The Buffalo (N. Y.) Courier says Mr. Whitney is reported as saying with reference to the next presidential contest: "I shall be in the fight next year, but not for myself." This is in entire accord with an assertion made by him less than a year ago when he said that he would naver again hold a public office. Mr. Whitney takes a bright view of the Democratic prospects for 1896, and he gives strong reasons for so doing.

The State liquor commissioner says that it is yet a little two early to tell what improvement in the amount of sales there has been in the dispensaries, owing to the reduction of prices, as he has yet received no reports, but, judging from the large increase in orders from the County dispensers and the fact that the State dispensary has shipped much more liquor than ever before, he would say Hat the reduction has greatly increased

Judge Simonton has ordered the P. R. & W. C. R. R. to be sold at Greenwood on the 17th of October. The Augusta Chronicle, in speaking of the sale, says: "It is hardly probable that the Central will take the chances of letting this valuable property get out of its hands. There is every reason to believe that the Central's reorganization plan will be in thorough working order before the date of sale, and the new management may be counted upon to take care of this property for the Central and keep it as a feeder to that system. This will be done simply by paying the interest on the bonds which went by default some time ago and which brought about the present Government statistics show that the total consumption of sugar in the United States in 1894 was over 2,000,000 tons, or more than double the amount consumed in 1880. Of this amount over 1,700,000 tons were imported, a slightly larger proportion than in 1880. The consumption per capita increased from 43 pounds in 1880 to 631 pounds in 1894, an increase of not far from 50 per cent. Notwithstanding the growth in domestic production the consumption has so increased that the proportion of domestic sugar to the total of sugar consumed is actually less now than it was in 1880. In 1880 the United States imported from the West Indies more than 75 per cent. of the foreign sugar consumed, while in 189 nearly 50 per cent. of the imports were from countries other than the West

THE ELECTION.

The election for delegates to the Constitutional Convention passed off quietly in this County yesterday. There was very little interest manifested in the election throughout the County, and the nominees of the primary were elected by a blg majority.

At the Anderson precinct 515 votes were polled. The highest of the primary nominees received 291, and the highest of the opposition ticket 228. The managers estimate the negro vote here at 150. About one-half of the white yote polled here was from the country.

on account of the rain this morning the returns are coming in very slowly. Up to the hour of going to press (12 o'clock) we have secured unofficial returns from all of the precincts except two—Broyles and Casenwood, and the result is as follows: all of the precincts except two-Broyles and Greenwood-and the result is as folows: Primary nominees, 1611; "Independent" ticket, 473. The total yote will be about 2,250, nearly one-half of the white vote of the County.

was between the Thirteenth and Orr's. The man that came up to where I was standing and demanded our surrender could not have been the man that Mr. Brown saw; but what led me to believe he was the same man Mr. Brown referred to was that he was shot and fell after he had started back to the Union lines. So they were different men, both nearly met the same fate, and all happened at the ame time. The mistake on my part was easily made, as the Medium says there may have been others who came over and demanded our surrender.

The State's Rum Revenue.

COLUMBIA, August 16.—The State dispensary paid to the State Treasurer today, to the credit of the State, the $50,000 which was advanced by the State for the first purchases of the dispensary. The promise has long been made that the money would be placed in the treasury or the general use of the State, but to-ay Commissioner Mixson, in person, arried the warrant for the $50,000 and received a receipt for the money. The money, it is said, will be used, or at least so much of it as may be necessary, for the expenses of the Constitutional Con-

Commissioner Mixson is very much delighted that the dispensary is able to see financial daylight. He says that it has been hard work for himself, Chief Clerk Scruggs and the entire force to get things in the shape that they now are. He went on to say that there was in the State treasury, prior to the payment of the $50,000, the sum of $94,000. On the 1st of the month there was in the treasury, he said, $11,000 over and above the stock on hand which has been paid for. Since that time be has received payments from the dispensers, which has run the bal-ance up to about $23,000. Some little stock has been bought in the interim. Mr. Mixson says that while there is no way of positively telling what business will be done he thinks there will be a net profit which can be turned over to the State for the next quarter of about $35,000 to $40,000. He, however, puts quires energetic exercise of brain and full confidence in the estimate that the State will receive $25,000 for the next quarter's business. While it cannot be stated from the records what the net earnings were for the last quarter until the figures are given out by the Legisla-tive committee, it is in the neighborhood

