VOLUME XXXV--NO. 20.

THE BEST STORE!

In every line of business there is always ONE BEST. There can never be two. In the Clothing Business of Anderson there is one Store that is better than all others, because it's a SPOT CASH STORE, and it's the place for you to trade if you wish to save money.

It has been our ambition to make our Store the best of its kind. We have succeeded. If you will come into our Store we can show you exactly why we are able to save you money.

The advertisements we publish will probably sound like bragging. All right, let it be so. You may call it bragging, or whatever you please. If we can save you money on your Clothing, Hats and Furnishings, that's all you need care about. That's what we can do. That's what we are doing for lots of people. We sell our Goods for strictly Spot Cash. We keep no books. We have no bad debts. Our way of doing business is fairer than that of any Store we know of. If you make a purchase here and you are not satisfied, we will give you—

YOUR MONEY BACK IF YOU WANT IT!

Men's Hats.

Don't wear that old Hat when you know you can get a good Fedora here—one that is Union-made and not out of a job lot—for a dollar. You had better make up your mind to come here at once. Our Fall Hats are all in, and we want you to inspect the most complete line in Anderson.

Shoes.

We handle only a One Price Shoe—all styles, one quality, one price, and that is $3.50.

The next time you want a pair of shoes come in and see ours. Notice the way it is made, how far the leather is turned over on the inside of the uppers, the daintiness of the stitches, the graceful shape, the way the back seam is covered, and in Tan shoes the soft brown colors.

Compare all these things, not only with other $3.50 Shoes, but with shoes at a dollar more.

Then buy the Shoe you think is best worth your money.

BOYS' KNEE PANT SUITS.

One lot Double Breasted Suits—ages 8 to 14 years—extra well made. A good bargain at $1.00.

One lot Double Breasted Suits—ages 8 to 16 years—strictly all wool, double seat and knees. The Credit Stores' leader at $3.00. EVANS' price $2.50.

One lot Vestee Suits in mixed Cheviots—ages 8 to 8 years—an extra value, for $1.50.

A complete line of Knee Pants for Boys at 25c, 50c, 75c and $1.00.

Single and Double Breasted SACK SUITS.

In Plain Goods, Blue Serge, Blue or Black Clay Worsted, and Blue or Black Herring Bone Cheviot are the correct things, though a few Fancy Worsteds will be worn. We have these Suits at $5.00, $7.50, $10.00, $12.50, $15.00, and on up to $20.00 if you wish.

Thanksgiving.

Gov. McSweeney yesterday issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation:

The people of this State have been abundantly blessed during the past year. Gratitude is one of the Christian virtues. We should give thanks at all times. Men too often forget the goodness of God. There should not only be gratitude in our hearts, but there are times when we should give visible evidence and audible expression to that gratitude. We have been remarkably free from pestilence and scourge. We have been permitted to plant and to garner. The rains have come and the earth has yielded her fruits and we have been allowed to enjoy the labor of our hands. We have made progress in manufacturing the product of our fields and our forests. It has long been customary to take one day out of the three hundred and sixty-five when we shall cease from the toils of our labor and render thanks to the Giver of all good for the many blessings we receive. To the end, therefore, that we may with thankful hearts show appreciation to the Giver of all our mercies, I, M. B. McSweeney, Governor of South Carolina, in conformity to the proclamation of the president of the United States, do hereby appoint and set apart Thursday, the 30th day of November, 1899, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer for our Heavenly Father. M. B. McSweeney, Governor of South Carolina, in conformity to the proclamation of the president of the United States, do hereby appoint and set apart Thursday, the 30th day of November, 1899, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer for our Heavenly Father. M. B. McSweeney, Governor of South Carolina, in conformity to the proclamation of the president of the United States, do hereby appoint and set apart Thursday, the 30th day of November, 1899, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer for our Heavenly Father. M. B. McSweeney, Governor of South Carolina, in conformity to the proclamation of the president of the United States, do hereby appoint and set apart Thursday, the 30th day of November, 1899, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer for our Heavenly Father.

Let all public offices be closed and all private business and labor of every kind cease and let the people assemble in their accustomed places of worship and render thanks with grateful hearts to their Creator and Preserver for the blessings of life and liberty and happiness which they daily receive. Let the people on this day also remember the fatherless and not forget that the poor and the needy you have with you always, and that we are told by Him who made the great sacrifice for us that it is more blessed to give than to receive, and by our own deeds of charity prove the sincerity of our gratitude.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the State of South Carolina to be affixed. Done at the Capitol, in the city of Columbia, this 31st day of October, A. D. 1899.

M. B. McSWEENEY.

By the governor: M. R. COOPER, Secretary of State.

