WEDNESDAY, AUG 7, 1901.

The New York World says: "Hot weather is as much a part of the American routine as is cold weather. And both are equally valuable. A succession of good, roaring hot sweat, stops the heavy, fat-making diet of cool weather, gives man a complete change. And of course it is necessary in nature to grow and ripen the crops. If one suffers from the heat—really suffers—the fact is not the heat's but the individual's. It means that one is not in his proper condition of the body. A sound healthy brain and body will work just as well in hot weather as in cold, if their owner uses them intelligently."

The reply of Senator McLaurin to the Democratic Executive Committee of the State will appear in our next issue. It did not reach us in time for this publication. We refrain from special comments, because the condition of politics is at a point where we think the people should read and judge for themselves. There are important issues square up against the people, and we do not feel that our information on these issues warrant us in undertaking to try to lead, or even suggest, to our subscribers a proper and safe course. We have great confidence in the people, and venture the suggestion that they read and decide for themselves, being slow to form their opinions. There should be no prejudice, but a calm, reflective spirit which will give them an intelligent insight into these matters.

Prof. H. W. Wiley, in Lestie's Weekly says that no food product containing a preservative should ever be offered for sale without a plain statement on the label of the package showing the character of the preservative and the amount employed. In the same category with preservatives, though not open to the same serious objection, are the coloring matters which are often used in foods. The butter which is commonly found upon our market is colored with a coal tar dye. Canned peas and beans have the green color of the vegetables preserved by copper. Preserved meats and sausages are made to imitate in color the fresh products from which they have been made by artificial coloring matters. I would not assert that all coloring matters in food products be forbidden by law, but the law should require in each case a statement on the package showing the character of the coloring matter and the amount of it in the product.

The meeting held at Pendleton on Saturday last for the purpose of pushing forward the propriety and necessity of building a home for our gallant old Confederate Veterans, is very gratifying. Anderson, Pickens and Oconee Counties were represented and the entire spirit of the occasion indicated the strongest possible desire that the matter should be taken up by the Legislature at the next session and an appropriation made, which would be a credit to the patriotism of the State. These old Veterans are rapidly passing away, and it is a slur upon the State that we are making no effort in their behalf, not so much, even, as to keep them from the poor house. The small amount which would fall as a charge on the taxpayers of the State to meet the appropriation made would scarcely be enough to remind them that they had been patriotic and instrumental in saving the State from a burning shame. This matter should not lag, but be taken up at once. Already Anderson County has one old Veteran in the poor house, and we tell it to the people with feelings of deep mortification. The orator of the day at Pendleton Saturday last was Capt. T. J. Mauldin, of Pickens, introduced by the chairman, Col. J. C. Stribling. He made an eloquent and impressive speech. Col. Richard W. Simpson followed in his characteristic style and offered the following resolutions:

"Whereas, the surviving Confederate Veterans are rapidly passing away and soon we shall know them no more forever, and whereas, many of these old soldiers are decrepit and poor and unable to earn a support by reason of disabilities, the result of their magnificent defence of their country during four years that has made the name of 'Confederate soldier' forever famous. These, if not provided for, will be compelled to pass the remainder of their days in the county poor house. Therefore, be it

Resolved, "That we, the citizens of Anderson, Pickens and Oconee Counties, this day here assembled, sympathizing with these old and indigent veterans of our Lost Cause do respectfully and earnestly petition the General Assembly of South Carolina to provide a home for these brave and worthy men in which they may spend the remainder of their days, honored and cared for by a grateful people.

"Resolved further, That we request our members to bring the matter to the attention of the Legislature at the next session, and also request the other counties of the State to unite with us and secure the speedy accomplishment of this laudable purpose."

These resolutions were seconded by Gen. M. L. Bonham, of Anderson, who made one of his elegant and eloquent speeches, which always team with patriotism when on the theme of the "Lost Cause." We sincerely trust this matter will be taken up by the next Legislature, and that we will soon see the erection of this home begun. What Henry W. Grady accomplished by individual effort in our sister State, can surely be accomplished here by the combined effort of our patriotic men and women.

