her as a teacher. We have been highly blessed, in comparison with many other sections of the country, and we should remember the poor, the afflicted and the distressed whenever the opportunity presents itself. The public road leading from Harper's Crossing up to the Greenville road is in a bad fix. It has not been worked in two years, and has been reported time and again to the Commissioners of the public roads.
