WEDNESDAY, JULY 2, 1902.

Last Thursday the House of Representatives passed the Philippine bill by a strict party vote, only one Republican voting against the measure.

The building of the canal by the Panama route has been settled by Congress. The South has great reason to rejoice over the commercial advantages this water way will bring to her ports.

The fellow who was kicking about the coal bills last winter is now complaining of ice bills. He's a constitutional grumbler who can't appreciate the equalizing force of the laws of nature.

The couple of companies of candidates now making the grand rounds of the State will put some money in circulation. It is calculated that the most economical will have to spend at least $450.

The Washington Post says: "If the South Carolina people elect Jim Tillman governor there will be ample justification for many of the harsh things said of that State." The Post puts it down about right.

Mr. Bryan declares that "the next nominee will be a Democrat who stands squarely on the Kansas City platform" If he can convince the balance of the party of this, the contest for the nomination will be decidedly less heated.

It ill becomes Mr. Bryan to attack Mr. Cleveland. Mr. Cleveland has done what no other Democrat has done in many years. He has led the Democratic hosts of the United States to victory twice, while Mr. Bryan has led the same people to defeat the same number of times. The people of the United States will not stand for the principles represented by Mr. Bryan, and there is no getting around this. We need something entirely different from what Mr. Bryan has given us. The Democratic party could, in our opinion, win with Mr. Cleveland leading the party ticket, and this is the man we want.

The Southern Railway Textile Directory for 1902 has been published and contains a useful compilation of facts touching textile industries along the lines of the Southern Railway, giving name, location and capacity of mills in operation and those in course of completion. The directory shows 556 mills operating and being installed with an equipment of 130,045 looms and 4,975,311 spindles, which include 44 new mills with 14,889 looms and 645,286 spindles added during the year 1901. There are now in course of erection other mills which will add largely to the capacity of the textile industry along the lines of these railways.

People who pooh-pooh at the shadow of imperialism in this country should turn their attention to the army appropriation bill that has passed Congress, appropriating a round hundred millions of dollars for the army next year. That sum is more than four times as much as was annually appropriated for the army for the six years from 1894 to 1899 inclusive. it is indeed $20,000,000 more than was appropriated for it for 1900 to cover the military side of our war with Spain. It illustrates the permanent and increasing cost of imperial policies by arraying large armies thousands of miles away from our shores. This military display does no benefit the Americans, it does not help the Philippines nor advance civilization or Christianity It means the prolongation of war, with all its horrors.

The South is awakening to the fact that its present systems of education are not entirely meeting the needs of the children. Our population is largely rural, and the system of education needed in the South is one that actively and sympathetically touches every interest in the community over which it extends. As the Manufacturers' Record says, "the task is for the South to work out its own common school system without regard to what has been done elsewhere—a system best suited to its peculiar needs." The South as a whole needs better schools. This is so plain that no wayfaring man able to put two and two together can fail to understand it. No appreciable progress in agriculture can be made without better schools Our agricultural colleges, agricultural departments, experiment stations, and farm papers may work with all the earnestness and enthusiasm conceivable, but it will be in a large measure unavailing unless the curse of illiteracy is removed and all the people taught to read.

Selecting Aldermen.

In selecting men to compose the next City Council, the people should take into consideration the fact that the rapid growth of the city in the past few years has brought greater responsibilities, involving the expenditure each year of large sums of money, and judicious management is highly necessary of economy and minimum taxation is expected. Men of sound judgment, whose property interests will be a guarantee of careful reflection in all important expenditures, should be selected.

Now that the city is divided into wards, and the Aldermen are to be selected, one from each ward, names should be suggested through the newspapers only after an exchange of ideas by voters in the several wards, which can as well be done by discussing the matter in the homes, in the stores and public places as at public meetings called for the purpose, and perhaps better, as it will be free from any semblance of a caucusing.

The city's revenues for next year, to be administered upon by the Council soon to be elected will aggregate about $45,000, and the proper distribution of this sum to the various needs of the city will require judgment and financial ability. Anderson is no longer a small town but a rapidly growing city. Every year from now on will bring new demands for improvements, and the economy of the Council will have much to do with the increase or decrease of taxation.

