WEDNESDAY, JAN. 2, 1895. The war between China and Japan is still raging, and the Japanese are still getting the best of it.

Sanator Butler has rented a house in Spartanburg, and after the 4th March will move his family there and locate. He will resume the practice of law.

Atlanta, Ga., has completed a censu on its own account, and, according to the rus, the city has a poputation of 108,-614. Atlanta is a great and growing city. Ross Reid, of Marietta, Greenville county, has beaten the record for the biggest hog raised in South Carolina this vest. His fourteen months old shote reighed 591 pounds. The belief is said to be growing at Veshington that there will be no currency or bond bill passed at the present her in extraordinary session. The Philadelphia Press has compiled a able showing the number of votes cast by each party in the November elections, according to these figures the Re-Means cast 5,583,326 votes, the Demorals 4,148,456 votes, the Populists 1,246,-52 votes, and the Prohibitionists 219,843 rotes. It will be observed that the Reoblicans polled slightly less than onealf the total number. About three years ago Jacob W. Franke died in Charleston leaving a valuable ate. By his will his wife was given a est in his estate and at her death, fter making a few bequests to the family od relatives, $5,000 was given to the leston Orphan House and the renainder of the estate was to be used for he founding of the Jacob Washington Franke Lutheran Hospital and Home. Mrs. Franke died last week and the rms of her husband's will will now be reied out, The hospital and home will ret about $30,000, probably more.

Vithin a few weeks two men have murdered in so-called sporting exions. No one cares particularly at hese deaths, except as they demonstrate the brutality of such contests. Two men hand up and pound each other until one nbs and dies, and scarcely a ripple of excitement stirs the public; not half so much, indeed, as is felt over Spanish or Mexican bull-fights. These killings ere murder pure and simple, murders money in which the stakes represent he pocket book which in other cases is prize; and the murderer should be punished with the halter. The suffering among the inhabitants of the drouth blasted part of Nebraska, including three-fourths of the residents of five counties, is becoming more infense faily, and immediate action is necessary to prevent many deaths by starvation. Three years ago the farmers of these drouth-blighted districts raised a very light crop, and the past two years the erops have been almost total failures. Many families haven't enough provisions in their homes for a week's sustenance and no money to purchase the necessities of life. Appeals for help have been issued, and the railroads have promised to transport any contributions of food free of cost. Ex-Gov. Northern, of Georgia, is making an effort to get up several car loads of corn and other provisions to send

There will be but little business trans acted in the city for the next few weeks, and our people will have abundant opportunity to don their thinking caps. The live, aggressive men of Anderson will find much to think about, and we trust that the results of their cogitations will be seen early in the new year in the inauguration of enterprises that will tend to the building up of Anderson, increasing her business and adding to her business men of Anderson will it, the year 1895 has great things in store for this city. The year should not pass without the enlargement of present enterprises, the addition of new ones and branching out generally. We invite communications and suggestions from any of our citizens on any matter or enterprise that will tend to add to the interests of our city.

Heretofore, under the dispensary law says the Yorkville Enquirer, any individual has had a right, whenever he saw fit, to go to North Carolina and buy as much liquor as he wanted, provided the amount did not exceed one gallon, and bring it into this State without fear of tation from the dispensary authorities. But now all that is changed. Hereafter, if a man is inclined to take a toddy at all, he must either patronize the dispensary or do without. During the session of the Legislature just closed, there was passed an amendment to the dispensary law which makes it a misdemeanor to bring any whiskey into the State under any circumstances whatever. When all are in a complete roster will be More than that; if an individual should printed. The Shiloh bill, which has just be detected with any liquor in his pos- passed congress, provides for making the killed two deer at one shot and in a few session, in other than a properly labeled dispensary bottle, he will be liable to arrest and trial for misdemeanor, and arrest and trial for misdemeanor, and reunion on the satellist of the various positions upon conviction, must be sentenced to the satellist of the various positions theid by them during the battle. Send all names to James Williams, assistant secthan one month. In case the solicitor retary, Savannah, Tenn. should believe that the defendant can not be convicted in his own county, he has the right to practically change the vanue of the case to whatever county he may see fit. The law is now practically tronclad. So far as the legislators are oncerned, there is but little, if any bjection to a man drinking as much iquor as he desires; but under any and all circumstances, he must buy his supplies from the State, in order, possibly, the address of the forty reformers which that he may be sure that it is 100 proof and chemically pure.

A Reformer Speaks Out.

portunity is offered whereby all can come together to work for a common cause. This address was issued last week in Columbia and is on the line of what we have been advocating for some time past, and we are glad to see that our labors have not been wasted. We realize the importance of the Constitutional Conven-tion that will be called this coming summer, and regard it the most serious step the people have ever been called upon to take; at the sametime we have unbounded confidence in the people, and we feel that they fully realize the gravity of the step about to be taken.