Comparing the Government's income for the fiscal year just ended with that ended four years ago, says the New York Herald, there was an increase of $10,500,000 in miscellaneous receipts, $62,250,000 increase in receipts from customs and $159,000,000 increase from internal revenue. High and continued war taxes, with the consuming power of the people increased by several years of prosperity, gave the Treasury during the year just ended the record-breaking income of $579,000,000, besides $6,500,000 received from the Pacific railroads. Expenditures increased $22,000,000, reaching $510,000,000, a record which, with the exception of the Spanish war year was never equalled since the Civil War. Despite this extravagance, the income exceeded the regular outgo by $75,000,000. The reduction in revenue taxes which went into effect on July 1 is calculated to cut about $40,000,000 off the receipts for the year now begun, but the end of the Chinese campaign and the withdrawal of troops from the Philippines may offset this and make the surplus for the new year as large as ever. There should be a further reduction of taxes, when Congress meets, for a surplus of even $30,000,000 is an incentive to extravagance and corruption, in addition to which the withdrawal of these large sums from circulation constantly disturbs the money markets and compels the Treasury to resort to clumsy and wasteful methods to get the money out again.

Holland's Store.

Children's day was celebrated at Cross Roads church last Saturday. Hon. J. B. Leverett, the Superintendent of the Sunday School, presided and stated the object of the meeting and introduced the little speakers. The exercises in the forenoon consisted of speeches and recitations by the little boys and girls of the Sunday School. The whole program was exceedingly well gotten up and reflected credit on the managers, the church and the community. In the afternoon Rev. I. W. Wingo and Mr. Martin, a young lawyer of Anderson, addressed the audience, the former in interest of Furman University and the Greenville Female College and the latter on education and consecration. Both of the gentlemen made fine impressions on the people.

The singing was led by Prof. J. T. Milford, and was not by any means the least enjoyable part of the program. Helen Earle, the five-year old daughter of Mrs. J. B. Cooley, died last Thursday and was buried at the Presbyterian cemetery at Anderson Friday. The little one was afflicted with scarlet fever and other complications. We note with pleasure the improvement of the other children in the same family.

Prof. Locke, who is instructing a class in music at Ruhnau, will wind up with a concert next Thursday night at the church. Those not connected with the school will be charged ten cents admittance.

Quite a number of our people attended the Hartwell camp meeting last Sunday and report a large crowd and a pleasant time.

The Bible Institute will be held at Shiloh next Saturday and Sunday and the meeting will doubtless continue for some days.

Mrs. Josie Dobbins, of Royston, Ga., is with her sister, Mrs. Holland, for a few weeks.

Miss Essie Caudle, of Anderson, is spending this week with friends in this neighborhood.

Crops are needing rain. Since writing the above we have had fine rains and everybody is feeling better.

— From France and not America comes the latest novelty in insurance, says a London correspondent. Up to the present the Yankees have led the way in innovations, and many of them have been grafted on to English and French systems, but so far no American company has been bold enough to insure a candidate for parliamentary honors against risk of failure at the polls. A French company, however, has undertaken this work.

— A woman of New Britain, Conn., who is a Christian Scientist, maintains that mosquitoes have brains and reasoning powers, that it is "outrageous" to kill the "little harmless insects," and that all that is necessary is to reason with them. She says: "If a mosquito is troubling you, just speak to him kindly and say, 'Look here, my friend, you leave me alone and I'll leave you alone.' Then believe that he won't bite you! Even if he does his sting won't hurt. I have done this for years and now enjoy having the pretty little things around and listen to their musical buzz."

GENERAL NEWS.

— Hans Jesen, a Dane, recently appeared before the Judge of the District Court held in Garnet, Kan., to be naturalized. At the close of the usual examination the Judge asked the applicant: "Hans, are you satisfied with the general conditions in this country? Does this Government suit you entirely?" "Yes, yes," answered Hans, "only I would like to see more rain." "You may be sworn," said the Judge. "I perceive you already have the Kansas idea."

— "Blind Tom," the negro pianist, who has so dropped out of hearing that many have supposed him dead, has now reappeared in concert. Tom is now 52 years old, and is still mentally the child he was when his extraordinary imitative faculty was first manifested. Since 1882 he has been under the most punctilious care, in asylums and sanitariums, and his custody has been a shuttlecock between one and another attorney. The present guardian is Albert Lerche.

