In a few weeks he will leave with his family for Bordeaux, France, where he will remain for at least a year perfecting himself in mathematics at the Bordeaux University.—Rock Hill Herald.

The Anderson Water, Light and Power Co. has let the contract for the raising of its dam at Portman Shoals to Mr. G. O. Tenny, of Spartanburg. The dam is to be made fourteen feet higher, which increase the plant to 5,000 electrical horse power. The contractor will begin the work at once and will employ a large force of hands.

The News and Courier, of the 13th inst., in speaking of a number of the South Carolina teachers attending the annual session of the National Educational Association in Charleston, says: "Miss Lenora Hubbard, of Anderson, is another leading woman educator of the State that has come down to the Convention. Miss Hubbard made a great record in her private school work, and upon the organization of the graded schools in her city was engaged for the primary department, where she has made a record second to none as a successful primary teacher."

On the evening of July 2nd, the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Morrison and carried away their only child, Birdie Madeline, a bright baby girl of seven months. She had suffered from bronchial pneumonia for two weeks. Everything was done to save the little life, but she grew weaker and weaker until death came to her relief. Their many friends sympathize with them in their bereavement. The interment took place at Ebenezer graveyard.

Mr. Caloway Stone died at his home, near Seneca, on Wednesday, July 4th, 1900, aged about eighty-five years. He was a farmer and one of Oconee's highly respected citizens. He was a native of Anderson County, but had been living in this county a number of years. In all the relations of life he was an upright, honorable Christian gentleman. His body was buried at Rock Springs Methodist Church, of which he was a member, on last Thursday.—Koonce Courier.

The Greenville News, of the 11th inst., says: "From the headquarters of the South Carolina division of United Sons of Confederate Veterans, the appointment of Miss Mary Orr, of Anderson, as sponsor for the annual convention and reunion at Greenwood, August 1-3, was announced yesterday. She is a daughter of Dr. S. M. Orr, of Anderson, and hence the grand-daughter of Gov. Jas. L. Orr, the commander of the famous Orr's regiment, one of the most celebrated organizations in the Confederate army. She is greatly admired in Greenville, where she has visited frequently. Miss Orr has selected Miss Annie Marshall, of Greenville, as her chief maid of honor."

About a year ago Miss Polly Callahan died at her home in Martin Township and her remains were interred in the Bethany Churchyard. At the time it was rumored that she possessed a considerable sum of money and had requested that the money be buried with her remains. Of course there was no foundation for the rumor and no attention was paid to it. Last Sunday morning services were held at Bethany Church, and in walking through the graveyard some persons noticed that the grave of the deceased had been tampered with. Her two brothers were there and at once made investigation. They found that the grave had been entered and the coffin lid split to pieces. An effort will be made to discover the guilty wretch, and if caught he will be severely punished.

In company with President Cox, of the Cox Manufacturing Company, we rode out to his plant last Friday afternoon and was shown through the building, which is a most magnificent and substantial structure. The building has been completed, and the mammoth boilers and engine, together with all the shafting and pulleys, have been placed in position, and as soon as the spinning machinery arrives it will be placed in position and ready for work. An electrical machine has been placed in the engine room for the purpose of lighting the building, as it is proposed to operate the mill both day and night. The building will be heated by steam, and has a fine system of water works for sewerage purposes and protection from fire. From the water tank in the tower the pressure is sufficient to throw streams to any part of the building without the use of the pumps, which can be utilized if necessary. The water is pumped from a pond, which is supplied by two spring branches. Fifteen 4-room cottages are being erected near the mill, and they will soon be occupied. Everything is very conveniently arranged, and all the machinery is of the last improved patterns. President Cox has given personal supervision to the construction of the plant in all details, and deserves the congratulations of every stockholder in the enterprise.

Mr. T. L. Clinkscales, Sr., one of the best known citizens of Anderson County, died at his home in the Storeville section yesterday morning. He had been in feeble health for more than a year and confined to his home for several months past. The deceased was born, reared and always lived in Anderson County, and was 68 years of age. He was a successful farmer and his name was a synonym for uprightness and honesty. He had long been a devoted and active member of First Creek Baptist Church, and for years served that Church as a deacon and superintendent of the Sunday School. He was a man who attended strictly to his own business, but was ever ready to lend a helping hand to the needy, comfort and console the distressed and afflicted, and speak a good word of counsel to those who sought his advice. Mr. Clinkscales served his State faithfully through the civil war as a member of the famous Hampton Legion. He possessed a most genial disposition and was most highly esteemed by a wide circle of friends, who will ever cherish his memory. The deceased was twice married, his second wife being Miss Ann Rice, who, with two sons and one daughter by his first marriage, survive him. By his death Anderson County loses one of her best citizens, whose place, especially in his Church and neighborhood, will be hard to fill. The remains were laid to rest this morning in the Ebenezer Churchyard, Rev. M. McGee and Rev. J. D. Moore conducting the funeral services. The family have the sympathies of all their friends in their sore bereavement.