Charleston is again threatened with a metropolitan police. This time Gover-nor Evans announced that there is no bluff or foolishness about the matter. He was asked for publication whether He was asked for publication whether there was anything in the intimation that Charleston would have a metropolitan police. He said: "I think we will have a metropolitan police in Charleston in sixty days if things get no better." Then he went on to say: "No, this is no bluff, for I and everyone else is sick and tired of the way things are going on in Charleston. All the blind tigers' are to be not under injunction and we will see be put under injunction and we will see what can be done." In the course of conversation he said that he believed that Chief Martin was in earnest in his efforts to enforce the law, but the policemen had been led to believe that the State could and would do nothing about the matter. He said that he would have the matter inquired into, and if there was no improvement there would be nothing left to do but to give Charleston a metropolitan police. What he said, he urged, was not by way of threat or bluff.

The introduction of a metropolitan po-lice would do away with the necessity for constables in Charleston, as some of the members of the force could be used as detectives. Chief of Police Martin and W. Gibbes Whaley, of the board of con-trol, saw Governor Evans to-day, but the latter insists that their visit was in regard to another matter.—Special to News and

The mail agent was injured and had to be brought back to his home in Atlanta. Others were more or less injured.

After breaking loose from the train, the engine had a wild, exciting run of five miles. The air brake was broken and sweeping down a heavy grade at a speed of seventy-five miles an hour, the veteran ongineer found it impossible to stop his ongine. Every minute the speed was increased and the bobtailed locomotive sped along like the wind, leaping from em-bankment to embankment. The road is perilous at this point, the cuts being nar-row and the embankments high. The dispensary constables, aided by ergeant Morehead and Officer Strickland, of the Columbia police force, armed with a search warrant issued by Trial Justice Troy, yesterday afternoon called at the rooms of the Columbia Club, an organization of Columbia gentlemen that organization of Columbia gentlemen that is known far and wide, and searched the rooms, taking everything in sight. It was the first attempt that has ever been made to raid the club. A large quantity of liquors, stored in the private lock boxes of the members, was taken out and carted away in a wagon, which was backed up to the doors. A very large crowd of curious persons stood by, crowded the sidewalks so as to block

Ever since the dispensary law went into effect the sale of liquor has been abolished at the club. A system of lock boxes was established, and each member who cared to have something to drink at the club has kept his private bottle in one of the boxes. Whenever a member **Editors Intelligencer**: In your issue of August 14th appeared a clipping from the Abbaville Medium and a card from Sergeant B. F. Brown, of Augusta, Ga., in which he and the Editor of the Medium agree that the Yankee got back to the enemy's line at the "Bloody Augle" on the 12th of May, 1864, and I suppose they are correct, for if the Yankee they refer to talked with Capt. Carlisle he was not the one I saw, for the Thirteenth Regiment was on the right of Orr's Regiment, and I am not sure but think the First Regiment was between the Thirteenth and Orr's.

Wanted a drink he would give the colored porter his key, have him get his bottle and mix a drink or serve it straight. And this was the condition of things that the constables found. Several of the bottles and packages were marked for personal use only, and those which were not so marked, were so located as to show that they were ouly intended for such use. But that made no difference; everything, even the glasses, the spoons, everything, even the glasses, the spoons, though Mr. Robertson, a member, took a bottle bewanted a drink he would give the colored Robertson, a member, took a bottle be-longing to him and poured the contents into a cuspidor, for which act he was placed under arrest, but later released on his own recognizance. EDGEFIELD, Aug. 15.—The jury in the case of the State against the two Jones, father and son, for the murder of John C. Retired the second time, and at 11:30 returned a verdict of "Not guilty."

His rulings gave general disappointment as to his ability as a judge, disappointments to his ability as a judge, and a regret that such an important case was not tried by a more able jurist. In fact, Selicitor Nelson was treated with such discourtesy by the Court that he declined to make any argument in the case before the jury. The case was fought hard by the learned counsel associated with the State's attorney. The arguments of J. W. Devore and J. Wm. Thurmond for the prosecution were able and forceful. Colonel Jas. Tillman did not speak. The closing argument of Hon. G. W. Croft, on the same side, is regarded as perhaps the most eloquent regarded as perhaps the most eloquent and touching appeal ever delivered in the Edgefield court room. The speech of ex-Governor Sheppard for the desense is also highly complimented. The case consumed three days, the court room was packed during the whole trial.

