

TERMS: ONE YEAR, $1 50; SIX MONTHS, 75; WEDNESDAY, JAN. 2, 1901.

There should be no trouble in Congress over reapportionment under the new census, and there will not be, unless the Republicans are short-sighted enough to try to gain partisan advantage through the bill.

A happy new year to all the readers of THE INTELLIGENCER. We sincerely hope that the coming year may be one of prosperity and happiness, and trust that the Christmas season brought only good cheer to you.

According to the correspondence of a London paper, from Manila, the position of the Americans is becoming increasingly hopeless. Money is freely subscribed to purchase arms and ammunition for the insurgents.

Miss Helen Gould is plainly the kind of woman this country produced in its sturdiest and simpler days. Her modest disclaimer of special credit for her war-time generosity to the government, because "an American woman should stand ready to serve her country to the extent of her ability," is admirably patriotic in its true simplicity.

Whatever the administration may think of the action of the senate with reference to the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, it is quite certain that its Americanism appeals to the citizens of the United States. The sentiment of the country as voiced by the independent press is absolutely against the new treaty.

The heroic fight for liberty being made by the Boers of South Africa, while not securing the substantial aid of the world, has elicited its admiration. With a mere handful of men compared to their opponents, and with comparatively inferior armament they have successfully held at bay one of the greatest of modern powers, inflicting dire losses that will take even "mighty England" years to forget and overcome.

During the past year Secretary of State Cooper granted charters of thirty-one cotton milling companies, whose authorized capital aggregates $4,850,000. During the same time permission was given fourteen cotton milling companies to increase their capital, the aggregate increase of the capital authorized being $2,945,000.

The Directors of the South Carolina Interstate and West Indian Exposition will present a memorial to the Legislature at its approaching session asking the State for an appropriation of $50,000 in aid of the Exposition, and we sincerely hope that it will be unanimously granted. While this Exposition will be held in the city of Charleston, it is really a South Carolina enterprise, and every County in the State will be more or less benefited by it.

The United States Circuit Court at Kansas City has awarded damages to a person injured by a trust in what is said to be the first suit of its kind under the Sherman anti-trust law of 1890. That law, whose provisions have met varying constructions at the hands of the courts, provided that any person who shall be injured in his business or property by reason of anything declared to be unlawful by the act may sue in the federal circuit court and recover threefold the damages sustained by him and the cost of the suit.

asked, after instructions to the presiding judge which directed him to find the guilty party, and to report to the Supreme Court, and it will be interesting to know what the result will be.

The Legislature convenes in its annual session in Columbia on Tuesday, and the first important business that the lower House will have before it will be the election of a Speaker. Hon. G. E. Prince, a member of the Anderson delegation, has been urged by his many friends in various sections of the State to allow his name to be entered as a candidate for the position, and to the delight of all his friends he has finally yielded to their entreaties and will enter the race. Mr. Prince is a member of the law firm of Tribble & Prince, of this city, and no man stands higher at the bar anywhere in South Carolina to-day than he.

TERRIBLE TRAGEDY.

Three Men Killed in Abbeville, one being the Sheriff.

GREENWOOD, S. C., Dec. 30. At Abbeville last night, as a result of a drunken man's spleen and malice, three men were killed, one of whom was the Sheriff of the County. The story of the triple tragedy sounds more like an account of an occurrence in some western border town than anything that has occurred in South Carolina within recent years.

According to the story of witnesses Kyle got up from his chair and remonstrated with Dansby, but without making any demonstration of violence. Dansby drew his pistol, a .45-calibre Colt, and when a bystander grabbed his arm he quickly changed the gun to the other hand and fired, the ball striking Kyle in the abdomen. The shooting occurred so quickly that those present hardly realized what had happened.

In a short time Sheriff R. L. Kennedy with several citizens responded to the summons. They surrounded the house, the policemen being stationed at the windows and Kennedy going to the front door. Kennedy called to Dansby to come out and surrender. Dansby came out, closing the door behind him, and with the remark, "Well, we'll go to hell together," commenced firing. Dansby was shot twice, once in the leg and once full in the chest. Kennedy was struck once in the left breast near the heart. Both men emptied their pistols. Kennedy fell as soon as he was hit, but Dansby walked some fifty steps and was reloading his pistol when one of the policemen ran up and grabbed him, and took the gun out of his hand.

about 25 years old and has always been a reckless man. He was a noted gambler and has killed two or three men before. His associates were principally negroes. He was tried for the murder of a negro several years ago but came clear. He was for several years a deputy United States marshal. His wife and one child survive him. Sheriff Kennedy belonged to one of the best families in Abbeville County, and was universally popular. In the recent primary he was elected on the first ballot over several opponents, and he took charge of his office only 19 days ago. He was a man of unquestioned courage and was a splendid citizen. He was about 35 years old, was vice chancellor of Abbeville Lodge Knights of Pythias, and had $2,000 insurance in that order. He was also insured in the Woodmen of the World. He leaves a wife, who was Miss Harvey, and one child. His remains will be interred to-morrow at Lower Long Cane church, near his old home.

The people of Abbeville were overwhelmed by the tragedy. To day groups of three and four stood around the street corners in the drizzling rain discussing the affair in its details. Without dissent Dansby is blamed for the whole affair. He was a man without regard or respect for himself, and naturally cared nothing for his own life or the life of others. He had long been a terror to many who knew him. There are no tears being shed on his account, but the regret that Sheriff Kennedy should have lost his life in the attempt to arrest such a man cannot be expressed.

