The postoffice at Clemson College was broken into last Friday morning about 2 o'clock and the safe blown open by robbers. One hundred and ten dollars in money and $150 in stamps, a registered letter and two registered packages were stolen. A tin box containing $45 and $25 left in an unlocked drawer were undisturbed. The burglars used dynamite and left on the premises a foot-adr. screw driver and a brace stock. There is no clue to the guilty persons but it is believed to be the work of professionals. Miss Ida Calhoun, the postmistress, has notified the authorities.

Frederick L. Ray, an engineer of Pittsburg, Penn., who for the past ten days has been at the Orr Cotton Mills overhauling the big 1,200 horse-power engine that is to be run by the Westinghouse Company, left Monday for his home. The mill management speak of him in the highest terms. They say that though several engineers were sent by the Westinghouse people, none of them succeeded in bringing the big engine up to the Company's standard until Mr. Ray arrived and he succeeded apparently with the greatest ease. They say too much cannot be said in praise of his ability as a practical engineer. This is his second trip to Anderson.

There was a very important deal made in our commercial circles last Saturday. Our mammoth furniture house that for the past twenty-five years has been owned by that noble and big hearted citizen, Mr. W. M. Wilcox, changed hands. Mr. Wilcox is selling out to Mr. Tunnison, of Washington, Wilkes County. Mr. Tunnison will move to Elberton and carry on the business and Mr. Wilcox will, we hope, remain here but he has not yet decided what he will take up. Elberton can't afford to lose such a man and indeed such a family as Mr. Wilcox's. It would be a great calamity, but we hope the sale only means a change of business and not a move.—Elberton (Ga.) Tribune.

We had the pleasure of spending last Sunday with a brother, J. M. Richardson, in Anderson,—shaking hands with old friends and preaching morning and evening in St. John's Church. Brother M. B. Kelly is "taking" with the good people of that prosperous city, and they are in love with their pastor. He is doing a fine work and is growing in popularity,—deservedly so. St. John's is one of the best churches in the Conference. We heard echoes of the recent sermon of Rev. C. B. Smith, of Bennington. He must have fired a 13 inch gun. We had the unexpected pleasure of meeting the "beloved" presiding elder, Rev. J. B. Wilson. There is a general regret that the "time limit" forces him to move at the next session of the Conference. During the quadrennium that he has served on the District, Methodism in that Piedmont region has made rapid progress.—Southern Christian Advocate, 11th inst.

Mrs. Martha Ann Keown, wife of our venerable friend, James A. Keown, died at her home in Broadway Township last Friday afternoon. She had been in feeble health for a long time, and her death had been expected at any time for several weeks. Mrs. Keown was a daughter of John A. Keown who died at the close of the civil war, was reared in the Mountain Creek section of this County, and was in the 70th year of her age. She had been a devoted and exemplary member of the Baptist Church since her girlhood. She was a most excellent woman, and by her gentle, loving disposition made a friend of every acquaintance, who will ever cherish her memory. She leaves a devoted husband, three sons and two daughters, and in their sore bereavement they cherish the sympathy of a wide circle of friends. On Saturday afternoon the remains were interred in the Eureka Churchyard, Rev. W. B. Hawkins conducting the funeral services.

There was a rough and tumble fight at Orrville Saturday afternoon in which a pair of scissors played a serious part. The belligerents were Harry McDonald operating in the cloth room, and Clarence Howard, who rents land from McDonald, in Varones Township. The dispute arose over the cutting of hay on land that McDonald claims was not rented to Howard. They met about 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the front of McDonald's store and McDonald charged Howard with acting the rascal. This was resented with a blow and followed it up energetically with others, McDonald was being worsted, but drawing from his pocket a pair of scissors he used it as a weapon and stabbed Howard in the arm, shoulder and small of the back. At this point they were separated, Howard bled profusely, and it was necessary to phone for a physician to sew up the wound. They are very painful, and the wound in the small of the back is serious. When last heard from Howard was not doing so well.

The city schools opened the Fall session last Monday. To those who love children the sight presented at the Central school was full of interest. Based on the entrance to the grounds on Wear Street, there were at least two hundred and fifty children from twelve to seventeen years old, boys and girls, representing grades five to ten inclusive. At the side gate on Tolly street were an equal number, ranging in age from six to thirteen, and representing grades from one to five inclusive. All were as blythe and happy as so many birds, and their chatter and calls to one another gave evidence of greetings as pure and as free from dissimulation as if each had been an angel. At the sound of the bell the gates swung open and all rushed in, capering and laughing until they reached the entrances of the building. Here each grade was separated into a line of single file and awaited the order to march. Eighty little fellows, comprising grade one, marched in first, and these were followed by the other grades in order. Every grade was so comfortably seated in the respective rooms, and soon little hands were going up in answer to inquiries for certificates of grades and for tickets of entrance. The auditorium up stairs was soon filled with older pupils, who listened attentively to the invocation of Divine blessings and words of admonition by the Rev. Chapman and Murchison, after which the routine work of school days was begun. It is next to the impossible to conceive of any city being able to show 500 more beautiful and healthy children than those who are presented themselves for admission at the Central School Monday last.

A DEERING MOWER and RAKE.

THE many advantages the Deering Mower has enables the operator to work it with much more ease than any other machine, and no time lost in going around stumps and trees. This Machine is so constructed that the driver is at no trouble in lowering and raising the cutter bar in passing stumps and trees. With no effort scarcely he brings the cutter bar to an upright position without stopping the Machine. There are many other advantages the Deering Ideal Mower has that we will show you when you want a Mower. The Pitman Rod of this Mower has only two pieces, while all other Machines have from ten to twenty-five pieces to wear out and be replaced. The Mower is not all in looking up an outfit. It is essential to have a good Rake, and the Deering Rake is the simplest Rake on the market. A comparison of our Rake with other makes will convince any farmer that it is the Rake he needs. The devices for dumping are so constructed that a child can operate it without any assistance. If you are in need of an outfit let us show you our Mower and Rake and be convinced. Now is the time to sow your stubble land in Pear and harrow them in with one of our TORRENT HARROWS.

We are still headquarters for all lines of Hardware, Nails and Wire.
