Come! See! Compare!

Comparisons are said to be odious. Not so with us. It is a pleasure for us to compare our Goods and Prices with ethers. WE have CONFIDENCE in them. A large per cent of the trading public have this confidence also. An unbiased, unprejudiced comparison will convince you that for honest, square dealings there is no better place to trade than ours.

During the past few days there have been rains throughout this county, which will prove of great value to all of the growing crops and more especially to small grain. As corn and forage are so scarce this year it is a matter of no little importance to the farmers that there should be a large yield from their oat crop.

All dealers in tobacco, snuff and pigars who will have on hand July 1, 1901, a sufficient quantity to entitle them to a rebate of ten dollars or more under Act of March 2, 1901, should immediately send their names to Anson C. The Atlanta Journal of the 18th inst., says: "Dr. George Brown, of Atlanta, chairman of the Georgia delegation to the American congress of tuberculosis, now in session at New York, has been selected a delegate to the World's Congress of Tuberculosis, which meets in London next August. In view of the fact that the selection of the Atlanta specialist was made from hundreds of eminent physicians coming from every portion of the western hemisphere, the honor is one that will not be overlooked. Dr. Brown was recently appointed by Governor Candler to head the Georgia physicians at the congress in New York and was invited by officers of the organization to read a paper before the meeting. The congress was held at the Hotel Majestic and was presided over by Dr. Clark Bell, president, of the Medico-Legal society. It was one of the most important medical gatherings of recent years and will only be excelled in magnitude by the approaching affair in London, at which Dr. Brown wil! be honored with a seat as a delegate from America." Dr. Brown, who is a native of Anderson County, has many friends in this section who will be more than pleased to bear of this honor that has been conferred upon Numerous "so-called" improvements have from time to time been made on the old original Brooks Cotton Planters. All such so-called improvements have proven but short-lived failures and today there is no implement on the market that will distribute the seed as perfectly or that can be as easily manipulated as the old original Brook's Planter. A great many of the Planters on the market are but half-made, of very poor material; but Nullivan How. Co. have a Planter thoroughly well-made, of the very best material, with a heavy-wrought iron strap securely belted around the box of each Planter.