The political revolution of 1890 brought about a bitterness of feeling that follows arony political regulation but the reserved.

every political revolution, but the passions of men have had time to cool, and it is time our affairs should become settled and turbulence and strife sink into oblivion. There is no sense in one fac-tion accusing the other of being to blame tion accusing the other of being to blame for the present conditions; for both are to blame. In the excitement brought about by the past campaigns, the defeated faction, in malice, soreness and disappointment, used every conceivable method to obstruct the measures of the successful faction; and the successful faction, smarting under the abuse and vituperation, in some instances used their power to excess, but the time has come when both factions should see that the constant warfare is doing the State no the constant warfare is doing the State no good, and that the people want the wrangling stopped, and something done to lighten the many burdens that are oppressing them. If the suggestions in that patriotic address are adopted, both factions can gracefully lay down their arms and come together and all go to work for the upbuilding of the State. The reform movement is based upon honest and correct principles, every fairminded man will admit, and there is no reason why they should not go on, but to carry on those principles we must not to carry on those principles we must not allow the reform ship to become manned with a crew of pirates who will scuttle and sink her in their greed for gain.

There is no doubt that when the politi-

There is no doubt that when the political waters were shaken up in 1890, men came to the top and took high places; to hold on to what advantage they gained they continued the agitation; the result has been that the true reformers have been retarded in their work of reform by the pie hunters and place grabbers, and now to scrape off the barnacles that have fastened themselves to the reform ship the people must come together. If the people become indifferent and do not arouse themselves, they will find that they are tied hand and foot by pirates who boarded the ship when the general invitation was extended to "get on board." There are some now who, assuming to be in charge of the reform assuming to be in charge of the reform movement, are so intoxicated with their success that they imagine they are the entire movement and if anything is wanted it must come through them. These men, instead of working for the objects set out to be accomplished by the reform movement, have laid aside those objects and are converting by "hurrah-for-hell-who-cares-for-fire" methods, a machine to grind out places for favorite ones, and if a halt is not called such an upheaval will take place that the revolution of 1890 will be like a gentle zephyr on a summer's evening in comparison. The rate that some of the would-be leaders of the reform movement want to keep up must be checked, and the sooner the people make them understand it the people the desired relief, a change will be demanded and it will come. South Carolina is in a critical state, and it will take brain and patriotism to place her in the position she should occupy. The opportunity is at hand for the people together to council in wisdom. Fire brands of both factions should and must be frowned upon, and from the wisdom of thos

The Newberry Observer speaks to the point when it says: "The metropolitan police law means this: The town and city people are to have partisan police officers placed over them, their salaries o be paid out of the taxes on their property, the government of whom the town people will have nothing to do. Who would have thought that a South Caroina Legislature composed of white people would ever pass such a tyranical law?" The Observer should remember that these are record breaking times, and that the Legislature has virtually said to the towns and cities that they are not able to govern themselves. The passage of such a law is an insult to every lawabiding, liberty-loving citizen of every incorporated town or city in the State. It is a force bill and against the principles of Democracy. In principle the relations of a municipal government to the State government are the . . as the State government are to the 'ational government, and yet when the atter atempts in the least to interfere with the affairs of State there is a general cry of oppression, and the cry comes, too, from he very men who advocated and voted on of Congress, and that the Presifor the metropolitan police bill. No member of the Legislature who voted ient will summon the new Congress for this bill can ever consistently raise nis voice against the enactment of a Force Bill by the next Republican Congress. A month ago we would not have believed that four of Anderson County's Representatives would vote for such a law, which is the very essence of partysm and oppression. We predict there will be trouble whenever an attempt to enforce this law in any town or city in the State is made. There is no more eason for the enactment of such a measure to enforce the Dispensary law than any other law on our statute books. There are men in every town, in every ity and in every section of the country who are continually violating laws, even hat of murder, and the same will be true of the Dispensary law as long as it exists. But because such law-breakers live in a town is no reason why that town should be deprived of local government. The passage of the metropolitan police bill is a strike at the liberty our fore-

