Capt. Billy Smith, the oldest conductor in the service of the Southern Railway, has just been presented by General Passenger Agent Turk with a fitting souvenir of his long and faithful service for that road in a well worn punch which he has used continuously thirty-five years. Captain Billy is naturally very proud of the old punch which is treasured with many fond associations.

Mr. Samuel R. Trowbridge, of this city, and Miss Meta Faust, of Columbia, were married in that city on June 23rd, at the Methodist parsonage, Rev. Mr. Fuller officiating. This was an agreeable surprise to the groom's many friends in this city. The happy couple arrived in Anderson last Monday. We join their friends in extending congratulations and wish them a happy journey through life.

The Abbeville Press and Banner, in speaking of the commencement exercises of Erskine College, says: "J. K. Hood, Esq., of the Anderson bar, and mayor of that city, was the medal orator and right well did he perform his task. His address was full of encouragement to the society members and pleasing to all his hearers. Mr. Hood is an animated speaker and is always gladly heard by a Due West audience."

Greenwood Index: "Fannie Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Carpenter, died Monday night after several weeks' illness of dysentery, aged one year and nine months. The remains were interred in the city cemetery Tuesday afternoon. The burial service at the grave was conducted by Rev. R. A. Child." Mr. Carpenter is an old Anderson boy, and has many friends and relatives in this County who will regret to hear of the death of his little daughter.

Mr. N. A. J. Greer, of the Barker's Creek section, died last Sunday afternoon, and was buried at Barker's Creek, of which Church he was a devoted member, on Monday afternoon. Mr. Greer was about 30 years old and was a substantial citizen, kind and obliging neighbor and consecrated Christian. He served through the civil war and by his death another gap is made in the rank of the "Old Confeds." He leaves eight children to mourn his loss.—Honea Path Chronicle.

Gen. Delaware Kemper, consul to Anoy, China, under the first Cleveland administration, died at his home in Alexandria, Va., last Friday. Gen. Kemper was a distinguished soldier of the Confederate army during the civil war. He was wounded in the second battle of Manassas and subsequently was in command of the Confederate forces at Charleston. In 1869 he moved to Anderson and taught school here about two years. He has many old friends in our midst who will regret to hear of his death.

Governor McSwiney, upon the payment of the fines, pardoned W. H. Bryant and J. M. Smith, two young white men convicted in Anderson in February last of forgery and sentenced to one year each in the penitentiary and to pay a fine. The pardon was granted upon the recommendation of Judge Townsend and Acting Solicitor J. J. Boggs. The petition was a strong one. Among other things it sets forth that the young men having lost their crops were "seduced by the instigations of the devil."—Columbia State.

J. C. Fleming, who lives on Marion Merritt's place, up Brushy Creek, had the misfortune to have his house burned down last Monday night. The house was a story and a half structure. It was entirely destroyed. Mr. Fleming lost everything but a few bushels of wheat. The property was uninsured. It is estimated that some two hundred dollars worth of furniture, supplies, rations etc., were devoured by the flames. This is quite a loss for a poor man. His friends are doing what they can to give him a lift in his trouble.—Piedmont Sun-Herald.

The Rev. John Davis, L. L. D., who for the past four years, has been in Japan as Professor of Ecclesiastical History at Trinity Divinity School, Tokyo, arrived in this city last week, where he will spend some time with friends and relatives. Since last here, Dr. Davis has made a complete tour of the world, ending up with the Holy Land and the Continent of Europe. Having spent a portion of his boyhood in our midst, Dr. Davis has many old friends here, who will gladly welcome him again, and who feel justly proud of having some claim upon this learned and eminent divine. Dr. Davis will preach in Grace Church next Sunday morning.

The unveiling exercises of the monument of the late Rev. J. W. Dickson by Willow Camp, No. 26, W. O. W., at the request of Live Oak Camp, No. 2, Columbia, S. C., will take place at Smith's Chapel, Fork Township, on the 3rd Sunday, 16th inst., at 11 a. m. Gen. M. L. Bonham will deliver the address and Rev. W. W. Daniel, D. D., will pronounce the eulogy. The ritual of the order provides for both vocal and instrumental music, and arrangements are being made to conform in every respect to these beautiful and impressive ceremonies, and it is desired to make them in every way fitting to the occasion. The public generally is invited to be present, especially the ladies of the community, and in order to carry out the program successfully as arranged, the following gentlemen are requested to act as a sub-committee to assist in the various details of the work: John C. Gantt, N. O. Farmer, H. C. Routh, W. L. Dobbins, J. M. Boyles, J. A. Gantt, Jr., R. A. Sullivan and Lewis Cromer.
