Luther Jones alias Tom Johnson, an escaped convict from the State penitentiary, was shot and probably fatally wounded last Monday by Constable S. A. Haynes near Honea Path. Jones was tried and convicted of arson in Orangeburg. He served from June, 1893, until June 23, 1897, when he escaped and up to-day has been at large. W. H. Soudley of the commissary department of the State penitentiary arrived in Honea Path Monday morning. He, in company with Constable Haynes, drove to the Newt Mitchell farm, finding Jones at work there. The constable asked for Mr. Mitchell and was told that he was down to the house. The constable said: "You are the man I came for, Tom." At that time the negro raised his axe to make an attack when the constable pulled his gun and fired two shots, one ball hitting the negro in the fleshy part of the right leg, the other ball entered the left side passing almost through the body. The negro was at once carried to Dr. Shirley's drug store and was cared for. He died yesterday afternoon. It was said by all eye witnesses that the constable was justified in doing the shooting, not only because Jones was a desperate negro, but because he was protecting his own life while in performance of his duty.

An Appeal for the Confederate Monument.

We have asked the children of Anderson to raise the last fifty dollars of our fund for the Confederate Monument. We believe they will do it. We ask the teachers of our County schools to help us in this. Talk to your pupils of this Monument, tell them of the brave men who wore the gray, especially of those who went from our County, and so arouse an interest in this memorial. We hope to lay the corner stone by the middle of April and have the Monument complete early in May. We want to have the entire amount, $3,500, ready by that time. All who wish the privilege of helping in this memorial are asked to do so at once. DENORA HUBBARD.
