WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 7, 1898.

A hurricane along the coast of Port Royal, Savannah and Brunswick, setting in Wednesday night and blowing steadily for forty-eight hours, resulted in considerable loss of life, great damage to the rice and cotton crops and an enormous loss of property. Floods in Tennessee have damaged property several hundred thousand dollars and blocked the railroads.

An announcement was made in Washington last Saturday, Sept. 3rd inst., by Adjutant General Corbin of the intention of the war department in mustering out and retaining in the service the volunteer regiments. The Second South Carolina and heavy battery South Carolina are among those to be retained until further orders. Orders were issued by the war department on the 2nd instant for the First South Carolina to proceed from Jacksonville to Columbia to be mustered

The gold in the treasury is steadily climbing upward and again broke the record last Saturday with a total reserve of $220,916,282, the highest in the history of the reserve fund. United States Treasurer Roberts, speaking of the upward trend of the gold in the treasury, said that out of about $40,-000,000 yet to be paid of the war loan it is likely that $25,000,000 or $30,-000 will be in gold. "It would not be at all strange," he said, "if before the tide turns our total gold will be considerably over $250,000,000."

. The claim was made in the recent campaign by the opponents of Mr. Featherstone and also by candidates for the Legislature that a combination had been formed by the ex-barkeepers and whiskey men who had been forced out of business by the dispensary law. But it is a significant fact that in Charleston, where there are probably more ex-whiskey men than in all the balance of the State put together, out of 1,413 votes cast for Governor Mr. Featherstone received only 45 votes; and in Richland County, in which Columbia is situated, and which stands next to Charleston in number of exwhiskey men, out of 2,295 votes cast for Governor Mr. Featherstone received 264 votes. This doesn't look much like there was any such combination. If there was it made a mighty poor showing, particularly in Charleston. Maybe it will work better in the second primary on the 13th inst.

The first primary election is ended and it appears to us that the fact stands out too plainly to be misunderstood that Governor Ellerbe and the Dispensary law are not endorsed by the Democratic voters of South Carolina. Mr. Ellerbe went before the people upon his record for the past two years, and claiming that the dispensary, as it is now administered, is is the best solution of the whiskey question, and, upon this platform, asked the people to endorse him for a second term. But the people have declined to give him the endorsement he asked by nearly 10,000 votes. Whether this indicates that Mr. Ellerbe has failed to measure up to the expectations of the people, or whether it means that they are dissatisfied with the dispensary as it is now managed, or both, we are unprepared to say. There can be no question of doubt, however, that a change is wanted. We do not believe that the people intended to bring about a direct issue between prohibition and dispensary; if so that intention would have shown itself in the selection of representatives in the Legislature, which, if we are correctly informed, was not done-they were certainly not so selected in this County -and this cannot be the issue in the second primary on the 13th instant. The only question for the people to decide will be whether such changes as they desire shall be trusted in the hands of Mr. Ellerbe or in the hands of Mr. Featherstone. This problem cenfronts them: If Mr. Ellerbe is The only question for the people to confronts them: If Mr. Ellerbe is elected it means the endorsement of his record and the dispensary just as it stands. One of our contemporaries, the Greenville News, puts this very plainly as follows: "If Governor Ellerbe is re-elected the dispensary just as it is now managed will be endorsed. If Mr. Featherstone is elected the dispensary law as now managed will be rebuked and repudiated. Mr. Featherstone could not if he was Governor enact a prohibition or a local option law, but his recommendations backed by a vote of the people would have a powerful influence with the Legislature. That body could enact a prohibition law, or, if it was decided that the objection of the people to the dispensary is more to its manner of administration than to the thing itself, could instruct the board of control to make such changes as would execute all changes in the dispensary law; a vote for Featherstone will be a vote for such changes as the Legislature and Governor may agree upon."

The protracted meeting closed at this place the fourth Saturday, only two having joined. It seems as if the members did not want to take any interest in it until it had to close. I think this community has as many sleepy and drowsy members in it as any place in this country. It will commence again Friday night before the third Sunday in this month and continue until Monday if not longer. Miss Nettie Cowan, one of Mohawk's finest and brightest gems, has been spending a few days in this fairview with relatives and special friends. Some of our young people attended the protracted meeting at Iva last week and report it a successful meeting, especially going and coming.