Mules for South African War.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 1.—South Carolina mules will be employed in South Africa against the Boers, and Charleston will probably be made a quartermaster station for the British army. Mr. George A. Douglas was today given a contract by her majesty's consul, Col. De Coetlogan, to furnish 1,500 head of mules to the government of Great Britain for war purposes, to be delivered either in Charleston or Savannah. Being a Charlestonian, Mr. Douglas will use his efforts to have this city named as the depot for the delivery of the mules.

Mr. Douglas will go to work at once securing the number of mules called for in the contract, and as fast as a carload is purchased they will be shipped to this city.

The work of securing such a number of mules at this season of the year is not an easy task, as the market in this State is short on mules. Later on, however, it is thought that the market will be flooded and he will have no difficulty in filling the contract. In purchasing the mules, Mr. Douglas will confine his operations to this State as far as possible, so as to keep the money spent in the State.

Mr. Douglas will make frequent trips through the State in order to get the required number called for in the contract.

Only first-class mules, sound in every respect, will be received, and a good price will be paid for them. Purchase will be made from one to a hundred or more.

If the mules are loaded at Charleston, on a British transport, it will prove a big thing for the city, for the supplies will, of course, be purchased here, which will in itself amount to a good big sum, as enough will be purchased to last for some time.

Special to The State.

Facts About the Educational Fund.

Inasmuch as there is considerable interest being manifested in some matters in the amount of dispensary profits that have gone to the free schools of the State since the constitutional provision was put in some years ago, a representative of the State yesterday looked up the official figures.

The books show that on April 20, 1898, $70,499.85 was distributed to the schools of the State. On April 30, 1899, $67,204.35 was paid out to the schools by the comptroller general, and now the third payment is about to be made. This amount, all the counties having at last been heard from, will be $19,483.37, and $5,000 more goes to the superintendent of education for normal institutes, etc. This amount is to be paid in the next few days.

When all has been paid there will be left to the credit of the dispensary school fund the sum of $43,312.23, and the schools will have been paid a total of $102,187.27. When this year's amount necessary to make up the $3 per capita has been paid, the comptroller will proceed to distribute pro rata among the several counties, according to enrollment, the $43,312.23, making the grand total paid the schools $205,499.55.

Exclusive of the school fund, the State dispensary under the State treasury yesterday, subject to the State State board of control, a balance of $144,491.70. This is the exact status of the State's rum business at present, not taking into account outstanding bills and warrants.—The State.

Found Big Box of Gold.

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 6.—Hunter Johnson, a white citizen of Jackson, while hunting in Pearl River swamp, east of the city several days ago, discovered a box containing nearly $50,000. The money was encased in an iron case, and in gold pieces, nearly all of them $20 denomination. It is thought the money is a war treasure. All of the coins bear date prior to 1860.

Rural Free Delivery.

WASHINGTON, November 5.—A vigorous plea for rural free delivery is made in the annual report of First Assistant Postmaster General Perry S. Heath, made public to-night. Mr. Heath says, the service so far has resulted in increased postal receipts, enhancement of the value of farm lands reached by rural free delivery of from $2 to $3 per acre, a general improvement of the condition of the roads traversed by the rural carrier; better prices for farm products, the producers being brought in daily touch with the state of the markets, besides educational benefits conferred by relieving the monotony of farm life through general access to wholesome literature and knowledge of current events.

On November 1 rural free delivery was in successful operation over 283 territories, radiating over 40 States and one Territory, Idaho to the north, Wyoming, Mississippi and Montana, being the only States unrepresented.

Between the beginning of the new fiscal year, July 1, 1899, and November, with an additional expenditure of $150,000 rural free delivery has been extended to nearly 84,000 net capita, against an average per capita cost of $2.80 in small towns of 5,000 population. "It is a small matter to a resident of a town," says the report, "to be saved a walk of a few hundred yards to the postoffice, while on the other hand it is a matter of nearly 24 cents per capita to be spared a drive of five or ten miles over country roads to get his mail. In a recent public discussion advocates of the system who took the value of the time thus lost in the busy farming season, at only fifty cents per head, found that nearly 84,000 net capita, or many millions of dollars lost to the agricultural interests through being obliged to send to the village for the mails."

Rural carriers are shortly to be authorized to receive and receipt for letters for distribution as city carriers do now.

Small Mills Pay Best.

The Wool and Cotton Reporter has discovered that the small cotton mills pay the highest dividends in North Carolina, and that men who are able to build big mills prefer to put their money instead into two or three small ones. The Springfield Republican remarks:

"The argument of experience, any more than that of theory, is not wholly on the side of large concerns in cotton capital. This has its great advantages, but there are offsetting factors such as a loss of efficiency and close economy in operation from the lack of close personal supervision on the part of those who own the plant."