— When asked the other day if he would be a candidate for the Presidential nomination in 1904 William J. Bryan said: "I have said repeatedly that I am a candidate for no office. However, I would not enter into a bond never to become a candidate. It would be foolish in any man to announce his candidacy for such an office at such a time, and it strikes me as a foolish question to be continually put to me by the newspaper men."

— Says a Little Rock, Arkansas, dispatch to the Memphis Scimitar: A detective arrived a few days ago in the Kings River neighborhood, Madison county, and placed under arrest a supposed young woman, who had been teaching a private school in the neighborhood for sometime. It turned out that the school teacher was a man in disguise, and that his name was Sears and that he was wanted in Texas on the charge of a murder committed in Texas seven years ago. It is said that he was a most engaging person. No one has ever suspected the deception. When arrested he had $3,000 in cash in his possession, carried in a belt.

— People about Deepwood, in Nevada, are wondering how long the body of Louis Dorsey, which is now exposed under glass in the cemetery, will retain its lifelike freshness. "Dorsey's tomb" is now one of the sights there. The tomb, cut from Carthage granite, is about ten feet long, five feet wide and five feet high. In its centre the coffin is incased around by twelve inches of solid stone, which makes it air-tight. On the top is a revolving stone, cut in the shape of a Bible, which in turning can be made to reveal or conceal a glass pane. Through the glass pane the embalmed body of Dorsey is plainly visible. The widow, who designed the tomb, used the insurance money on his life to carry out the work. Up to the present time the body preserves the freshness of life.

— For the first time in South Carolina, perhaps, a person has been killed, by the most modern of vehicles, the locomobile, before which even the trolley cars lose all terrors. The accident happened last week, and Miss Miles, a maiden lady 70 years of age, was the victim. The elderly lady had started across the street just behind the Elmwood crossing, when she heard the clanging of a bell. Supposing it to be a trolley, she ran until across the track. She then perceived it to be a locomobile, and becoming confused she, instead of standing still, attempted to run across the narrow roadway in front of it. Mr. Miller, who was steering the machine, turned quickly out of the way, but not before Miss Miles had collided with the rear wheel. The hub struck her on the hip, throwing her violently to the ground.—Columbia State.

SEEK SUMMER STIMULANTS.

We don't propose to hold Sunday School during the week, nor to open a sleeping joint at our place during the dull season this Summer. We haven't slept a little bit since Sept. 1st, but have kept things howling at a lively clip and as a result we have doubled our business of last year, as evidenced by our sales-book. Now, we defy the dullness of Summer, and in making a new record propose to make one that can't be best without hustling. Our Goods are all paid for, and are sure to do with just as we see fit. So, just to liven up the sleeping animals a bit we will throw our entire Stock of newly arrived—

Summer Shoes

On the market at prices that will make our unfortunate competitors foam at the mouth. We are sorry for them, but foaming is mighty good for some folks. They're powerful good and pretty, (the Shoes, we mean), but they've got to go. We can't bear to be so lonesome during these hot months, and if we can't swell the crowds at our counters one way, we'll do it another. When we say that our Shoes are of the best quality, those who have traded with us the longest know that they are up to the standard.

This is the Store you've heard so much about—that you can trade with us safely, even with your eyes shut.
Don't forget that we are the largest distributors of—

CORN, HAY, FLOUR, TOBACCO,
And everything else people and horses eat. If it isn't here it isn't anywhere.

DEAN & RATLIFF.

TO OUR FARMER FRIENDS
THIS LETTER IS ADDRESSED.

THE progressive farmer cannot afford to depend on the West for his hay to feed through the Winter months, when with a proper implement he can harvest at home as fine feed as can be grown. We have such an implement in the—

McCormick Mower,

Which will cut so clean and with so much ease that you will wonder why you have been so long in making up your mind to possess one of these celebrated mowers. Buy a McCormick and you will own a machine which will give you better returns and more satisfaction for your money than any investment you can make. The McCormick stands preeminently at the head of the list from merit alone. There are many features about this machine not possessed by others which cannot be enumerated in this space, but if you will call on us we will be pleased to show you these features, and after a careful investigation we are satisfied that you will place your order with us for one of these justly celebrated Mowers.
