We have received several communications recently without the names of the writers signed to them. Under our rule they have been consigned to the waste basket. Communications must be signed by the name of the writer, not necessarily for publication but as a guarantee of good faith. Always bear this in mind when you send a communication to any newspaper.

Bill Arp will deliver a lecture in the First Baptist Church at Pelzer on Thursday night, Nov. 2nd, for the benefit of the Church. His subject is "Whatever is, is right, unless it is wrong." Anderson has furnished a genuine sensation this week to the inhabitants of Greenville, who are gazing with wonder upon the monstrous proportions of Policeman King, the champion heavy weight of the State. It is said that our police commission has been captivated by King's avoirdupois, and that his 350 pounds might very well be used to reduce the acreage of policemen in Greenville.—Greenville Mountaineer.

Messrs. Dean & Ratliffe are at the head of the procession with a prize of ten dollars to wheat growers in their new fertilizer advertisement this week. They believe in encouraging home industries. The marvelous demonstration of hypnotic power given by Prof. Lee at the Opera House this week have attracted large and enthusiastic audiences. Prof. Lee is endeavoring to demonstrate the scientific value of hypnotism in the treatment of diseases and in surgery, and to disabuse the popular belief that hypnotism is a hurtful influence and a source of will power. He is finding a wealth of responsive subjects, among them a number of our most prominent business and professional men.

The Court of Common Pleas finished its work last Friday evening and adjourned. When we went to press last Wednesday the Court was hearing the case of Ellis vs. the Anderson Manufacturing Mills, a suit for $5,000 damages for the loss of an arm. The jury, after being out for more than fifteen hours, returned a verdict of $500 for the plaintiff. Several other civil suits were tried and a number of equity cases were heard, but none of them were of any importance. It was probably the most expensive term of Court that Anderson County has had in a number of years.

The latest addition to our exchange list is the Minden (Iowa) Herald, a neatly printed and ably edited paper that has recently made its bow to the public. The editor says: "We received a copy of the Minden Herald (S. C. Intelligencer) this week, and in pursuing its newsy columns the quaint and novel side of Southern life is vividly portrayed by the publishers in their own original and fascinating way. The writer will not soon forget the years so pleasantly passed in the sunny Southland, where hospitality is the watchword in every household and joy and peace the motto of all."

The Dover (Ky.) News of the 19th inst. says: "Hon. T. C. Dickinson, European Financier of the Black Diamond System, arrived in Dover Wednesday from Washington, D. C., for a final consultation with the representatives of the various lines before sailing for London. Mr. Dickinson is in the very best of health, and expresses himself as satisfied with the work recently completed in the South and reported to him. But little work is yet to be done to meet the requirements of the capitalists, and when completed as outlined by them the work of closing up will be a matter of but a few weeks after Mr. Dickinson's arrival in London. Mr. Dickinson recently held a lengthy conference with Sir Thomas Tanager in New York, and all papers completed are now in the hands of the latter and his associates in London, and only awaiting the few additional papers which will be placed in Mr. Dickinson's hands before he sails."

Mrs. Lula Dobbins, wife of Mr. John D. Dobbins, died at her home in the Mountain Creek section on Monday morning, 16th inst., aged about 43 years. She was stricken suddenly with paralysis on Tuesday preceding, and was speechless and helpless until death came to her relief. Mrs. Dobbins was a daughter of the late Arch. B. Skelton, and was a lady of many noble virtues of both heart and mind. In her girlhood she gave her heart to her Savior and joined the Roberts Presbyterian Church, where he remains were interested on the day following her death. Rev. R. C. Ligon conducting the funeral services. She leaves many friends who deeply sympathize with the devoted husband and other relatives in their sore bereavement.

The Greenville News of the 2nd says: "Great crowds attended the stock and poultry show at Pelzer yesterday, and though this was the association's first attempt the exhibit in all departments were highly creditable and were intensely interesting to the spectators, who crowded the grounds. The poultry exhibit was particularly good. The marked success and the big attendance of the first show encourages the management and indicates a long series of successful exhibitions at Pelzer. The trotting race, two best heats in three, one mile, was won by Thomas J. Hannon of this city. The half mile dash was won by W. Griffin. In this race J. F. Kelle's horse threw his rider, but the accident was not a serious one. Mr. Griffin's horse finished alone."

The Macon (Ga.) correspondent of the Atlanta Constitution, under date of the 19th inst., says: "Dr. A. A. Marshall, president of the Monroe Female College, at Forsyth, was married to Miss Janie Chastain, at the First Baptist Church in this city this afternoon, Rev. Mr. Durden, of Atlanta, officiating. Dr. Marshall is well-known throughout the State and is one of the ablest educators in the South. Miss Chastain is a beautiful young lady with many accomplishments, and has a host of admirers all over Georgia. She is the daughter of Mr. Morgan Chastain, a prominent citizen of Montezuma. Mr. and Mrs. Marshall left last night for Atlanta, where they will spend several days." We join the many friends of Dr. Marshall in Anderson in extending congratulations.

A 11-year-old negro boy accidentally hung himself at his home on the plantation of Mr. Tom Long, in Brushy Creek Township, last Saturday afternoon. The parents of the boy were away from home, and there was no one in the house with him except a younger sister. The boy's mother had been quilting, the frame being suspended from the joists by strands of a plow line. She had removed the frame and left one of the strands hanging from the joist. At the end of this strand was a loop, and it seems that the boy climbed into a chair, got the loop around his neck and fell out of the chair, thus strangling himself to death. When the parents returned home they found their boy dead, his feet about six inches from the floor. The little sister told what the boy did, and said she thought he was just playing when she saw him swinging around by the neck. From the little girl's statement the parents were satisfied that it was an accident, and no inquest was held.

Mrs. Mary Jamison, wife of Col. Joshua Jamison, died at her home in Brushy Creek Township last Friday morning after an illness of several weeks, in the 71st year of her age. Her remains were interred in the Pisgah Churchyard. Mrs. Jamison was a Miss Hunt and a native of Greenville County. She was the mother of five children, ten of whom, with her venerable husband, survive her. In her young womanhood she joined the Baptist Church, and throughout her life was a most devoted and exemplary member. In every relation of life she bore herself with becoming and exemplary dignity, always tender, patient and self-sacrificing, looking to the comfort and pleasure of others rather than herself. She was true to her Church, faithful to her husband and devoted to her children. Spending a long and useful life, she leaves to her children and friends a pure influence, a noble example and blessed memory, which, as a sacred, holy, hallowed heritage, will be a lasting benediction. Her loved ones, in their sore bereavement, have the consolation of knowing that she now enjoys her reward in Heaven.

Miss Minnie Wilson, youngest daughter of the late Jephtha Wilson, died at the home of her mother in this city last Thursday night at 10 o'clock. She had been ill with fever for several weeks and her loved ones were hopeful of her rapid recovery, but inflammation of the bowels set in and the summons of the Master soon came and the weary sufferer entered rest. Miss Wilson was beloved by all who knew her for her lovely character and disposition. The bloom of maidenhood was upon her cheek and before her lay a future of pleasure and usefulness. How inscrutable are the ways of God! And yet He is too wise to err, too good to be unkind. The deceased was born, reared and always lived in Anderson, and in her girlhood she joined the Methodist Church. The announcement of her death cast a gloom over many hearts, and from every warm and loyal friend there goes out the deepest sympathies to the bereaved and sorrowing relatives. On Friday afternoon her remains were interred in Silver Brook Cemetery, the funeral services being conducted at home by Rev. W. W. Daniel, D. D., the pastor of St. John's Methodist Church.