That is an encouraging view to take in this day of great combinations and trusts when the little fellow is so often squeezed out. It has only been a little while since a proposition was seriously made by some of the New England manufacturers to combine all the cotton mills in the country. We have not heard anything of it in the last ten days, but have no doubt that the big mills up North that are making no money would be very glad to use the small mills down South to help them out of trouble. The small cotton crop of this country is all sold every year, either at home or abroad. As long as there is a demand for raw cotton, there will be room for cotton mills near the cotton fields, and for this reason there is no danger whatever that cotton mill construction in the South will be overdone. The larger the number of small cotton mills in the South, the greater the security of the capital already invested in these enterprises.—News and Courier.

Schley's Visit to the South.

ATLANTA, Ga., November 5.—Rear Admiral Schley, who was welcomed to Atlanta yesterday, will spend a day here to-day. No programme was arranged and he, with the members of his party, were allowed to utilize the time in attending services at the Episcopal Cathedral and a drive over the city to the residence of Bishop Nelson, of Georgia, who officiated at the services and the Holy Communion was served. Mrs. Schley accompanied the Admiral here.

In the afternoon, under the auspices of the Royal Arcanum of this city, the distinguished guest and party were given a drive over the city. They were taken to Grant Park and visited, and also McPherson barracks, where the United States garrison is stationed. Admiral Schley was given an ovation by the soldiers.

The party was entertained at luncheon by Judge J. Schley Hook after the drive, and a large number of friends and relatives of the hero expressed their admiration of his splendid record at Santiago.

After returning to their hotel the party later in the evening boarded their special car, where they remained for the night. The train will leave at an early hour to-morrow for Birmingham, where the Admiral will arrive at 10 o'clock.

A Daily Newspaper at Gaffney.

On account of the State Baptist Convention which meets at the enterprising city of Gaffney on the 23rd inst., Manager Ed. H. DeCamp has determined to issue a daily edition of The Ledger during the convention. These daily editions will contain a complete stenographic resume of the proceedings, together with sketches of prominent workers in the Baptist Church of South Carolina, pen drawings and pen pictures of Baptist Church buildings and Baptist institutions, as well as a complete resume of the mission work of the convention, being done by the Baptists of the State, and say nothing of the local and State and national news that will be published. Manager DeCamp has had considerable experience in the daily newspaper field and is as well qualified to get out a daily paper as he is to edit The Ledger, Gaffney, S. C.

Tom Harris, a negro, was killed at the Greenwood oil mill ginny Thursday afternoon. He was engaged in removing a bale of cotton from the press, when he was struck by a steam power, which was operated by the gin, and the "follow block" crashed beyond recognition.

The storm which passed over Charleston the other night blew down a two-story house in rear of the premises 45 Coming street, killing one person and injuring three others. The house was occupied by five persons, it is a miracle that the five were not killed by the falling timbers and brick.

The Secretary of State has issued a commission to James Cockshott of Charleston, H. C. Riley of Philadelphia and G. M. Trenholm of Charleston as incorporators of the Southern Hardwood company of Charleston. The company proposes to manufacture all kinds of hardwood products. The capital stock is $10,000, divided into shares at $100 each.

Jesse W. Johnson, a farmer living near Marydel, in the upper part of Greenville county, was shot in the road near his home and almost instantly killed. The shot was fired by his nephew, George Johnson, who was with him. The killing is supposed to have been caused by some difficulties which have existed between the men for some time.

That many prospective investors are turning their eyes these days to South Carolina is evidenced by the fact that there is scarcely a day passes that letters of inquiry do not reach the heads of some of the departments of the State government asking for information as to South Carolina's resources and advantages. This emphasizes the great necessity for an industrial department of some kind in the State government.

Mrs. Jno. G. Williams has had a rare plant growing in her yard for seven years, but each winter it has been killed to its roots. Last fall she covered it over with earth, and now it is over six feet high and has a large bunch of bananas which are ready to five inches in length, hanging from the top. Mrs. Williams is confident that next fall she will have the pleasure of eating bananas grown at her own door.—Columbia State.

Miss Sarah White, fifty years old, was driving near Huntersville, Greenville county, with Mrs. John White, when the horse became frightened and dashed away. The vehicle was overturned and both ladies thrown violently to the ground. Mrs. White received slight wounds, but her companion died a few hours later from the effects of internal injuries. The deceased was the daughter of the late King White, a prominent citizen of Greenville, and had a large family connection. She was a woman of great refinement and intelligence.
