A postoffice inspector will shortly visit Anderson for the purpose of making an inspection in reference to putting in a free city delivery of mail matter.

The price of mules is high enough now to encourage stock raising in Anderson County. Almost any kind of a mule now sells for more than a hundred dollars.

Dr. Gordon B. Moore, of Furman University, spent last Sunday in Anderson, the guest of Judge W. F. Cox, and preached at 11:30 a. m. in the First Baptist Church.

A verdant youth who had just completed his apprenticeship as a carpenter, dropped into a jewelry store and asked a young man for a certain pin, asked, "How much is this one with square end and compass cut?" pointing to a Masonic pin. "Five dollars," said the dealer. "You haven't got one with a hand saw on, have you?" "I'm just out of stock," he replied. "I'd like something to wear so people would know what I'm doing. I'll take it, though I'd like some one with a hand saw, but I guess this one's plain enough." The compass pin is a measure of work and the square pin is a measure of it, and any gold-durn fool knows that G stands for gimlet.

Dr. Calvin Todd, who has been practicing medicine in Sparta, Ga., has formed a copartnership with Dr. W. H. Hays and will move there at once to practice his profession.

Tickets are now on sale at Hubbard's jewelry store and at the several drug stores in the city. Go out and hear the lecture, and you will not regret it.

St. Patrick's Day comes on the 17th of March. It is said the men-folks to be fashionable should wear green neckties, and ye ladies might bedeck yourselves with a few green ribbons to keep green the memory of the good St. Patrick, who freed Ireland from snakes. Be careful meanwhile, not to let anything green get in your eyes.

The Baptist Courier of the 5th inst. says that E. L. Burris, pastor-elect of the Piedmont Baptist Church, will take charge of the work in Piedmont the first of April. We extend Bro. Burris a cordial welcome back in this important field. Mr. Burris is a native of Anderson County, and his many friends and relatives here will be delighted to know that he is going to return to this section.

Honea Path was visited by a severe storm last Friday night, and for a while it was feared that another cyclone had struck the town. Several chimneys were blown down, many houses demolished and window lights blown out of a number of houses. A few miles east of the town hundreds of trees were uprooted and other damage done. The main cause of the storm seemed to follow that of the storm of February 16th, and while the damage was light, the force of the wind seemed to be as severe as was that of the 16th.—Honea Path Chronicle, 4th inst.

WEBB & CATER, Commission Merchants and Mill Agents.

WANTED—A few good live men as organizers for an up-to-date Fraternal Order Goodwill Lodge. Address H. G. Johnson, Deputy Supreme Organizer, Anderson, S. C.

C. W. Clifton, who was in Anderson a few weeks ago and claimed to be an agent for the "Life of John A. Broadus," has got into serious trouble in Greenville. He was passing before the public and traveling over the railroads as a Baptist preacher when in fact he turns out to be a crook, a gambler and a thief. He was caught stealing articles in Mahon & Arnold's store, was arrested and the room where he boarded was searched. Many things were found, such as razors, shaving brushes, tobacco, cigars, cravats, kid gloves, rubber shoes, pocket knives, heel taps, meat, cheese, eggs and other articles.

Prof. H. E. Bonner, president of Due West Female College from 1889 to 1895, and since then a merchant, died suddenly of his heart in Due West on Tuesday, 3rd inst., at the age of 63 years. He was perhaps as well as usual in the morning and had begun his day's work when the fatal stroke came. While writing at his desk about 10 o'clock he was taken with apoplexy. He was found in an unconscious condition a few minutes later by his little son. In spite of all that was done he gradually grew worse till the end came. The deceased was well known throughout this section, and his death is deeply regretted by his many friends.

Samuel N. Poore, of Belton Township, died at his home in the Toney Creek section on Tuesday night, 3rd inst., in the 61st year of his age. On Monday morning preceding his death he ate a hearty breakfast and went to a neighbor's house, a short distance away, and while standing in the piazza was stricken down with paralysis, from which he never rallied. Mr. Poore was born, reared and spent his life on the farm where he died, and had long been a devoted member of Shady Grove Baptist Church, where his remains were interred on Wednesday. A sorely beavied widow and three sons are left to cherish his memory.

The Clemson College correspondent of the Columbia State, writing under date of the 8th inst., says: "T. B. Lee of the sophomore class has invented an ingenious device to save time, trouble and labor and gives a larger per cent of first-class goods. He tried the machine on the looms in the textile department here and found it to work perfectly. Mr. Lee had his invention patented last December and recently sold his rights to the Draper Loom Co. of Hopdale, Mass. Mr. Lee is a Peizer boy, who entered the lowest class at Clemson nearly three years ago, not even prepared for that at the end of the first year he was promoted to the next higher class. Few young men ever receive such a compliment."

