A considerable electrical storm passed over this section last Saturday afternoon and for several miles South of the city there was a heavy rainfall. In the city a number of the telephones were damaged. Lightning struck a house at the Riverside Mill and slightly damaged it. Mr. E. W. Stewart, Just beyond the Southern limits of the city, was forced to leave a field where he was plowing and go to his house. He hitched his horse under a shelter adjoining his stable, and in a few minutes lightning struck the stable, slightly damaging it and killing his horse. A Mr. McGill, living near Deans, also had a valuable cow killed about the same time.

Miss Margaret Ayres died in this city last Saturday morning about 3 o'clock after a briefillness. The announcement of her death was a great shock to many of her friends, a number of whom not knowing that her illness was of a serious nature. Miss Ayres was a native of Kentucky but came to Anderson about four years ago from Virginia to teach music, and during her stay here has been quite successful in her work, always having a large class of students. She was a devoted member of the Episcopal Church and for a long time served as organist for Grace Church. She was a most charming woman and by her kind, genial disposition made a friend of every acquaintance. Her who came to Anderson Saturday to attend the funeral, which took place at Grace Church last Sunday morning and were conducted by Rev. C. McBee, of Greenville.

Mr. Clarence Richey was accidentally killed by his horse near his home in Lexington, Ky., on Tuesday, 25th ult. He was out driving when he noticed a loose shoe on one of the horse's hind feet. Getting out of his vehicle he pulled the shoe off and fell against the horse, which became frightened and kicked Mr. Richey in the breast, knocking him down. As he got up the horse again kicked him, striking him in the head and causing his death in a few minutes. The deceased was well known in Anderson, having resided here several years, and has many friends here who deeply regret his death. He was twice married, his first wife, who was a Miss Ruddock, having died here and was buried in the Presbyterian Churchyard. Three children by this marriage and a widow and one child by his second marriage survive him. The remains were brought here last Thursday and interred beside his first wife, Rev. J. B. Campbell conducting the funeral services.
