STATE CAMPAIGN MEETING.

The campaign meeting of the State candidates held in this city Friday last, was highly entertaining to the gether satisfactory to the candidates.

During the forenoon the audience numbered, probably, 800. Many ladies were present. In the afternoon threatening clouds made their appearance in the west and the crowd dwinwas heard by a fairly good audience. The meeting was held in the grove of day could be. Slowly moving clouds now and then shut off the sun's rays and stirred the atmosphere, making the five hours patient listening a possibility. The meeting was almost painfully orderly. The two Colonels, Talbert and Tillman, relieved the tedium somewhat by a slight show of sits for the pictures of Uncle Sam?" beligrency toward one another, but it didn't last long enough nor go far enough to be very entertaining to an Anderson audience. The question between them was concerning Col. Talbert's scheme of applying taxes to the public schools. Tillman was attacking, Talbert innocently interrupted by remarking. "Ido not know the remety, I want to know it." Tillman replied, sarcastically, "You should inform yourself, then." Talbert sprang to his feet, advancing toward Tillman and, saaking his finger at him, said, apparently laboring under great excitement, "I never want information from such an ingnoramus as you." At this juncture there were a few sanctain from auch an ingnoramus as you." At this juncture there were a few sanctain ghost from a content and an artiting should be foot the subject of the sake they pay for school purposes.

Another slight wave of excitement was started by Col. Tillman heigh, interrupted in his remarks about the negroes being robbed of two thirds of the laxes they pay for school purposes.

J. D. Harris, of Belton, demanded the propose of the taxes they pay for school purposes.

o'clock. Divine blessings were invoked by the Rev. M. B. Kelly, of the St. John's Methodist Church, this city. The program placed the gubernatorial candidates first.

Capt. D. C. Heyward was introduced and was greeted with much applause. He spoke in glowing terms of the principles of Democracy. Complimented Anderson on the splendid record the County had made in the cause of Democracy, especially in 1876. He had never been a candidate for office-was comparatively a stranger here, but South Carolinians are never strangers. His own County had unanimously indorsed him without his solicitation. He is in favor of dispensary; of improved school facilities; more stringent laws against trusts and monopolies; liberal pensions for old soldiers; leaving matter of soldiers home to be decided by them; in favor of child labor laws. If elected, would justly enforce the law. Paid glowing tribute to the ladies, made many friends, a good impression on every one, closed amidst hurrahs for Heyward and received beautiful flowers.

Hon. W. J. Talbert was next introduced. He paid a brief tribute to the ladies and then took for discussion the "great principles of the "Alliance," the motto of which was, "equal rights to all and special privileges to none." Great principles never fail. Monopolies and trusts are the greatest danger now confronting us. We need improved method of assessing property for taxation so that burden will fall equally upon all. Taxes paid by whites should go to educate white children. Negroes should educate their own children and manage schools as they do their churches. Absolutely opposed to taxing whites to educate negro. Capital and labor should be interdependent. Ther should be laws to protect weak against the strong. In favor of liberal pension to Confederate Veterans. In favor of dispensary law properly and carefully enforced. Col. Talbert was listened to attentively and received hand-clappings and applause and flowers at the close.

Lieutenant Gov. Tillman came next. He was greeted with "Jim, have you got your sword yet?" "Yes, and will keep it rather than give it to Roosevelt to give to Booker Washington," he replied. Proceeding to speak Col. Tillman remarked that the prayer of Rev. Kelly that only God-fearing, truthful men be elected to office was in accord with his views, and he stood ready to be measured by that yard stick, but he wanted it in the hands of that kind of a many and not in the hands of lving newspapers. From this he proceeded to pleasantly criticise and ridicule his competitors and their chances of electric depth of the pleasantly criticise and ridicule his competitors and their chances of electric depth of the next session on Wedness who availed themselves of the invitation were Messrs. tion. When he reached Col. Talbert his remarks became somewhat caustic, and Col. Talbert couldn't keep his seat, but arose and enacted his part of the scene above mentioned. Tillman accused Talbert of completely changing his position on the negre school question. This Talbert flatly denied. The discussion between them was warm and amusing to the audience. Both received cheers. Nothing was and Col. Talbert couldn't keep his Both received cheers. Nothing was said by Col. Tillman concerning the Senate ruling and sword incident upon which an opinion as to merits or demerits could be based.

Dr. W. H. Timmerman was then introduced. He said he was asking office on his merits and the record he had made in his many years of service for the State as Treasurer and presiding large audience gathered for the occa- officer of State Senate. He claimed sion, and was, to all appearances, alto- that because of his experience he was better qualified for the position of Governor than his competitors. Wants position for one term only, and thinks it reasonable request to gratify laudable ambition. In favor of better school facilities, better roads, better laws aled considerably; but every candidate against the trusts, liberal pensions, &c. He criticised Capt. Heyward as gentleman of elegant leisure, throwing the Patrick Military Institute. The around cigars and possibly a little day was as near ideal as a mid-summer | brandy, while he (Timmerman) was "working hard for my country." He closed amid applause. The Dr. made a good impression in Anderson. When Dr. Timmerman was introduced a little ten year old Miss in the audience turned to her father and said, "Papa, is that the old gentleman who always

House.

Messrs. J. T. Gantt, of Columbia. J. Harvy Wilson, of Sumter, and J. Thomas Austin, of Greenville, are seeking the office of Secretary of State. Mr. Gantt has served as assistant in this office for four years. He claims to have made a good record and to have engineered a bill through the Legislature last session which brought into the State Treasury $40,000. Mr. Wilson claims to be a farmer, a Confederate Veteran, was member of Legislature and introduced and had passed the bill above referred to as prepared by Mr. Gantt. Mr. Austin is an old tried Democrat, has served in the Legislature, and was a member of the Wallace House. His home people have always indorsed him when he asked for office.

Next came candidates for State Superintendent of Education. Mr. O. B. Martin, of Greenville, and Hon. J. J. McMahan, the present superintendent, presented their claims for this position. Both addresses were good. This is the first appearance of Mr. Martin asking office of the people. He made many friends in Anderson. Mv. McMahan has served two terms and made an efficient superintendent.

There are Bargains Are Bargains!

But, Oh! Such a Difference.

A Bargain has been defined a "gai nful transaction," because it produces profit or advantage to the purchaser. Some folks are deceived by what they are led to believe are Bargains until they fail to find the profit—the advantage which is not and never was there. "Sorrows remembered" may "sweeten present joys," but that won't recoup the money squandered. There's no deception in this Store's Bargains, unless it be that Goods are better than our claims for them. But it makes people good natured to be deceived that way. Here is a Bargain that you cannot duplicate elsewhere for the same style and quality of Goods:

Egyptian Tissues and Foulards, Sold for 20c and 25c yard reduced to 10c.

These Goods are of this season's make, no old stock or hard stock. We don't want to carry these over, hence the reduction.

You will find many, many other Bargains in this Store that will be worth your while to take in. This is the season for price reductions, and you will be surprised at the big values we offer. You will always find our Stock thoroughly up-to-date.

Summer styles in Millinery are of dainty, graculul shapes, with a wide range of trimmings. Pretty effects in Parasols for those who want protection from the sun rays. A big assortment of-