ABBEVILLE, Dec. 30.—Until last night no crime had happened in Abbeville County to mar the happiness of Christmas. But there are now stretched in death three strong young men, mourned by loved ones, and all Abbeville deploring the act of violence which carried them into eternity. Last night at the old Miller hotel John Dansby, a United States deputy marshal, was showing a trick with cards, or, as others have said, was gambling, while Wm. Kyle, a bystander, was looking over his shoulder. Dansby objected to Kyle's standing behind him and demanded that Kyle move away. Although he was told that no harm was meant, Dansby drew his pistol and shot Kyle through the abdomen, inflicting a wound from which the latter died to-day.

After this shooting Dansby fled in the direction of the cotton mill, and was pursued by Policemen Johnson and O'Brien, who found him on Factory Hill. At this point the services of the Sheriff, Mr. J. R. Kennedy, were requested by Chief of Police Riley, and both of these proceeded to assist in making the arrest. When Sheriff Kennedy approached to make the arrest he received a pistol shot through the breast from the hands of Dansby and immediately a fusillade began which resulted in the killing of Dansby. Sheriff Kennedy was then carried to his home at the jail, where he soon expired. He was a highly esteemed and courageous man, and had been Sheriff not quite two weeks. Dansby was a native of this County, and was 35 years old. His former home was at Verdery.—Special to Columbia State.

Mr. D. S. White, a native of this County but who has been living in Texas for a number of years, in remitting his subscription to The Intelligencer for another year, sends us the following card, which we know will be read with pleasure by his old friends: SHERMAN, TEXAS, Dec. 27. To my many friends in Anderson County: A merry Christmas and a happy New Year to each and all. I am still living in the "Lone Star State" and in the city of Sherman, Texas. Our State has been most wonderfully and abundantly blessed this year with a rich harvest of everything, and the good prices for crops have placed the farmers in the finest condition ever before in the history of the State. Wishing each and every reader of the Anderson Intelligencer long and happy lives and a prosperous New Year, I am—Respectfully, D. S. WHITE.

S. P. Martin, a Fairfield farmer, living at Rocky Mount, was shot down while standing in his doorway by some one in the dark. He died the next day. A negro supposed to have done the killing has been arrested.

A persevering gentleman in St. John, Kan., has been convicted of violating the prohibitory law by selling whiskey. There are forty-nine distinct violations of the law and he has been sentenced to forty-nine months in jail, as well as a fine of $100 for each offence. As he cannot pay the $4,900 he must spend a day in jail for each half-dollar of the fine—over 30 years altogether. Robert H. Wilcox, delegate in the House of Representatives from Hawaii, has just been paid a claim of $1,000 for mileage. It was the largest claim of the kind ever made. Every Congressman is entitled to mileage at the rate of 20 cents per mile "by the most direct and practicable route from his home to Washington and return." The distance between Honolulu and Washington is figured at 5,000 miles. Mr. Wilcox will draw $1,000 more for his return trip. Notice to Administrators, Executors, Guardians, and Trustees. ALL Administrators, Executors, Guardians, and Trustees are hereby notified to make their Annual Returns to this office during the months of January and February, as required by law. R. E. H. NANCE, Judge of Probate. Jan 2, 1901.

The Essence of Economy

Is not found in buying Groceries simply because they're low-priced, but in regard to quality, but in buying Goods that have the ring of true worthiness, and yet are priced at about same figures as are usually put upon inferior articles. This essence is here in the largest measure—the result of up-to-date principles applied to buying and selling. I buy largely and for Cash. I'm selling largely and for Cash. I get benefits of discounts. I have no bad debts. You pay for Groceries and nothing else. It all pulls down prices and saves my customers many good hard dollars that formerly went into the expense-paying account. MAKE A NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTION to buy where needless expense has been cut out. You'll find it to pay in money as well as quality. Yours for Cash Savings, C. FRANK BOLT, The Cash Grocer.

Come now while you can get a good selection of everything. Yours truly, OSBORNE & OSBORNE.

Julius H. Weil & Co. Selling of Choice Men's Clothing.

You can buy a Suit or an Overcoat at a very low price at this time. Much cheaper than you could have bought before Christmas. Not that the Goods have less value nor are they any more unreasonable. The reduced prices are accounted for by reason of the big alterations in our Store interior which will be made shortly after stock-taking. We need room. Our heavy sales and the preponderance of Stock here forces us to spread out. Hence we must continue to move out Goods even at a material sacrifice.

Men's Fine Shoes. This has been a year marked for the selling of Men's Fine Shoes. We never before carried the extensive stock that we now have, and there never has been the variety of styles here. The celebrated "Monarch Patts" at $4.00. The Patent Leather Shoe that won't break thro'. The renowned $5.00 Patent Leather Shoe. These are two special Shoes which have been very popular with us. Then our standard makes of cheap and medium price Shoes are important factors in this Store's Shoe business.

Ladies' Jackets, Capes, And Suits.

When a lady wants a nice Jacket, a Cape or a Tailor Made Suit she comes direct to this Store. Other storekeepers keep these Goods. Then why do the ladies buy their garments here? Because the buying is done by an expert Cloak and Suit man here. Because we keep an elaborate stock for selection. Because we show only the correct style. Because other storekeepers pay for these Goods the price at which we sell them. Our success in this line of Goods, as with all other lines, is distinct, viz: Individuality, buying with a perfect knowledge of value and style, and selling at a fair margin of profit.
