This did not suit the Judge, and he held that the men who took this view of the dispensary act were not competent to try cases arising under it. If this ruling is to prevail generally in the Courts there will be trouble in getting juries. A great many laws on our statute books are objectionable to the masses, although they believe that it is right to enforce them so long as that it is right to enforce them so long as they remain unrepealed. To hold that these men are disqualified from acting as jurors in cases under the laws in questions of life. The develop-tion will keep large numbers of upright and intelligent citizens from doing jury duty, and in some instances it will be exeedingly difficult to make up a jury. This, to say the least, is a remarkable roceeding, but we are not surprised. A Fillmanite Judge can do anything in South Carolina.

The Southern Planter says the com pleted returns of the cotton crop of 1894 have now been published, and show the crop to have been one of 9,476,435 bales, the largest crop ever grown. An examination of the details of this crop show how utterly impossible it is for cotton growing to be profitable, even at a price much in excess of that obtained for this ercp under existing conditions of production. The largest production per acre was in Arkansas, where nearly half bale per acre was grown. In North and South Carolina, about one-third of a bale per acre was raised, whilst in Virginia not quite a quarter of a bale was grown per acre. With such yields as hese, even if cotton sold for ten cents per pound, no planter could afford to grow it, and at the same time purchase his home supplies. A third of a bale per acre, even at ten cents per pound, means only $16 per acre gross returns. At five cents per pound, it means only $8 per acre. When the cost of the labor and fertilizer is deducted, the balance cannot eave anything wherewith to buy meat, bread and clothing. Yet, notwithstanding all that we have said on the subject, and the fact that for many years planters have been saying that they cannot make otton for less than ten cents per pound, large numbers still persist in planting cotton and neglecting their food supplies. It is true that the crop area for this year hows a reduction of 15 per cent., and it may fairly be presumed that a larger area is planted in corn, yet it will need a much greater change than this to bring rosperity to Southern cotton planters. We trust that the experience of the past year is going to be a lesson for the future, and that every effort will be made to ncrease the production of home supplies. It is not too late yet to make fodder for

The lynching of the negro Ira Johnson, at Greenville, is an inexcusable act from any point of view. He was in jail, Court was in session, and there was every reason to believe that if he was guilty of murder, as charged, he would have been romptly convicted and speedily execued. The mob that did this 'stardly deed was without excuse. The evil effects of their course upon the prosperity and good name of the State can hardly be stimated. Here are we urging people with money to come to our State to invest it and to seek homes, offering them fertile lands, a genial climate; and facilities of churches and schools, at the same time assuring them of the protection of the laws in the enjoyment of life, liberty and property. Can we expect them to believe our asseverations, and to accept our inducements, when foolish nen, under such circumstances as suround this lynching, in a spirit of wanton cruelty and deviltry, take a prisoner almost from the very presence of the Court and ruthlessly butcher him. From the daily reports in the commer cial world, the tide of prosperity has set in, and the South, that has weathered the late financial storms better than any other section, is destined to reap the greatest rewards of industrial development. No country to-day presents greater advantages than does the South, and so well is the fact known that capitalists are investing their money in Southern industries more than ever before, showing their faith by their works. Like the man whom the train has left staring at last season's show-pictures, she will exclaim, "Bless my heart, has the train gone and left me!" "Tide and time waits for no man" is as true for towns as it is for men. Watch that man dancing around and waiting for people to put him aboard the train! Will he get there? Hardly. Lynching in Greenville. GREENVILLE, July 15.—An armed mob from the upper part of this county forci-bly entered the jail here at an early hour this morning and lynched Ira Johnson, a negro, who killed Frank Langford, a white man, at Pledmont last Saturday. As a result the townspeople are intensely excited over the reported threats of the negroes to give a dose of the same medicine to James Lewis, a white man, now in the same jail, also charged with mur-

