WEDNESDAY, MAY 15, 1901.

The center of population in this country has moved westward only fourteen miles in the last ten years.

The State of last Thursday was one of the most valuable and interesting papers ever issued in Columbia. It contained sixteen pages, giving a glowing account of secession from its infancy, and should be preserved by every one of its subscribers for its historical value.

A Baltimore preacher who does not believe in deathbed repentance says that preachers should not be allowed to attend people who are ill. "The sick bed is not the place of the transfiguration of the lives of individuals," he says, and maybe this is true, but any place where mortals are in trouble ought to be a good place for a minister of the gospel.

The Staudard Oil Company has been warning patrons of an independent concern that they will be blacklisted, and when the smaller concern is crushed, will not be allowed to buy oil from the monopoly. This is a foreshadowing of the trust methods and hints at what may be expected in many other lines of trade rapidly coming under the influence of combinations.

Pessimism makes the burdens of life much harder to bear. If we could look on the bright side of everything and not cross the bridges until we get to them, how much lighter our burdens and how trivial would many difficulties become. Often imaginary wrongs and burdens are ten fold harder to bear than real ones. Much of the sorrow and heartaches of this life grow out of imaginary wrongs and slights. When we laugh the world laughs with us. Take up your burdens of life with laughing hearts and smiling lips, and the world will cheer you on to success. Sit down and weep and the world will let you sorrow yourself into the grave.

We have received a pamphlet entitled "Experiments with Fertilizers," which has been issued by the Experimental farm of the North Carolina State Horticultural Society for gratuitous distribution among farmers. The object of this publication is to instruct farmers how they can carry out practical field tests on a simple scale, to show which combinations of plant food are needed. At the North Carolina Experiment farm they have the most complete line of experimental work on fruits and vegetables inaugurated in this country, and the little book indicated is quite in keeping with the work of the farm. It can be had free of charge, by addressing the Superintendent of Experiment Farm, Southern Pines, N. C.

There is reason to believe that the movement of population from the country to the city is subsiding and that farming is becoming more popular. It ought to. Farming properly followed is as sure and good a business as any other. It may be a slow process of acquiring a competence, but it is the most certain and the most independent one. With industry and economy a comfortable living can be made by cultivating the soil, with less labor and risk than by any other honest method known. The past 50 years have done fully as much for the development of agriculture as they have for any other science or profession. The knowledge obtained has but opened up newer and larger fields of research, and nature is having a harder time than she ever had before to keep her secrets hidden from man.

As year after year rolls by and the Confederate Veterans gather in their annual reunions and form into the parade the line of march is growing shorter and shorter, their footsteps, as they tramp along the avenues, are not so firm and confident as they were. The empty sleeves are there, and the wooden stump, but they are not so frequent now. The breeze that lifts the hair about their temples finds that the locks are thinner than they were, and the heads that are bared before the reviewing stand are whiter than a year ago. And we feel and know that the Veteran is meeting and battling with a silent and stubborn foe, and that Time must conquer soon, and in that victory there will be no quarter shown, and that early in this new century a funeral cortege will go out, bearing the body of the last survivor of the civil war, and over his grave no comrade's voice can say the requiem, no comrade fire the last salute. But let us hope that this will be a happy passing from the tasks, the trials and perplexities of life, and that in a better world the Veterans may meet a eternal and celebrate a great reunion, where they, together with all their comrades who fell in battle and those who have since passed "over the river," may pass in grand review before the noble leaders who have gone before, saluting Lee, Jackson, Davis and others. The proud sons and daughters of these Veterans will ever cherish their memory and hand down to coming generations a record of their forefathers that they can ever point to with pride.

Mountain Spring News.

The school here closed Friday night with a lively and greatly enjoyed exhibition. The pupils did well, considering the short time they have been in getting it up. The exercises were closed with a beautiful drill and song. In the drill the girls wore white blouses with red sailor collars, four-in-hand ties and white skirts. The boys wore the same kind of blouses with white knee pants. The marching and calisthenics were very pretty. The closing song was very appropriate and was sweetly sung. Excellent music was furnished by the Piedmont String Band. If you have anything on hand and require some up-to-date music the Piedmont String Band is the idea.

The crowd here Friday night was very large. People were here from far and near. Among the visitors were Miss Lyde Walters, sister of our teacher, of Greenville, and Mr. R. A. Gentry, of Greenville, and others too numerous to mention. Though the crowd was so great, there was never better order.

Miss Nelle Walters, as teacher, has done some good work here this winter and spring. She says she never taught a school where the pupils averaged brighter or more eager to teach.

One of our girls has not been throwing kisses at red birds for the last two weeks for nothing. Her wish certainly did come true. One other, though, we think was badly disappointed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wigington and little son, J. T., of Piedmont, visited the family of Mr. J. T. Wigington at Newell Saturday.

Mrs. J. C. Wigington will spend the week with Mrs. J. T. Wigington.

Misses Oena and Anna Wilson, of Mt. Airy, and Miss Mourning Moore and Edward King, of Mountain Spring, visited at Mr. Ellis Tripp's Saturday and attended Church at Corinth Sunday.

Next time you meet the String Band give its members our best wishes.

ONLY TWO.

Aaron News.

Rain is very much needed in this section.

Mrs. Lettie Shirley, of Belton, has been visiting in our burg recently.

Mr. L. W. Gentry is in very declining health at this writing. His many friends wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. Hamp Leach was sick for a few days last week.

Mrs. R. S. McCully, of Anderson, visited relatives in this section Sunday.

We had the pleasure of hearing a very forcible sermon at Hopewell Sunday by Rev. Wm. Brown, of Anderson. The pastor, Rev. O. J. Copeland, being absent.

