Our venerable friend, Col. W. S. Pickens, of the Brushy Creek section, spent Monday in the city and gave us a pleasant call. He is one of Anderson County's oldest citizens and is holding his own remarkably well.

A commission for a charter has been issued to the Pendleton Telephone Company. The incorporators are Messrs: J. C. Stribling, H. P. Sitton, J. H. Mounce and J. B. Sloan. The capital stock of the company is to be $600.

Deputy Sheriff Dillingham, with his bloodhound, was summoned by telephone this morning to Pendleton to trace a negro who has mysteriously disappeared from there and who, it is feared, has been foully dealt with.

Partridges are said to be abundant this season. The shooting season will not begin until the first of November. There is a law against exporting partridges, dead or alive, from the State and no one is allowed to sell them.

The grand fall opening of Julius H. Weil & Co. took place last Friday and was a big success. Throughout the day their establishment was thronged with the fair sex inspecting the beautiful and stylish new goods in every department.

Brown, Osborne & Co's. establishment attracted a large crowd of visitors yesterday, the occasion being their annual fall opening. Their immense stock of fall and winter goods was tastefully displayed and were admired by every visitor.

Mr. F. T. Wilhite has been seriously ill the past week. This morning he is much better, and we hope he will soon be out again. His mother and sister, who have been spending a few months in Georgia, returned home last Saturday to be at his bedside.

Last Monday being salesday a large crowd was attracted to the city and everybody seemed to be busy. Considerable real estate was sold at public outcry by Probate Judge Nance and all of it brought good prices, averaging more than twelve dollars an acre.

Last Thursday morning John Smalls, a colored boy, while walking along West Market street, near the Enterprise store, fell on the sidewalk, and before a physician could reach him he was dead. A severe hemorrhage from the lungs was the cause of his death.

Last Monday morning Deputy Sheriff Dillingham went out to Portman and arrested six negroes, who had caused some trouble there on Sunday, when a crowd of them were engaged in gambling all day. Others would have been arrested had they not disappeared.

James Richie, who lives about six miles north of this city, was arrested and lodged in jail here last Saturday night by Deputy Sheriff Moss, of Walhalla. He is charged with stealing a horse in Franklin County, Ga., recently. An officer from Georgia is expected to come for the prisoner to-day.

The State Fair will be held in Columbia Oct. 9th to Nov. 2nd, inclusive. The premium list shows an increase in both the number and value of premiums. The Society offers $1,000 for the best County display—$400, $300, $200 and $100. Anderson County should arrange at once to secure one of these prizes.

Last Monday evening the Evening Literary Club was reorganized at Mr. J. A. Brock's residence by the election of the following officers: President, Prof. T. C. Walton; Vice-President, Miss Nannie Harkness; Secretary and Treasurer, Miss Fannie Watkins. Several new members were added to the roll of membership.

The cattle of Mr. E. C. Marett are dying in his pasture on his plantation, on Tugaloo river, near Fair Play, from a disease which has been pronounced "Texas tick fever." The disease broke out there the first of last week and Mr. Marett has already lost several cows. Prof. G. E. Neason, Veterinarian of Clemson College, was over there last Friday, and, after a thorough examination, pronounced the complaint to be the "Texas tick fever," or "red murrain," as formerly known in these parts.

Mr. Marett has about fifty fine cattle in his herd, and he is using every precaution to prevent the spread of the disease.—Walhalla Courier.

A slight change has been made in the schedule of one of the trains on the Blue Ridge Railroad. The train leaving Anderson in the morning for Walhalla now leaves at 8 o'clock and returns from Walhalla in the afternoon at 4.44 o'clock. This is a much more convenient schedule to the traveling public and will be appreciated.

In accordance with their announcement, C. F. Jones & Co. held their annual opening of fall and winter goods last Friday, and their many patrons and visitors were more than pleased with their grand display in every department. The millinery and dress goods departments were especially attractive to the fair sex, who made many purchases.

