At Hymen's Altar.

Down on South Main Street, where the beautiful water oaks fling fern-like sprays en the summer air, a very pretty parlor wedding took place this morning at 9 30 e'clock at the home of our young townsmen, Messra Frank and Lucius Murphy. The contracting parties were Miss Julia Irene Murphy, of this city, and Mr. Mc-Duffie M. Cater, of Abbeville; two young people well known in Anderson and its

The Greenville Commencements.

The commencements of Furman University and the Greenville Female College versity and the Greenville Female College were exceedingly pleasant occasions from the baccalaureate sermons on Sunday to the final exercises Thursday night when five young ladies graduated from the Female College This institution has passed through its most successful session under President Riley, 206 students having been enrolled this year. Farman University graduated fourteen young men and one young lady, Miss McGee, of Greenville. The closing exercises Wednesday night were presided over by President Montague, whose energy, tact, wisdom and ability are doing so much for Furman.

The Furman alumni have raised $8,000 for the new alumni ball. They will easily secure $2,000 additional when Prof. Judson will give $5,000 and the work of building will begin immediately. Rev. H. R. Moseley was re-elected President of the Association Furman seems to have entered upon a new era of prosperity and success.

Death of Mr. Manly.

Died, after a brief illness, near Belton, S. C., June 7th, 1898. Mr. G. W. Manly He was born in Laurens County, Feb. 11, 1818, but moved to Anderson County when nearly grown. After the death of his wife, about twelve years ago, he lived in the family of Mr. O. K. Breszeale, where he found a real home-both giving and receiving expressions of confidence and affection without interruption and without abarement to the close of his life. In 1847 he was baptized on confession of Christ and became a member of the Baptist Church in Belton, and lived the life of a consistent, decided Christian to the

Though one of the most modest and refiring of men, the excellence of his character through his long life secured the hearty esteem of all who knew him, as was testified by the very large attendance at his funeral. Stricken suddenly at the elose of the day, June 1st, he at once passed into unconsciousness, from which there was no recovery. He needed to speak no last words: his mesage was his every day life. C. Reunion of Students.

EDITOR INTELLIGENCER: It has been contemplated for several years by the old students of Carswell Institute to have a reunion this year, it being the 20th year since that school closed.

I have been urged to take the matter in hand by several of the old students, being one of the oldest among them. So will ask you to please give notice that we will meet at Anderson, June 27th, (Monday.) at 11 o'clock a. m., to formulate a program and appoint some committees that will be needed. We want as many of the eld students to meet with us as we can get. So let each one feel as if it his individual business to be there.

Very truly yours, T. T. WAKEFIELD.

Resolutions of Respect.

MT. BETHEL BAPTIST CHURCH, Whereas, it bath pleased the Lord to remove fr m us by death, which occurred May 31-t, Rev. Baxter Hays, who for a period of forty-five years has been a faithful minister of the gospel. He labored among us as only a servant of God could de, giving his own life in service for others, preaching the gospel to all classes, he sought to help all and to offend none. Truly be sought the people and not their passions; and whereas, we feel that in his death the ministry has lost an earnest, faithful lab rer, the church a safe guide and the world a shining light. In this (Mt. B thei) church his name will be carried into the next generation; our children will hear of his thirty years service bere and how, during his earnest appeals to sinners, many resolved to turn to the Lord Eternity alone will reveal the value of his work. Indeed one more great man has fallen. Therefore, be it Resolved, That we bow in reverence and submission to the will of God who doubt all things well and prove that His doeth all things well, and pray that His blessings may be granted unto us. May the way of grace and salvation so often marked out by our departed brother be followed by us in the future. May the blessings of God rest especially upon our church for whom our brother so often
