The Electric Current From Portman.

At noon Saturday the electric current was turned on direct from Portman Shoals, furnishing power to the small industries and lighting the city at night. Monday the Anderson Cotton Mill No. 1 was furnished with 375 electrical horse-power and mill No. 2 was furnished with 75 horse-power. This enabled mill No. 1 to start up all of its machinery, which obviates the necessity of night work, as has been the case since December last when the electric current was cut off by the dam at Portman washing away. The engine used by this mill is not of sufficient power to run all the machinery, but being supplemented by the 375 electrical horse-power all the machinery can be run and the night work is no longer necessary.

The electrical power furnished mill No. 2 is sufficient to run the machinery of the picker room, and it is thought by the management of the Water, Light and Power company that all the power needed at present by this mill can be turned on to-day.

Starting mill No. 2 this time is in most respects like starting a new mill. It may not be generally known that this mill was equipped originally for the manufacture of lumber. It was really manufactured up to the December disaster. It is possible to manufacture coarser goods with this same machinery, and the margin of profit in coarser goods was sufficiently tempting when this mill was started up to justify their manufacture.

Now, it is supposed to use the machinery for the manufacture of that particular class of goods for which it was intended—converters' cloth—which includes fine bleached sheeting and many other kinds. To get cotton started through all the different machines and harness up the looms, will take time. When it is considered that this mill has 1,060 Draper looms and forty-four thousand spindles, it can be understood that six weeks may be necessary in which to get this mill fully under way. In the meantime the dam at Portman will be completed and all the power necessary furnished.

All the machinery in this mill has been thoroughly cleaned and brightened up, but the machinery is not so clean as it used to be, and everything has the appearance of being entirely new. There appears to be no difficulty in securing funds for this mill, power is the main desideratum.

It was intended to turn the electrical current on for one hour only, but, through a mistake, the result of heavy rains just before this time, tied up the dam work at Portman and brought about the delay. From now on no delays of consequence are expected as the completion of the dam is in an advanced stage and the concrete is being laid daily.

Anderson's New Railroad.

The Manufacturers' Record of last week, in speaking of the building of a new road and the development of the agricultural and mineral resources of the South, says:

Somewhat similar developments is expected from the construction of the Tennessee, Georgia and South Carolina railroad, which is to traverse a country containing gold, copper, mica, asbestos, iron, manganese, marble, talc, soapstone, graphite, kaolin and ochre. Mr. C. G. Baugh of Mineral Bluff, Ga., a surveyor and one of the incorporators of the road, writes: "The proposed road is sure to be built by Chicago capital within two years. Then it will be completed from Charleston, Tenn., to Anderson, S. C., by way of Ducktown, Tenn., Blairsville, Mineral Bluff, Hiwassee and Clayton, Ga., and Walhalla, S. C. The road will be 230 miles long and will run through the best undeveloped timber and mineral country in the South." When application was made for the charter of this line the inference was that its purpose is to use the Blue Ridge railway from Walhalla. Anderson, where connection will be made with the Charleston and Western Carolina railway of the Atlantic Coast Line, and with the Southern railway, and also touches Charleston, Tenn. Though it does not appear as yet whether this system is interested in the proposed road, it would give the Southern quite a direct route from Chattanooga, Tenn., to Columbia and Charleston, S. C., and would be of advantage to the Atlantic Coast Line by giving it entrance to the rich mineral country of eastern Tennessee.

Exaggeration Abandoned.

Evolution or change is the law of men as well as of Nature. One of the most radical changes in the circus business of the country that has ever been made in recent years is the abandonment of the use of figures by the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers Enormous Shows United, except in rare instances, and then the figures are then made absolutely correct.

The ordinary Circus announcement, whether in newspaper or other bills, reads, in a pompous and inflated style, the familiar statement that figures are not lie. They may not lie when not falsified, but Circus figures are generally so exaggerated that the public has generally come to place no reliance in them.

The management of the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Bros. Enormous Shows United recognize the truth of this proposition in a general way and have, to escape suspension other show have cast upon Circus claims, at one time, the following: "The fact that the public is not to be deluded by figures swelled out of all proportion to fact, and that they know that the public is wise enough to see through the gross exaggeration of the figures, has led them to show their figures in a manner that is not only fair but also honest. Their figures are not inflated, but are exactly the same as the ones they give in the metropolis. There is no cutting down of expenses in any direction by these shows when they leave the Madison Square Garden. The shows are kept absolutely intact and every performer that appears there is engaged for the entire season. These great shows will exhibit here in all their metropolitan completeness and greatness on Tuesday, October 14th."

