There were 78 young physicians before the State Board of Medical Examiners in Columbia last Thursday, eight of whom were negroes. Dr. F. M. Lander, of Williamston, was one of the successful applicants and passed a most creditable examination, standing second in the large class. Of the negroes only one was successful, and he was Dr. Playfair Williams, of this city.

The Laurens Advertiser, in speaking of the death of Col. Joe H. Mauldin, says: "This noble citizen of Anderson, universally respected and beloved wherever known is dead after a long illness. He entered the Confederate service at fifteen years of age, was a brave soldier of the Hampton Legion, and stacked his arms at Appomattox. Comrades, drop a tear at the bier of this true and noble hearted comrade of a lost cause."

The Pickens Sentinel, of last week, says: "Mr. Jos. C. Stribling, of Meet, is a candidate for treasurer. Mr. Stribling, who is a cripple, feels that he is fully competent to transact the duties of the office, having attended Wofford College, and being a graduate of a business school. He was for a number of years cashier of the Alliance store at Anderson and is a teacher by profession." - Mr. Stribling has many friends and relatives in Anderson County who would be more than pleased to see him elected to the office.

The Clinton correspondent of the Laurens News of last week says: "The marriage of Miss Julia Simpson to Mr. Arthur D. Darby, of Loweryville, was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride, Rev. J. B. Parrott officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. F. H. Simpson and Mr. Darby is a prominent young planter of Chester county. The young couple left with a party of friends on the afternoon train for Loweryville, their future home." The bride is a daughter of the late C. C. Simpson, of this County, is a most excellent, charming young lady, and has many friends and relatives in this section.

Last Saturday afternoon a shooting affray occurred on the public highway a few miles west of the city, near the home of Mr. Oliver Bolt. A party of negroes, who live in that section, were on their way home from the city, riding in a wagon, when they met James Shaw, a negro, who had had a previous quarrel with one of the negroes in the wagon. Shaw, who was drunk, got into the wagon and started another row with his enemy, when one of the party struck him on the head with a bottle. George Johnson interfered and tried to make peace between the negroes, when Shaw pulled his pistol and shot Johnson, the ball striking the breast bone and glancing into his arm. The wound is not serious, and the negro will soon be able to go to work again. Sheriff Green was notified of the affray and immediately sent Deputy Dillingham out there. The officer had no trouble in finding Shaw and soon had him locked in jail.

Next Tuesday morning at 8:30 o'clock a special train will leave Anderson for Belton, where it will connect with a special train from Newberry on its way to Spartanburg to connect with the Veterans' special from Columbia, which goes through to Louisville, Ky., arriving there at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning. Anderson will be well represented at the Reunion, and the Southern Railway will run a special car through from this place. Passengers will have choice of routes, going either by Asheville and Knoxville or by Atlanta and Chattanooga. Buy your tickets on Monday and avoid the rush Tuesday morning.

Those who were so fortunate as to witness exercises of the third grade pupils at the Central School yesterday afternoon were treated to an interesting programme. The operetta was well rendered, and in the songs and recitations the pupils acquitted themselves exceedingly well, reflecting great credit to their excellent teacher, Mrs. Nowell. The pupils of the fourth grade will have their exercises this afternoon, and the fifth grade to-morrow afternoon. The teachers of these grades, Misses May Russell and Emily Dwyer, have kindly remembered the INTELLIGENCER with tickets of admission.

In the election of Gen. M. L. Bonham, of this city, to the chair of Grand Vice-Chancellor Commander of the Grand Jurisdiction of South Carolina Knights of Pythias, the Grand Lodge bestowed most worthily an honor which is a distinct compliment to that distinguished body as well as to that gentleman and Chiquola Lodge, No. 32, of which he is an honored member. General Bonham is one of the most enthusiastic and well informed Knights in the State, having been chairman of the judiciary committee of the Grand Lodge last year, from which position his present elevation dates. We congratulate him upon his fresh honors, and predict that he will wear them gracefully.

The last issue of the Abbeville Press and Banner speaks as follows of an old Anderson boy who has made his home in Abbeville for a number of years: "Mr. C. D. Brown is the popular and efficient chief of the fire department, and a more competent officer, or a better citizen than C. D. Brown could not be found anywhere. He is a public spirited citizen, and he enters upon any work looking to the welfare of the town or the profit and pleasure of the people, with a zeal and a persistence which commend him to the good graces of all. No man ever served a railroad with more fidelity than he serves the Southern, and no man ever rendered more acceptable service to the people. This newspaper is not acquainted with a better all round citizen."

Mrs. Martha Brooks, relict of T. M. Brooks, died at her home, in the western section of the County, on Thursday, 17th inst., aged about 73 years. She was born and reared in Oconee County, and in 1858 was married to Mr. Brooks. Since then she has lived in Anderson County, with the exception of a few years she spent in Alabama. She had been a devoted and exemplary member of the Methodist Church since her girlhood, and was highly esteemed by a wide circle of friends. Three sons are left to cherish the memory of a devoted mother—Messrs. F. M. and H. S. A. Brooks, of this County, and Mr. M. W. Brooks, of Georgia. The remains were interred in the Providence Churchyard last Friday, the funeral services being conducted by her pastor, Rev. C. W. Burgess, in the presence of a large congregation of relatives and sympathizing friends.

Mrs. J. M. Knight, third daughter of the late Jasper King and a sister of Policeman King, of this city, died at her home near Williamston last Sunday morning at 5 o'clock. About two months ago she had an attack of pneumonia, which seriously affected her lungs and caused her death. Since her girlhood Mrs. Knight had been a consistent member of Whitefield Baptist Church, where her remains were buried last Monday, the funeral services being conducted by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Allen. Many friends and relatives followed the remains to the grave, and will long cherish her memory. She was a most excellent woman, and will be greatly missed in her Church and neighborhood. Besides a venerable mother, three sisters and three brothers, she leaves a sorely bereaved husband and an infant son, about two months of age, and in their sorrow they have the sympathies of a wide circle of friends.

Last Wednesday Wesley Harris, a negro tenant on the plantation of Mr. J. A. Hall, in Varannes Township, interferred with some white men who were searching the house of a negro woman, in the same section, for some stolen goods. Harris, it is claimed, struck one of the men and ran off. On Thursday a warrant was issued by Magistrate Gilmer for the arrest of the negro under a charge of assault and battery and placed it in the hands of Constable A. M. Bailey, who left the city in a buggy. Late in the afternoon Mr. Bailey found Harris and started with him to the city. When within about three miles of the city, and while riding through the woods, a party of fifteen or twenty men, with black faces, suddenly demanded the prisoner. Mr. Bailey says he was attacked with a pistol, knocked out of the buggy and the prisoner was carried off into the woods. It is said the negro was given a severe flogging and turned loose. It is supposed this will be the end of the matter.