The mills of South Carolina, Georgia and North Carolina have organized a mutual insurance company, known as the Cotton Mill Mutual Fire Insurance Company. The following is a list of the officers: Jas. P. Verelox, of Augusta, president; P. A. Rhodes, of the Factory Mutual Fire Insurance company of New England, secretary and general manager. Directors—E. F. Verelox, R. R. Hickman, T. L. Hickman, Thomas Barrett, Dr. J. F. Hanson, L. A. Thomas, Gundy Jordan, James L. Orr, E. A. Smythe, W. B. Smith, Whaley, LeRoy Springs, Dr. J. S. Turner, B. F. Taft and H. T. Grant. The company, which was incorporated about three months ago, will do a general insurance business among cotton mills in the South. The rate of insurance at present is 8 cents per hundred, which is considerably less than has heretofore been secured for that class of risks.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Glen Cotton Mills was held in the Court House yesterday at noon for the purpose of selecting a site for the erection of the mill. Hon. G. F. Tolly was called to the chair. There was much interest manifested in the location, and after some discussion the matter was referred to the Board of Directors. An election for four additional Directors of the Company resulted in the selection of O. E. Riley and W. H. Willingham, of Boston, Mass., C. E. Chappel, of Atlanta, Ga., and Edward Ehrlich, of Columbia, S. C. The meeting then adjourned. The Directors held a meeting in the afternoon and at night, but did not agree on a location. The president and attorney of the company were instructed to get up such further information as was thought advisable in reference to certain sites and report at an adjourned meeting of the Directors, which will be held as soon as possible.

Wanted in South Carolina. Talbotton, Ga., March 4.—The three crooks held here in jail are wanted in Iva, S. C., as a telegram was received this afternoon identifying the watch found on one of them. Following is the telegram: "To J. Martin Baldwin, Talbotton, Ga.: Instruct sheriff to hold prisoners. Watch found on them was stolen from a safe which was blown open here a few weeks ago." (The men gave their names as Thomas Hamilton, J. A. Byrd and Will Oliver. Hamilton and Byrd are bound over to Talbotton superior court on the charges of carrying concealed weapons and malicious mischief. They were arrested here Monday and fuses and dynamite and a 44 Belgium pistol were found on their persons. The Constitution's account of their capture, yesterday brought forth numerous telegrams, including the one identifying the watch. —Special dispatch to the Atlanta Constitution.) Sheriff Green investigated the matter, but as the prisoners meanly taken charge of by the United States officers he could not secure them for trial here.

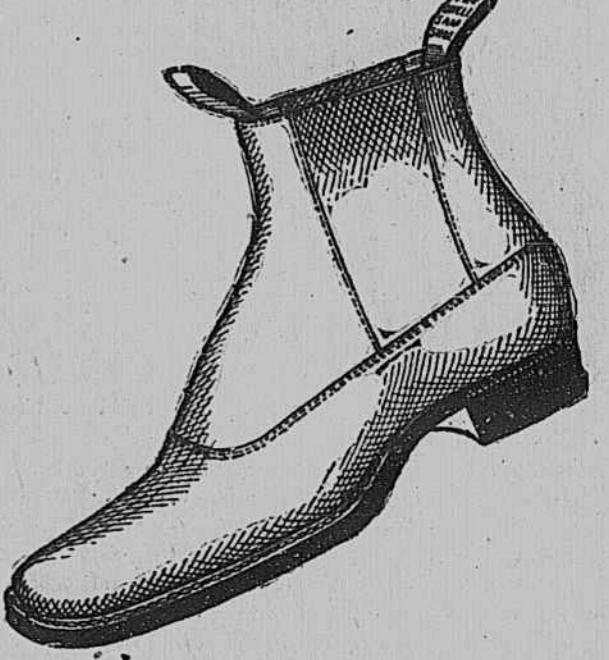

A citizen of the King's Creek neighborhood who was in Yorkville the other day on business, stated that moonshining is more common in his neighborhood now than he has ever known before. He told of finding a spot on his own plantation where a still had evidently been operated for weeks without his knowledge. He says it is common to see people passing to and from moonshine stills with jugs of liquor; but it is rarely the case that one of these will ever tell where the moonshiners are located.
