The closing exercises of the Williamston Female College will be as follows: Prof. A. G. Rembert, of Spartanburg, will deliver a lecture before the Alumnae Association on Wednesday evening, June 6th, and Bishop A. W. Wilson will preach the baccalaureate sermon on the following evening. A number of Methodist preachers will be present, as is usually the case when a Bishop preaches,

The total eclipse of the sun to-day created quite a lot of enthusiasm on the part of our local astronomers. Smoked glass was in demand, and we were reminded of the joke, that were reminded of the joke, that Smoked glass was in demand, and we were reminded of the joke, that "Judge" or "Puck" got off a few years ago on the Irishman and the smoked glass. Pat was scated on a stump puffing away at an old corn-cob pipe while the perspiration was dripping from every pore. By his side were a dozen empty match boxes, and he was striking the last match in the thirteenth box in the vain endeavor to light his pipe, which was filled with broken bits of glass. "Well," says Pat, taking his pipe out of his mouth for a moment to rest, "this bates the divel. Mike tould me to smoke glass and I could see spots on the sun. I have aither got the wrong kind of glass or he takes me to be a domed fool."

But something else more important

be a domed fool."

But something else more important to Carolinians just now than eclipses of the sun confron's us, and that is the question of now to solve the whiskey problem. We say "hurrah" for Anderson County's candidate for Lieut. Governor. In 1898 Anderson was proud of C. C. Featherstone, one of her bravest and trusted sons. The wonderful race he made almost single handed was an honor to his County. And now we know our County will stand by Mr. Tribble as it did Mr. Featherstone two years ago. We only wish all the Counties in South Cavolina would follow Anderson's example. But why not put out candidates for the Legislature? Once upon a time a Governor of a certain State received a detter inquiring how the people liked the prohibition law, recently enacted by his Legislature. "All right," he replied, "the prohibitionists have the law, the whiskey drinkers the whiskey and I don't see what else folks want." Do you see the idea? We want our Legislature and Governor to be united on the whiskey question. Let five popular prohibitionists from as many different sections of the County make a run this year for the Legislature, and let all the Counties in the State have out candidates who are pronounced prohibitionists. I propose to vote for five prohibitionists. I propose to vote for five prohibitionists. For several years it has been a pleasure to me to write you occasionally. It looks like I will have to stop worrying your readers any longer without my eyesight improves, or I can get a friend to act as my amanueusis, as a kind friend is doing now.

Corner Creek Happenings.

Our midst was visited with a good rain last week, which did the crops very much good.

Farmers are pushing right on with their work and "Leoping in pace with the progress of grass."

Rev. E. C. Shirley: preached an interesting sermon at Barker's Creek Sunday to a very good audience.

Phims, cherries and currants are ript, and of course we are enjoying pursives very much, indeed, feasting.

Shirley one of our progressive farmers, has the finest wheat we have seen this year. It will no doubt yield fifteen or twenty bushels per acce. Mr. Shirley, is an alround, good farmer any way, and the one that beats him is sure got to hustle.

Messrs. J. J. Williams and M. N. Scott, representing Fort Payne's Nurserey, of Alabama, were in our midst last week.

Fruit is good, and plenty of it too.

It was our fond pleasure to attend the picnic at Zarline Island last Saturday. We arrived early on the ground to find a few present. The day was not altogether a very pleasant one, so we did not expect many to venture out. But by 11 o'clock there was a goodly number gathered together on the Island and rugged hills of Zarline to enjoy and partake of the fun that was going on, and the speaking which was

The young men should be a little more careful on the big road, as the girls can hear them cursing when their hats blow off.

Mr. John Brown's little daughter, May, has been very ill for several days with chills.

The wheat and oats are looking fine. We are going to have plenty of bread to eat this year.

There has been a great deal of cane planted this year. So you see, Mr. Editor, we are going to have plenty of molasses to cat as well as flour.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hutchison have been to Williamston on a visit, and to look out a place to locate on, for the benefit of Mrs. Hutchison's health.

Mrs. Willie Hunter, of Belton, S. C., has come up to spend awile with her children. She has been in feeble health for sometime, and we hope her stay here will be beneficial.

There has been a right smart of cotten seed planted over this year on account of dry weather.

We hear some talk of another prohibition campaign this year. We are in favor of a prohibition law that will be enforced, but we are not in favor of a law that will permit licensed saloons inside the State. In the State of Maine they have a so-called prohibition law, and as much liquor is sold there as there is in South Carolina. If the South Carolina law is to be moddled after such a law as that, as was proposed to do two years ago, then we say give us the dispensary law.
