BEAUTY

Within the reach of every

WOMAN!

"In the merciful scheme of Nature there are no plain women," was the pleasing but audacious statement of a clever writer recently. ARTISTIC TASTE IN DRESS adds much to the beautifying of woman. The old saying "fine plumage make fine birds" is applicable to the fair ones. It is not the Bargain Counter Stuff, nor the Cut Price Stuff, nor the old Out-of-Style Stuff that is largely advertised at this season of the year as bargains that adds to the beauty of fair woman, but the—

Both the Veterans and the young people announce that they had a most delightful time, despite the fact that heavy rains interfered greatly with the programme that had been arranged for their entertainment.

At a meeting of the State Democratic Executive Committee in Columbia last week it was decided to require the following amounts to be paid by candidates who enter the primary: United States Senators, Congressmen and Governor, $50 each; Lieutenant Governor, $12.50; all State officers, $67.50 each, except Adjutant General at $20; Solicitor $25 each, and $10 for State Senator and $5 each for Representatives for each County.

Mingo Wiggins, a 12-year-old negro boy, was run over and killed by an east bound train on the Blue Ridge Railroad last Thursday morning, a few miles east of Seneca. He, in company with another negro, was asleep on the track and were both aroused by the whistle. Mingo, however, not sufficiently awakened, lay back on the track too late for the engineer to stop the engine. The cow-catcher was covered with blood and brains when the train arrived in Anderson. The railroad authorities are blameless.

Last Sunday morning a large crowd of negroes from this city and other stations along the Savannah Valley Railroad went on an excursion to Mt. Carmel to spend the day. There was plenty of mean liquor in the crowd, and on the train they made things lively by fighting, caroling, shooting, etc. After they reached Mt. Carmel the town marshal, in attempting to make an arrest, knocked down three negroes and was immediately set upon by a mob of them. The white citizens of the town went to the rescue of the officer and the excursionists were subdued after some loss of blood.

The Aspen (Col.) Tribune, of May 15, says: "The Baptist church of this city on last Sunday evening heartily extended a unanimous call to its present pastor, Rev. W. R. Earle, to remain with it another year. It expressed its appreciation of successful work by increasing his salary. Since he came here about ten months ago the church has grown rapidly, almost doubling its membership and building up a congregation which the church frequently cannot accommodate. The outlook for the future is very bright." The many friends of Mr. Earle in this (his native) County will be more than pleased to hear of his success in his adopted home.

A happy marriage was consummated this morning at 9.30 o'clock at the home of the bride, near Deans, the contracting parties being Mr. Earle Lewis, of this city, and Miss Ida Beaty. Rev. R. C. Ligon officiated. The groom is in the employ of the Southern Railway, and a most excellent young man. The bride is a daughter of the late Rufus Beaty, and a young lady of many noble virtues of both heart and mind. At the conclusion of the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis came to the city and left on the Southern train for Washington, D. C., and other cities. We join their many friends in extending congratulations and wishing them a happy and prosperous journey through life.

The Spartanburg Herald, of the 31st ult., pays our fellow-townsmen the following compliment: "We have heard a good deal from time to time about the office seeking the man. It appears that the prohibition nomination for Lieutenant Governor sought Col. James L. Tribble, of Anderson, but Col. Tribble declined the honor. This is unfortunate. Had Col. Tribble consented to allow his name to stand, he would undoubtedly have been elected and South Carolina would have had a Lieutenant Governor peculiarly well suited to the duties of his office. The State has never produced a purer man, and he is as able as he is upright. His declination is a calamity."

Mr. C. S. Minor, of the Ten Cent Store, has sold his stock of goods to Messrs. W. F. and J. B. Marshall, of Piedmont, who will continue the business at Mr. Minor's old stand, on Granite Row. The store will be closed for a few days for the purpose of taking stock. The Messrs. Marshall are experienced, up-to-date merchants, having been engaged in merchandising for more than twenty years, and we extend them a cordial welcome to Anderson. The name of the new firm will be W. F. Marshall & Co., and they will carry a large, select stock of goods in every department. Read Mr. Minor's farewell announcement and the announcement of the new firm in another column.

The annual commencement exercises of the Patrick Military Institute will begin next Sunday and continue through Monday and Tuesday. An interesting programme has been arranged for the occasion, and Col. Patrick cordially invites the public to attend. The commencement sermon will be preached in the First Baptist Church next Sunday at 11.30 a. m. by Rev. H. B. Mitchell, of Greenville. On Monday the prize drill will take place, and the joint debate between the two literary societies of the Institute will occur that evening. On Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, the members of the senior class will deliver their orations, to be followed by the annual address which will be delivered by Dr. Lee Davis Lodge, President of Lincoln College. Dr. Lodge is one of the most finished scholars in the State, and our people should not miss hearing him.

Death of a Good Citizen.
Mr. S. W. Smith died at his home in Garvin Township Sunday morning, May 27th. For several months his health had been failing. He had suffered intensely from a complication of diseases, till death brought relief. In his sickness he bore the pains as only a child of God can, and in death he was absolutely reconciled to the Master's will. He died resting his hopes in the Crucified One. We are confident that in the morning of the first resurrection he will come forth with that glorious life that Christ our Lord gives to those who call upon Him. He was laid to rest in the Lebanon Cemetery, the funeral services being conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. F. Singleton. He had been a faithful defender of the Baptist faith for forty-eight years, and faithfully performed the duties of deacon of the Church for more than thirty years.

In early life he married Miss Mary Hendricks, of Blount County, Alabama, and in course of time they were blessed with nine children—five daughters and four sons—of whom eight are still living. He leaves behind him twenty grand-children and two great-grand children.

As neighbor and friend he was the good Samaritan; as husband, always true, and as father, always strict, but kind and loving. "Blessed are they that die in the Lord."