Every policeman on the force is on duty and the members of the fire department are about their machine houses ready for any incendiary fires, should this much-dreaded species of revenge be resorted to. Except for these and the soldiers most of the citizens are at home looking out for their property and families. The lynching party is believed to have come from the Marietta section of the county, where Langford lived, joined by a few from Piedmont. Their numerical strength is variously estimated, but prob-ably one hundred will cover the number. They came into town entirely unexpect-edly about 2 o'clock this morning and knocked at the jail door with an axe. The jailer, Homer Story, opened it and in went the leaders of the party and demanded the keys. He stoutly and persistently refused to give them up, but they were finally found in his rom and the negro secured. While attempting to pass the sentry the sheriff saw the men come from the jail with the prisoner. They carried him away immediately, some being on horse-back, and some in buggies and wagons. They went out the Buncombe road to the Perry place and there, near the road side, hanged him. The party then dispersed, leaving the body hanging. For a week past there have been threats of lynching Johnson, and in consequence an unorganized body of colored men has been seen nightly on Broad street near the jail. Several times they dispersed by request of the mayor, sheriff and chief of police, but Thursday night negroes who were disorderly were arrested and who were disorderly were arrested and heavily fined. The authorities assured the negroes that their presence was unnecessary and that the man would be protected, so none were there last night. It is the failure to protect the prisoner which has caused the excitement among the negroes. The better element of the race are disposed to talk gloomily of the situation as an example of injustice, while the more reckless are disposed to talk violence. However, it is probable that there will be no trouble to-night.

Johnson's counsel said to-day that he had six witnesses who would aware that had six witnesses who would swear that

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 12.—A few days ago the State authorities began to apply to ex-liquor dealers a section of the State to ex-liquor dealers a section of the State dispensary law, which provides that a Circuit Judge can enjoin any man from selling liquor and, in case he violates it, permitting him to be jerked up for contempt of Court; that the judge can then, on almost any kind of a showing, declare him guilty and sentence him to the penitentiary, doing away with the Constitutional right of a trial by jury, which is guaranteed to every man. the penitentiary, doing away with the Constitutional right of a trial by jury, which is guaranteed to every man.

In accordance with this policy, William Sheppard, an ex-liquor dealer, was arrested here yesterday before Circuit Judge Townsend. His attorney made a brilliant fight for the preservation of the constitutional right. This afternoon, about 5 o'clock, the Judge rendered his opinion, overruling the objections of Sheppard's attorney, adjudging Sheppard guilty of contempt and sentencing him to eight months' imprisonment in the State penitentiary and to pay a fine of $200.

Before the sun had set, pistols were cracking at a rapid rate on one of the principal streets of the city—Gervais street—and Sheppard was being carried to the State prison with blood streaming from his garments, there being wounds

A Visit to Asheville, N. C. MR. EDITOR: We have been requested by several persons who accompanied us to the "Land of the Sky" to write up the trip for the benefit of those who did not go, and with your permission we will describe the trip as near as we can.

The first thing that attracts the eye of the visitor is the Kennelworth Inn. It is the visitor is the Kennelworth Inn. It is a lofty structure, althated on the top of a mountain, and is plainly visible for miles around. It reminds one of Europe in the dark ages. We seemed to hear the shouts of the people as some victorious Knight marched up to his lady and placed the crown of laurel on her fair brow as we stood on the car platform. The Inn reminds one of some ancient feudal castle as it nestles there on the mountain aide.

We first visited Lookout Mountain and the scenery is worth climbing the mountain to behold. Tall mountains loom up on every side, crowned with ma-jestic oaks and chestnut, while here and there one catches a glimpse of some beautiful vills. Down in the valley the beautiful Swannanca wends its way in pretty curves, like a silver thread. From pretty curves, like a sliver threat. From this point the scenery is enchanting and sublime. While we were drinking in the beautiful landscape a bugle blast suddenly burst forth with its melodious notes, awakening a thousand echoes. We thought of Scott in his "Lady of the Lake":

"The rocky dingle's hollow throat, Prolonged the bugle's winding note."
We could not help raising our eyes to heaven, and giving thanks to a merciful Providence for allowing us the pleasures of the trip,

While we were waiting for the trolley a pretty little "school marm" came up to take the car to town. Oh! the bliss of take the car to town. On! the bliss of those few moments—can we ever forget it? Just imagine yourself seated in a beautiful grove, with a pretty little fairy sitting by your side, whose voice is sweeter than the music of rippling waters, and whose eye is prettier than the gazelle's, and whose step is more graceful than the fawn's. Then is it any wonder that we were smitten? der that we were smitten?—yea, verily, we were entangled by Cupid's net so tight that we doubt if we ever get out.
We visited Bingham Heights, on the Swanonoa. One gets a lovely view from

We would like to narrate all we saw, but space forbids; but we must not neglect to mention the beautiful scenery around Saluda Gap. Here the grade is so steep that it requires two engines to pull us up to the depot. All up the mountains the ivy and honeysuckles are in full bloom, and the breeze is laden with their elysian odors. Here we dash through a rock cut, and are whirled out into a valler, which appeads out betore into a valley, which spreads out before us, with its velvet carpeting of clover and blue grass.

