The Anderson Fertilizer Co. has a new advertisement in another column, to which we direct the attention of our farmers especially. This is a home en-terprise and should be liberally patronized by our people. Read the advertisement, call and see the fertilizers and learn the prices. Gov. McSweeney has pardoned John Murphy and Lee Owens, two negro boys, who were convicted with Jap. Rhodes, a white man, of arson in 1895 and sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary. Ex-Solicitor Ansel endorsed the lengthy petition that had been sent in from this County asking for their pardon. The commission appointed by South Carolina Presbytery to organize a Presbyterian Church at Belton will meet in the Academy at that place next Sabbath afternoon at 3.80 o'clock, Some member of the commission will preach at the same time and place, and the public is cordially invited to be present. Acting under the advice of his physician Policeman W. B. King has been forced to temporarily retire from the Anderson police force for two or three months. John A. Hays has been elected his successor. Mr. King made a most efficient officer, and we hope his health will soon permit him to resume his dutics.

Attention is directed to the new advertisement of E. G. Evans, Jr. & Co., of Pendleton. These gentlemen keep a complete line of drugs, medicines, etc., and sell them at prices that will please you. Dr. R. B. Day, of Pendleton, has resumed the practice of medicine, and makes his headquarters at

We are often asked why there are not some of our ac a siceas to be found in the INTELLOLNCER, SO WO VENTURE to send in a few items of gossip, that your readers, who have relatives and friends sejourning with us, may in this way learn of their ingoings and outcomings.

We lose from our cotorie of best young men J. Oscar Callaham, who has been engaged in mercantile pursuits in our town for the past four years, and in the emyloy of the "People's Store Co." since its origin, during which time he has made firm friends of all with whom he has been associated in a business or social relation. He will become a resident of your city Feb. 1st, and act in the capacity of salesman for Hall Brothers, your up-to-date meichauts. He will be followed by the best wishes of all his Piedmont friends. Our new pastor at the Methodist Church, Rev. Peter Stokes, is mining golden opinions from every one who has been privileged to hear him. He is a fluent, forceful speaker, confining his line of thought expressed to his text, in consequence his sermons are concise and to the point and his manner of presentation is such as to intensely interest his hearers as well as convince them of this truth embodied in his arguments and exhortations.

Col. J. L. Orr goes to Columbia today to mest in company with other mill managers the committee on educational matters representing that august body, the Legislature of South Carolina assembled. We think the proper thing to be done in the matter of a child labor bill is for the honorabis body to let it entirely alone until the conditions of child labor and education are so promoted as to insure the children in the rural districts one-half the educational advantages offered by our mill management in their ten months of school per year and libraries filled with instructive books, to which old and young have free access. We have no doubt that there are some of our Legislative solons who are looking forward to the presentation of the Child Labor bill with interse longing, are already prepared to inject into the Assembly torrents of lurid bosh about the "pale faced infant toiling in the mill" "from daylight until dark," etc., etc., and dilate with words of burned out eloquence upon a condition of affairs that only exists in their own warped and distorted imaginations. The cotton mill industry in our State has proven one of paramount importance, and has been a gocse that has laid many a golden egg for wise investors, and brought comfort and good to thousands employed. If any of our legislators do not want to keep a goose, don't try to kill ours by acts detrimental to the interests of employer and employed.

Married, by Justice J. C. Mitchell, Miss Dina Powell to Ira Page, of Sandy Flat, formerly an expert weaver in No. 2 mill. The groom has recently rented a farm and essayed bachelor housekeeping, one week of which sufficed for him and he returned to us with singed eyebrows and dough in his hair, and on the north side of his pants enough to nourish a small family a month. All is now changed and he has returned to his farm singing, "oh, Solitude. where are the charms that sages elect." Our genial townsman, H. Mid. Prince, and his estimable wife gave a little supper party Saturday evening last, to which were bidden as guests Miss Mamie Donnald, Miss May Lou Majors, Prof. Martin, J. Ollie Haynes and your scribe. A most enjoyable event was participated in. Bro. Prince and wife are "hosts beyond compare." The Misses Lou and Carrie Blackstone, of Park Row. entertained 20 of their friends to tea Saturday evening. Parker's Orchestra discoursed entertaining music for the enjoyment of the fortunate guests, adding greatly to the enjoyment of the occasion.