> The Metropolitan Polica. The Legislature has passed the metro-politan police bill and it has become law. It is now within the power and discre-tion of three men to take charge of the police of any incorporated town or city in this State if in their opinion such town authorities are not enforcing the laws of the State, meaning of course the dispensary law; and to appoint the police of such town and fix their pay and make the towns pay it. This is a direct blow at the towns, for it makes no provision for the enforcement of the law outside the towns, and it is a notorious fact that the dispensary law is violated in the outlying dispensary law is violated in the outlying districts. A gentleman from the county was in our office the other day and he was in our office the other tay and as said there was a blind tiger running at full blast near by him and it was not very blind either. We do not desire to be understood to be encouraging the violation of the dispensary law, but we lo not believe it will be as well enforced do not believe it will be as well einfred under a metropolitan police system as it has been under the present system. The Legislature that the people sent down to Columbia made the dispensary law and now it has given us the metropolitan police, and if the people can stand it we shall try to do the same. them do not, we know, but there are some who do, and this bill is a blow at the towns. Only the other day we had occasion to drive out in the country a little way and all along the road we met wagon after wagon, loaded with different things coming to town to-sell. Some had hickens, some wood and some one hing and some another. Now if you keep on trying to drive the towns out of existence and place the town people in such condition that they will be unable to buy this stuff, where will you find a market? And some of the people who are most bitter against the towns are the ones who most frequently bring things in to sell and want better prices for what they have to sell than other people, and if it were necessary we could name some of these. The people who have farms adjacent the towns had better help to build them up and thus build up for themselves a warket for what they have o sell. The more consumers you have here the better for you who have all sorts and the country are mutually dependent and mutually beneficial to each other. We know there is not a man in town with a thimbleful of brains but who would rejoice at the prosperity of the farmers, and all of them. Let us then stop this foolishness of towns against country, and instead of trying to injure and pull the towns down let us all pull together to build up the towns, and thus build up the country. There is room enough here for all of us and the times re too serious to be constantly trying to niure one another. The metropolitan police bill is evidenty aimed at the towns. Why not make forts to have the law enforced in the rural districts as well as in the towns. lo far as the Herald and News is conerned, we want to see the law enforce but we do not believe any special legisla-tion such as this bill will have the desired offect. But we shall see.—Newberry Herald and News.

EDITORS INTELLIGENCER: With the close of the year 1894 I close my career as County Commissioner of Anderson County, a County that is dear to me be cause of many fond memories. I was born and reared and have always lived the address of the forty reformers which appears on our first page. That instrument is the precursor of better times in South Carolina. It is a forerunner of an era of peace which every man who has his country's welfare at heart will respond to with delight. For the past four years the people of this State have been in a state of fever heat, and now the opportunity is offered whereby all can come among her people. A County that my constituents live in that honored me by electing me when almost a stranger to most of them four years ago, and after serving her to the best of my ability for serving her to the best of my ability for two years, they then elected me again by an overwhelming majority. A County that I have traveled almost entirely over while trying in my humble way to discharge my duties as a public servant of as noble a people as walk on God's green earth. A people that, should I live my three score years and ten, I shall always the sign as well as the start for cherish a warm feeling in my heart for their many acts of kindness shown me while traveling among them. As I said, I have been in the harness four years, and while away from home, I have always met kind friends who have invited and insisted on me to take dinner or to spend the night with them and all with-out money and without price, and I will say right here God bless the noble women of Anderson County for their many acts of kindness shown me.

As your servant I have tried as hard as I knew how with our present road law (which by the way is almost an utter (which by the way is almost at utter failure) to do my duty as I saw it, regardless of what people said, for which I have made some enemies but am free to say a great many life-long friends. I am also free to say that I may have made mistakes, but who of us that does not make mistakes as we journey through life? But whatever mistakes I may have made I assure my friends it was an error of the head and not of the heart.

And now as a private citizen and humble farrors it is not likely that I will mix ble farmer it is not likely that I will mix and mingle with the people of the County in the future as in the past, no doubt there are a great many of my friends that I may never meet again in this world but let us, one and all, so live that when

In conclusion, I want to say to my friends throughout the County my latchstring always hangs outside the door and my humble home is always open and a there very much.

HOW'S TRADE?

OUR trade is good, thank you. In fact, we never sold more goods in our ives. A common question, but an uncommon answer, you say. So be it, and there's a reason for it, too. Would you you know the cause?

Then, 'tis figures. The figures we make. They are attractive figures. The figures that competition cannot make. To tell the truth, these same figures are rapidly pushing competition to the wall. They can't fight a figure that they don't how to make. Hence you often see idle clerks around other doors while the Ten Cents Store

Customers ever go off unwaited on? Well, yes. There are times when we can't wait on all. At such times we have to do the best we can, and ask our customers to kindly have patience 'till we can get to them.

Do they wait on you? Yes, I should say they do. It is too costly to go out. An old customer says it is poor policy to pay five cents extra, and save only one cent's worth of time. Five cents on a twenty cent article means twenty-five per cent. A big profit of itself. See!

have as good chance as early buyers? Well, no. Not always. It frequently happens that the slow get left. "Procrastination" often gets the better of the best of us. Especially is this true about holiday goods. However, we always do the very best we can to the very last. Why don't you get a larger house and have more help, and just push everything out of the way as you go? In that case we should be at such expense that we would have to increase our prices to cover it. In other words, charge the difference to our customers. This we don't wish to with too much expense attached. Would be glad to talk longer, but must wait on this lady.
