William Talbot, a conductor on the C. & W. C. R. E., met with a painful accident Monday afternoon while shifting cars at the freight depot in this city. He was knocked off the car while the train was moving, and, falling on his arm, broke both bones near the wrist. He was given prompt attention and was doing as well as possible yesterday.

President Brown, of the Anderson Phosphate and Oil Company, announces that his Company will shortly begin the erection of a mill for the manufacture of cotton batting, coarse wool and rope. The mill will be located at the Anderson Oil Mills, opposite the Union Depot, and will cost about $40,000. The mill will consume the linters produced at the various oil mills owned in this section by the Company and will also use the low grade cotton brought to this market. It is intended to have the plant ready for work by next fall.

The Walker McKinley school has enrolled at this session 125 pupils, necessitating three teachers. This is a County line school. About fifteen acres of land to be located in 125 acres of land to a Board of Trustees for the education of the children of the community. Smith and Miss Norma Garrett, both of this city. The young couple have many friends who join us in wishing them a prosperous journey through life.

The fact that Greenwood has completed the building upon which the removal of the Williams Female College depends gives credence to the report that the college will be moved by the opening of the next session. The work on the building will probably be completed in Greenwood by the first of May, and the intention to have everything ready for occupancy next fall.

The Abbeville Hotel Company has rented the new hotel to W. T. McFall, of Pelzer. Mr. McFall is a young man but has been in the hotel business all his life and is one of the best known and most popular men in the hotel business in the State. The new stopping place will mean a great many more visitors to Abbeville.—Abbeville Medium. Mr. McFall is an Anderson boy, and we can assure the Hotel Company that it is fortunate in securing his services.

W. H. Thacker, formerly Superintendent of Riverside mill in this city, died in Greenville last Saturday, after an illness of several months with consumption, aged 51 years. His remains were brought to Anderson last Sunday morning and interred in Silver Brook Cemetery. Mr. Thacker lived in Anderson several years and was highly esteemed by his many friends. Three children are left to cherish his memory.

Austin T. Levy, of New York, has been spending a few days in Anderson on the part of his friend, C. Laughlin. Mr. Levy having recently returned from business in New York, is contemplating locating a plant in the South for the manufacture of worsteds and other woolen goods, and is now looking for a suitable location. He expressed himself as being favorably impressed with Anderson, and it is hoped he may be induced to establish his plant here.

Last Friday night during an electric storm the barn of J. Archie Cox, in Belton Township, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground, together with all of its contents. It included five tons of guano. Two valuable cows and a yearling were killed by the bolt of lightning and other valuable property was destroyed by a heroic effort that his two miles were rescued from the flames. The loss falls heavily upon Mr. Cox, who had no insurance. It was only last year that his premises were visited by a cyclone and his dwelling badly damaged therefrom.

Mrs. Mary A. Long, widow of the late William Long, died yesterday morning at her home a few miles east of this place. She was a daughter of the lamented Rev. William P. Martin, and had been a consistent member of Broadmonth Baptist Church since she was 18 years of age. In fact she was the oldest member of the Church. She died on her 83d birthday. Today the funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. W. Hood, pastor, at which her body was laid to rest in the cemetery at Broadmonth.—Honea Path Chronicle, 18th inst.

The contract has been let for the building of fifty new tenant houses at the Orr cotton mill.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Cox Manufacturing Co. will be held on Tuesday, April 23. See advertisement.

An advertisement of the Anderson County Mutual Benefit Association appears in another column, to which your attention is directed. It offers insurance at a low cost.

Edward Smith, who has been serving most efficiently as Magistrate at Pendleton, has resigned, James T. Munter, the only applicant for the position, has been recommended by Senator Hood, to whom the application was referred by the Governor, to fill the vacancy.

D. W. Gambrell, aged 63 years, died at Houston, Texas, on the 18th inst., of cancer of the liver. Mr. Gambrell was a native of the Brushy Creek section of Anderson County, and served gallantly through the Civil War. Some time after the war he went to Texas and married in that State. He leaves a family of several children in Texas, besides many friends and relatives. His death is mourned by his wife, Mrs. B. C. Johnson, of this place. He leaves surviving his two sisters, Mrs. Fannie E. Payne, of Anderson County, and Mrs. Jane Cooper, of Texas. He visited his sisters in this State about two months ago.—Easley Progress.

Mr. J. L. McCarroll, of Townville, was in town last week, and in inquiring as to the situation in regard to smallpox in Walthalla, he remarked that just after the war, near Fair Play, in this County, smallpox became epidemic and quite a number of deaths resulted. In no case, however, was there a death where the patient had been vaccinated, and on none of the patients were marks left. He is a great believer in vaccination, and bases his belief on experience and observation. He believes, however, that the good effects of vaccination last much longer than seven years, the time most generally claimed for it.—Keowee Courier.

J. W. Heisman, coach of the Clemson baseball team, in a recent interview says that the prospects at Clemson this year are unusually bright for a good team. Sitton, the crack end on the football team, will be found in the box again this year. Last year he made an unusual reputation as a pitcher, and won a majority of his games. Heisman, who is one of the best coaches in the South and who is known from one end of the country to the other, because of his excellent football and baseball teams, says he is looking for a successful season in college baseball this year, and he believes there will be better teams in the South this year than ever before.

A special dispatch to the Atlanta Constitution, under date of the 19th inst., says: "Suffering from melancholia as a result of protracted drinking, J. L. Snipes, a picture agent, who moved here about a year ago from Georgia, committed suicide tonight by taking an overdose of morphine. He ate supper and retired at once to his room. His actions caused suspicion, but when his rash act was discovered it was too late for physicians to save him. Snipes is about 48 years of age and leaves a wife and several children." The deceased was born and reared in Anderson County and was the eldest son of the late Eliasha Snipes. He lived in this city until about a year or two ago, when he moved to Georgia and from there to North Carolina.

The Greenville Mountaineer of the 18th inst. says: "Mrs. Emily C. Weyman, formerly a resident of this city, died on Saturday last in Columbus, Ga., aged 63 years. Mrs. C. Weyman was born near Pendleton, S. C., and was a daughter of Capt. John Maxwell, who was prominent in his day and generation as a large planter and public spirited citizen. His home on Seneca River was the abode of generous hospitality, and he reared a large family in affluence, giving them a liberal education. Mrs. Weyman married a grandson of Samuel Maverick, the largest landowner in this section of the State, who owned immense tracts of land in Texas, and several of his descendants settled in that State, among them the Wynans. After her husband's death Mrs. Weyman returned to South Carolina, and for a number of years lived in this city, but her home in recent years was at Atlanta, where her son was in business. The deceased has many old friends in this County who will regret to hear of her death."