Mr. Evans Brown, a young farmer who lives a few miles north of the city, accidentally cut his left wrist with a broken bottle while in the city last Thursday afternoon. A deep gash was made, severing the main arteries of his arm, from which the blood flowed freely. Dr. J. C. Harris soon reached the unfortunate man, tied the arteries and sewed up the gash.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Claude Wilson, of Georgetown, S. C., died at the district parsonage, the home of Rev. J. B. Wilson, the grandfather of the little one, last Sunday morning. The child was only nine months old, and had been sick for two or three months, the parents having brought it here hoping that a change in climate would benefit it. The remains were carried to Florence for interment.

Two fire alarms in one day is something unusual in Anderson, but that was her record yesterday. About 8 o'clock yesterday morning the first alarm sounded. The fire was in a small house occupied by a negro in the north-eastern suburbs of the city, near the steam laundry, and was extinguished before the firemen reached it. The damage was slight. The second alarm called out the fire department about 1 o'clock p. m. The fire was in the two-story brick building opposite the County Jail. The building is occupied by negroes and owned by Capt. J. W. Daniels. Three steams of water were turned on the building and in a short while the firemen were the victors. The building was only slightly injured, but nearly all of its contents were destroyed or damaged. It is not known how the fire originated.

The Williamston correspondent of the Greenville News, under date of the 1st inst., says: "Barney Owens, a farmer living near Grove Creek between Pelzer and the Augusta road, met with a horrible accident yesterday afternoon that cost him his life. He had driven his mule attached to a buggy to see his son-in-law near Piedmont, and on his return the mule became frightened and dashed off, throwing him violently to the ground. His head struck a stump, knocking him senseless and fracturing his skull. The unfortunate man was carried home at once and medical aid called in, but he never regained consciousness, lingering until 4 o'clock this morning, when death relieved him. It is said that he was considerably under the influence of liquor, which doubtless accounts for his untimely death. A wife and several children survive him."

Last Saturday night about 9 o'clock at Belton, Elias Green, a negro, shot and seriously wounded Tom Henderson, an operative in the Belton cotton mill. Green and another negro were in a store near the mill when a crowd of boys from the mill came in and accused Green of having cursed one of their number a few days preceding. Green denied the charge and a quarrel ensued. The proprietor of the store ordered the whole crowd out of his door, and when Green reached the sidewalk several rocks were thrown at him. Green pulled his pistol, fired into the crowd and fled. The news of the shooting spread rapidly, considerable excitement was aroused and a crowd started out to capture the negro. In the meantime Sheriff Green was notified over the telephone of the affray and in a short while Deputy Dillingham, with his bloodhound, reached Belton and took up the trail of the fleeing negro, who was captured near Honea Path, where he had stopped to spend the night. Mr. Dillingham brought the negro at once to this city and lodged him in jail.

The Westminster correspondent of the Walhalla Courier says: "Mrs. Annie P. Brownlee, whom we reported to be desperately ill a week ago, died on Saturday morning, 22nd inst., at 8:15, and her body was laid to rest in the town cemetery on Sunday morning at half-past ten. Elder W. P. Anderson conducting the burial service. Her illness of six weeks duration was borne with Christian fortitude, patience and resignation to' very last. Mrs. Brownlee's maiden name was Baker and she was the last member of a family of twelve sons and daughters. She was born October 24, 1832, and was brought up in Anderson County, near the section known as the Dark Corner. Her husband, the late Wm. A. Brownlee, was one of Anderson County's most influential citizens. She was left a widow six years ago last May and moved to Westminster soon after her husband's death. Three children—Mrs. H. J. Tribble, of Elberton, Ga., and Mrs. W. G. Smithson and Miss Ellen Brownlee—survive her. Mrs. Brownlee was a good woman and a zealous, conscientious Christian, being a consistent member of the Presbyterian Church." The deceased has many friends and relatives in Anderson County who will regret to hear of her death.

No wonder a young man looks all broke up when his best girl throws him down.