With a growing increase of taxable property and a gradual decrease in the bonded indebtedness of the city, which, of course, decreases interest expense, the rate of taxation should decrease with an economical administration, rather than increase.

The present rate of taxation is 15½ mills. Should this be adopted for next year the city's increase will be about as follows:

On $2,000,000 of taxable property, $31,000; poll tax, $1,800; sanitary, $800; dispensary, $6,500; licenses, $1,500; dog tax, $200; mayor's court fines, $2,500; aggregating $44,300, which is divided into the following funds: Graded school bond fund, school fund, current expenses, S. V. R. R. fund, City Hall fund, water and light fund and general fund.

It is well for the people to know something of these matters when selecting suitable men for Aldermen, and to keep in mind the fact that the amount to be expended by the city grows larger each year. And, also, that capable business men, most of them, are so engrossed with their own affairs that intelligent, careful persuasion is often necessary to get their consent to assume such responsibilities as the position of Aldermen impose, especially when the honor of the position is the only consideration.

Suggestions For Aldermen.

Friends of J. J. Norris, voters in Fourth Ward, desire to put him forward for the position of Alderman. He is a successful young business man of highest integrity, cautious and capable.

Mr. Editor: After canvass in Ward Three we find the choice of many voters to be Mr. G. Frank Bigby for Alderman of the City of Anderson. He is a safe and reliable man for this position. Many Voters.

As a voter in Ward One the writer would like to suggest the name of Mr. Thomas A. Ratliffe as a suitable gentleman for Alderman. Voter.

Land and Mill for Sale.

308 ACRES—200 acres in very high state of cultivation and extra well terraced. 140 acres good bottom land, extra good pastures, made last year 2000 bushels corn, 200 bushels wheat, 500 bushels oats, 50 bales of cotton and all farm products in proportion. First class dwelling house and four good tenant houses; nearly new barn, 31x80, three stories high, wagon-way into second story; cow barn, buggy, carriage and smoke houses, and other smaller houses, all good. A good and large mill-house. Postoffice in mill house, and pays medium salary; owner is postmaster. Both wheat and corn mill, first class; machinery all good; mill pond covers about 15 acres, 6 to 25 feet deep, and well stocked with fish; mill grinds from 8,000 to 10,000 bushels corn and wheat a year, about equally divided. Located at Monitor, Madison Co., Ga., ten miles from each Athens, Danielsville and Harmony Grove, four miles from each Hull & Nicholson on the northeast, and Seaboard Railroad. A good free school 1½ miles, eight churches from 1 to 6 miles.

Six Thousand Dollars buys the whole business, which is not half the real value as this property paid last year over forty per cent clear profit on six thousand, and will average that amount if properly managed. Would divide to suit purchasers. Also, 134 acres two miles down the creek, all splendid land, about 60 acres in cultivation, 30 acres bottom land, two fair dwelling houses and necessary outhouses A great bargain at $12 00 per acre.

My only reason for selling is a desire to go into the cattle business out West. Write or come to see me.

Monitor, Madison Co., Ga.

There are Bargains
AND THERE
Are Bargains!
But, Oh! Such a Difference.

A Bargain has been defined a "gainful transaction," because it produces profit or advantage to the purchaser. Some folks are deceived by what they are led to believe are Bargains until they fail to find the profit—the advantage which is not and never was there. "Sorrows remembered" may "sweeten present joys," but that won't recoup the money squandered. There's no deception in this Store's Bargains, unless it be that Goods are better than our claims for them But it makes people good natured to be deceived that way.

Here is a Bargain that you cannot duplicate elsewhere for the same style and quality of Goods:

Egyptian Tissues and Foulards,
Sold for 20c and 25c yard reduced to 10c.

These Goods are of this season's make, no old stock or hard stock. We don't want to carry these over, hence the reduction.

You will find many, many other Bargains in this Store that will be worth your while to take in. This is the season for price reductions, and you will be surprised at the big values we offer.

You will always find our Stock thoroughly up-to-date.