We enjoyed the trip, and we are proud to say we had no disorder. Everything passed off pleasantly and quietly. We return our thanks to the Messrs. Smith for the trip.

The Bible Association of South Carolina CHARLESTON, S. C., July 10th, 1895.
To the Local Bible Societies of the State:
BRETHREN: The Executive Committee of the State Bible Association beg to remind you that the annual meeting of the Association will be held at the First Baptist Church, Columbia, S. C., on Thursday and Friday, the 1st and 2d days of August.

You are earnestly requested to send at least two delegates to this meeting; and in order that arrangements may be made for their entertainment, you will please send at once to the Committee of Arrangements at Columbia, the name of the delegates you propose to send. The following named gentlemen con-stitute the Committe of Arrangements: Rev. W. C. Lindsay, Rev. W. W. Daniel, Rev. M. M. Kinard.

Please attend to this important matter You are also requested to send to the annual meeting a report, covering the operations of your Society during the past year, the number of members belonging, the number of Bibles distribu-ted, the amount of money collected, and anything calculated to add to the interest of the Bible cause throughout the State. Please make your report as full as possible. The Committee have made every defray the traveling expenses of your delegates from your treasury. It will not cost you very much, as will be seen from the schedule of reduced rates. Give the Bible cause the benefit of your presence at the meeting in August, and

Respectfully, HENRY P. ARCHER. Chairman Ex. Com. State Bible Ass'n. ROBERT M. MEANS, Secretary.

Shot Her Rival. HUNTINGTON W. VA., July 11.—Last night Mrs. Clarence Chaffin met her rival, Minnie Oreval, in a street car, drew a revolver and fired three shots into her breast. There has been a scandal, connecting Mr. Chaffin with the wounded woman, which almost drove

The State Commander writes us from Lincoln, Neb., as follows: "After trying other medicines for what seemed to be a very obstinate cough in our two children we tried Dr. King's New Discovery and at the end of two days the cough entirely left them. We will not be without it here-after, as our experience proves that it cures where all other remedles fail." Signed F. W. Stevens, State Com. Why not give this great medicine a trial, as it is guaranteed and trial bottles are free at Hill Bros. Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00.

It May Do as Much for You. Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a Severe Kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so called Kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure of all Kidney and Liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our effort to make the approaching meeting a success, and earnestly ask you to lend them your assistance. If practicable,

That we are Asked Every Day.

QUESTION .- Mr. Minor, why are you always busy?

ANSWER .- "Eternal vigilance is the price of" a living, and we must tomers when they are not here, and hence we are ready when they come. Q.-Why are you forever getting in New Goods?

A .- There is a never ceasing stream outward, and we must keep a continuous inflow in order to keep on a

Q .- Why are people forever gabbing about you, pro and con?

A .- Our competitors feel the blows we have dealt them, and would resent the damage done them. Our customers talk because we give them something worthy of mention,

Q.-Why are other merchants always throwing off on your goods? A .- They hope to scare timid customers off the track, but they only

Q .- Why is it you never have time to talk with a friend? Other people say they have more time than anything else. A .- We don't have time to talk

because our customers, who are really our employers, demand our very best services for their money paid. Q.-Why is your house forever crowded with goods new and customers bright? A .- We are always crowded with goods because our employers (cuscomers) are usually on hand demanding the stuff, and we must have it for them. We are usually crowded with customers because the average man knows which side his bread is butter-We acknowledge no dead, dull

Q .- Why don't you employ more help, and not keep so pushed all the

don't we do lots of things to make our business more expensive and charge the difference to you when you trade with us? Right here's where hundreds of good men drop their candy. Our patrons want to pay for a store administration honestly and economically managed. They want full value for their dollars without paying a few cents extra for an idle clerk or two to sit around and whittle on old goods boxes. In short, we pay for the honest dollars we get with honest goods at honest prices. And that's why we laugh while competition frets.

We are in it for the Summer trade, and want to sell you your Fruit Jars, Jelly Tumblers, Water Jugs, &c., etc., &c., etc. Yours always truly,