Quite a sensation was caused this morning when Judge Townsend issued a rule against nearly all of the County officials against nearly all of the County officials to show cause why an indictment should not be preferred against them for various irregularities and rottenness.—Special to Augusta News.

A Remarkable Case.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., August 16.—A remarkable case is reported from Guntersville, Ala. Mrs. James Rutherford, a member of a well-known family of the County, fell into a deep sleep some months ago. At the beginning of her malady she would wake up after long irregular intervals, but for three months past she has not waked for a moment She is fed three times a day, the food in liquid form being placed in her mouth. She swallows it readily but mechanically.

Her husband is a poor man and is not in a position to call eminent physicians into the case, but he has carried her to Guntersville, where the several practiioners there can diagnose her case and prescribe for her. During the trip from her home to Guntersville, lying as she was on a mattress in a wagon and jolted for six miles over a rough road, she did not awake, but continued undisturbed in her deep, quiet sleep. Mrs. Rutherford is thirty-five years of age, and has seven children. Five of them died last spring, and it is thought that grief is at the bottom of her disease, whatever it is. She breathes naturally, her temperature is normal and she appears to suffer no pain whatever, but for three months not a muscle of her body has moved excepting he apparently mechanical movement o her throat muscles in swallowing her liquid diet. The physicians at Gunters-ville do not understand her case.

Lost his Life for his Love,

WINSTON, N. C .- Aug. 13 .- In Davidson County yesterday Hammett Swing lost his life in his efforts to keep his sweetheart from drowning. The young couple were out driving when the horse shied in crossing a bridge and ran the buggy off. Mr. Swing jumped from the vehicle, but the young lady with the horse and buggy went overboard, falling several feet. The young man ran to the bank and swam to the rescue of Miss Gallimore. In the struggle and excitement she held him too heavily by the neck and he sank and was drowned. Just as he was sirking the last time Mr. Robert Young came upon the scene with a bateau, and seeing her long hair in the water reached down and pulled her out and and she was saved. The body of Mr. Swing was found and taken from the water about 10 o'clock at night. He was about 20 years of age. The horse was drowned also.

The commission will be assisted by a botanist, entomologist and chemist. Twenty-five hundred dollars has been voted to defray the expenses of the investigation. United States Consul General Penfield at Cairo, who forwards this information to the State Department, shows that the caterpillar has been destroyed in the past by picking and burning all the leaves on which eggs or young caterpillars were found. The Consul General states that the cheapness of Egyptian labor enabled the foregoing methods to be followed at a cost of about six shillings an acre.

An Atlanta Dynamitard.

ATLANTA, Aug. 17 .- A dynamite bomb was exploded to-night against the side of the Church Grocery Company's store, at Cain street and Piedmont avenue. The store was crowded with customers, all of whom, however, escaped without serious injury. Mr. Church, the proprietor, was shocked, but not badly hurt. The bomb was placed just outside Mr. Church's private office and it is evident that the purpose of the miscreant was to kill Church. The side of the building was blown out and great excitement was was blown out and great each caused in the neighborhood. Mr. Church suspects a negro boy, whom he had arrested recently for theft. ## To Camp in the Capitol.

It is beginning to appear that the wo-man suffragists of the State are going to make every possible effort to have the Constitutional Convention provide a woman's suffrage plank in the new Consti-tution when it meets, despite the opposition that the scheme had encountered from the leaders of the dominant element, case. The case depended mainly upon the fact whether or not the deceased was shot with a pistol of different calibre. The State had witnesses on hand to prove conclusively that the ball in the head of and camp in the capital during the sessions of the Convention:
The Woman's Tribune, of Washington,

D. C., bearing date of Saturday last, has this to say about Mrs. Neblett's plans: "Mrs. Viola Neblett, of Greenville, S. C., has been spending some days in Washington, and the editor of the Tribune had several delightful visits with her. Mrs. Neblett intends to camp with the South Carolina Constitutional Convention which meets Santerpher 15 and vention, which meets September 15, and expects nothing less than that her State will be the third to adopt woman's suffrage. By Legislative enactment the delegates have the power to settle the whole matter as the Constitution goes into effect as soon as passed by the Convention. If it completes its labors before election day in Utah Mrs. Neblett's expectations may be realized."