It is also known to the newspapers of the country that the performance of these shows throughout the country are exactly the same as the ones they give in the metropolis. There is no cutting down of expenses in any direction by these shows when they leave the Madison Square Garden. The shows are kept absolutely intact and every performer that appears there is engaged for the entire season. These great shows will exhibit here in all their metropolitan completeness and greatness on Tuesday, October 14th.

Court Proceedings.

The Fall term of the Court of General Sessions convened Monday with Judge R. C. Watts presiding and with Solicitor Boggs for the State and Mr. A. M. Deal court stenographer, present.

There was no charge to the grand jury as they had been charged on all matters of importance at the June term.

The docket is pretty full. There were sixty-six cases continued from the last term to begin with and there are a good many new ones. Most of the cases are, however, for minor offenses, the case against Tom Rutledge and Pink W. Delaney, negroes, charged with murder, being the most important.

Much time was consumed Monday morning in sounding the docket, calling witnesses, excusing petty jurors and the like, and the hands of the clock pointed close to twelve before a case for the jury was found ready.

In the meantime Henry Galloway, charged with housebreaking and larceny, plead guilty, and was sentenced to 18 months at hard labor on the public works.

A case against John Smith, violation of dispensary law, could not be tried because of the absence of John D. Earle, the State's witness, for whom a bench warrant was issued.

John Owens, violation of dispensary law, case not made out and foreman of jury instructed to write a verdict of not guilty.

In the case against Tom Rutledge and Pink W. W. Delaney, a nol. pros. was entered as to Delaney, and Rutledge could not be tried Monday because W. W. Scott, A. J. Crofts and Mary Haskell, important witnesses for the State, had not been bound over and were absent. A bench warrant was issued for them.

Charles Acker, obtaining property by false pretenses, appeal from magistrate's court, appeal sustained and case sent back for new trial.

Walter Wooten, assault and battery of high and aggravated nature, nol. pros.

Henry Robinson, disposing of property of another, guilty and fined $75 or six months at the public works, or like term in the penitentiary.

The grand jury reported the following true bills:

Joe Snipes, white, violation of dispensary law.
Jim Lockhart, violation of dispensary law.

R. A. Chastain, disposing of property under lien.
Joe Robinson, false pretence.

Martin Crum, larceny.
John Pratt, disposing of property under lien.
Fretwell Hardy, Chas. Hardy, James Hill, Lon Hill, Chas. Gillard, Stonu Edwards, Rance Rice, Dock Norris and Curran Sloan, charged with gambling.

Charles Gillard, Rance Rice and Dock Norris entered a plea of guilty and were sentenced to pay a fine of $25 and one day in jail, or four months on the public works and $1 fine.

Tuesday morning the case of Tom Rutledge, a negro, charged with the murder of James Thompson, another negro, in this city December last, was taken up and a jury empaneled.

There were few witnesses, the arguments of attorneys were brief and at noon the case was given to the jury. The evidence for the defense was to the effect that Thompson, with a horse, was trespassing on Rutledge's land, refused to leave when ordered away, advanced on Rutledge with an open knife cursing him, stuck the point of the knife in his wrist, and attempted to cut Rutledge's throat and stomach.

Rutledge shot twice in air to frighten Thompson, shot third time at deceased killing him. Rutledge surrendered to the authorities. An open knife was found in hand of dead negro. Evidence for the State was to the effect that mud was in palm of hand of dead negro which held the knife, but no mud on the knife. Rutledge said to his wife after the killing: "I had a fuss with 'Twine three years ago and intended to kill him." The verdict of the jury was "guilty of manslaughter." Notice of motion for new trial was given.

R. A. Chastain, disposing of property under lien, guilty. In absence of defendant a seal verdict is left.
C. L. G. Erod, false pretence. State failed to make out case and the defendant was acquitted.

Walter Gilmer, assault and battery with intent to kill. This case had all the essentials of a burlesque. The defendant is 11 years old, the prosecuting witness 10 years old. A child fight in Pelzer Mill, being settled before a Court and Jury. It is absurd. Parental spite is responsible, and they should be made to suffer a penalty. Verdict, not guilty.
The following true bills were handed in by the grand jury:

Purity.

Purity in Flour ought to be an important consideration in every family. In making "Clifton" Flour, every grain of wheat is thoroughly cleaned before grinding, and is converted into Flour in a hygienically clean modern mill. The Flour is purified, aerated and sifted through dedicated silk cloths before it is sacked. Absolute purity is thus assured.

Pure Flour really does not cost any more than Flour that is not strictly pure. "Clifton" Flour is guaranteed strictly pure wheat flour and is sold at a reasonable price. "Clifton" has no rival. There is no better Flour sold at any price.
