Last Wednesday night, on the plantation of Mr. S. W. Willford, in the Rock Mills section, Charles Little and Joseph Jones got into a difficulty, which resulted in the former cutting the latter with his pocket-knife in the neck, severing the muscles and barely escaping the artery. It is a very painful wound, and Mr. Jones is in a serious condition.

At a hot supper on P. B. Allen's plantation, near Starr, last Saturday night, a number of negroes got into a row, as usual on such occasions, and Dock Lockhart was shot and killed and several other negroes were wounded. Coroner Banister held an inquest over the dead negro, but the evidence was so contradictory that no arrests had been made up to this morning.

Ten negro convicts escaped from J. S. Fowler's stockade on his farm three miles west of this city last Friday night by sawing a hole through the floor large enough to squeeze their bodies through it. Up to last night nothing had been heard of them, and it is generally believed that they had some assistance in making their escape. Mr. Fowler has offered a reward for their capture.

One night last week some one broke into Mr. L. M. Wilson's residence in Honea Path and went through all the pockets in the house. They got two watches and about $13 in money. Strange to say, no one awoke, and there were about ten persons sleeping there. Mr. Sam Haynes took his young dogs and trailed them about half a mile to where a buggy had turned in the road and there lost the trail.

It was at a Christmas dinner that the following conversation is said to have occurred in the presence of the invited guests between an Anderson man and his wife: Husband—"I don't see how you can sit there claiming that there baby takes after you." Wife—"Why, everybody says she's the very picture of me." Husband—"That's all right, but here she is nearly nine months old and doesn't say a word." After that the wife was quiet for awhile.

Our Belton correspondent chronicles a painful accident that happened to our young friend and townsman, Chas. E. Cobb, manager of the Farmers' Oil Company, in that town last Monday night. Dr. W. H. Nardin, sr., of this city, was summoned at once to the unfortunate young man, and he soon gave out the statement that while the foot was severely mashed, amputation would not be necessary, as was at first feared. We join Mr. Cobb's many friends in wishing him a speedy recovery.

The "Watch night" services in the St. John Methodist Church last Monday night had a very happy termination, and the event was an agreeable surprise to the large congregation present. Just before the benediction was pronounced at 12 o'clock the pastor, Rev. J. B. Campbell, announced that there was a young couple in the congregation who desired the connubial knot tied and requested them to come forward to the altar. As everybody's eyes turned in various directions, Mr. John J. Norris and Miss Helen Hill marched up the aisle and were soon joined in the holy bonds of wedlock. The bride, who lived at Victoria, N. C. was in the city on a visit and is a most excellent young lady. The groom is the youngest son of Capt. P. K. Norris, of this city, and is a most worthy, upright young man. May their journey through life be a happy and prosperous one.

The Columbia State, of Dec. 27th, says: "On Saturday evening Mr. W. W. Toland, the well known and popular engineer of the Southern Railway, had a congestive chill, from the effects of which he had to go to bed. On Christmas night he suffered another and at 9:30 o'clock died at his home on Main street in this city. "Bill" Toland was one of the most popular engineers in the service. He was about 37 years of age and was a native of Belton. His friends were shocked to hear of his death. He leaves a young wife, who was a daughter of Mrs. Annie Ottiano. He was a member of the B. L. of E. and of the Knights of Pythias. Mr. Toland had been a faithful employe of the Southern for many years. The funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the residence, the interment being at Elmwood. Members of the two orders referred to acted as pallbearers." The deceased has many friends and relatives in Anderson County who will be pained to hear of his death.

"Watch night" services were held in the St. John Methodist Church last Monday night. An interesting programme had been arranged for the occasion, and was highly enjoyed by the large congregation.

An Enjoyable Occasion.