Miss Maggie Kay and brother, Miss Mary Lewis, and Mr. Will Breazeale, of Belton, worshipped at Hopewell Sunday. They visited Misses Maude and Hattie Guyton Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Henry Richardson and Miss Nina Breazeale, of Lebanon, also worshipped at Hopewell and visited Miss Carrie Martin in the afternoon.

Rev. Mr. Rogers preached an interesting sermon at Trinity on Sabbath, 5th inst., from the text "I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ," etc., and it was also arranged to have the annual Children's Day on the first Sabbath in June, when there will be also Quarterly Conference.

Pendleton Items.

Mr. R. E. Sloan and daughter, Miss Elouise, attended the Reunion in Columbia last week.

Mr. and Mrs. James T. Hunter have been visiting in Greenville.

Mrs. K. Maxwell and daughter, Olive, of Walhalla, have been visiting relatives and friends in Pendleton.

Mr. T. O. Jenkins attended the Reunion in Columbia.

Mr. W. J. Martin attended the Reunion as a delegate from Camp Tally Simpson.

Mr. and Mrs. John Zachary, of Oakway, have been visiting Mrs. B. F. Gantt.

Capt. A. T. Smythe, of Charleston, paid a short visit to his Summer home here.

M. F. H. Pelzer and son, of Charleston, were here for a few days last week.

Misses Caroline, Maude, Edith and Beatrice Miller, of New York, are here for the Summer.

Mr. W. Y. Hall bought some candy last Saturday, which he took home to his family, and all who ate of it were made very sick. It is supposed that some poison must have dropped on the candy accidentally before it was shipped here. Others bought and eat of the candy, but it did not affect them. The merchant who sold the candy is above reproach. We are glad to say that Mr. Hall and family are better.

Since our last writing the big picnic and Memorial Day was held and everybody says it was the grandest success of any occasion that Pendleton has had in many a day.

TELL TALK.

—Edison, who is quite deaf, was recently visited by an ear specialist, who offered to cure him. "What," exclaimed the wizard of electricity, "and give us a great advantage I have over you fellows? Why, I need my deafness in my business, because no matter how much noise may be in my neighborhood it does not annoy me or distract my attention from work. Cure my deafness—not much—at least not until I am too old to work!"

Neal's Creek News.

Quite a number of our people attended the Singing Convention at Eureka. We will no longer hear the merry voices of the children going to and from school, and will miss the pleasant smile of our teacher, Miss Louise Anderson. School closed Friday, the 29th of April, with a fishing party at Carpenter's mill.

Miss Russia Kay is spending some time with relatives at Fair Play.

Miss Mattie Hall, of Anderson, spent Saturday and Sunday with her cousin, Miss Lizzie Smith, and attended the Singing Convention.

Miss Lizzie Smith took in the excursion to Atlanta and reports quite a pleasant time.

Miss Allie Major and mother spent Saturday with Mr. J. J. Major, of Anderson.

NIXEY.

Reunion in Louisville in 1902.

The people of Louisville will make a determined effort to have the Twelfth Reunion of the United Confederate Veterans meet there in 1902. It is the only instance on record of a city thus seeking the privilege of entertaining the men who wore the gray the second time. No one can question the earnest and sincere hospitality of the people of Kentucky in this movement. It comes from a feeling of genuine admiration for the Confederate soldiers, and is the exhibition of the highest appreciation of the claim of the Southern armies to a chief place among the world's heroes.

The weather during the Tenth Reunion at Louisville in 1900 was most execrable. It was unprecedented, and the citizens of Louisville claim that they did not have an opportunity, by reason of the weather, to show their real love and hospitality in the matter of the entertainment of these heroes. Every class of people have joined in this invitation. The money to provide for this entertainment is already assured, and if the veterans do come, Louisville will make such provision for them as will gladden their hearts and leave memories and recollections of kindness and generosity which will never die.—The Lost Cause.

—Fine feathers may not make fine birds, but they make soft pillows.
—Fame won by doing good is deplorably rare, but it is eminently Christ like.
—Men are just as good as their daily lives indicate them to be and no better.
—It is proposed to illuminate the Yosemite Falls, 2,000 feet in height, by use of twenty arc lights in connection with means for producing color effects. Some of the roads are also to be lighted with electricity.

START RIGHT BY BUYING THE Champion Binder!

It is all that the name implies. Their advantages over all other Binders are briefly these:
The Force Feed Elevator which prevent choking and loss of grain.
The Eccentric Wheel which gives increased power for binding, and relieves the machine and horse from strain during this operation.
The Relief Rake which keeps the inner end of the Cutter Bar clear of weeds and undergrowth in all conditions.
These inventions are found only on the Champion. In all other features the Champion is as well adapted for all kinds of work as other Binders.

QUALITY, QUANTITY, SERVICE.

These are perhaps the three strongest points of my business. The combination of the trio make—Bolt's the Ideal Store at which to Deal.
First, you're assured of quality. Reliable goods, and these only are sold over my counter. I won't handle inferior stuff.
Quantity means getting enough of it for your money, and enough more of it here to make it profitable to you, and it's a way quantity wins quantity.
The services include not only the two others but polite and generous treatment, prompt fighting of whatever should happen to go wrong, prompt delivery of your goods, and all else that enter into the business of giving you complete satisfaction.
Commencing May 1st I will give you a discount of 25 per cent. or 50 in trade for $20.00 worth of tickets. All checks before this date will be redeemed as heretofore, and cash back will be sold at 25 per cent discount. I make this reduction to give you easier prices.
