The address will begin promptly at 10 o'clock, as Dr. Brown will leave on the noon train. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend."—Honnet Path Chronicle.

Some of the daily papers in the State, in speaking of the Volunteers now in Columbia, refer to the number of soldiers who had received their military training at the Citadel and other military institutions, but entirely ignored the Patrick Military Institute of this city, when, in fact, this institution has more representatives in the various Companies than any other military school in the State. The total number is twenty-five, of which sixteen are members of the Anderson Volunteers. The Institute is represented in the other Companies as follows: Capt. Milford, Abbeville Volunteers, Capt. Hunter, Johnson Rifles, Adj. Hardin, Lee Light Infantry, Lieut. Cox, Darlington Guards, Lieut. Lawrence and Lipscomb, Governor's Guards, Capt. O. K. Mauldin, Butler Guards, Capt. A. D. Hoke, Greenville Guards, and Lieut. Morrill, Beaufort Artillery, Natal Reserves. This is certainly a fine showing for the P. M. I.

Last Saturday evening the literary societies of the South Carolina College in Columbia debated the query, "Resolved. That the suffrage should be taken from the negroes in the Southern States." In speaking of the exercises the Columbia State says: "Mr. A. Beatty Sherard, of Anderson, the last speaker of the affirmative and who closed the debate, was next introduced by President Turnbull. Mr. Sherard delivered in a graceful and easy manner a convincing argument why the negro should be disfranchised. He touched briefly upon the constitution and showed how laws could be framed depriving the negro of suffrage without violating the Federal constitution. Mr. Sherard possessed a deep, full and clever voice, which added much to his excellent argument. Many times during his speech the audience vociferously cheered him. He presented clear and convincing reasons. He was loudly applauded at the close of his speech. The judges, Secretary of State Tompkins, Gen. Leroy F. Youmans and Hon. R. W. Shand, then retired to the stirring strains of "Dixie" to make up their decision. Shortly afterward they returned and Gen. Youmans, as spokesman for the committee, awarded the medal to Mr. A. Beatty Sherard as the best debater."

Ruth, the 7-year old daughter of Mr. Will Pepper, met with a horrible accident last Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock that caused her death in a few hours. She was making a fire in the stove, and while pouring some kerosene oil on the wood it blazed suddenly and exploded the can, which ignited her clothing. The screams of the unfortunate girl attracted the attention of both her father and mother, who ran to her assistance. The mother dashed a bucket of water on the girl, and the father attempted to pull the burning clothing from her body, but their efforts proved futile, and their darling daughter was burned from the crown of her head to the soles of her feet. Mr. Pepper was also painfully burned on his hands and arms. The little girl lived about five hours after the accident, and though her sufferings were terrible, she retained her mental faculties almost to the last moment. She talked very consolingly to her loved ones during these hours, telling them that she was going to die and begging them not to grieve for her, for she would soon be with the angels in Heaven. Ruth was a very bright and interesting girl, and was a favorite with all her friends, who deeply grieve her death. On yesterday afternoon the remains were interred in the Neal's Creek churchyard, the funeral services being conducted by Rev. M. McGee. The parents and other loved ones have the sympathies of all their friends in their sore bereavement.