Mrs. Neblett is most persistent; she is the recognized leader of the woman suffragists of South Carolina and if the female suffrage clause is not in the new Constitution, it will be no fault of hers or those whom she will have to assist her in her lobbying work.

The Nation, in commenting upon the position taken by this paper on the wo-man's suffrage scheme as a means of eliminating fraud and preserving white supremacy, says:

"The Columbia State strongly advocates a resort to qualified suffrage as a means of insuring white supremacy in South Carolina without any possible collision with the Federal Constitution. Moreover, it says this idea meets with marked favor, and it will have its sup-porters in the coming Constitutiona Convention. That such an innovation should be the result of emancipation must seem odd enough to those who re-member how the ante bellum South orided itself on its Chinese wall against sms; yet the situation is so desperate that we may see woman suffrage enacted in South Carolina before it establishes itself in Massachusetts, the original seat of the agitation."—Columbia State.

- Patents have recently been taken out to pull cars at the rate of from 110 to 150 miles an hour, and the probability is that before many months have elapsed, some of these locomotives will be in practical peration between some of the larger Northern cities—say New York, Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Boston. Those who have the scheme under consideration, say the very nature of the case requires the construction of roads especially adapted to the purpose. As curves would be dangerous, the roads must be perfect air lines. In order to secure such a tremendous rate of speed the cars must necessarily be small, and therefore, only a few passengers can be carried at a time. It is the intention, lowever, to run trains at intervals o five minutes. The track will either have to be elevated or underground, so as to avoid the danger of crossings, and as local travel will not be worth catering for, there will be no switches or side-tracks. The men who have control of the patents say that the only consideration now in the way of carrying out their plans is the question as to which of the big railroads will pay them the most for a monopoly. Several of the roads, they say, are preparing to make offers.

 There are, according to statistics nearly 10,000 people arrested in the United States each year, charged with killing in some way, not always so as to constitute murder, but some form of homicide. This does not mean, however, that there are 10,000 homicides yearly, since it is very frequent for two or more persons to be arrested for the same crime. Still it does mean that with only a little more than double the population, we have nearly four times as many homicides as Italy, the most ignorant and flery of the modern nations.

by the Secretary of Agriculture at Washington, D. C., for Cotton is the lowest August report on record. It is 77 9-10 against 92 4-10 in 1894, and 82 3-10 in 1893, when we made only 6,700,365 bales, as against 9,700,000 bales last year. The condition in South Carolina is 81, while in Texas, and some of the other Western States, it is only 71. We give you this for what it is worth, but do not vouch for it. If it should prove true, however, we expect better prices than we obtained last season. We

OTTEGETANG MOTIDITAD

That we are Asked Every Day.

QUESTION .- Mr. Minor, why are you always busy?

ANSWER .- "Eternal vigilance is the price of" a living, and we must have bread. We work for our customers when they are not here, and hence we are ready when they come. Q.-Why are you forever getting in New Goods ?

A .- There is a never ceasing stream outward, and we must keep a continuous inflow in order to keep on a

Q .- Why are people forever gabbing about you, pro and con?

A .- Our competitors feel the blows we have dealt them, and would resent the damage done them. Our customers talk because we give them something worthy of mention.

Q .- Why are other merchants always throwing off on your goods? A .- They hope to scare timid customers off the track, but they only

Q .- Why is it you never have time to talk with a friend? Other people say they have more time than anything else.

A .- We don't have time to talk because our customers, who are really our employers, demand our very lest services for their money paid. Q.-Why is your house forever crowded with goods new and customers bright?

A .- We are always crowded with goods because our employers (customers) are usually on hand demanding the stuff, and we must have it for them. We are usually crowded with customers because the average man knows which side his bread is buttered. We acknowledge no dead, dull

Q .- Why don't you employ more help, and not keep so pushed all the

A .- Ah! There's the point. Why don't we do lots of things to make our business more expensive and charge the difference to you when you trade with us? Right here's where hundreds of good men drop their candy. Our patrons want to pay for a store administration honestly and economically managed. They want full value for their dollars without paying a few cents extra for an idle clerk or two to sit around and whittle on old goods boxes. In short, we pay for the honest dollars we get with honest goods at honest prices.