The annual oyster supper of the Camp of Woodmen of the World in this city last Thursday night was one of the most genuinely enjoyable events of the closing year of the century for the sovereigns and their guests. The banquet was served in the Lodge room of the Masonic Temple, and was prepared in the ante-room by expert cooks, in a most appetizing way, under the management of a committee, of whom Policeman W. B. King did the bossing to perfection. The menu was simple and consisted of oysters, in any style you might desire them, coffee, fruits, &c. Two long tables reached from one end of the hall to the other, and if every person sitting around them did not get his appetite served to its full capacity it was his own fault, for the committee, with their many assistants, were ever ready and anxious to bring you more of the good things. As each one finished devouring and discussing the royal feast, cigars were passed around, and in a short time the assembly was called to order by J. W. Quattlebaum, Esq., who, in a few interesting and appropriate remarks, explained the objects and work of the Woodmen. At the conclusion of his remarks Mr. Quattlebaum called on Mayor Tolly, who responded in his usual happy style. The following gentlemen were then called out in the order named: Rev. J. B. Campbell, Rev. J. D. Chapman, J. E. Breeseale, E. M. Rucker, Jr., Rev. W. T. Capers, D. H. Russell, C. C. Langston, B. F. Martin, W. H. Frierson, Dr. J. P. Duckett, J. L. Tribble, G. C. Sullivan and Prof. T. C. Walton. Nearly all of these gentlemen responded, and for an hour or more there was an interesting flow of wit and eloquence. The sovereigns with their visiting brethren and guests departed for their homes feeling that a most delightful evening had been spent. This Camp is one of the most popular organizations in the city and one of the largest in the State, and at every meeting is adding new names to its roll of membership.

Another Good Citizen Gone to Reap His Reward.

Last Thursday morning a telegram brought the sad news to Anderson that our popular fellow-townsmen, Mr. Frank T. Wilhite, had passed from time into eternity at an early hour that morning in the Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, Md., where he had been under treatment for several weeks for a complicated disease that had baffled the skill of the attending physicians. The announcement was no shock to his friends, for it had been expected any day for a week or more preceding his death. His devoted mother and sister and brother, Dr. J. O. Wilhite, were at his bedside when he breathed his last. He was conscious almost to his last breath, and after sending kind messages to many of his intimate friends here, urged his loved ones not to grieve over his departure, for he was fully prepared to meet the blessed Saviour, whom he had served so well and faithfully in this life.

The remains arrived in the city last Friday afternoon and, at the request of the deceased, were kept until 12 o'clock to-day, when they were laid to rest in the First Baptist Churchyard with Masonic honors, after funeral services conducted in the Church by his pastor, Rev. J. D. Chapman.

Mr. Wilhite was the eldest son of the late Dr. P. A. Wilhite, and was born in Anderson March 16, 1857. He received a good English education mainly under the late Prof. W. J. Ligon, and at an early age began the study of pharmacy under his lamented father. He soon received a certificate, after a rigid examination from the Pharmaceutical Association of South Carolina. In 1886 he graduated from the Chicago College of Pharmacy, and then entered the National Institute of Pharmacy, from which he graduated, after two years of hard study, in 1888. Mr. Wilhite missed several of the examinations at the latter Institute, but at the final test came off third in a class of one hundred students. In 1879 he began the drug business as a partner of his father, which continued until the latter's death, since which time Mr. Wilhite has continued the business. He had a large and successful business, and gave his whole time and attention to it.

Mr. Wilhite was always ready to take a hand in anything that would help advance the best business interests of Anderson and was identified with many of the leading industries of the town. He was a moving spirit in the building of the Hotel Chiquola, and took an active part in the erection of Masonic Temple. He served several terms as an Alderman, and was a public spirited citizen in its broadest sense.

