COLUMBIA, S. C., Feb. 9.—Columbia has the opportunity of adding to her list of enterprises a first-class shoe factory. There is already considerable prospect of the enterprise coming hree, and by the subscription of $5,000 it is an assured fact. Superintendent Neal thinks that it EDITORS INTELLIGENCER: I spenta most pleasant day recently with our venerable friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Eskew. They is better to employ as many convicts as possible on the Penitentiary grounds, and with that view he approached the directors of the Anderson Shoe and Leather Company to induce them to more their plant to Columbia and utilize convict labor in the manufacture of shoes. Mr. Sloan, the president of the com-pany, and Mr. Cox, a director of the An-derson Company, have been in Columbia and carefully looked over the situation and are satisfied that the move would be indicine. There are only fourteen inudicious. There are only fourteen in erested in the factory at Anderson, and all of these parties are so situated that they cannot come to Columbia. The Anderson people, however, are so thor-oughly satisfied with the investment that they are willing to have the plant moved here, provided the people of Columbia are willing to invest five thousand dollars in the enterprise and undertake the management after they have invested. The Anderson people are very well satisfied with the situation there, as the investment is paying very well, but they believe after a careful investigation that very much more money can be made by the use of convict labor and the facilitie offered. The machinery they have is of offered. The machinery they have is of the latest pattern and is capable of mak-ing five hundred pairs of good shoes every day with the use of about sixty convicts. The Anderson Company has been at work for over a year, and find a good market for everything that it has been block cat out Two travalling man are already have. the best thing to do is to employ as many of them as possible in the Penitentiary walls. Col. Neal does not believe in hav-ing any idle able-bodied convicts. The effort he is making towards getting the shoe factory for the Penitentiary indi-cates how anxious he is to have the bulk of the convicts employed on the premi-ses. Out of the thousand convicts there are three hundred and fifty in the prison walls who are employed in the various departments of the institution.

The bulk of the convicts are now employed on farms. Altogether there are about a score of farms on which convict labor is used, and those who have been using this class of labor are very well pleased with it. It is a reliable kind of labor, and when once secured there is no element of uncertainty or occasion to worry that when most needed there will be no labor on the farm. The Peniten-tiary authorities make the best possible mutual arrangements. The party getting the convicts has to give a bond of $50 for each convict employed, and whenever a convict escapes the State gets $50, although convict escapes the State gets §50, although very few of them manage to get out of the way for any length of time. The State gets §6 a month for each convict and the party leasing the convicts has to pay the guard and supply the food. The State looks after the medical attention needed. Outside of the convicts employed at Clemson and the other State institutions there are ninety-three employed on the DeSaussure farm, which is worked by the State. Then the State works on shares the following farms: Sherwood, shares the following farms: Sherwood, Speigners, Sims's, Wolf and Aughtry. In addition to the convicts used on the farms in which the State is interested convicts are leased at a monthly rate on the farms of C. W. Saunders, J. W.