The renters are seeking places for another year, and it is strange that cotton is down and rent is going higher. Many places that rented for a thousand pounds for a one horse farm this year, will cost fifteen hundred for the same amount another year. It is ridiculous to think of such. It will push a poor man to pay expenses, and nothing but these one-horse negroes is the cause, and no man will ever get to heaven that will charge fifteen hundred pounds for twenty-five or thirty acres of land unless the place is well im- er, Mr. Evans Hunt, near Greenwood, proved and is well worth it.

If any young or old lady desires a sweetheart from the age of fifteen to twenty-five we can furnish either kind, ngly or good looking, and we have some few of thirty we will offer, and we will be glad to fill an order for any one.

When delayed, we must expect a punishment the more terrible when it does finally come. More heavy will be the lashings of conscience and greater the affliction of His hands if we despise in the day of our manifold opportunities the riches of His goodness and forbearance and long sufferings. When the devil gets a man in the habit of drinking whiskey he is sure that he can get him to do most any mean thing. We will close for this time with our

Rev. Arther Crane, assisted by Rev. J. F. Singleton, closed a glorious revival at this place on last Wednesday night. Forty-seven confessed conversion and joined the Baptist Church, while the enquirers come up by the hundreds. Dr. Crane is an earnest, eloquent and zealous preacher, and when our memory reverts to him it is always to cherish the kindest of regards. But no wonder the meeting was so successful, when we remember the faithful work our pastor, Rev. J. F. Singleton, has been doing for the past four years.

Rev. Beck, of Anderson, who is representing the Anderson Insurance Co., has been doing some good work in the Fork Township, and we are always glad to have the good Bro. with us.

The rain continues to pour down so the farmers can't gather their fodder and cotton. It rained the first dog day and it has not missed raining but very few days since.

We hope every Christian will remember his obligation to God and vote for the prohibition candidate at the next primary. The whiskey evil is ruining great numbers of our fine young men, and we, as Christians, should do all in our power to stop the sale of the vile stuff. The whiskey men say, won't we have more whiskey if we pass the prohibition law, and we answer, how can we have more whiskey then when we have all we want now. Do people have more of anything than they want. That's a powerful weak dodge, brethren, and God forbid that you shall try it again.

IN THE DRUG BUSINESS.

The most delicate and responsible part is filling Prescriptions, to properly understand the art, and to be qualified for the position requires years of constant toil and study. Men competent to discharge that duty are not to be had for the price of an ordinary day laborer. Knowledge and experience have in all ages rightly commanded a price. People lose sight of this fact when they haggle and kick because they can't buy their Prescriptions at the same per centum at which they get their flour and sugar. Thousands of mistakes are made every year by inexperienced and unskilled men behind the Prescription desk, and the reason no more fatalities occur is that the majority of the Doctors' Prescriptions contain no poison; and while they fail to accomplish the result desired, no disastrous consequences follow.

The care and the anxiety and the responsibility of this thing has robbed many a good man of his health. One of the best men I ever knew, and probably the most popular and successful 360 Acres of Land for sale, lying in Hart Co., Ga., three miles from Hartwell and six from Bowersville. HOW THE WINDS DO BLOW! SCOTTS!

. . AND THIS TIME . . BLOWS IN MINOR'S FAVOR.

For thirteen long weeks that daring, tenacious C. S. Minor, at the Ten Cent Store, has been sniffing the sweet, sugar-laden breezes which blow from the North and the West. That he caught the scent is quite evident, for he has been on full trail for two weeks past, and now the game is bayed. But listen! the game is treed, it's bagged.

The big swindling game of Moody & Brewster, of Atlanta, Ga., is about wound up. Mr. J. T. Moody, characterized by the Prosecuting Attorney as the brightest sharper with whom a Southern Court has recently dealt, gets six months in jail and a fine of one thousand dollars for attempting to beat his creditors out of two hundred thousand dollars. As is often the case, the thieves fell out among themselves, and the Courts and lawyers got charge of the whole lay-out. Then what happened? Why, thousands and thousands of dollars' worth of strictly first-class Staple Merchandise was sold at auction on August 15. These goods were bought for Moody & Brewster by the best posted and closest buyers that money could employ. They bought the largest quantities that could be had, with all but unlimited capital and credit. And yet, gentlemen, these goods, bought ever so cheap, sold at this auction sale at from 5c on the dollar to 50c on the dollar.

Now, how is it that out of all this section of wide-a-wake merchants only one representative was found? and that one was C. S. Minor. Gentlemen, this was a Spot Cash Sale, and none but Spot Cash buyers had any show in the pie. Ah! Minor had the cash, and Minor used it. Yes, we are to-day the happy owners of-