The writer suffers a personal loss in the death of Mr. Wilhite, with whom we have been intimately associated since our boyhood days. He was always the true, the noble and the unselfish friend. He was a humble Christian, having been since his boyhood a devoted member of the Baptist Church. Charitable in all things, high-minded and honorable in his dealings with men, hopeful and courageous in the battle of life, it is not wonderful that he drew to himself a host of friends and received the plaudits of his fellow-men. He possessed a most modest, gentle disposition, and his hand was ever open for the succor of the unfortunate. His wide circle of friends knew him as an affable, courtly, kindly gentleman, and will long cherish his memory. Our sympathies go out to the sorely bereaved mother, sister and brother in their sorrow.

CONSTITUTION'S CENTURY OFFER

$2500 CASH.

THE AGENTS BEST CHANCE.

New Year, New Agents, New Methods.

The Constitution now offers $2500.00 in Cash Prizes to agents for the very best agents work during the first quarter of the first year of the new century. Omitting all contests, except for agents, they place the whole sum to the agent's credit and make the terms equitable for distributing it over the whole territory. To arrange this the South has been divided into four sections, as follows:

- 1st Section. Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Florida. 2d Section. Tennessee, Alabama and Mississippi. 3d Section. Georgia. 4th Section. Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas, Indian Territory and Oklahoma.

This making about an equal number of subscriptions according to The Constitution's list as it now stands.

THE CASH PRIZES ARE

- For the highest list from ANY agent, Jan. 1st to April 1st, 1901, from WHOLE Territory... $400.00 For the highest list in EACH of the above four divisions from Jan. 1st to April 1st, 1901. AFTER the above 1st general prize is awarded... 300.00 For the second highest list for the three months in each section... 100.00 For the third highest list for the three months in each section... 50.00 For the fourth highest list for the three months in each section... 25.00 For the fifth highest list for the three months in each section... 15.00 For the sixth highest list for the three months in each section... 10.00

- Six prizes in each section... $500.00 Total for four sections... $2000.00 For the ten next highest lists from the whole territory at random, not taking any of above prizes, $10.00 each... $100.00

Total Cash Prizes from January 1st to April 1st, 1901... $2500.00

The subscribers to be renewed for the three months covered by this contest are 48300 names. These with the new subscriptions secured will doubtless run the list up appreciably in every section. Every newspaper reader in the whole South will be given an opportunity to get on our list.

The Constitution wants good agents everywhere. Men who will get out and canvass and hustle for new business. Many who have to go over their and adjoining counties on business can take The Constitution along as the best side line. Country doctors, tax collectors, rural route mail carriers, nursery men, farmers and good workmen, could all realize among these prizes and make their commission besides. A fair salary proposition for any man.

The Weekly-Constitution makes special features of its agricultural page, which is presided over by Colonel R. J. Redding, director of the Georgia experiment farm, and a man who is recognized as an expert on all agricultural topics. He gives a full page every week on agricultural matters. A page is devoted to the women and a page to children, these two departments being presided over by Mrs. William King. The Constitution has just completed the 31st year of its existence, Clark Howell being the editor and Colonel W. A. Hemphill its business manager. Its name is a household word in every Southern State, from Virginia to Texas. It has always been in especially close touch with the agricultural masses of the South, and in having reached a circulation which carries it into 150,000 homes it has won a unique distinction which ranks it among the greatest of American weekly newspapers.

The Constitution will send a sample copy of its great Weekly free to any one sending his own name and the names of six neighbors, on a postal card.

Every man should take his county newspaper before anything else, and next to this he should take a good general newspaper, such as The Constitution. His county paper gives him the local home news, which is not supplied by a newspaper furnishing the general news from all parts of the country and from all over the world. Before a man seeks information from outside, he should first feel sure that he is being kept posted on what is going on at home. When, however, the opportunity is offered to get the best weekly newspaper in this country with your home paper, the inducement is such as to elicit prompt response from our readers.

We will be glad to receive clubbing subscriptions with this paper and The Constitution, and if there are any who are now subscribers to this paper, who wish to take The Constitution also, we will be glad to receive subscriptions to the latter and forward them, having authority from that paper that to do so.

The Constitution should be in every Southern home!
